Mr. Samuel Slotkin, President of the Corporation, summarizes his letter as follows:

HISTORY AND BUSINESS: The Hygrade Food Products Corporation has been incorporated under the laws of the State of New York to acquire, own and operate the business of nine concerns (hereinafter called the constituent companies), including the Hygrade Provision Co., Inc., Standard Provision Co., Inc., Liberty Provision Co., Inc., Royal Provision Co., Inc., United Beef & Provision Co., Inc., Blue Ribbon Provision Co., Inc., Bernard S. Their products are sold to over 5,000 customers, including delicatessen stores, chain stores, drug stores, meat markets, clubs, grocers, hotels, restaurants, steamship and railroad companies, etc., throughout the United States and in foreign countries.

SECURITY AND PROPERTY: The bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will be secured by a direct first mortgage on all the real estate and fixtures of th Corporation owned at the date of execution of the mortgage subject only to the lien of certain mortgages which upon completion of this financing will aggregate $230,800, payment of which is not entitled to be anticipated before maturity and the trust indenture will provide that the $250,000 principal amount of additional bonds authorized to be issued under the mortgage will be reserved to refund the indebtedness secured by said mortgages. The Trust Indenture will also provide that after-acquired real estate and fixtures will be subjected to the mortgage, subject only to purchase-money mortgages and mortgages existing at the time of the acquisition thereof. The Standard Appraisal Company has appraised the land, buildings, fixtures, machinery and equipment (including the property to be mortgaged) as of October 15, 1927, at a sound depreciated value of $1,785,214.30, exclusive of leaseholds appraised at $141,974.35. The pro forma balance sheet of the Corporation, after giving effect to this financing and the transactions incident thereto, shows net assets of $2,358,400.01—equivalent to $2,358 per $1,000 bond to be presently outstanding, of which over $498,000 is cash.

EARNINGS: The combined earnings of the constituent companies for the year ended December 31, 1926, were $242,252.09 before charging interest on this issue, as set forth in the report of Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Company, after adjustment of executives' salaries, special compensation and withdrawals and elimination of certain non-recurring interest and other charges, all amounting to $126,693.57 during said year. This is equivalent to over 4 times the interest requirements on this issue. The earnings as above, after allowing for depreciation at appraisers' rates, applied to appraised sound values of properties, were $182,317.71 or over 3 times the interest requirements on this issue. For the first 9½ months of 1927, such net profits before interest on this issue and depreciation were $201,590.95 and after interest and depreciation were $154,490.08.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of this issue will be used to liquidate notes and certain mortgages of the constituent companies and the balance for working capital and other proper corporate purposes.

SINKING FUND: The bonds are to be entitled to a semi-annual sinking fund, beginning June 1, 1928, payable in cash or bonds, calculated to be sufficient to retire by maturity 50% of the bonds at any time issued. The sinking fund, to the extent paid in cash, is to be used for the redemption by lot of bonds at 105%.

MANAGEMENT: The management will include the executive heads who have been responsible for the growth and success of the constituent companies. The confidence of the present owners of the constituent companies in the success of the consolidated corporation is evidenced by their agreement to accept only common stock of the new corporation for their present plants, assets and businesses.

CONVERSION PRIVILEGE: The Corporation, after giving effect to this financing, will have an authorized capitalization of 200,000 shares of no par value common stock. Of this amount 71,250 shares are to be reserved for conversion of these bonds and 33,750 shares will be unissued and be available for proper purposes of the Corporation. EACH $1,000 BOND WILL CARRY FIVE (5) SHARES OF NO PAR VALUE COMMON STOCK

An independent examination and report has been made through the J. G. White Engineering Corporation of New York, by the Engineers Corporation, which is the basis for the greater part of the letter of Dr. A. P. Severgnini, President of the Company, which he summarizes as follows:

THE COMPANY: The Pan-American Industrial Corporation (hereinafter called the "American Company") has been organized under the Laws of the State of Delaware, to acquire and own 100% of the stock (except qualifying shares) of the Compania Americana de Construcciones y Pavimentos S. A. of Buenos Aires (hereinaftercalled the "Argentine Company"), organized under the laws of the Argentine Republic.

BUSINESS: The Brazilian Federal Government is the owner of the Port and Bar of Rio Grande of which two granite quarries are a part. The Port and Bar are operated by the State of Rio Grande do Sul under a contract with the Federal Government expiring in 1973, and the Argentine Company owns an exclusive lease obtained from the State of Rio Grande do Sul and approved by the Brazilian Federal Government, to operate these said two Federal-owned quarries located in that State, for a term of twenty-five years, commencing February, 1926. The quarries, known as Monte Bonito and Capao do Leao, have an area of 374 acres.

Monte Bonito Quarry produces a fine quality of gray granite especially suited for crushed rock, the other a very hard pink granite suitable for building and other purposes. The amount of granite available without further development work is estimated to be 13,173,-104 tons at Monte Bonito and 8,479,308 at Capao do Leao, a total of 21,652,412 tons. Upon the exhaustion of this tonnage, the quarries will be operated by the opening of additional levels.

LEASE: pal terms of the lease are as follows:

(a) Exclusive lease for 25 years of both granite quarries, 80 miles of fully equipped railroad and quarry equipment, for all of which the Brazilian Federal Government paid the equivalent of approximately $4,500,000.
(b) Royalty of 2½c. per ton payable to the State of Rio Grande do Sul.
(c) State to be paid an inspection fee of $1,500 per year.
(d) State to be furnished 1,000 tons of rough stone per month for maintenance of the Bar of Rio Grande.
(e) The Argentine Company to be exempt from all State and Municipal taxation during the entire term of the lease. There are no Brazilian Federal taxes.
(f) All plant, railroad and quarry equipment will revert to the State of Rio Grande do Sul at the expiration of the lease.
(g) In case the Brazilian Federal Government at any time exercises its right under its contract with the State, to take over the Port and Bar of Rio Grande, the Government will have the right to terminate this lease upon indemnifying the State, the amount of the State's capital investment, in Federal Government Bonds. In such case, the Argentine Company shall be entitled to receive from the State an amount at least equivalent to the Argentine Company's capital investment in the quarries, which shall be payable either in cash or in Federal or State Government Bonds.

MARKET: The principal market for the Argentine Company's products is in Argentine, especially Buenos Aires and Santa Fe. Prices are high and the demand greatly in excess of the supply. Public works now under construction or authorized in Argentine, aggregating over $150,000,000, are conservatively estimated to require over 2,500,000 tons of stone annually for the next ten years, while according to official reports the average annual shipments to Buenos Aires for the past five years has been only 501,828 tons. This does not include the large road building programs which have been approved by the Federal Government and the various State Legislatures for construction of several thousand miles of highway in which crushed stone will be an indispensable item.

The Engineers Corporation (J. G. White Engineering Corporation) in its report states that: "With the existing sources of supply developed to several times their present capacities, there is no possibility of these total requirements being met," and that "Without the stone products from Brazil the programs of road construction in the Rio de la Plata districts of the provinces of Buenos Aires and Santa Fe will be impossible of accomplishment."

EARNINGS FROM PRESENT OPERATIONS: The Argentine Company has invested over $250,000 in new equipment in Capao do Leao, which will enable this quarry to increase its production to over 800 tons per day. The Argentine Company has now orders on hand to dispose of this entire production for the next twelve months, providing estimated annual net earnings of about $500,000.

ESTIMATED EARNINGS WITH NEW EQUIPMENT: Upon completion of this financing the quarries should be in full operation within twelve months, and in accordance with estimates based upon the Engineers Corporation's report (J. G. White Engineering Corporation), with a production of only 2,500 tons per eight-hour day, the total annual net earnings should be equivalent to.....$1,625,927.00*

* Equivalent to nearly 8 times bond interest.

SECURITY: The First Lien and Collateral Trust 7% Gold Bonds will be, in the opinion of counsel, direct obligations of the Pan-American Industrial Corporation and will, in the first instance, be secured by a pledge of all of the stock of the Compania Americana de Construcciones y Pavimentos, S.A. (except qualifying shares). The Indenture will provide that the Bonds will be further secured by first mortgage liens on tugs, barges and other marine equipment and on terminal facilities in Buenos Aires upon the acquisition thereof with a part of the proceeds from the sale of these Bonds to be reserved under the Indenture for said purposes. The Indenture will contain a covenant against any transfer of the lease or the placing of any lien thereon. The Indenture will also provide that the American and/or Argentine Companies shall at no time during the life of the Bonds suffer or permit any mortgage, lien or charge to exist against any of their respective properties, except the lien for these Bonds, and purchase money mortgages and liens, and except liens to secure indebtedness incurred in the usual course of business for terms not exceeding one year, and will also contain appropriate provisions making any compensation received by the Argentine Company, arising out of the termination of the lease, applicable to the payment of these Bonds.

These bonds are offered when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to the approval of counsel, Messrs. Hornblower, Miller & Garrison, New York City; on questions of Argentinian law, Doctor Tomas Jofre, Buenos Aires, and on questions of Brazilian law, Doctor Luiz Ladario Valle, Rio de Janeiro. The auditors of the Company are Price, Waterhouse & Co., New York City. Original delivery to be made in the form of Interim Receipts or Temporary Bonds.

7% External Secured Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, Second Series

To be dated April 1, 1927 To mature October 1, 1957

A cumulative Sinking Fund is calculated to retire the entire Second Series of Bonds by maturity through purchase in the open market at not over 100% and accrued interest or call by lot at 100% and accrued interest. Redeemable (otherwise than through the Sinking Fund) as a whole only, on three months prior notice, at 102% and accrued interest on April 1, 1937 or on any interest date thereafter up to and including October 1, 1946, and at 100% and accrued interest on any interest date thereafter.

International Acceptance Securities & Trust Company, Fiscal Agent of the Loan

The following information was obtained from General Pedro Justo Berrio, Governor of the Department of Antioquia, and from other official sources:

Security

These Bonds will be the direct obligation of the Department of Antioquia, and will be specifically secured by a first lien on 75% of the gross revenues from the Departmental liquor monopoly. The revenues so pledged, before and after deducting costs of material, expenses of production, distribution and administration, have been as follows:

Year Ended September 30	75% of Gross Revenues	75% of Net Revenues
1927	1,934,234	1,507,195

The average annual revenues pledged as security for these Bonds for the two years preceding this issue were equal to more than 2¾ times the annual interest and sinking fund requirements on the $7,979,000 principal amount to be presently outstanding, and the average net revenues were equal to about 2¼ times such requirements.

All series of these Bonds up to the total of $12,350,000 authorized will share equally with the present issue in the above named security, but the Department has covenanted that it will not issue any additional series unless and until for two consecutive years immediately preceding any issue, 75% of the net revenues from the Departmental liquor monopoly and /or other revenues satisfactory to the Bankers, hereafter pledged, shall have aggregated each year an amount equal to at least twice the annual interest and sinking fund charges on all the Bonds outstanding and then to be issued.

Purpose

The proceeds of this Second Series are to be used to retire approximately $1,353,000 internal 10% bonds and to continue the construction of the highway to the sea. This will be a modern motor road, about 400 kilometers in total length, running from Medellin almost due north to the Gulf of Uraba on the Caribbean Sea. The Colombian Government has agreed to pay a subsidy for this highway approximating one-third of its cost. The contract for the first 200 kilometers, from Medellin to Dabeiba, was awarded to R.W. Hebard & Co., Inc., New York, and construction has been in progress since September, 1926.

Department of Antioquia

Antioquia, the largest Department of the Republic of Colombia, has an area of over 25,000 square miles extending from the central part of the Republic to the Caribbean Sea on the north, and a population in excess of 900,000. Medellin, the capital of Antioquia, is the commercial center of a larger surrounding territory estimated to include more than 2,000,000 inhabitants.

The Department produces approximately one-quarter of the coffee grown in the Republic of Colombia—the world's second largest coffee producer—and the value of the 1926 crop is estimated at $18,000,000. Agriculture, stock-raising, manufacturing and mining (coal, silver, platinum, gold) are the principal activities and industries of the people.

Finances

Since its creation in 1886, the Department of Antioquia has never defaulted in the payment of principal, interest or sinking fund on any of its debt.

The Department agrees to incorporate each year in the departmental budget the amount necessary for the complete service of the loan.

Receipts and expenditures, exclusive of the railways, have been as follows:

Fiscal Year ended June 30	Receipts	Expenditures
1923	$3,272,061	$3,152,091
1924	3,370,668	3,320,437
1925	4,276,815	4,398,783*
1926	5,259,746	4,887,037
1927	6,518,330	6,042,815

* Including $552,000 for roads and public buildings.

The budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, estimates receipts at $7,053,174 and expenditures at $7,051,967.

The total debt of the Department, including this issue, is approximately $26,125,000; and the value of property owned by the Department, including its railways, is estimated at $33,500,000. Within the last three years, Antioquia has borrowed in the American market $14,500,000 for railway construction. It operates its own railways, the net earnings of which for the year ending December 31, 1926 were sufficient for the service of the railway loans.

The Colombian Peso is equal to $.9733 United States currency at gold parity, and conversions into dollars above have been made at this rate. Banco de la Republica has the sole right to issue bank notes and had on June 30, 1927, a gold reserve of 86% against notes outstanding and demand liabilities.

The First Series of these Bonds are listed on the New York Stock Exchange and it is expected that application will be made to list this Second Series.

This sinking fund is calculated to retire all the bonds by maturity.

The following is summarized from information obtained by cable from B. Stuevold Hansen, Chairman of the Bank, and from other official sources:

Organization: Kingdom of Norway Municipalities Bank (Norges Kommunalbank) is the central banking institution which the Norwegian Government has established for the purpose of granting loans to Norwegian municipal bodies. The Bank was established pursuant to provisions of Norwegian Law of February 12, 1926 and commenced business September 1, 1927. The Bank has foundation capital of $5,360,000 (Kr. 20,000,000), and reserve fund of $804,000 (Kr. 3,000,000) fully subscribed and paid in by the Norwegian Government. Principal office of the Bank is at Oslo, the capital of Norway. Operation of the Bank is by the Government through a Board of three members, the Chairman of the Board being appointed by the King of Norway and the other two members by the Norwegian Storting. The Bank operates under the supervision of the Ministry of Finance.

The Bank's resources will be increased beyond the foundation capital and reserve fund mentioned above by any undivided profits, which must be added to reserve fund, and by any issuance of participation capital shares as described below.

Operations: The Bank grants loans only to Norwegian municipal bodies and similar political subdivisions in Norway. Norwegian Law provides that when the Bank grants loans out of funds borrowed by it in foreign currency, it must make such loans in, and such loans must be repaid in, the same foreign currency. The proceeds of this loan, therefore, shall be loaned to Norwegian municipal bodies only in United States Dollars and both principal and interest of such loans must be payable to the Bank in United States Dollars. All loans applied for must be approved by the Ministry of Justice, and prior to granting loans the Bank is directed by Royal Decree of August 5, 1927, to assure itself that the financial and economic condition of the borrower is satisfactory. The Bank enjoys certain powers of restriction on further financing of municipal bodies to which it grants loans, including power to prohibit with the consent of the Ministry of Justice, as a condition of the loan, such municipal bodies from future mortgaging of their assets.

The Bank retains 5% of the face amount of every loan granted by it, subject to the right of the King to regulate or limit this contributory duty, issuing to the borrower an equivalent par value of participation capital shares in the Bank in the form of registered non-negotiable certificates; a maximum of 5% per annum dividend is payable on the participation capital shares, at the discretion of the management.

A sum equal to at least two-thirds of the foundation capital of the Bank, plus its entire reserve fund, must be kept on deposit in banks or invested in interest bearing obligations of the Norwegian Government or guaranteed by the Government.

Security: These bonds are the direct obligation of the Bank, which covenants that if in the future it shall sell, offer for public subscription, or in any manner issue or dispose of any bonds or loan or create any obligation, secured by lien on any revenue or asset of the Bank, the bonds of this issue shall be secured equally and ratably therewith. These $6,000,000 bonds are the first series issued by the Bank to grant loans as described above, and constitute its total funded debt. The law creating the Bank limits the aggregate amount of the bonds issued by it at any time outstanding to eight times the sum of its foundation capital and that part of its participation capital which exceeds $1,340,000 (Kr. 5,000,000).

Note: All conversions of kroner into dollars have been made at par of exchange ($.2680).

Application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange.

Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us, subject to the approval of legal proceedings by our counsel, Messrs. Cotton & Franklin, of New York, and by Norwegian counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made in the form of temporary bonds on or about December 15, 1927.

A second interconnection with the Sterlington station, from which the Company obtains a substantial portion of its power, is at Vicksburg, Mississippi.

Security: These Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on all the fixed properties now owned by the Company, including electric generating stations having an aggregate installed capacity of 14,000 kilowatts, 1,145 miles of electric transmission and distribution lines, gas generating capacity of 900,000 cubic feet per day, 24 miles of gas mains and 25 miles of electric railway track, except for $92,500 of divisional liens on two small properties.

Earnings: The earnings derived from the present properties of the Company for the twelve months ended September 30, 1927 and 1926, were as follows:

BANKERS TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, Trustee.

For further information regarding the Company and this issue of Bonds, reference is made to a letter dated November 21, 1927, from J. A. Campbell, Esq., President of The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, copies of which may be obtained from the undersigned and from which the following is quoted:

THE COMPANY: "The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, organized in 1900, ranks as the third largest steel company in the United States, with an annual ingot capacity of over 3,000,000 tons. It is engaged in the manufacture and sale of a diversified line of products, comprising pig iron, billets, sheet, bar, plates, sheet, bars, rods, nails, wire, tin plate, etc., and specializes in the manufacture of steel pipe, of which it is the second largest producer in the world.

It has two steel plants located in the Youngstown district, approximately midway between the principal consuming centers of the country. At Chicago it has a large steel plant, with finishing mills, a large merchant pig iron production and two of the finest harbors in that district. Its iron ore properties are situated in the Lake Superior region and its coal properties in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. The Company also owns profitable zinc mines in Wisconsin, Kansas and Oklahoma.

In the past three years the Company has spent large sums on new plant and equipment and in 1926 made an important addition to its output by placing in operation two seamless tube mills in the Youngstown district and a large tinplate mill in the Chicago district. The Company has recently appropriated $12,000,000 for the construction of a by-product coke-oven plant for its South Chicago blast furnaces and a boiler and power station at its Campbell plant, Youngstown, which will result in very material savings to the Company. The plants of the Company are modern and represent the latest development of the industry. The Company owns about 600 acres in the Youngstown district and about 300 acres in the Chicago district, still unused, which provide ample sites for future growth. The management is in the hands of executives and directors, many of whom have been associated with the business since its inception.

PURPOSE: The purpose of the issue of these bonds is to refund, at a lower rate of interest, the Company's entire outstanding bonded debt, amounting to $64,422,500, and to reimburse the treasury of the Company for part of its expenditures for additions and improvements. The annual interest on the $75,000,000 new 5% bonds, of $3,750,000, will be less than the present annual interest on the $64,422,500 bonds to be retired.

Of the outstanding $64,422,500 bonds, $47,000,000 The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company Debenture Gold 6% Bonds, $4,982,500 The Steel and Tube Company of America General Mortgage Gold 6% Bonds and $9,348,000 The Brier Hill Steel Company First Mortgage Gold 5½% Bonds, will be called for redemption on January 1, 1928, and $2,840,000 Mark Manufacturing Company First Mortgage Serial Gold 6% Bonds will be called for redemption on June 1, 1928. The remaining $252,000 mature as follows: $128,000 on December 1, 1928, and $124,000 on December 1, 1929. Pending payment of the above issues at or before maturity an equal amount of cash will be deposited as will be provided in the First Mortgage.

SECURITY: The First Mortgage Sinking Fund Gold Bonds will be the direct obligation of The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and will be secured by its First Mortgage to Bankers Trust Company, New York, Trustee. The Bonds will be secured by a direct first mortgage on all of the fixed assets of the Company owned on November 1, 1927, as well as upon all additions, improvements and betterments thereto, and by the pledge of stocks and certain obligations of subsidiary companies (other than sales companies) then owned by the Company, as will be defined in the mortgage, none of which subsidiary companies are subject to any mortgage. The combined book value of the assets to be mortgaged and pledged, as of September 30 1927, was over $121,000,000, of which over $97,000,000 represented fixed assets and over $24,000,000 represented stocks and obligations of said subsidiary companies. The First Mortgage will cover all the Company's present real estate, plants and mineral properties, except certain mineral leases which, by their terms, cannot be assigned or pledged. The book value of the fixed assets is much below the intrinsic value as is shown by the fact that such assets of the companies now comprising The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and its subsidiary companies, were appraised in 1921 by independent experts at more than $73,000,000 in excess of the values at which such assets were carried upon the books. Any properties that may be acquired by the Company hereafter, with the proceeds of the reserved $75,000,000 Bonds as hereinafter specified, are also to become subject to the First Mortgage, and the Company will agree not to mortgage any property otherwise acquired without first subjecting the same to the prior lien of the First Mortgage. In case of the purchase of properties subject to a lien, an amount of First Mortgage Bonds equal to the amount of such lien shall be reserved for the eventual payment of such lien insofar as bonds are available.

The net tangible assets of the Company as shown by its books, as of September 30, 1927, adjusted to show the sale of the present issue of bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof, will be $200,957,944, of which $72,502,309 will be net current assets. The Company is not presently borrowing from its banks nor has it done so for a number of years.

New York, November 22, 1927.

and Tube Company

5% Gold Bonds, Series "A"

ary 1, 1978

EARNINGS: The annual earnings of the companies now comprising the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company and its subsidiary companies, applicable to the payment of interest, after charges for depreciation and depletion for the five years ending December 31, 1926, have averaged $15,929,371, or more than 4.2 times the interest charges on the $75,000,000 First Mortgage Bonds now being issued. The Company's sales, depreciation charges, and the profits applicable to all interest, for each of said years, were as follows:

Year Ended Dec. 31	Net Sales	Net Earnings Before Depreciation, Interest and Federal Taxes	Depreciation and Depletion	Available for All Interest Before Federal Taxes
1924	121,456,369.83	21,461,893.86	8,715,638.31	12,746,255.55
1926	152,508,502.78	30,776,312.79	9,166,632.19	21,609,680.60

Despite the decreased demand and lower prices for iron and steel products during the current year as compared with 1926, the statement of the Company for the first nine months of this year, after charging $7,844,091 for depreciation and depletion, shows net earnings of $9,735,000, available for bond interest, being at the rate of more than 3.4 times interest charges for nine months on the $75,000,000 First Mortgage Sinking Fund 5% Bonds.

Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. have audited the books of the Company since 1909.

In the twenty-seven years during which the Company has been in existence, it has never failed to earn a substantial profit in every year with the single exception of the year 1921, in which abnormal conditions prevailed and there was a lack of demand for iron and steel products. The Company has outstanding $14,241,100 preferred stock paying 7% dividends, and 987,606 shares of no par value common stock, on which dividends at the rate of $5 per share per annum are now being paid. Dividends have been paid on the common stock of the Company uninterruptedly since 1906. The present market value of the shares of the Company is over $100,000,000.

THE BONDS: The First Mortgage will provide for the issuance of bonds in series to a total authorized amount not exceeding $175,000,000. Of this total authorized amount $75,000,000 principal amount of bonds, Series "A," constitute the bonds presently sold to you; $25,000,000 additional bonds may be issued for any corporate purpose, and the remaining $75,000,000 of bonds are reserved to be issued to reimburse the Company for 75% of the amount of capital expenditures made after November 1, 1927, for the acquisition of new property or for betterments, improvements and additions to the mortgaged property or for advances to subsidiary companies to the extent of 75% of like expenditures made by subsidiary companies (provided in such cases that mortgage bonds of such companies for the full amount of such expenditures are subjected to the First Mortgage) or for 75% of the cost of stocks or obligations of other companis, but not more than 10% of the total amount of bonds outstanding under the First Mortgage may be issued for acquisition of stock or obligations of other companies. None of the $75,000,000 reserved bonds shall be issued except for refunding purposes unless the net earnings (after payment of interest on current indebtedness other than indebtedness to be repaid out of the proceeds of bonds then to be issued) applicable to interest on funded debt of the Company (including subsidiary companies) and of any new properties to be acquired, for either the year preceding such issue, or the average of the last three years preceding such issue, have been at least one and one-half times the interest on the funded indebtedness of the Company and its subsidiary companies, including the new bonds to be issued.

The First Mortgage will provide that the Company will not pay dividends on its common stock (other than in stock) in excess of $5,000,000 in the aggregate, except out of earnings of the Company after January 1, 1927.

Bonds may be issued under the mortgage, par for par, upon or to provide for payment or retirement of any bonds theretofore issued, except for bonds retired by the sinking fund.

GENERAL: The bonds of each series other than Series "A" shall bear such rate of interest, shall mature at such time and be redeemable upon such terms and have such other provisions, subject to the limitations expressed in the mortgage, as may be determined by the Board of Directors at the time of the creation of each subsequent series and expressed in the bonds thereof.

Application will be made in due course to list the $75,000,000 Series "A" bonds on the New York Stock Exchange."

THE UNDERSIGNED WILL RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR THE ABOVE BONDS, SUBJECT TO ALLOTMENT, AT 101% AND ACCRUED INTEREST, TO YIELD ABOUT 4.95% TO MATURITY.

The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company Debenture Gold 6% Bonds, The Steel and Tube Company of America General Mortgage Gold 6% Bonds, and The Brier Hill Steel Company First Mortgage Gold 5½% Bonds, all of which are to be called for redemption on January 1, 1928, at 105% and accrued interest, and Mark Manufacturing Company First Mortgage Serial Gold 6% Bonds, which are to be called for redemption on June 1, 1928, at 102½% and accrued interest, will be accepted in payment for the new bonds on a 3½% interest basis computed on the redemption prices to the redemption dates, provided notice of the amount of such bonds to be tendered in payment is given not less than five days prior to the date fixed for delivery of and payment for the new bonds.

The undersigned reserve the right to close the subscription at any time without notice, to reject any application, to allot a smaller amount than applied for and to make allotments in their uncontrolled discretion.

The above bonds are offered if, when and as issued and received by the undersigned and subject to the approval of counsel. Temporary bonds or interim receipts will be delivered against payment in New York funds for bonds allotted, which temporary bonds or interim receipts will be exchangeable for definitive bonds when prepared.

---

The following information has been summarized from the letter to us, dated November 18, 1927, from Mr. Geo. N. Tidd, President of The Ohio Power Company and of American Gas and Electric Company, copies of which may be obtained upon request and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

THE COMPANY

The Ohio Power Company owns and operates large electric power and light generating plants and transmission and distribution systems in important manufacturing, mining, agricultural and stock-raising sections of Ohio. The company owns transmission and distribution lines aggregating 3,924 miles and supplies electric power and light service to 268 communities in a prosperous territory in Ohio, having an estimated population of 800,000. The company's principal electric generating stations are located at Philo, Ohio, and Power (formerly Windsor), West Virginia. All the electric power and light properties owned by the company are interconnected by high voltage transmission lines, and this system in the State of Ohio is connected with the high voltage lines of other subsidiaries of American Gas and Electric Company. This interconnected system, extending into seven states, constitutes one of the largest superpower systems in the world.

SECURITY

The First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds (of which $43,131,500 will be outstanding upon completion of the present financing) are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by direct mortgage lien on the company's plants and physical properties. Such plants and properties are valued at an amount substantially in excess of the funded debt of the company, based on an appraisal made by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., in 1921, with subsequent additions at cost. The mortgage is a first lien on the greater part of the company's physical properties; on the remainder it is subject to $2,648,000 divisional lien bonds outstanding under closed mortgages. All these divisional lien bonds must be paid at maturity and not extended.

FIDELITY UNION TRUST COMPANY, NEWARK, NEW JERSEY, TRUSTEE

Issuance subject to authorization by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey

Mr. Thomas N. McCarter, President of the Company, has summarized as follows his letter to us describing these Bonds:

BUSINESS AND TERRITORY

Public Service Electric and Gas Company, one of the largest companies of its kind in the world, owns or controls electric and gas systems serving a rapidly growing population in New Jersey estimated at over 2,900,000, or over 80% of the population of the State. The territory served extends from the Hudson River opposite New York City southwest across the State to the Delaware River opposite Philadelphia and includes Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Trenton, Camden, Elizabeth, Bayonne, Hoboken, Passaic, the Oranges, Perth Amboy, Union City and New Brunswick.

SECURITY

The First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds, of which $67,300,000 will be outstanding upon completion of this financing, are secured by mortgage on all of the Company's mortgageable property and by pledge of leasehold estates. The mortgaged and pledged property, as valued in 1924 by independent engineers plus net additions to date at cost, is over twice the Company's funded debt to be held by the public upon completion of this financing plus the securities of leased companies in the hands of the public.

The property on which these Bonds are secured by first mortgage includes over two-thirds of the electric generating capacity of the system—the Kearny power plant of 215,588 kv.-a. installed capacity and the Essex power plant of 205,044 kv.-a. installed capacity—and is valued, as above, at substantially more than the principal amount of the First and Refunding Mortgage Bonds outstanding.

EQUITY

The Company's funded debt and the securities of leased companies held by the public, totaling $149,488,055 as of November 1, 1927, after giving effect to this financing, are followed by its outstanding $71,563,700 Preferred Stock and 11,475,000 shares of Common Stock, the latter representing a cash investment of $114,750,000. All of the Company's common stock, except directors' shares, is owned by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE

The proceeds of these $45,000,000 Bonds will provide for the retirement of all of the outstanding $40,601,000 First and Refunding Mortgage Gold Bonds, 5½% Series due 1959 and 5½% Series due 1964, (which will be called for payment at 105 and interest on April 1, 1928, and February 1, 1928, respectively), and for expenditures already made for additions and improvements to the properties.

Advertise Where the Chicago Investor Looks First

THERE was a time when the reading public was content with the news twelve hours late—but those days are gone forever.

The modern man wants his box scores, race results and general news "hot." And if he's at all interested in finance or investments, he wants his financial news the day it happens.

In Chicago The Daily News caters to this demand for timeliness in the news by issuing the earliest comprehensive review of the markets. At 3:10 p. m. it presents the closing quotations of all Chicago and New York markets, with the volume of trading in each security. Such complete information is not available in any other Chicago afternoon newspaper—not available in the morning newspapers until twelve hours later.

In successive editions and throughout the day it analyzes and humanizes the business news of the day in interpretative articles by competent financial writers, attracting to its financial pages and those who advertise therein investors of the first rank as well as that great financial "middle class" which year by year buys an increasing proportion of the securities of American business.

Financial advertising in The Daily News pays because it reaches the man who is interested in financial affairs and reaches him first.

The Financial Situation.

The strength displayed in the security markets has been continued this past week. The Dow Jones industrial average which reached a high point on the recovery on Saturday last of 196.83, reacted somewhat in the early part of the week, but passed that figure at 197.11 at the close on Friday, a point still somewhat below the October 3rd high of 199.78, but if consideration is given to the 6.82 pared from this average on account of the splitting of General Motors stock, the recent advances have established absolute highs in this industrial average. The railroad high on Friday reached 140.92, comparing with the Oct. 3d high of 144.82, and an intervening low on Oct. 29 of 133.61. The average of 40 investment bonds which for a number of days last week continued to make new highs, reaching 99.23 on Saturday, has since substantially maintained this level, although prices have been slightly lower rather than higher.

The week has witnessed some very notable offerings as well as a large nuumber of less conspicuous ones. On Tuesday Kuhn, Loeb & Company offered $75,000,000 The Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company First Mortgage 5s, 1978, at 101, yielding about 4.95%. The company is the third largest steel corporation in this country with an annual ingot capacity of over 3,000,000 tons. The purpose of the issue is to refund at a lower rate $64,422,500 bonds previously outstanding, and to reimburse the treasury in part for capital expenditures. The new bonds are secured by an absolute first mortgage on the company's properties which have a book value of $121,000,000, and which have recently been appraised at $73,000,000 in excess of this. The income record shows that the interest was earned more than 3.4 times during the first nine months of the current year, in which operations have been below normal, and considerably more than this during the previous four years. Thus the bonds possess great inherent strength and the issue was quickly oversubscribed.

On Wednesday, Drexel & Co. and Bonbright & Company, Inc., offered $45,000,000 Public Service Electric & Gas First & Refunding 4½s, 1967, at 98, yielding over 4.60%. This issue has been put out to refund $40,601,000 5½% bonds secured under the same mortgage, and to provide for certain capital expenditures already made. With these bonds outstanding, the total funded debt of the company amounts to about $150,000,000 followed by stock issues which taking the preferred at its par and the common at the cash for which it was issued, aggregate about $186,000,000. This strong and well managed operating public utility company shows earnings of four times the total bond interest. Naturally, an issue of this kind and of exceptional strength went well, even at the relatively low income basis of 4.60%. Bond dealers outside of the syndicate were unable, it is stated, to secure bonds for their customers.

The probable character of this week's statement of the Federal Reserve Board regarding broker's loans in this City was clearly foreshadowed by the course of Stock Exchange speculation. With speculation again becoming rampant and with trading on the Exchange steadily growing in volume, a further increase in Stock Exchange borrowing, as reflected in these brokers' loans, was virtually a foregone conclusion. And that is just what the statement discloses on examination. The figures this week were given out after the close of business yesterday, instead of the day before, Thursday having been Thanksgiving Day and a holiday. The further increase this week is $25,171,000 and of course it establishes another new high record in all time. This increase of $25,171,000 follows no less than $71,586,000 increase the previous week, $12,824,000 increase the week preceding and $27,928,000 increase the week before that. In other words, in these four weeks the addition has been $137,509,000.

The total of these loans to brokers and dealers (secured by stocks and bonds) by the 52 reporting member banks in New York City (Nov. 23) stands at $3,481,286,000. On Nov. 24 last year the aggregate was already large and yet amounted to no more than $2,608,283,000, showing an expansion for the twelve months in the huge amount of $873,003,000. The loans made by these 52 banks on their own account aggregate $1,188,881,000 this year, against $838,562,000 a year ago; the loans for account of out-of-town banks $1,292,578,000, against $1,030,998,000, and the loans for account of others $999,827,000, against $738,723,000—showing marked expansion in each category.

As to the returns of the Reserve Banks themselves, the changes this week are controlled chiefly by the circumstance that the temporary borrowing done a week ago by the U. S. Treasury in connection with the large payments made in redemption of the Second Liberty Loan bonds on Nov. 15 finds repetition this week only in greatly diminished form, the Government having repaid $82,300,000 of these advances. In other words, a week ago the twelve Reserve Banks held $164,500,000 of temporary Treasury certificates of indebtedness issued to them by the U. S. Treasury, while the present week they hold only $80,500,000 of such certificates, the remainder having been taken up The net result of these Treasury transactions is that the holdings of Government securities by the twelve Reserve Banks have been drawn down from $704,794,000 on Nov. 16 to $621,232,000 on Nov. 23. Holdings of acceptances purchased in the open market are also somewhat lower the present week at $326,710,000, against $333,807,000. On the other hand, the member banks have increased their borrowing at the Reserve Institutions as appears from the fact that the discount holdings of the twelve Reserve Banks are now $418,295,000, as against $367,436,000 a week ago. As a consequence of all this, total holdings of bills and securities the present week are $1,366,872,000, against $1,406,652,000, a week ago.

The Treasury got the new money referred to and which it used to repay half of the advances obtained the previous week from the Reserve Banks, from the proceeds, as they came in, of the $419,770,000 allotted on the new issue of Treasury Certificates floated during the month bearing 3⅛% interest. The member banks in turn, being obliged to make payment for this large mass of new certificates, had to resort to new borrowing at the Reserve Banks, but this served only in part to make good the loss and hence we find, as another result, a considerable diminution in their reserve account which they are obliged to keep with the Federal Reserve institutions. The total of this reserve account fell during the week from $2,499,978,000 to $2,392,520,000. The deposits of the twelve Reserve institutions, mainly owing to this drawing down of the reserve account of the member banks, declined during the week from $2,565,993,000 to $2,435,790,000. Federal Reserve notes, however, in actual circulation, increased from $1,706,436,000 to $1,728,703,000, while gold reserves were at the same time reduced from $2,889,440,000 to $2,859,938,000. On account of the smaller volume of deposits, the ratio of total reserves (including reserves other than gold) to deposit and Federal Reserve note circulation combined, stands somewhat higher than a week ago, being 71.9%, against 70.8%.

Last Saturday's return of the New York Clearing House Banks and Trust Companies showed changes about as expected. Through the large payments made in redemption of Second Liberty Loan bonds, the net demand deposits of these Clearing House institutions were increased in the large sum of $120,477,000, which was offset only in the small amount of $9,000 by a diminution in the total of time deposits. Government deposits also increased, rising from $37,851,000 Nov. 12 to $47,193,000 Nov. 19. Loans and discounts ran up during the week $80,729,000 and these Clearing House institutions were able at the same time to add $20,895,000 to their reserve kept with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. On the other hand, cash in own vaults, which does not count as legal reserve, decreased $2,356,000. Owing to the larger reserve kept with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, the banks were able to increase their excess reserves from $5,355,490 on Nov. 12 to $10,621,630 on Nov. 19, notwithstanding the large expansion in the deposits.

The Census ginning returns on cotton were issued on Monday and the first effect was to cause a sharp upward reaction in price on the Cotton Exchanges due to the fact that total ginnings proved somewhat smaller than had been expected. The figures show 10,899,182 bales ginned up to Nov. 14 in 1927 as against 12,956,444 bales ginned up to the same date in 1926 and 12,260,352 bales in 1925. The decrease from last year it will be observed, is not much more than 2,000,000 bales and from 1925 only a little over 1⅓ million bales. On the other hand the Agricultural Department at Washington two weeks ago estimated the probable crop the present year at but 12,842,000 bales, against an actual crop in 1926, according to the census, of 17,977,000 bales in 1926 and 16,104,000 bales in 1925. This latter, it will be seen, shows a falling off of more than 5,000,000 bales from the crop of 1926 and of about 3¼ million bales from the crop of 1925.

While it is true that the ginnings the present year did not prove quite as large as was supposed would be the case, the really noteworthy feature in the returns is the close approach which the ginnings show to the Agricultural Department's estimate of the probable size of the crop in quite a number of different States, though in most of the States ginnings will continue for some time to come. The ginning figures, it is well enough to observe, are stated in running bales, while the Agricultural Department's estimates are given in 500lb bales, but the difference between the two is of so little consequence that it may well be disregarded. With ginnings still in progress, the ginnings east of the Mississippi River already come quite near the Agricultural Bureau's estimate of the probable total production in that portion of the Cotton Belt. Notable instances are the States of Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi. The Agricultural Department puts the Georgia crop at 1,110,000 bales, while ginnings in that State up to Nov. 14 have been 1,053,748 bales. This would leave only 56,252 bales yet to be ginned; last year the ginnings in Georgia after Nov. 14 reached 294,519 bales, but in the previous year they amounted to no more than 47,653 bales. In Alabama the ginnings to Nov. 14 have been 1,125,552 bales, while the estimate of the crop by the department is 1,180,000 bales, leaving hence only 54,448 bales to be ginned in that State the remainder of the season; last year the ginnings in Alabama after Nov. 14 were 212,907 bales and the year before they were 114,329 bales. For Mississippi the Agricultural Department's estimate of the crop is 1,330,000 bales, whereas 1,207,178 bales were ginned up to Nov. 14, leaving 122,822 bales still to be ginned to reach the estimate; last year the ginnings in Mississippi after Nov. 14 footed up 428,541 bales and in 1925 they reached no less than 574,037 bales. Because the study is such an interesting one, we have compiled the following table showing the ginnings to Nov. 14 in each of the different States of the Cotton Belt, together with the department's estimate of the crop in the same States, as also the differences between the two, representing the amounts still to be ginned, for each of the States. We also show for each of the States the ginnings after Nov. 14 in 1926 and likewise in 1925.

In the foregoing it will be observed we have separated the States east of the Mississippi from those west of the river, and what attracts particular attention is the results for the eastern portion of the Cotton Belt to which we have already directed attention. For these eastern States the Agricultural Department estimates the crop at 6,231,000 bales, while the ginnings to Nov. 14 in the same States have been 5,574,830 bales, leaving only 656,170 bales still to be ginned in the whole of that vast territory (supposing the department's estimate to be correct). In 1926 the ginnings in that territory after 1926 reached 1,945,403 bales and the year before they amounted to 1,479,560 bales.

West of the Mississippi River the ginnings are usually much later and accordingly for the present year to Nov. 14 they do not approximate so closely the department's estimates of the probable production—that is, considerable amounts of cotton remain to be ginned before the estimates will be reached; but even here the amounts still to be ginned the present season on the basis of the department's estimate appear small alongside the actual ginnings after Nov. 14 in either 1926 or in 1925. Texas furnishes a conspicuous illustration. In that State, or at least the western and northwestern portions where drouth delayed planting at the beginning of the season, cotton is even now still being picked. The department estimates the 1927 crop in Texas at 4,300,000 bales; ginnings to Nov. 14 have been 3,665,252 bales, leaving 634,748 bales still to be ginned; in 1926 the Texas ginnings after Nov. 14 were 1,450,907 bales and in 1925 they were 943,930 bales.

Similarly the Oklahoma crop is estimated at 1,050,000 bales, while the ginnings to Nov. 14 have been 755,464 bales, being 294,536 bales this side of the estimate; but in 1926 the ginnings in Oklahoma after Nov. 14 were 869,987 bales and in 1925 they were 666,813 bales.

In like manner Arkansas is credited with a crop of 1,000,000 bales, with ginnings to Nov. 14 of 756,250 bales leaving 243,750 bales to be ginned in order to make good the estimate; in 1926 the ginnings in Arkansas after Nov. 14 were 382,751 bales and the year before they were no less than 604,533 bales.

For the whole of the Western portion of the Cotton Belt the department's estimate of the crop is 6,611,000 bales with the ginnings to Nov. 14 5,324,352 bales, leaving 1,286,648 bales to be ginned; last year the ginnings after Nov. 14 in that territory proved to be 2,853,223 bales and the year before 2,382,604 bales.

Neither in the Eastern nor the Western portion of the Belt are the ginnings for the remainder of the season likely to be as heavy as they were last year or the year before, owing to the adverse circumstances and conditions that the 1927 growth of cotton has had to contend with, but whether they are not likely to be larger than the Department's estimates call for, is a fair question which each reader will determine for himself.

Ministerial declarations before the House of Commons in the past week indicated that the British Government is sincerely desirous of finding a suitable formula for the limitation of naval armaments, notwithstanding the failure of the tri-partite Conference in Geneva last August. The trend of British official opinion on this matter had already become apparent when, on Nov. 16, Mr. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced that two of the three cruisers scheduled to be laid down in the present fiscal year would not be proceeded with. Reports were subsequently circulated that a cut in the 1929 program was also under consideration by the Admiralty. When questioned directly in the Commons session last Wednesday evening, Mr. Bridgeman admitted readily that such is the case and he expressed, in addition, a very definite hope that international limitation may be reached. "Eleven 10,000-ton cruisers are now building for the royal navy," Mr. Bridgeman reminded the Commons, when he replied to the questioners for the Government. "Our published program does not extend beyond 1929. It provides for one 10,000-tonner and two smaller ones in 1927, 1928 and 1929. A new situation, however, has arisen owing to the fact that at Geneva, although our proposal for the limitation of 10,000-tonners was not agreed to, the discussions led to the hope that limitation may be reached. In these circumstances, his Majesty's Government is reluctant to lay down any more large cruisers. We have dropped two ships from the program this year, one large and one small, and are considering substituting a smaller vessel for the 10,000-tonner in next year's program."

This statement was followed Thursday by a full dress debate on a Labor motion of censure against the Baldwin Government, which involved the chief spokesmen of all parties. The Labor motion, moved by former Premier MacDonald, requested the House to "deplore the lack of preparation by the Government and the military character of the British delegation, which seriously contributed to the failure of the recent naval conference at Geneva." Lack of enthusiasm in pushing world efforts for disarmament was also charged in the Labor motion, which Mr. MacDonald declared to be "absolutely unanswerable." Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, and Mr. W. C. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty, both rose in defense of the Government. Sir Austen flatly challenged the efficacy of "open covenants, openly arrived at," and drew from the failure of the Geneva Conference that it was desirable to have secret diplomacy. Great Britain, he said, would have discussed the whole affair with the United States before the conference met in order to see if bases existed on which an agreement was likely to be reached, except for a fear held by his Majesty's Government that they might be accused of seeking to evade the invitation of the American Government to a conference, and appear to be opposed to such an effort to further limit naval armaments. It was not true, Sir Austen added, that the British Government entered the conference unprepared. It had drawn up a scheme which provided for great reduction in the expense of navies, and moreover would have produced great limitation in aggressive sea power.

Sir Austen discussed also his own avoidance of the Protocol of the League of Nations. He made the frank declaration that it was impossible for him to define an "aggressor nation" in the event of war and asserted that if Britain pledged herself further through the Protocol to an aggrieved country against an aggressor she might find herself in reality defending the wrong party morally. He quoted Signor Scialojia in the League Assembly as declaring that by clever diplomacy a nation really an aggressor might make itself appear the one moved against, and he added that he deemed it unwise to commit Britain to any definition of "aggression" because he was sure warmaking nations would take care to keep within their legal rights, but so manoeuvre as to force an opponent to break them. Mr. Lloyd George agreed with the Foreign Minister on the undesirability of committing Britain to the Protocol of the League as an "unknown obligation," but he felt that Sir Austen dealt inadequately with the question of disarmament. Success in disarmament, he told the House, will never be achieved by consulting experts. Mr. W. C. Bridgeman spoke finally for the Government. He denied again Viscount Cecil's account of the reasons the Conference broke down. He said it was a question of tonnage, not of eight-inch guns, and denied that he had been insufficiently prepared or had conducted negotiations in a militaristic spirit. The division on the Labor motion of censure resulted in its defeat by a vote of 316 to 105, the Conservative majority in the House functioning as usual.

The slow increase of tension in Great Britain, caused by the chronic unemployment and by the serious depression in the coal mining industry, resulted last week in a march across England of jobless miners and also in a further parliamentary tiff. The miners' demonstration, engineered by "Emperor" A. J. Cook, was staged with the avowed purpose of calling the nation's attention to the distressing plight of many thousands of men in the South Wales fields. After a march of eleven days from South Wales, the "army" of 267 miners entered London last Sunday and held a meeting in Trafalgar Square. Cook, who is Secretary of the British Miners' Federation, addressed the meeting. His opening declaration was a demand that Premier Stanley Baldwin resign office. "Baldwin must go!" he shouted. "This is a battle for bread," Cook continued. "Away in the valleys of Wales the women, too, are marching—marching to the Guardians; the children are marching—marching to school, hungry and without proper food. But we have not come to London to beg bread; we have come to demand justice, the right to work." The unemployment and poverty of the Welsh miners was caused, he declared, by the callousness of "Baldwinism." Fenner Brockway, General Secretary of the Independent Labor Party, was another speaker. He said that the miners had made great sacrifices and he declared that it was the first duty of the nation to see that they had a living wage. Every human, man or woman, he said, should demand that for them. At the conclusion of the meeting resolutions were adopted calling the Government's attention to the suffering among the people in the nation's coal fields and particularly in South Wales, and demanding that the Government receive a deputation of the marching miners in order that remedial suggestions might be put forth.

A more pointed declaration relating to the British coal mining industry was made Monday by Sir Alfred Mond, one of the most prominent of British Liberals. "What seems to be going on in the coal industry at the present time," he said, "is the performance of a surgical operation without an anesthetic. Uneconomic pits are slowly bleeding to death and the miner appears to be out of work until such time as other employment offers. Production and consumption carried on without any relation to prices exaggerate the economic position, and international arrangements appear impossible. I would suggest that if a surgical operation is to be performed on the industry it should be with the help of an anesthetic so as to inflict the minimum amount of suffering and loss on an ancient and in some respects a backward industry." Sir Alfred estimated that as many as 200,000 men and boys are no longer able to gain a livelihood as coal miners and he advocated as a remedy for the present situation the pensioning of miners over the age of 65 in order to make work for the younger of the unemployed. He suggested also that the Ministry of Labor and the Ministry of Health co-operate in formulating a plan amending the existing legislation to encourage rather than to discourage the worker in leaving a district where he can not get work for one where he can.

The hopes entertained by Cook's marching miners that they might be enabled to lay their troubles before Premier Baldwin were dispelled Wednesday, when the Premier announced that he would refuse to see their deputation. He referred their request for an audience to the Ministers of Health, Labor, Pensions and Mines. In the House of Commons there occurred on the same day the second disorderly hold-up of parliamentary business by Laborites within a week. The disturbance in this instance, a dispatch to the New York "Herald Tribune" said, was caused by the Government's policy of railroading the Unemployed Insurance Bill through Parliament. Heated protests arose from the Labor benches when Sir Arthur Steel-Maitland, the Minister of Labor, moved closure in committee on the measure, which the Laborites were fighting clause by clause. Four Left Wing Labor members were successively suspended from the session of the House as a result of the disorders. The tension was relaxed by a change in the Chair, and the House of Commons then settled down more or less placidly to the task of voting down the Labor amendments to the Insurance bill.

The strictest economy in Germany to meet the obligations under the Dawes Plan was urged in an address at Bochum, Nov. 18, by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, President of the Reichsbank. Speaking before the Association of the Rhine and Ruhr Industrialists, the German financier characterized many Reich cities as spendthrifts of money for luxuries while neglecting necessities. He ventured the belief that the Dawes Plan would eventually be changed, but declared Germany must not agitate for alterations until the four-year test expires. He explained his theories of economics which have brought the Reich from financial chaos to a state of stability and warned that it was necessary to continue to hold the mark at the gold level. "Stable currency is impossible without a wellbalanced economic system," Dr. Schacht said. "The fact that every banknote issued is covered by gold is not sufficient. Business has to be supplied with sufficient stable currency. The most important requirements are a favorable trade balance and a balanced domestic budget." Dr. Schacht pointed out that Germany was at a disadvantage because of war losses. So long as the Reich does not know the amount of reparations it will have to pay, the stability of the mark and of the budget were constantly threatened from the outside, he said. The Dawes Plan, he added, removed one of the dangers to the economic system by giving Germany fixed payments, which were established by the Transfer Committee. "Despite the disadvantages, we are able to balance the budget and make payments and at the same time stabilize the purchasing power of our currency both in the home and international markets," he went on. "This is not done, unfortunately, from surplus production, but through loans. We must realize that these credits do not mean the permanent improvement of our situation, but simply a postponement of the final accounting. No country can live on credit permanently. Interest and amortization must be paid from the labor of the nation. Foreign loans, therefore, are justified only as far as they serve to increase home production and make savings possible."

That Germany needs more capital for her industries, Dr. Schacht did not question, but he asserted that she must obtain this additional capital through savings and not by borrowing. He pointed out that Germany is required to keep her reserve up to 40 per cent, which means that if the nation loses 1,000,000,000 marks in foreign currency, the Reichsbank must withdraw 2,500,000,000 marks from circulation. For this reason, he said, the Reichsbank cannot tolerate loans except those of a purely productive character. Dr. Schacht scored the "unproductive" city loans and urged that public finances be conducted in the most careful manner. "Germany to-day," he said in conclusion, "is one of the strongest factors in the reconstruction of international affairs, and we shall continue to show that we intend to remain a free, conscientious people for peaceful, civilizing work."

The National Union Cabinet in Belgium, formed on May 20 1926, resigned collectively last Monday as a result of the Socialists' refusal to accept a compromise on their demand for a reduction in the term of military service. The Cabinet was formed by Premier Jaspar with the aid of all parties in order to insure financial recovery. Stabilization was actually accomplished at the outset, but in the opinion of Premier Jaspar and other members of the Cabinet, the Treasury situation was not yet sufficiently stable to justify a resumption of party politics. The Socialists, however, have for some time been restless under the check of their membership in the union, and precipitated the Governmental crisis by an uncompromising insistence on their project for reducing the term of military service from one year to six months. Unusual excitement was created in Brussels by the crisis because of general interest in the military service issue and fears that the fall of the Cabinet may upset financial security. M. Jaspar, however, was promptly commissioned by King Albert to form a new ministry. This he did by arranging a coalition of the Catholics with the Liberals and the Christian Democratic Party, the Socialists thus passing into a minority opposition. The composition of the new Government follows:

Premier and Minister of Colonies—Henri Jaspar.
Minister of Foreign Affairs—Paul Hymans.
Minister of the Interior—M. Carnoy.
Minister of Finance—M. Houtard.
Minister of Defense—Comte Charles de Broqueville.
Minister of Justice—Paul Emile Janson.
Minister of Arts and Sciences—M. Vautier.
Minister of Public Works—Henri Baels.
Minister of Labor and Industry—Henri Heyman.
Minister of Railroads—Maurice Lippens.

The new Government, according to a special cablegram of Nov. 22 to the New York "Times," assumes power with a delicate situation in the questions of military service and language threatening to divide Belgium into dangerous racial camps, the Flemings against the Walloons, against which every Government always is on guard. The program of the Jaspar Coalition Cabinet was said to include referring the military service dispute to a mixed commission for prompt study and report; second, a policy for governmental economy; third, a balanced budget; fourth, tax reform and reduction; and fifth, an extensive Government building program.

Jon Bratianu, Premier and political dictator of Rumania, died from blood infection at Bucharest, Thursday, after several gland operations had been performed on his throat. His death alters profoundly the political situation in this Balkan State. M. Bratianu died less than four months after King Ferdinand, the sovereign who was his friend as well as the figure which concealed the subject's great power. He leaves Rumania, a Bucharest dispatch to the New York "Times" said, in much greater difficulties than she has known since the Germans entered the capital in 1916. For the last three months M. Bratianu's Government has been continuously assailed by an increasing opposition. He has had to maintain a Ministry which hardly represents the popular voice. The Regency Council he established has been attacked on all sides. Since the death of King Ferdinand the country has constantly been faced with the possibility of revolutions aimed at the restoration of former Crown Prince Carol to the throne. Even during the recent trial of former under-Secretary Manoilescu for plotting in favor of Carol, the Premier was said to have used all his power to maintain his position. He died while still exercising to the full the powers now left in the hands of his ministers. The city and country were reported quiet with no signs of troop movements. The situation, nevertheless, was regarded as very serious. The newspapers, obeying the strict censorship set up by M. Bratianu, printed no sensational news or editorials. Vintila Bratianu, brother of Jon, was appointed Premier by the Regency and assumed office immediately, all the old ministers being re-appointed. His Government was said to be in complete and effective control of the situation. A proclamation, published at noon Thursday, announced the new Government and threatened severe measures against anyone attempting to conspire against the throne or the Government. This relieved much of the excitement in Bucharest and by late afternoon many Rumanians had resumed their usual life in a normal city. The body of M. Bratianu was placed in the national Athenium, where it will remain until Sunday, when the funeral will be held.

The conclusion of a treaty of defensive alliance between Italy and Albania was announced at Rome, Thursday, and was generally interpreted as the Italian answer to the Franco-Jugoslav treaty which was signed at Paris, November 11 The new accord was understood to have taken foreign diplomatic circles in Rome by surprise, as a treaty of friendship and security has been in existence between Italy and the small Balkan State since November, last year. Publication of the text of the latest treaty gave the first hint of its conclusion. By the treaty the contracting parties agree scrupulously to respect the previous treaties concluded between them after the admission of Albania to the League of Nations. There is to be an "unalterable" defensive alliance between the two countries, which can be denounced only in the eighteenth or nineteenth year of its existence. Each nation binds itself for twenty years to give to the other every moral and material assistance in case of unprovoked attack by a third power. The treaty will be registered with the League of Nations. Some excitement in France and Jugoslavia is looked for as a result of the treaty, according to Arnaldo Cortesi, Rome correspondent of the New York "Times." In reality, however, it was said to leave Italo-Albanian relations substantially unaltered. The treaty therefore was regarded in Rome as important chiefly as a solemn warning to Jugoslavia that Italy is quite undismayed by the recent Franco-Jugoslav treaty, and sticks to her former policy of not allowing foreign interference in Albania's internal affairs.

A growing interest is being taken by European nations in the Armament Limitation Conference which will begin at Geneva Nov. 30 under the auspices of the League of Nations. The announcement, made late last month, that Soviet Russia will participate in the Conference was recognized as giving added weight to these already important proceedings. Hitherto the smaller nations bordering on Russia have made their acceptance of any arms limitation agreement conditional upon Russian adherence to the compact and this made the probability of a general agreement seem like looking for Utopia. Dispatches of the past week from Paris and Moscow indicate, however, that Russian participation may make it possible to overcome some of the more obvious difficulties. The Moscow delegation, according to a dispatch of Nov. 19 from Edwin L. James, Paris correspondent of the New York "Times," will be headed by Maxim Litvinoff, Vice Commissar for Foreign Affairs, and will include Anatole Lunacharsky, Commissar of Education, General Simeon Pougatcheff, of the Army General Staff and Admiral Behrens, formerly naval attache at London. The composition of the delegation, Mr. James added, indicates that the Red leaders do not intend to take a merely passive role at the meeting. The Russians, moreover, make no secret of their intentions at the Disarmament Conference. "The Soviet Union," Premier Rykoff said on Nov. 22 "is ready to propose, support and carry out the most radical possible program of disarmament for the whole globe simultaneously. A campaign against these proposals would be only designed to mislead and disguise preparations for a new war under the mask of pacifism." M. Litvinoff, who also issued a statement, said Russian participation was prompted by a desire "to deprive the enemy of a chance to attribute possible failure to Russia's reluctance to disarm." In Paris, according to a special cable of Nov. 22 to the New York "Times," these protestations were looked upon as evidence "that the Russians are planning to sow discord among the League members." American participation in the Conference, Washington dispatches said, will probably be largely confined to a formal attendance. It was pointed out that the November meeting was called to consider the appointment of a special committee to take up the security problem, which concerns primarily European States. Hugh Wilson, American Minister to Switzerland, will represent the United States.

A decree, imposing heavy duties on French imports of frozen meats and raising by 30% the tariff on wheat, was published in the Paris Journal Officiel Nov. 18. The new rates, it was said, will apply equally to all exporting countries and in French official quarters it was maintained that the United States would not be likely, for this reason, to protest against the new tariff. Discrimination against American products, which is the basis upon which Washington acts in tariff tangles, was said to be non-existent. The duty on wheat is increased by the present decree from 25 to 35 francs per 100 kilos. This will result, according to a Paris dispatch of Nov. 18 to the New York "Herald-Tribune," in a temporary cut estimated at 50% in the imports from the United States and Canada. It was suggested that the new rate will make for a quicker consumption of the domestic supply. The section of the decree relating to meat products provides that frozen beef and all other meats, excepting pork, will henceforth pay a duty of 85 francs per 100 kilos. American shippers, it was said, would have little concern in this. That some reaction will be felt by American meat packers appeared certain, however, from the circumstance that they carry on practically all their Continental business through direct branches or subsidiary firms established in Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. As far as wheat is concerned the net result, according to commercial experts, will be to increase the price of native French wheat, the raisers of which have long demanded relief, due to the prolonged agricultural crisis.

A measure, designed to shelve the Margaine oil monopoly proposal, was introduced in the French Chamber of Deputies Nov. 19 and will probably mean, a dispatch to the New York "Times" said, that American oil interests will be saved from being forced out of France. The measure was introduced by the Poincare Government and predictions were confidently made in official circles that it would be rushed through Parliament before January 1, when the monopoly project is due to take effect. The latter has been hanging over the heads of foreign petroleum concerns for many months and would result in their practical exclusion from the French market. The new Poincare bill was said to provide for strict control over importation, leaving the foreign companies a free hand in sales. Foreign concerns must make application for permission to import within three months after the bill takes effect. Permits are to run for fifteen years for crude petroleum and three years for refined products. The amounts which each company may bring in will be based upon the maximum imports of that company during the five previous years. Control will be under the direction of the Ministry of Commerce and applications will be passed upon by the Council of Ministers after a commission composed of the Ministers of Foreign Affairs, War, Navy, Finance and Public Works has investigated. The offices of importing companies must be open at all times to agents of the Ministry of Commerce.

A few basic reflections on international intercourse were set forth in Mexico City Nov. 19 by Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, the newly accredited American Envoy to the Mexican capital. The occasion was a dinner at which the Ambassador was entertained by the American Benevolent Society, the American Chamber of Commerce, the American Club, the American Legion and the American School Foundation. "Those of us," said Mr. Morrow, "Who live in the present complex civilization—can hardly appreciate how recent has been the development of international intercourse." Drawing an apt illustration from anthropology, Mr. Morrow reminded his hearers that in primitive languages one word is frequently sufficient to denote both "stranger" and "enemy." "But with the growth of commerce," he added, "men travel far from home and are received with their families in foreign countries. . . . Civilized nations welcome the stranger to trade in their midst and also pretty much agree on the general principles of conduct which we know as international law." Mr. Morrow dilated on the difficulty of applying these principles when new international problems arise. "An official envoy," he said, "may, perhaps, be of some assistance in helping to understand those problems, but in the long run the relations between great neighboring States such as Mexico and the United States, must largely depend on what you unofficial envoys do. By your acts the United States is interpreted in Mexico. If I could leave one thought with you it would be that expressed by Secretary Root when visiting Mexico twenty years ago, namely: 'You not only represent your country, but you have a duty to perform toward the country you live in. While you continue to be good, loyal American citizens, you should be good, loyal Mexican residents'."

These remarks by the new Ambassador were greeted with warm approval on the following day by the "Excelsior," one of the two important journals of Mexico. "During his very brief residence here," the "Excelsior" said, "Mr. Morrow has done more to establish friendship and smooth out difficulties than his predecessors were able to do during the many years they were shrouded in their 'non possumus' chancelleries. Those of us who speak of the new United States diplomat as intelligent and clear-minded make no mistake. As far as we can see, Mr. Morrow has understood that, in order to get a grip on Mexican problems in relation to his country, it was necessary first of all to take us into consideration and to understand us. By his speech on Saturday it was revealed that the Ambassador understands the secret for his success in his mission to Mexico."

The Bank of Finland yesterday reduced its discount rate from 6½%, the figure prevailing since Aug. 11 to 6%. This the third reduction of the year by this Bank. Other than this official discount rates at leading European centres have undergone no change during the week. They remain at 7% in Germany and Italy; 6½% in Austria; 5% in Paris, Denmark, Norway, and Madrid; 4½% in London, Belgium and Holland; 4% in Sweden and 3½% in Switzerland. In London open market discounts continue at 4¼% for short bills, the same as on Friday of last week, and 4 5-16@4⅜% for long bills, the same as a week ago. Money on call in London on Wednesday was 4¼%, but yesterday was back to 3⅜% against 3⅛% on Friday of last week. At Paris the open market discount rate has advanced from 2⅞ to 3%, but in Switzerland has declined from 3 7-16% to 3⅜%.

The Bank of England in its statement for the week ending Nov. 24, showed a loss in gold amounting to £107,342, in addition to which note circulation increased £7,000, hence causing a loss of £114,000 in reserve. The proportion of reserves to liabilities advanced to 31.45% this week from 31.35% last week and 31.13% for the week of Nov. 10. At this time a year ago, the ratio stood at 27.86%. Public deposits gained £162,000, but other deposits fell off £941,000. Loans on Government securities declined £440,000 and loans on "other" securities, £214,000. The gold holdings now are £151,489,000, which compares with £152,974,616 in 1926 and £146,734,262 two years ago. Notes in circulation are £135,213,000 as against £138,004,975 and £141,953,580 in 1926 and 1925 respectively. The Bank's official discount rate remains at 4½%. Below we furnish comparisons of the various items of the Bank of England returns for five years:

Gold holdings in 1926 and 1925 were 1,754,722,000 marks and 1,206,959,000 marks, respectively. Deposits abroad also increased, namely, 2,580,000 marks, raising the total to 70,090,000 marks. Silver and other coin increased 11,295,000 marks, and investments 5,000 marks, while bills of exchange and checks fell off 220,594,000 marks. Other assets went up 9,437,000 marks, while reserve in foreign currency dropped 11,229,000 marks. Below we give a comparison of the various items in the Bank of Germany statement for the last three years:

Marked ease and relaxation were again the outstanding features of the New York money market in the past week. Call funds on the Stock Exchange were quoted at 3½% for all transactions, this rate having been maintained continuously since Nov. 1. Street trading at the usual ¼% concession was also reported in Monday's session. This, however, did not recur on succeeding days, due probably to calling of loans by the banks, which amounted to approximately $20,000,000 on each of the four trading days. Inquiry for demand funds was light in the early sessions, but somewhat heavier yesterday, causing a slightly firmer tone. Brokers' loans against stock and bond collateral as reported in the weekly "condition" statement of the Federal Reserve Bank for the 52 New York reporting member banks, were again seen to have increased yesterday, continuing the tendency which has prevailed since February. The increase for the weekly period was $25,171,000, which carries the total loan figure to a further high record. It is noteworthy that by far the major portion of the increase, both for the week and for the year, is shown in demand loans, whereas time loans remain relatively stable. The possibility of gold exports to London in the near future begins to receive consideration in money brokers' offices, with Sterling within striking distance of the gold export point. This, however, has had no perceptible influence on money market sentiment as yet and certainly none on rates.

Dealing in detail with the rates from day to day, the story as to call loan rates is the same as last week and the week before, namely that all transactions on each and every day were at 3½% including renewal. Rates for time loans on Stock Exchange collateral are lower for all the shorter maturities. Quotations yesterday were 3⅝@3¾% for 30 days, 4% for 60 days, 4@4⅛% for 90 days and 4⅛@4¼% for all other periods from four to six months. The commercial paper market is without change. Prevailing rates for four to six months' names of choice character are 3¾@4%. For names less well known the quotation is 4¼%. For New England mill paper the range is still 4@4¼%.

In the market for banks, and bankers' acceptances the posted rate of the American Acceptance Council for call loans against acceptances has again remained unchanged throughout the week at 3¼%. Nor has the Council made any change in the rates for acceptances, the posted quotations on prime bankers' acceptances eligible for purchase by the Federal Reserve banks remaining at 3⅛% bid and 3% asked for bills running 30 days; 3¼% bid and 3⅛% asked for bills running 60 days; 3⅜% bid and 3¼% asked for 90 days; 3½% bid and 3⅜% asked for 120 days, and 3⅝% bid and 3½% asked for 150 and 180 days. Open market rates also remain unchanged as follows:

Sterling exchange continues in demand and this week moved still higher with only occasional slight reactions, resulting more from lapses in trading than from offerings. On every sign of a market it is clearly evident that there is a shortage of sterling. The range this week has been from 4.87⅛ to 4.87⅝ for bankers' sight and from 4.87 19-32 to 4.87 31-32 for cable transfers. Strong bidding came in the short session on Saturday last, when cable transfers sold as high as 4.87 25-32, a new high since 1914. This was surpassed again yesterday, when cable transfers sold at 4.87 31-32. A rather large volume of business was put through in the short session on Saturday at around 4.87¾, slightly under the top price. The buying this week has been of the same character as in previous phases of the rise, a predominance of financial transfers connected with loans and European money market operations, discussed here several times during the past month or more. Throughout the past two months new high records have been reached in sudden spurts following one or more days of reaction, arising from cessations in trading activity. Sterling exchange has now been above parity with New York for over a month, an unusual situation for the fall months at all times. This is especially remarkable in view of its weakness prior to the reduction in the Federal Reserve rediscount rates in August. The lower money rates here have been a factor first by promoting a moderate demand for sterling as a means of transferring funds from New York to London for temporary employment and again by and increased employment of dollars in financing foreign trade, not only between the United States and foreign countries, but between foreign countries. As an example of the latter, instances may be cited of recent purchases of wool at London by Belgian buyers, financed by dollar acceptances sold in the New York market, this market being lower than the markets of either London or Amsterdam. Offreings of export bills are in greater volume than at any time in several weeks, but they are nevertheless much lighter than usual and have been ever since August, the opening of the heavy export season.

Another factor in the situation is the increasing amount of cotton and other American bulk stable products consigned to foreign markets by American dealers on their own account and often stored in their own warehouses under the supervision of partners in London, Liverpool, Amsterdam, Bremen, Hamburg and Havre. This practice grew up during the period of violent exchange fluctuation, when it was imperative to cut down the time between the purchase of raw materials and the sale of finished goods, and has been maintained as a continuing service by American exporters to foreign customers. Of course the financing of American exports in the American money market only postpones the time of actual payments. It relieves the foreign money markets of the Autumn drain, but the payments will have to be made in a few months, as these acceptances, running 60 and 90 days, fall due. Last year's cotton and grain payments were not fully paid off until nearly the end of April of this year. There can be little doubt that the unseasonal movement in sterling is largely influenced by the reversal of our position as a creditor nation. Previous to the War America was a constant and heavy borrower in Europe and is now a very large lender. In the pre-war days, too, it was the custom for the American banks to send sterling bills to London for discount without delay. Now they are more inclined to hold these bills to maturity as investments. The British bankers report their holdings of such bills as extremely low. The higher rate of discount in London has much to do with the policy of the American banks in holding sterling bills at the present time. The higher money rates in London and in some of the European centers also operate to hold American balances in London.

The Bank of England in its return for the week ended Wednesday night reports a loss of £107,342 in its gold holdings. On Monday the Bank of England sold £10,000 in gold bars to an unstated buyer. On Wednesday the Bank exported £6,000 in sovereigns to India. Yesterday £10,000 was withdrawn for shipment to Holland and £7,000 in bars sold. At the port of New York the gold movement for the week ended Nov. 23, as reported by the Federal Reserve Bank, consisted of imports of $184,000, chiefly from Latin America and of exports of $11,360,000 of which $11,000,000 went to Brazil.

The continuance of the Canadian dollar quotation at the gold shipping point of 11-64 of 1% premium is the cause of the heavy gold movement to Montreal. A total of $13,000,000 was shipped to Canada the present week. Bankers are of the opinion that more will go before the movement ends. Flow of gold to Canada at this time of year is a seasonal occurence. Canadian exchange is normally strong when exports are heavy prior to the closing of navigation on the St. Lawrence for the winter. Conversely, a lower tone is usual in the spring after a few months of dull foreign trade. A return of the gold from Montreal may be expected in a few months.

Referring to day-to-day rates, sterling last Saturday was in strong demand. The range was 4.87¼@4.87 13-32 for bankers' sight and 4.87⅝@4.87 25-32 for cable transfers. On Monday there was less bidding. Demand ranged from 4.87 5-16 to 4.87⅝ and cable transfers were 4.87 11-16@4.87 13-16. On Tuesday the market showed a slight reaction. Bankers' sight ranged from 4.87¼ to 4.87⅜, and cable transfers from 4.87 19-32 to 4.87¾;. On Wednesday sterling was in demand. The range was 4.87⅛@4.87⅜ for bankers' sight and 4.87 19-32@4.87 11-16 for cable transfers. On Thursday there was no market, it being Thanksgiving Day. On Friday the market was strong; the range was 4.87⅜@4.87⅝ for bankers' sight and 4.87¾@4.87 31-32 for cable transfers. Closing quotations yesterday were 4.87 9-16 for demand and 4.87 15-16 for cable transfers. Commercial sight bills finished at 4.87 5-16, 60-day bills at 4.83 7-16, 90-day bills at 4.81 11-16, documents for payment (60 days) at 4.83 7-16 and seven-day grain bills at 4.86 13-16. Cotton and grain for payment closed at 4.87 5-16.

The Continental exchanges continue to show firmness, with the fluctuations this week of minor importance. Most of the units were quiet and steady. Ames, Emerich & Co., New York bankers, have made a study of the degree of stability of the leading European exchanges, the results of which indicate that Europe, from a currency standpoint, may be considered to be 95.3% stable, a new post-war high mark. Figured on the same basis, European stability was measured at 58.1% in 1922, and 85% in 1926. "Indications of growing international stability," say the bankers, "are found in the increasing strength of the financial position of the central banks, in the growing volume of foreign trade, and in the increasing quantity of manufactured goods produced and consumed. But Europe's recovery is most strikingly revealed in the ever-growing stability of the foreign exchanges of these nations." French francs were turned over in moderately large volume this week. Foreign exchange traders note a number of speculative transactions in francs abroad during the past few weeks, but so far as could be learned speculative trading has not extended to this market. Franc futures have been offered with some freedom in Paris and Amsterdam on a few occasions, but there has been no effect on the franc cable rate which remains under control of the Bank of France. Selling has been done partly on rumors that a move would be made to have the franc stabilized below present levels and in part on the possibility of unfavorable political developments during the present session of Parliament. New York bankers are confident that the French resources are ample to hold the rate steady and that stabilization when it comes, will be at present levels.

There is nothing strikingly new in the German situation. The mark continues firm above parity. The Reichsbank's statement published on Saturday last showed an increase of 2,300,000 marks in gold reserve. American funds continue to flow to the German centres and are an important influence in the firm mark exchange. These demands are likely to continue for some time. Dr. Schacht, in recent utterances, strongly endorsed the stand taken by S. Parker Gilbert, Agent-General for Reparations, in criticism of the Germany economy. The Reichsbank President made it clear that if greater economy is not practiced, the Bank will employ its rediscount rate ruthlessly or exercise direct control over national credit so as to prevent currency depreciation. Other authorities in Germany opposed to Dr. Schacht maintain that the foreign borrowing tends to lower and not increase the level of prices. Marks did not reflect Paris dispatches which stated this week that the official French attitude toward priority of German payments abroad is that France approves of loans to Germany for productive purposes and that service on them will not be interferred with to provide funds for reparations unless they were protested as unproductive at the time of issue. Italian exchange shows no change from the past several weeks. Things are growing steadily more stable. Debts are being reduced while gold reserves increase and notes are retired. It is believed in well-informed quarters that a period of definite stability will be entered upon early in the coming year. Proceeds of the Polish stabilization loan were shown in the Bank of Poland's balance sheet for Nov. 10. Gold and silver reserve was increased 101,958,199 zlotys to 430,600,000 zlotys in the first ten days of November. Foreign currency reserve increased 522,123,543 to 917,600,000 zlotys, after allowing for certain deductions. The loan is debited to a special account of the Ministry of Finance in amount of 554,800,000 zlotys. Bank note circulation totaled 889,200,000 zlotys. Warsaw advices indicate that the Bank of Poland has bought £1,000,000 in the London open market since Oct. 25. This amount is believed to be part of the proceeds of the £2,000,000 London portion of the Polish loan issued on Oct. 18.

The London check rate on Paris closed at 124.03 on Friday of this week, against 124.03 on Friday of last week. In New York sight bills on the French centre finished at 3.93¼, against 3.92⅞ a week ago; cable transfers at 3.93½, against 3.93⅛, and commercial sight bills at 3.92¾, against 3.92⅝. Antwerp belgas finished at 13.96 for checks and at 13.97 for cable transfers, as against 13.94½ and 13.95½ on Friday of last week. Final quotations for Berlin marks were 23.87 for checks and 23.88 for cable transfers, in comparison with 23.86½ and 23.87½ a week earlier. Italian lire closed at 5.44 for bankers' sight bills and at 5.44½ for cable transfers, as against 5.43⅜ and 5.43⅞ last week. Austrian schillings have not been changed from 14⅛. Exchange on Czechoslovakia finished at 2.96⅛, against 2.96⅛; on Bucharest at 0.61½, against 0.62; on Poland at 11.15, against 11.15, and on Finland at 2.52, against 2.52. Greek exchange closed at 1.32½ for checks and at 1.33¾ for cable transfers, against 1.33 and 1.33¼ a week ago.

In the exchanges of the countries neutral during the war, Holland is the most active. The Scandinavians are firm while Spanish pesetas continue under pressure. Guilders fluctuate in almost strict harmony with sterling movements. Exchange on Amsterdam is closely tied up with the state of the money market and finance operations. This unit is well above gold parity and supported by a sound economic situation and prosperous conditions in the Dutch tropical possessions. Holland's exports during the ten months ended with October were 1,582,000,000 guilders, as against 1,438,000,000 guilders in the same period of 1926. Amsterdam foreign exchange traders consider the recent gold exports from the United States to various countries as on the whole rather small and not likely to amount to a redistribution of the American stock. They are trading on the supposition that there can be no movement of gold from the United States to London as a result of firmer sterling. Swiss francs have held steady around 19.28-9 throughout the rise in the other leading European gold exchanges. The reason given for the dormancy is that the Swiss National Bank has maintained its rediscount rate at 3½%, the lowest in Europe, while the trend in money rates in other countries has been upward. This is taken as an indication of great stability of Swiss finances, from both the domestic and international standpoints. However, predictions are being made that the rate must be increased before long so as to prevent an undue flow of capital to other centres. Spanish pesetas are under pressure, attributed to a steady decline of speculative interest in the unit, accompanied by liquidation of long holdings. Political uncertainties also play a part in the weakness. The Spanish policy of making the national economy self-sufficient largely by the creation of Government monopolies is bringing about the withdrawal of foreign capital. Government monopolies control tobacco, matches, oil and telephones. Others are in process of erection.

Bankers' sight on Amsterdam finished on Friday at 40.38½, against 40.37½ on Friday of last week; cable transfers at 40.40½, against 40.39½, and commercial sight bills at 40.34, against 40.32. Swiss francs closed at 19.28¼ for bankers' sight bills, and at 19.28¾ for cable transfers, in comparison with 19.28½ and 19.29 a week earlier. Copenhagen checks finished at 26.80 and cable transfers at 26.81, against 26.80 and 26.81. Checks on Sweden closed at 26.95½ and cable transfers at 26.96½, against 26.92½ and 26.93½, while checks on Norway finished at 26.59 and cable transfers at 26.60, against 26.57 and 26.58. Spanish pesetas closed at 16.79 for checks and at 16.80 for cable transfers, which compares with 17.00 and 17.01 a week earlier.

The South American exchanges are quiet and firm. The firmness is due largely to the plans for the complete return to the gold standard and the importation of gold by Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru. Argentina has received approximately $40,000,000 in gold from the United States within the past two months, while shipments totaling $36,000,000 to Brazil are nearly completed. It is expected that Peru will shortly draw heavily on American gold from a proposed loan of $20,000,000 of an authorized issue of $75,000,000 for refunding three outstanding issues. Argentine paper pesos closed yesterday at 42.71 for checks, as compared with 42.69 last week and at 42.76 for cable transfers, against 42.74. Brazilian milreis finished at 11.91 for checks and at 11.92 for cable transfers, against 11.94 and 11.95. Chilean exchange closed at 12.15 for checks and at 12.16 for cable transfers, against 12.17 and 12.18, and Peru at 3.85 for checks and at 3.86 for cable transfers, against 3.74 and 3.75.

The Far Eastern exchanges are firm, especially the Chinese units. Japanese yen fluctuated rather widely this week. It will be recalled that on Friday of last week yen rallied to 46, moving up on an average 25 points. Throughout this week the price hovered between 45¾ and 45⅞, resulting largely from operations on the other side of the Pacific. The bull movement in the Shanghai silver market is responsible to a great extent for any drop in the Japanese currency quotation. Adverse quotations do not indicate any unfavorable change in the Japanese situation, which, while far from satisfactory, has nevertheless greatly improved in recent weeks. The reconstruction of the banks is making headway. During the first ten months of the year Japanese excess of imports amounted to 170,000,000 yen, against 352,000,000 yen for the corresponding period of 1926. In well-informed Japanese circles a further material fall in the yen is considered unlikely, although a substantial recovery is not expected for some time. China continues to absorb silver. The present absorption is partly seasonal. At one time last week the London quotation for silver touched as high as 26 13-16d., a new high since Feb. 19. So far as the absorption by China seems to be genuine enough, but should the price of silver continue to rise it is quite probable that selling would result. This would lower the silver exchanges and doubtless give tone to the Japanese yen quotation. Closing quotations for yen checks yesterday were 45.70@45⅞, against 45.90@46 on Friday of last week; Hong Kong closed at 50.30@50 5-16, against 50@50⅛; Shanghai at 64⅛@64¼, against 63 9-16@63¾; Manila at 49 9-16, against 49 9-16; Singapore at 56½@56 11-16, against 56⅜@56 9-16; Bombay at 36¾, against 36⅝, and Calcutta at 36¾, against 36⅝.

Owing to a marked disinclination on the part of two or three leading institutions among the New York Clearing House banks to keep up compiling the figures for us, we find ourselves obliged to discontinue the publication of the table we have been giving for so many years showing the shipments and receipts of currency to and from the interior.

As the Sub-Treasury was taken over by the Federal Reserve Bank on Dec. 6 1920, it is also no longer possible to show the effect of Government operations on the Clearing House institutions. The Federal Reserve Bank of New York was creditor at the Clearing House each day as follows:

DAILY CREDIT BALANCES OF NEW YORK FEDERAL RESERVE BANK AT CLEARING HOUSE.

Note.—The foregoing heavy credits reflect the huge mass of checks whichion of to the New York Reserve Bank from all parts of the country in the operat come the Federal Reserve System's par collection scheme. These large credit balances, however, reflect only a prt of the Reserve Bank's operations with the Clearing House institutions, as only the items payable in New York City are represented in the daily balances. The large volume of checks on institutions located outside of New York are not accounted for in arriving at these balances, as such checks do not pass through the Clearing House but are deposited with the Federal Reserve Bank for collection for the account of the local Clearing House banks.

Political Strain and Crisis in Eastern Europe.

Once more, as so often in the past, the march of events in eastern Europe has set Continental politics on edge. The sudden death on Thursday of Premier Bratianu of Rumania, following a surgical operation, works a dramatic change in a political situation which affects not only Rumania, but other Balkan States as well. The repressive measures taken by the Bratianu Government, following the acquittal on Nov. 15 of Mihail Manoilescu, former Under Secretary of Finance, on the charge of conspiring to restore to the former Crown Prince Carol the right of succession to the throne, had the effect of strengthening the political opposition which had long been gathering about the premier-dictator. The leaders of the National Peasants Party, the principal element of the opposition, have refrained from announcing a specific program, but they have nevertheless declared their purpose to resort to passive resistance in Parliament, and, if that failed to overthrow the Government, to adopt a course which would virtually amount to revolution. Whether, now that Bratianu himself is no longer to be dealt with, the leadership which has been taken over by his brother, Vintala, and confirmed by the Regency Council, will continue to arouse the same popular resentment remains to be seen, but the situation at the moment is obviously one of great instability. A clear distinction is to be drawn between opposition to the Bratianu regime and support of Prince Carol, and while the friends of Carol, who still tarries in France, are reported to have seized the occasion to press his claims, there is no evidence that his personal popularity in Rumania has been enhanced by the agitation carried on in his behalf, but with Bratianu dead and the country virtually under martial law, Prince Carol may easily become the rallying-point of all the elements of the opposition even if personally he is not highly regarded.

The uncertainty created by Bratianu's death is heightened by the fact that Bratianu was regarded as a special friend of France, notwithstanding that French opinion in general, always disposed to support the claims of legitimacy, has inclined to favor Prince Carol. It was with the Bratianu Government that France concluded the treaty of alliance with Rumania which binds the two countries to aid one another in case of war, and the marked extension of French influence in Rumania had the cordial support of the former dictator. France, accordingly, has a vital interest in any political complications which the sudden change of government may precipitate. For Rumania, moreover, if not for France, there is further ground of anxiety in the announcement by the Hungarian Government that it will not accept the recommendation of the League of Nations under which Rumania, whose population now includes many Hungarian nationals in consequence of the peace arrangements, would have been allowed to apply its land laws to the property of Hungarian nationals in the same way that the laws have been applied to Rumanian subjects. If the controversy is not settled by diplomatic negotiation, it is the intention of Hungary to lay the matter before the League Council, which is scheduled to meet on Dec. 5.

The recent conclusion of a treaty of alliance between France and Jugoslavia has been followed by the sudden announcement of the signature, on Tuesday, of a treaty of offensive and defensive alliance between Italy and Albania. The new treaty, whose existence was made known on Thursday, appears to have taken the diplomatic world completely by surprise. An examination of its terms shows that it does not greatly alter the relations already existing between the two countries, but only strengthens an alliance already created by the previous Treaty of Tirana. Under the former treaty, Italy bound itself, among other things, to give military aid to Albania. The new treaty imposes a reciprocal obligation upon Albania, regulates the question of joint command in the event of war, and binds the two countries not to make separate peace in the event that they are jointly involved in war. The prompt conclusion of the new treaty, however, has all the marks of a rejoinder by Italy to the Franco-Jugoslav alliance, the announcement of which has been greeted in Italy with open manifestations of resentment, and, in one or two cities, with hostile demonstrations against French and Jugoslav consulates. Until the terms of this treaty, which is to be deposited with the League next week, are made public, it will be impossible to say to what extent, if at all, it may operate to check the supposed ambitions of Italy in the Balkans, but the further cementing which has now taken place of the Italian hold upon Albania is clearly a notice to Europe that, if political changes are being planned in the Balkans, Italy expects to be consulted.

Still another cause of anxiety at the moment is to be found in Lithuania, whose long hostility to Poland has been carried to the Council of the League of Nations, and seems likely to give that body more than ordinary trouble. For more than seven years Lithuania and Poland have been technically at war. Ever since October, 1920, when the irregular Polish forces of General Zeligovski seized the city of Vilna, Lithuania has denounced the seizure as an act of aggression and refused to make peace. Poland, in turn, although it formally disavowed the action of General Zeligovski, has kept Vilna, which Lithuania has persisted in regarding as its capital, and has been prepared to resist by force any attempt to deprive it of a city which it holds belongs to it historically, and which it looks upon as vital to its national safety. Complaints of harsh or discriminating treatment of Polish nationals in Lithuania, particularly in school and language matters, have been met by counter-charges of harsh or discriminating treatment of Lithuanian nationals in Vilna and other Polish territory, while the amicable settlement which the Polish President, Marshal Pilsudski, was reported to have arranged when he visited Vilna a few weeks ago turns out to have left the Lithuanian Government as recalcitrant as ever, and Premier Waldemaras, who has been called the Mussolini of Lithuania, is expected to appear before the Council of the League at Geneva and call Poland to account.

A reference to history and the map will show how serious, at bottom, the controversy really is. In its efforts to protect Europe from what was regarded as the menace of Bolshevist Russia, the Peace Conference set up between Russia and Poland the small State of Lithuania, and added, to the north, the two small States of Latvia and Esthonia. At the same time, in order further to weaken Germany and prevent effective military co-operation between Germany and Russia, it cut off East Prussia from Germany by the artificial Dantzig corridor, through which the foreign trade of Poland was to have access to the Baltic at the free port of Dantzig. Of the three new Slav States that were created, Lithuania had by far the most arbitrary and unnatural boundaries, and while its trade was provided for by giving it the important port of Memel, the attempt to include Vilna raised at once the issue of Polish defense against Russia, out of whose territory the eastern half of Poland had been carved. Vilna is not only the most important city in eastern Poland, but it also lies on the direct railway route between Warsaw and Moscow, and is the junction of an important line of railway which runs from Kovno southward just behind the Polish frontier. The Power that holds Vilna controls, to a large extent, the military situation in eastern Poland, and accordingly the Polish Government promptly accepted the gift which General Zeligovski's raid presented to it, and has held Vilna ever since. To advocate in Poland the surrender of Vilna is to raise the question of the safety of the Republic.

Now, after seven years of bickering, Lithuania has demanded action by the Council of the League, with the possibility, so recent reports aver, that the Council may cut the knot by consenting to the obliteration of Lithuania and the partition of its territory among its neighbors. Neither with Russia nor with Poland has the Lithuanian Government been able, apparently, to develop friendly relations. Russia, whose political ambitions regarding western Europe no longer seem as dangerous as they formerly did, has contrived to get on very well with Esthonia and Latvia, and has lately concluded treaties of non-aggression with both of those countries. Its relations with Poland, if not cordial, are much better than they were. The war talk that emanates from Lithuania seems rather futile when one remembers that the nation numbers only about 2,000,000, against some 30,000,000 in Poland, and that it has no friends in any of the neighboring States, but a tiny spark may kindle a disastrous conflagration, and it is war which the League Council must, if possible, prevent. The one thing that is clear is that no merely surface treatment of the controversy will amount to anything, but will leave unsolved the problem of an arbitrary territorial and political arrangement that ought never to have been made, and which, until it is definitely dealt with, will continue to vex the relations of Germany, Poland, Russia, and the small buffer States.

The whole situation, in regard both to the Balkan States and the political relations of France and Italy, is to a considerable degree clouded by uncertainty regarding the immediate aims of Russia. The announcement that Russia, which is to participate in the forthcoming meeting of the League Preparatory Commission on Disarmament, is proposing to insist upon something in the direction of actual disarmament in place of further theoretical debate, and will side with any country which takes the same view, has been hailed as an indication that Russia will find itself in accord with Germany, which hitherto has urged action in place of talk. Unfortunately for Russia, it is not yet certain that the recent ousting of Trotzky and his supporters from the Russian Communist Party is to be taken as indicating an end of Russian political propaganda abroad, at the same time that the refusal of Great Britain to accord diplomatic recognition to Russia keeps to the fore, in the Russian mind, the hostility of the Power which Russia regards as its greatest enemy in Europe and Asia. The loss of Bessarabia, too, is sure to be remembered whenever Russian relations with Rumania are mentioned; the Rumanjan Government is reported to have been much alarmed by recent activities of Russian warships off the Rumanian coasts; Communist activities, ascribed to Russian intrigue, are reported to have been unearthed lately in Turkey, and yesterday brought an alarming, although unconfirmed, report of an armed uprising in the Ukraine.

There is no difficulty in understanding why, in the presence of these disturbing incidents, European statesmen should continue to doubt the good faith of Russia and busy themselves with the search for ulterior motives. The interest of France in the Russian attitude toward disarmament is particularly close, since if Russia should be able, either by argument or by example, to bring the Preparatory Commission to some positive decision which should later be followed by actual disarmament, it would be more difficult than ever for France to explain its need of an army of half a million men, or to persuade its allies and friends that Germany is to be restrained from war or financial default only by keeping 40,000 troops in the country. Upon Russia, more perhaps than upon any other European nation, devolves the responsibility for keeping the peace, especially on the border where it comes in contact with a series of small and hostile States, and on the Black Sea where its commercial interests are large and growing. The conduct of its representatives at Geneva should throw some light upon what is to be expected. Meantime eastern and southeastern Europe are in ferment, and firm and skillful diplomacy, as well as great wisdom and restraint on the part of Governments and parties, will be needed to hold the discordant elements in check and enable the extraordinary mixture of races, nationalities, parties and religions to adjust their differences by legal and peaceable means.

Branch Banking and the Stability of the Banking Structure.

Gilbert Elliott, of Gilbert Elliott & Co., bank stock specialists, is an enthusiastic advocate of branch banking and recently gave expression to the following views: "Although the American Bankers Association, composed of a majority of small institutions, has taken a strong stand in opposition to nation-wide branch banking on the ground that small communities are best served by local institutions, it is nevertheless becoming increasingly obvious to the best minds in the banking and business world that the only basis for a sound development of the banking structure is through diversity in the classes of business served by the banks. . ." "Many reasons have been advanced for the recent catastrophic series of failures of small banks in western and southern states, but it is becoming more generally realized by bankers and business men that the policy of lending farmers' money to farmers was responsible in large measure for the debacle. Diversification is the only basis for sound banking, and the logical and most direct means to this end is branch banking. . ." "Such diversification exists in greatest measure in the City of New York, which is the focal point for all banking operations in the country. Deposits of New York banks come from all parts of the United States, and from many foreign countries as well, and represent practically every industry in the world. Loans also are widely diversifed, both industrially and geographically, so that individual risks are minimized to a point where they become insignificant in comparison to the whole."

As to the failure of small banks in the West and Northwest, speaking broadly as to the cause, it was the War! High prices for farm products during that unprecedented conflict and their inevitable collapse after the armistice, together with a consequent land boom which continued on into peace time and then collapsed with the recession of prices which followed, was the primary cause of these failures. We maintain that it was not because, for example, these banks did not have the deposits of manufacturing industries in other parts of the country—it was because inflated conditions inspired by the war so saturated the whole environment of these small banks, so lured and deceived these bankers that they did not hold fast to the law of liquid assets, that, for the most part, these failures occurred. The absolute proof of this is that before the war the percentage of failures of national banks was a negligible quantity—and during all that time these National and State banks were extending over the whole country forming a system of free and independent banks which satisfactorily served a growing business unparalleled in the history of the world. Nor considering the stability of the present banking structure, can it be said that the recent large number of failures spoken of, has been "catastrophic," and if it can be said to be such to the small communities concerned individually, by that token it must be admitted these small independent banks were serving their respective constituencies in a proper and adequate way or they would not miss them when they are gone.

We have presented at other times our conception of the public policy of thus concentrating financial control of the people into the hands of a few parent banks and we do not now reiterate this phase of the argument against branch banking. The point in this defense of branch banking is that these recent too many failures of small banks in the South and West is not sufficient cause for so radical a change in our banking system. Diversity in deposits can be extended into an element of weakness. It is not unnatural in a farming community that farmers' deposits and farmers' loans should preponderate. In any bank, anywhere, the preponderant deposits follow the line of the largest business. But outside the loans for "moving the crops" in the past, under the practice of correspondent banks, which fulfilled the laws of natural diversification of interests, there was little geographical spread in order to meet the wants of specialized farming communities. The farmer did not, does not now, save in a few phases like cattle feeding, want ninety-day loans. He is in a class apart from the merchant, miner and manufacturer. Branch banking instituted for his benefit will not prove an added strength to any system of commercial banking. This is already recognized in the establishment of Intermediate and Land Banks. As for the small merchant in the small town he will be decidedly at a disadvantage in submitting his borrowing business to the rigid rules of some far off central and parent institution interested in no one specific locality but supposedly in all.

To the people of the United States the freedom of initiative and enterprise in local banking facilities is vital. California is not a criterion for the whole country. Cooperative marketing associations by an increase of credits do not furnish a legitimate argument in favor of branch banking. They could upon a proper showing (if this law of diversification in behalf of stability holds good) have secured credits from central city banks before the inauguration of the branch banking system. We are aware that some of our leading bankers believe this system to be better than the present one. But as we have previously pointed out, this whole branch banking idea must be considered in its relation to our present Federal Reserve System. Inevitably the time must come, if branch banking eventuates into half a dozen huge parent banks, when this new adventure will stand in direct opposition to the Federal Reserve made up of hundreds of otherwise independent member banks. Both systems cannot prevail. One or the other will go down. Entirely apart from this, however, scattering deposits over a territory as wide and diverse as that of the United States in the interest of stability is of extremely doubtful utility, if that scattering is to be done by a few parent banks after their branches have drained the deposit loan power of localities widely sundered in interests, industries, businesses, and social, economic and political communities, into a head fountain to flow back at the will of a few men.

A Department of Education a Step Toward Socialism.

Anticipating the usual annual drive on Congress for the establishment of a Department of Education in the Federal Government to rank with State, War and Commerce, the Saturday Evening Post, in a temperate and tempered editorial, asks Congress to consider carefully the need for this increase in government before yielding to a pressure that has been exerted for many years. The "Post" stresses the fact that this new Department would only augment the tendency toward bureaucracy and by interfering with the prerogative of the States would centralize still further the power of the Executive and overburden the President with administrative duties that must largely be left to the head of a department that may change every four years.

While this position is well taken it seems to us that the most important consideration is the effect of a policy of standardization in education upon the life and welfare of the people, for standardization must inevitably follow in the long run. To plunge at once into the subject, do we want a system of education in this country which would require a Federal agent to enter the homes of the land in pursuit of a truant from school? Do not say at once that this is an overdrawn picture; we already have "seizures without search" in behalf of another Federal law that is far from being a popular statute. If Federal supervision of education is to amount to anything it must see that the child attends school in order to receive the benefits.

We boast of our freedom of speech and of the press. But behind this is our freedom to think. In Chicago at this very time a fantastic mayor is playing to the galleries by threatening to burn all text books and all history books in the public library that are found to have a pro-English bias or leaning, his own investigators to be the judges. The farce only attracts general derision, but what would happen if an ultra-patriotic Secretary of Education should take the same course. The tenor of popular thought undoubtedly is affected by what may be termed the intellectual environment. Books and schools exercise a mental suggestion, which, when left free, will cover all sides of a controverted question. It matters very little that pro-English books are among us if we are left free to peruse all other kinds. If perchance a Secretary of Education should be a fundamentalist and seek to banish "evolution" from our schools and libraries, and succeed, the effect upon freedom of thought would be disastrous. Extreme as is such a possibility it serves to illustrate one of the evils of pouring our schools into one mould. Our territory is very large, and despite the ineffectiveness of State boundaries to control the processes of education which tend in the nature of things to a general diffusion, there are traditions and beliefs peculiar to sections of our country that would yield reluctantly to Federal supervision insofar as schools are exponents.

Better then that State schools clash in purpose, and in the theory and practice of education than that they should all be reduced to a Federal pattern. In the clash and contest human reason has a chance and freedom of thought may develop the truth. Education is yet in a "formative state." There is no one university or teachers' college that in matter and method leads all the rest. There is no educator so far in the lead that he can formulate a course of study all will adopt. Both states and large cities differ so materially in the tax-base of education that uniformity is forever impossible. And it is better that this prevail for the reason there is an interchange of principles and policies and practices which makes possible the freedom of a golden mean. Education is being questioned now as much as at any time in its history. It has no final word to offer. The need for free public schools is not at issue. But there is a growing demand for adequate returns for the money so lavishly expended. How far should athletics be permitted? What is the total influence upon civics and business? Are teachers warranted in their drives upon public funds for higher salaries and how do these compare with averages in other lines? What entitles them to pensions in comparison with other honest and effective workers?

Better to have these conflicting questions hanging in the air of public discussion than that any given "solution" be fastened upon all the people by the power and edict of an autocrat in the Federal Cabinet. We do not want all the children to be taught alike or to learn to think alike. Two independent systems of schools are better than one. The field of education, public or private, is too broad for rigid Federal supervision. The personnel of the teaching force can never be synchronized without reducing the whole to automatic action. The teacher himself ought to be free—if he is to establish an influence commensurate with his ability and service, as a matter of fact, a Federal Superintendent of Schools would be a fifth wheel to a coach. He would be forced to deal in theories and pronunciamentos. The schools would be beyond his actual reach, and as for leveling up the appurtenances of education in all the states it cannot be done unless the national government provide the funds and the teachers, and not even then for the reasons we have just mentioned. For a long time the school has been obscessed with its own importance. Lately it has come to the conclusion it cannot do without the cooperation of the parents.

On a single day in the public schools of New York City more than a million children are required to submit to a health examination. We do not say this is not a good thing. We do say it is of doubtful utility for the reason that the teachers make the first classification, and an inadequate force of nurses and doctors, necessarily hastily, make the second. With the good there is some evil. If the mental finger of scorn is pointed by the well pupil at the unfortunate child adjudged ill because of weak eyes or husky voice is it an aid to discipline or the reverse? And shall this health investigation proceed under the orders of a dictator in education sitting in the President's Cabinet? Believe it or not, in the excess of enthusiasm over uplifting the masses through free public schools this matter of health control is socialistic. In former days there was no trouble about isolating a child afflicted with a contagious disease. Parents cooperated and the child was kept at home voluntarily. If health examinations are to proceed, gathering power and breadth, and the community is to be stretched to contain all the people of the nation, under the direction of its Federal Chief of Education, then the Government must perforce take over the health of the indigent and ailing child. Do we want to go this far along the road to Socialism?

We return to the matter of shaping the thought of the rising generation. Is this Federal Dictator of Education and his ever-multiplying force of Federal agents to select the text books that they be uniform everywhere? Is he to set the standard of qualifications for teachers, under national superision? Is he to declare the educational tax budget? Do not say there is no such intent. Either there is power vested to the end of success or the Cabinet officer will be but a figure head. But the environ of intellectuality which the school throws around the opening and eager mind—is it desirable that this be the same everywhere? On the one hand the country school in the hands of the patrons who support and control it—or, Federal schools formed by a Federal supervisor with powers of a Cabinet official—which? If individualism is to persist, let the school shape the child and the child shape the school, and thought at least be free.

The Life of Horace Porter, Soldier and Diplomat.

Few of the men who had a leading part in the second constructive period of our national history, inaugurated by the War of the Rebellion, survive. Of those who reached this decade it would be difficult to name another who through the long period in varied positions continued with growing importance and usefulness almost to the day of his death, as did Horace Porter, whose life, written by his daughter, is just issued.*

Born April 15 1937, the son of the Governor of Pennsylvania, he graduated at West Point, standing third in his class, in 1859, so marked a man that he was at once appointed instructor in artillery. The story is interesting in its witness to the boy as being "father to the man," and also to his acquiring the habit which through life made him ready for his varied career. After the election of Mr. Lincoln he was ordered to Watervliet Arsenal in anticipation of disturbances, and upon the outbreak of the war in April he was dispatched with secret orders and a part of the 7th Regiment with ammunition on a small steamer to reach Washington by ascending the Potomac River, which was already in the hands of the enemy. This was accomplished successfully and his active service at the front began.

This continued with growing peril and distinction throughout the war from service at Port Royal on the South Carolina coast through the campaigns at the West with Rosecrans, Thomas and Grant; at Chickamauga and Chattanooga; then in the Wilderness, on the James River, before Richmond, and in the swift pursuit of the Confederate Army, with Sheridan, Warren and Grant; until standing by Grant's chair in the Appomattox Court House he saw the surrender of Lee. It is a stirring story vividly gathered from home letters. It closes when a few days later, in attendance upon General Grant and bidding farewell, he heard Mrs. Grant being disturbed by a man who had followed her into the dining room and taking a seat near her steadily watched her. It proved to be Wilkes Booth. If Porter, instead of starting for home, had stayed to go to the theater in the evening he would have stood behind the President and prevented Booth from killing him.

He remained in the service through the Presidencies of Johnson and of Grant and then entered civil life. Here he was plunged at once into important work and positions of public service which gave him continued prominence. He shared in the construction of the Manhattan Elevated Railway, and later of the West Shore line between New York and Buffalo. He was the representative of the Pullman Company in New York and was chiefly instrumental in its introduction in Europe.

After keeping close to General Grant in the troubles and illness which fell so heavily on his later years, it was General Porter who carried through the project of erecting the monument to his memory on Riverside Drive, paid for by the 90,000 almost entirely unsolicited contributions which were secured by his loyal enthusiasm and untiring devotion. He was not content until he had written his "Campaigning with Grant," as an answer to much persistent criticism of his hero. Through it and the monument he did what he could "to fix in the minds of the American people a truthful and lasting image of his commander as a great and good man." As one reads the narrative one sees how different in fact is the stolid and stern military commander, as General Grant is regarded by the world, from the really slight, small man, always, despite his keen, observant eyes, retiring, modest, unemotional and silent, but warm in his affections, gentle and loyal to his friends, while always knowing what to do, unflinching in his purposes and unsparing of himself.

By this time, in 1892, Porter, then fifty-five years of age, had his business affairs well in hand, and such fortune as he cared for was well assured. His abilities were recognized and he was sought for political office. But he loved his independence and was content to be just himself and thus to do what came in his way. He was much in demand for public affairs, in which his personal gifts made him exceptionally useful and prominent. In the Presidential campaign of 1896, with the demand for "free silver" as the chief issue, he took a leading part in support of the Republican position, and with the election of McKinley came his appointment to the newly created office of Ambassador to France. With this began his important career as a foreign diplomat, which lasted through the troubled and eventful period, 1897 to 1905.

He was in various ways especially well equipped for the position. John Hay was Secretary of State and the two men were well acquainted and had shared with growing intimacy the nation's history in the Civil War and the years immediately following. They could now work together intelligently and he was prepared to be absolutely loyal to his superior officers. The first task, though formal, was important. It was to establish the new position and to care for the growing commercial interests between the two countries. But international concerns were soon to press for attention. Spain's war with Cuba promoted in Europe the possibility of some international combination against the United States. Then came our war with Spain, to be succeeded by the assassination of President McKinley, and later by the immediate issues raised by the Boxer War in China. Mr. Porter was rapidly establishing his position. Whatever there had been of a possible crisis with France was giving place to a genuine Franco-American Entente when in 1900 the Paris Exposition opened. It was the busiest period of his Ambassadorship. With his mastery of the French language, his ready wit, and his fine oratory he was in constant demand. The record is that "of all the means possible for expressing to Frenchmen in all places and of all classes the good will of the United States incomparably the best were the speeches which the American Ambassador was constantly making."

In 1902, when Russia began to seek concessions in China and war again drew near the Anglo-Japanese treaty led France at once to counter with an alliance with Russia, and all Europe was disturbed. Secretary Hay lost no time in proposing that the neutral powers should use their good offices with Russia and Japan to respect the neutrality of China, and it was Ambassador Porter's part to obtain after Japan's prompt acceptance the agreement of France to secure the consent of Russia. During the war his personal influence in St. Petersburg and his close intimacy with Delcasse, as also in the sharp Morocco crisis between Germany and France, turned aside by the sacrifice of Delcasse, Porter's personal connection with Berlin enabled him to carry into effect President Roosevelt's active measures to retain the friendship of all parties and to promote peace among the European nations; and when the war ended to bring the two contestants to America and to secure the treaty of Portsmouth between Russia and Japan, which has done so much in the developing of new relations between the nations of the East and of the West since then.

Mrs. Porter died in 1902, and he sought to return home; but at President Roosevelt's earnest request he consented to remain until after the Presidential election in 1904. He would then complete thirty-five years of active politics. When he was relieved in March 1905 the personal tribute of the French nation was conveyed to him in the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor, the highest honor in the gift of France.

He returned from Europe deeply impressed with the danger of war as the inevitable result of "the floundering of the nations of Europe" and he set himself to keep this before the minds of the country. He sought opportunity to address the public. He went as delegate with his friend Mr. Choate to the second Peace Conference at The Hague, where America's part was important. The final adoption by the Conference of the declaration that force should not be used for collecting debts due to its nationals by another country, the most important achievement of the Conference, was due, says Mr. Choate, entirely to Mr. Porter, whose devotion and diplomatic skill "secured at the end unanimous consent of the forty-four nations represented, except for five who did not vote." As a result the principle of compulsory arbitration as adopted in the convention is accepted without question by the nations of the world."

Horace Porter lived to see his fears confirmed in 1914. His last public appearance was at the banquet of the Navy League in May 1915. The Lusitania had just been sunk. His appeal to the country was urgent and heartfelt. He felt that so long as the larger nations are possessed by their traditional policies differences will be "settled by guns and not by tongues; and the men with the biggest guns will make their will law." "The prevailing spirit is wrong."

His health began to fail in 1920 and he died May 27 1921. His monument may well be the Grant Memorial on Riverside; and, it may be added, that other monument in the crypt of the Naval Academy in Annapolis over the great American naval hero, Paul Jones, whose forgotten body he had found as the result of six years of patient search in Paris, and had secured for it this last resting place. With no thought of himself he sought a permanent place in the hearts of their countrymen for these two great patriots. His life story as told by his daughter will find a place in many quickened memories and cannot fail to stir the pulses of many young hearts beating to-day.

Indications of Business Activity

THE STATE OF TRADE—COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, Nov. 25, 1927.

The weather still plays an important part in the state of trade in this country. In the East it has again been unseasonably warm and that was also the case in parts of the West and South. Of course it held back trade. The Thanksgiving holiday, the warmest here since 1912, naturally had some effect. But apart from this trade in general is smaller than at this time last year. Yet during the week prices in some of the fundamental industries have risen a trifle it is said rather than declined. Retail trade suffers more than wholesale and jobbing from the vagaries of the weather. Steel is said to be somewhat firmer in some directions and a trifle more active. Some reports also represent that pig iron is selling a little more freely. But there is no activity as a rule in either. On the contrary business is unsatisfactory. Other metals are higher. It is noticeable that the automobile trade is still quiet. The introduction of the new Ford car has apparently had no general effect. The coal trade at one time improved a little under the influence of colder weather. But latterly there has been only a moderate business. The output of bituminous has fallen off, and the same may be said of anthracite which early in the week was said to have advanced slightly. Building in spite of the comparatively mild weather shows a decrease, as usual for that matter at this time. Cotton has been irregualr but ended at a small advance for the week.

The ginning up to Nov. 14 turned out to have been 10,899,000 bales or 200,000 to 300,000 bales less than had been expected. It caused a sudden rise of $3 to $3.50 per bale. But rallies in cotton do not hold. That fact keeps down speculation, and the actual cotton does not sell to well as it did a year ago. Moreover cotton textiles have been quiet with some tendency towards lower prices at times. Some of the 'Maine and Massachusetts mills have been cutting wages 10% owing to the dullness of trade. Manchester, England reports are more favorable as regards cloths, though yarns are dull and more or less depressed. There are still reports of more or less financial nervousness in Lancashire, presumably relating, however, to some possibly over-capitalized concerns, the aftermath of the World War, and its hectic inflations in some directions. It is said that knit goods in this country are selling very well indeed. Wool has been rather quiet but steady. The wool auction sales in London and also in Australian centers were at firm or somewhat higher prices. Woolen goods here were recently stimulated somewhat by cold weather, but latterly higher temperatures have naturally hurt business more or less. Shoe manufacturing is quiet, but leather prices are firm. It was remarked too that there is a tendency towards mergers in not a few industries with a view to all appearance of eliminating injurious competition. Beef cattle have declined from the high level of last week. Provisions are somewhat lower.

Coffee has declined here and in Brazilian and European markets, with the demand for the time being far from urgent. Sugar has been for the most part marking time awaiting the result of the efforts of Cuba to enlist the aid of foreign producers in restricting marketing. At this particular time these efforts are directed largely to the securing of Java's co-operation. Its capitalists, however, are understood to take the rational ground that the only way to cure overproduction is to cut down the acreage or in other words limit the output. Sooner or later it must come to that, whatever devices might be adopted to evade the economic law, which is, of course, as immutable as any other natural law. Rubber has advanced nearly 3 cents per pound partly on the lead of Far Eastern markets. There has been an exceptionally active week on the Rubber Exchange here. To all appearance consumers have been possibly rather too tardy in supplying their needs. Furthermore, it is understood that restriction of output and exports will be more rigorously enforced. At least that is the common supposition.

In the grain markets it has been a rather uneventful week, though at times corn prices have shown no small strength. The export sales, however, of wheat and rye have been comparatively small. Although there have been some intimations of a foreign inquiry for oats, it has apparantly come to nothing as yet. As regards Detroit employment, the total this week is close to 195,000, or an increase of a little over 400 as compared with last week, while it is 15,800 less than a year ago.

The stock market though at times somewhat unsettled was higher to-day, active late trading with sterling exchange rising sharply, and United States Steel leading the rise in securities. That infused greater confidence into the whole list. It is not altogether certain that we are on the eve of gold exports. Various things besides the exchange rate must be considered. Besides this the country could spare gold easily enough. Realizing sales were well taken. A Stock Exchange "seat" sold a few days ago at $300,000. To-day the trading on the Exchange made a new high record, so far as the number of stocks were concerned, being about 700. The total trading amounted to some 2,400,000 shares, as against 3,000,000 on Wednesday. Money was easy. London was stronger with rubber shares in the van. It is a sign of the times that Curb "seats" are also rising having just touched $45,000, an advance of $5,000 over the previous high point. Sterling Exchange rose close to $4.88 or possibly only half a cent below the gold exporting point. An unusual advance to-day of 3/8c. in a single day was due to a sharp demand in the fear of a further rise. Peruvian exchange was at a new high on this move. Silver has risen noticeably.

Fall River, Mass., wired that mills short of raw material have started curtailment and production of print cloth mills has dropped to the lowest weekly average of the year with conservative estimates placed at 40% of normal. New Bedford, Mass., reported absence of demand and prospects of further increase in curtailment by New England cotton mills. At Salem, Mass., the mills of the Naumkeag Steam Cotton Co. will be shut down one week, beginning Nov. 28. The reason is overproduction, due to the inability of the Danvers Bleachery, owned and controlled by the company, to work off stock from the mills. While the mills are shut down for the week the Danvers Bleachery will continue in operation. Boston reported that the Ipswich Mass. mills, manufacturers of hosiery and underwear, announced a 10% reduction in wages. They employ about 1,400.

Some Maine mills, following the lead of the Massachusetts Cotton Mills have latterly been reducing wages 10 per cent. It seems inevitable that mills generally in New England must make similar reductions. Lowell, Mass., recently reduced with the cooperation, as it appeared of the employees there. It was either cut wages or close the mills. Manufacturers otherwise had no operating basis for even a slight profit on the investment. Costs are too high, i.e., cost of production, including especially wages and taxes. At Waterville, Me., the Lockwood Cotton Mill will cut wages 10 per cent., perhaps something less. In November 1924 wages were reduced 10 per cent.

At Pickens, S. C., the Pickens Cotton Mills, with 2,300 spindles and 622 looms, has started night operation in addition to the day schedule. The output will be practically doubled. Spartanburg, S. C., wired that 50 or 60 Southern mill executives and officials attended a meeting of the narrow sheeting group of the Cotton Textile Institute there, but while it was believed that curtailment of production was being discussed, no official statement was forthcoming as the meeting assumed the nature of an executive session. Charlotte, N. C., wired that there was a better inquiry and firmer prices for cotton yarns, but that spinners and consumers were still too far apart in their price ideas to to permit of active trading.

In Georgia in the past three weeks no less than ten mills have curtailed operations of their day's running and six mills have stopped night work. Further curtailment is probable unless orders are received at once. Two mills are running four days and a number 5 days a week.

Heavy snows over most of the Middle West recently have restricted building and farm operations, but have stimulated business for the coal dealers and merchants carrying large stocks of winter garments. Less may be spent on luxuries than last year and more on staple articles. The weather here was cold early in the week with temperatures of 32 in the early morning and 44 degrees maximum on the 21st; Duluth 26; Minneapolis 34; Omaha 42; Chicago 58. On the 23rd inst. the temperature here was 70 degrees, a high record for that date. On the 24th it fell to 58 maximum with the minimum 45. It was cold here to-day. It was the warmest Thanksgiving day in 15 years. The highest temperature here to-day was 44; in Chicago yesterday 42 in Cincinnati 56, in Cleveland 60, in Kansas City 52, in Milwaukee 46, in St. Paul 40, in Philadelphia 64, in Boston 44. In Chile yesterday a tidal wave followed an earthquake.

Better Business in Sight, According to National Bank of Commerce in New York.

In stating in its Business Outlook, made public Nov. 18, that "better business is in sight," the National Bank of Commerce in New York declares that "there are unmistakable signs that the readjustments which have been under way for some months and which have been reflected in a rather dull situation are about finished, and that from now on a gradual increase of industrial and commercial activities may be expected." The bank goes on to say:

"This statement is made with full recognition of the fact that business opinion in many lines is at present far from cheerful. That this should be so is not surprising, for various aspects of the situation leave much to be desired. There is considerable unemployment in important industrial centers. Automobile output has been curtailed further and retail sales of cars are not seasonally satisfactory. The tire manufacturers and accessories and parts makers, of course, have felt the effects of the low rate of automobile output.

The cotton and wool textile industries report less satisfactory conditions than a few weeks ago. Orders for cotton textiles, which were greatly stimulated in the late summer and early autumn by advancing cotton, have fallen off for many classes of goods, while the woolen and worsted manufacture has felt the effects of the warm, open autumn. Chain stores and mail order sales are exceeding those of last year, but department store trade thus far has fallen below that of the autumn of 1926 in dollar values, in some measure because of delayed arrival of cold weather.

Published earnings statements of many corporations for the third quarter of the year are none too good, when compared with what industry and commerce have become accustomed to expect of late. Lessened profits are the combined results of increasing competition, with lower prices for finished products, and of failure of volume to increase sufficiently to overcome the effects of narrower margins. The indications now are that, save in lines likely to prosper by reason of holiday trade, fourth-quarter earnings will not be better, comparatively, than those of the third quarter, and in many cases it is likely they will fall below them.

Just at the moment, however, when recognition has become general that the last few months have been a period of mild recession in business, clear indications are appearing that an upturn is imminent. Steel orders are increasing. The undertone of the copper industry is better than it has been for a long time, partly as a result of excellent export demand. The bituminous coal strike has ended in most States. High October contracts and the steady volume of orders for structural steel point clearly to maintenance of construction at high levels. The new Ford car is not yet in the dealer's hands, but its appearance should not be much longer delayed and the result will certainly be a release of pent-up demand.

Cooler weather will probably bring better department store trade. A factor of some possible importance in connection with Christmas buying is the redemption by the United States Treasury of the Second Liberties, a considerable proportion of which is held in small amounts by original subscribers who took them through patriotic motives. While a substantial part of the proceeds will be reinvested it seems quite likely that some portion will find its way into consumptive channels, especially for the purchase of goods requiring cash outlays of some size, such as automobiles, radios and furniture. Farmers will probably be better buyers during the next few months than they have been at this season for several years. The latest estimates for cotton and corn are for larger crops than earlier conditions had indicated, but not for outturns great enough to destroy by price decline the cash realizations agriculture has hoped for and felt assurance of in the Cotton and Corn Belts. Whether or not holiday trade is as good as it was in 1926, it cannot fail to be in large volume.

While no sudden business boom is in sight, betterment, beginning as it should in the basic industries, will proceed gradually and probably slowly until the New Year is well under way. Readjustments in lines which have enjoyed active business while steel and automobiles were losing ground may for a time even appear to offset gains. But the trend is clearly toward prosperity in 1928.

Substantial Industrial Recovery Looked for During the Winter by Union Trust Co., Cleveland.

Low money rates, farm profits and Ford production are the three outstanding factors which should slowly but surely bring better business as the season progresses, says the Union Trust Co., Cleveland, in its monthly business review published in its business magazine, "Trade Winds," issued Nov. 19. The bank points out that in spite of the continuing supply of credit and capital at low rates, and in spite of the substantial profits enjoyed by the farmers this season, industrial activity has been slow to improve. This situation, says the bank, is due in part to the fact that our extremely keen modern competition, particularly competition between whole industries, is keeping margins of profit down; and in part by the fact that farm dollars are moving to market very slowly, as we are still in the period of crop movement and it is too early for manufacturing to feel the full effect of the farm situation. In discussing the outlook for the winter, the review states:

"Farm profits, especially in the more prosperous sections, are, however, now showing an immediate effect as far as retail sales are concerned. This is particularly evident in the Northwest. Sales of mail order houses also point in this direction. There seems little question but that, during the course of the winter, as farm dollars slowly but surely do find their way back into industry, a substantial industrial recovery should be experienced.

"What is probably the most immediate favorable factor in the industrial situation, particularly in the Cleveland district, is the fact that Ford appears now to be really getting into production on his new car. This has already brought to the Cleveland district tangible assurance of renewed industrial activity, with a resultant gain in employment, in pay rolls, and in public purchasing power.

"In fact, the new Ford car, together with the revival in the entire automobile field which its appearance on the market may bring about, may be just that additional deciding influence which, together with the agricultural situation and the continuance of cheap money, may make the early part of 1928 a period of substantial industrial prosperity."

Loading of Railroad Revenue Freight Declines Heavily.

Loading of revenue freight for the week ended on Nov. 12 totaled 974,862 cars, according to reports filed on Nov. 23 by the railroads with the Car Service Division of the American Railway Association. This was a decrease of 63,990 cars below the preceding week this year, reductions being reported in the loading of all commodities except live stock, coal and coke, which showed an increase.

The total for the week of Nov. 12 was a decrease of 132,027 cars under the same week last year and 75,078 cars below the same week in 1925. It is proper to state, however, that the Election Day holiday fell in this week the present year, whereas in the previous years it came a week earlier. The American Railway Association analyzes the latest figures as follows:

Miscellaneous freight loading for the week totaled 372,911 cars, a decrease of 24961 cars under the corresponding week last year and 15,233 cars below the same week in 1925.

Coal loading amounted to 171,560 cars. This was a decrease of 70,382 cars under the same week last year and a decrease of 14,849 cars compared with the same period two years ago.

Grain and grain products loading totaled 45,005 cars, an increase of 403 cars above the same week in 1926, but 1,792 cars below the same period in 1925. In the Western districts alone grain and grain products loading totaled 29,783 cars, an increase of 2,371 cars above the same week last year.

Live stock loading amounted to 36,316 cars, a decrease of 1,844 cars below the same week last year and 544 cars below the same week in 1925. In the Western districts alone live stock loading totaled 28,364 cars, a decrease of 1,376 cars below the same week last year.

Loading of merchandise and less than carload lot freight totaled 258,907 cars, a decrease of 7,142 cars under the same week last year and 8,769 cars below the corresponding week two years ago.

Forest products loading totaled 62,665 cars, 4,792 cars below the same week last year and 4,339 cars under the same week in 1925.

Ore loading totaled 18,598 cars, 19,252 cars below the same week in 1926 and 22,750 cars below the corresponding week two years ago.

Coke loading amounted to 8,900 cars, a decrease of 4,057 cars under the same week in 1926 and 6,802 below the same period in 1925.

All districts reported decreases in the total loading of all commodities compared with the corresponding period in 1926, while all except the Southwestern District reported decreases compared with the corresponding period in 1925.

Loading of revenue freight this year compared with the two previous years as follows:

Five weeks in January	4,524,749	4,428,256	4,456,949

Decline in Building Projects in New York State During October as Compared with Same Month Last Year —Increase Over September Figures.

The total of building permits issued in twenty-three cities of New York State called for construction amounting to 78 million dollars in October as compared to $75,000,000 in September and 131 million in October of last year. The October 1927 figure was only 59% as large as the valuation for October 1926, and only 62% as large as that for October 1925. In both 1925 and 1926, however, October marked a second peak of the year. On the other hand, reports of building contracts awarded in New York State during October, compiled by the F. W. Dodge Corporation, totaled $142,000,000, the highest amount since June, says James A. Hamilton, Commissioner of New York State Department of Labor. Under date of Nov. 21, Commissioner Hamilton continues:

In contrast to last October, when permits for amusement projects were valued at nearly 12 million dollar's this month's valuation was only a million and a half. Residential building and industrial and commercial building were also much less active than in October of last year, though the estimated cost of projects for both of these classifications was higher than in September.

Residential Building in New York City Less Active Than a Year Ago.

Residential building in New York City amounted to $39,300,000, or about $4,700,000 greater than last month. Provision was made for about 8,000 families compared with over 14,000 families provided for in October 1926, when plans valued at $67,000,000 were filed. Apartment house projects were fairly high this month in the Bronx, Brooklyn and Manhattan and were more active than at any time since July in Queens. In contrast to apartment houses, one-family dwelling projects were low in Brooklyn and plans for both one and two-family houses were low in Queens. For the first time since August 1924 no plans for hotel or other non-housekeeping projects were filed in Manhattan.

While the total for industrial and commercial building in New York City almost doubled since last month, this type of building did not approach the higher totals of the early spring months. Manhattan contributed largely to the increase by continuing to report large office building projects—four were planned to cost almost $5,000,000. Factory projects were more active in Brooklyn this month.

Public building was less active than in August or September and consisted almost entirely of educational buildings. A school building in Brooklyn to cost $2,584,000, one in Manhattan to cost $2,050,000 and an educational building in Queens estimated to cost $745,000 were the only large projects for which plans were filed. Plans for amusement and recreation places were particularly low in all five boroughs of New York City.

More Residential Building in White Plains.

Reports from Mount Vernon and New Rochelle indicate that building was dull in both cities, while in White Plains, October was the most active month so far this year. Residential building was dull in Mount Vernon and New Rochelle and average in Yonkers, but White Plains offset the inactivity in these cities in reporting the greatest amount of the year. Plans filed there included those for three apartment houses to cost $990,000 and to accommodate 200 families.

As in most up-State cities, industrial and commercial building in all four Westchester cities was less active than in September. Office building projects in Mount Vernon and White Plains accounted for most of the total amount of $335,000. No public building of any kind was reported planned in any of the Westchester cities in October. A permit for a Y. M. C. A. building was the only project in the classification of amusement and recreation places planned in these cities.

Ten Up-State Cities Report Increased Totals.

Ten of the up-State cities, including most of the larger cities, reported increased totals in October. The total increase over last month and over October a year ago was 34% and was due to a few large projects. Residential building as a whole continued almost even with the total amount of this kind of building planned during the summer months. Rochester and Syracuse reported an increase over September in the number and estimated value of one and two-family dwellings, and apartment house construction was quite active in Syracuse. A theater to cost $700,000 caused Rochester's largest total since May. Buffalo reported a plan on file for a hospital to cost $750,000, while in Albany, October was the dullest month since February.

Industrial and commercial building continued inactive. Buffalo reported a slightly higher figure in mercantile building. Alteration and repair work was average except in Syracuse and Utica, where this type of construction was the highest it has been so far this year.

For the ten months of 1927 public and private garage construction and alteration and repair work remained about even with last year's figures throughout the State, except in Westchester, where public and private garage building has not been as active as in 1926.

Wage Stability in the Building Trades Expected to Continue into 1928—Prices of Building Materials 4% Lower Than a Year Ago.

Wage rates in the building trades will undoubtedly hold at present levels for the remainder of 1927, and for the first quarter of 1928, according to the national monthly building labor review of the Building Economic Research Bureau of the American Bond & Mortgage Co. The "Review" says:

The apparent recession in building operations has undoubtedly had much to do with the present condition of wage stability and tranquility in the construction industry.

The withdrawal of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' Union from the Building Trade Department of the American Federation of Labor, however, represents a new threat to the peaceful status of labor affairs in the construction industry. It is now expected that the bricklayers' local unions will also sever relations with local building trades councils and recreate a situation similar to the one prevailing when the carpenters or other trades were not affiliated.

Arising out of jurisdictional troubles in Baltimore, and coming after the dissolution of the National Board of Jurisdictional Awards, the action of the bricklayers makes it more imperative that the building trades unions immediately set up some method of adjusting their inter-union difficulties without interfering with building operations. Unless this action is taken, building employers have indicated that they will move for State and Federal legislation to meet the situation.

The advantage seen in the abolition of the Jurisdictional Awards Board through the reuniting of the carpenters' locals with building trades council and bringing this trade back into negotiations in local communities will probably be entirely nullified by the withdrawal of the bricklayers' union, the second largest building trades organization in this country.

Building labor is well employed, except in a few districts where some surplus of skilled mechanics has been reported. Strikes and wage controversies are unusually small in number at this time.

The strike of building workers in Toronto, Ont., has been settled. The contractors have agreed to withdraw all court actions, and to employ only members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters. The Amalgamated Carpenters, a remnant of the old British organization, will no longer be recognized.

In Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Baltimore the plasterers have been on strike against the open shop. Governor Ritchie of Maryland has also refused to pay the union scale on State building jobs.

In St. Louis employers have adopted resolutions against the five-day week, which was recently endorsed by the electrical workers, lathers and plasterers. The plasterers and cement finishers in Syracuse have signed a wage agreement with employers for 1928.

Elevator installation men are on strike throughout the Dominion of Canada, but there has been little interference with building operations.

The prices of building materials generally continue their downward trend and are more than 4% lower than a year ago.

Review of Business Conditions by Bank of Nova Scotia—Recession in Business From High Level—Contraction in Employment.

Surveying business conditions in Canada, the Bank of Nova Scotia, in its November Review, says:

Attention is still centered on the harvest, which has now successfully been garnered. Except in certain districts on the Atlantic seaboard and Manitoba, it has been eminently satisfactory. In Alberta, especially, the result has been excellent. A correspondent writes: "Yields of thirty-five bushels per acre are common, forty to fifty-five fairly frequent, sixty to seventy in particular areas not unknown. The grading was in excellent shape when the greater part of the grain was cut, but ten days and more of rain and snow tended to reduce the quality. Much of this appears to have been restored by a combination of light frosts at night with bright sunny days."

Nevertheless, in the most recent month for which statistics are available, business appears to have receded somewhat from the high level maintained during the past season; and the recession is fairly general. The several indices of employment maintained by this Bank, and corrected for seasonal variation, show contraction in the building and construction industries and in manufacturing and in employment generally. This appears to have occurred throughout the country, except in British Columbia, where a slight advance is recorded. It is marked in the Maritime Provinces, in Quebec, and in the Prairie Provinces; and it is considerably smaller in Ontario than elsewhere in Eastern Canada. Not only has there been a contraction in employment, but our indices of building contracts and of life insurance sales have also moved downward. Immigration shows a slight improvement, but is still in small volume. On the other hand, business failures, in which an increase might well have been expected, have again declined.

So general a recession, at a time when underlying conditions are still regarded as encouraging, calls for some explanation. It is perhaps to be found in the state of the building and construction industries. Attention was called in a recent number of this REVIEW to the steady decline in this Bank's index of building permits, between January, 1927, and May. This was regarded some time ago as perhaps forecasting a decline in the volume of construction contracts, and thus in the demand for building materials, which are supplied in one form and another by scores of industries. Such a decline might well cause a slackening of industrial activity generally; and this, indeed, is what seems to have occurred. In the light of the explanation here offered, it is encouraging to note, in spite of the decline in the index of construction contracts, that our index of building permits has not only been rising since May, but has risen with unprecedented rapidity. Thus it may well be that the present setback to business is in the nature of a lull only, before the next advance.

It is encouraging also to note that the purchasing power of wheat has again advanced sharply and now stands at the highest point reached for twelve months past.

Review of Business Conditions by Bank of Montreal—Building Greatest Since 1920.

A sure indication of the prosperous state of business in the Dominion of Canada is furnished by the figures relating to building construction, the Bank of Montreal states in its monthly business summary issued Nov. 23. Although no systematic effort to tabulate building statistics was made until 1920, the building permits issued by 63 cities in the month of October, 1927, show the largest total for October in any year for which records are available. In October, 1927, these building permits had an aggregate value of $18,838,558, an increase of 27.8% over October, 1926. For the first 10 months of the year building permits were well in advance of those for any one of the past seven years. The total amounted to $160,858,088 which is 19.2% greater than in the corresponding period of 1926, the previous high level on record. Wholesale prices of building materials continue to be lower than in any other year since 1920. The Bank also says:

Harvesting of the grain crop of the Western Provinces is now practically completed. All of the principal Provinces of the Dominion report an unusually large harvest. The wheat crop is now estimated at 444,000,000 bushels, or 35,000,000 bushels larger than that of last year. While adverse conditions have lowered the quality of the yield in some sections the very size of the crop assures a large return to farmers, traffic to railways, and general prosperity to the country. An unprecedentedly large quantity of grain has passed through the harbor of Montreal which can now be truly considered the greatest grain port in the world.

Mild weather during the past month with heavy rainfall in many parts of the country affected retail business unfavorably, retarding sales of winter clothing, interrupting railroad traffic and causing damage to roads. The general business situation, notwithstanding, remains good, with all factors promising continued growth. Bank debits and bank clearings continue to run well ahead of last year and several major projects of construction and development are slated for the future. These are notably the building of a railway to the mineral deposits of northern Manitoba and the erection of a new passenger terminal and office structure in Montreal by the Canadian National Railways.

During the past month the balance of trade became more favorable, rising from $11,340,000 in the six months ended September, 1927, to $21,300,000 in the first seven months of this fiscal year.

Life Insurance Sales in United States During October.

Total life insurance sales of $659,375,000 in the United States during October are reported by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau. The October sales of ordinary life insurance in the United States were practically identical with sales in October, 1926.

Life Insurance Sales Exceed Previous Records in Canada—Sales Gain 20% During October.

A total of $48,104,000 of ordinary life insurance was purchased in Canada during the month of October, according to figures issued Nov. 19 by the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau. This is a gain of 20% over sales in October, 1926, and 2% increase over December, 1926, which had previously held the highest record. The report includes the production of new paid-for business by companies having in force 84% of the total life insurance outstanding in Canada. The monthly gain is well distributed throughout the Dominion—most provinces showing substantial improvement over October, 1926. Alberta and Ontario lead with gains of 29% and 27% respectively. The Bureau adds:

All the reporting cities show excellent gains for the month, Hamilton leading with more than double last year's production.

Ten-Month Period.

For the first ten months of this year production has gained 8% over sales in the same period last year. Almost all the provinces share this increase. Prince Edward Island and Quebec lead, each with a gain of 12%.

Gains in city business range from 6% in Winnipeg to 51% in Ottawa for the year to date.

Sales during the twelve months ended October 31, 1927 show a 9% gain over the sales in the preceding twelve months. Quebec continues to lead the Dominion with a gain of 15% for this period.

Automobile Models and Price Changes.

A new 112 horse power Chrysler Imperial "80" has just been presented by the Chrysler Corp. The overall length of the new Imperial is 191 inches. There are five Chrysler-built custom models, the town sedan, 5- and 7-passenger sedans, sedan-limousine and roadster. Custom models are by Le Baron, Locke and Dietrich. The prices of the new cars range between $2,795 and $6,795. The cylinder bore has been increased to 3⅝ inches, with a 5-inch piston stroke. A crankcase ventilation system is built into the engine, lengthening the life of the oil and minimizing the possibility of corrosion through impurities in the oil or air. It has a shut-off that is quickly accessible for warm weather driving.

Another new car entered the market when the Moon Motor Car Co. of St. Louis introduced its new 6-72 models for 1928, priced f. o. b. St. Louis as follows: Royal bodies, Roadster, $1,395; Cabriolet roadster, $1,445; Two-door sedan, $1,445, and Four-door sedan, $1,545.

These models at the given prices include as standard equipment: Surcingle and sidelights, radiator shutter, front shock absorbers, windshield wiper, stoplight, oil filter, thermostat, crank-case ventilator and air cleaner. The Standard bodies are priced as follows: Two-door sedan $1,395 and Four-door sedan, $1,445.

These cars will carry the same equipment as the Royal bodies, with the exception of the shutter and surcingle.

The above prices also include a trunk on the Royal two-door sedan, as well as the standard two-door sedan, at no extra charge.

It has been reported during the week that Dodge Bros., Inc., soon will introduce a new line of six-cylinder passenger cars to fit in between its present four-cylinder line and the recently introduced moderate priced six-cylinder line giving the company three types of passenger cars ranging from the low priced to the medium priced field and placing it in a position to meet more advantageously the competition in this division of the motor industry.

A report from Detroit on Nov. 24 gives Dec. 2 as the date when the new Ford will be exhibited. The dispatch as reported in the New York "Times" of Nov. 25 said:

Henry Ford's new car, which officials of the Ford Motor Co. say will be responsible for the expenditure of nearly $800,000,000 for labor and materials during 1928, will have its first public showing in the United States, Canada and England on Friday, Dec. 2, Mr. Ford announced to-day (Nov. 24). The new car will be known as "Model A."

Although officials of the Ford Motor Co. would not comment on the possible date when the new car will be available to purchasers, they stated that for more than a month the chief manufacturing plants of the Ford company have been producing cars in daily increasing numbers. The present schedule, they declared, calls for capacity production of the new cars at thirty-three assembly plants in the United States soon after the first of the year.

It was estimated that dealers throughout the country will be able to secure but one car for display purposes on Dec. 2, and that it will be more than a month before any models will go on sale.

Coincident with the announcement of the showing of the new car came a review of world business conditions from Henry Ford, in which the manufacturer explained his suspension of activities since early last Summer, when re-tooling of the Ford plants began in preparation for the new model.

"It has been said," Mr. Ford commented, "that national business has suffered during the months when we were preparing to produce the new car. I do not believe it. It may be true that fewer cars were sold than would have been sold if our factory and sales organizations had been operating on a normal basis. But during that period when we were not actually building automobiles we were still spending hundreds of millions of dollars for wages, materials, new machinery and in experimental work.'

Automobile Production Very Small.

October production (factory sales) of motor vehicles in the United States, as reported to the Department of Commerce by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, was 221,292, of which 185,706 were passenger cars and 35,586 were trucks. This compares with a production last year in October of 329,142 cars, of which 289,565 were passenger cars.

Except for August, September and October 1927, the table below is based on figures received from 153 manufacturers in the United States for recent months, 53 making passenger cars and 118 making trucks (18 making both passenger cars and trucks). Figures for passenger cars include taxicabs and those for trucks include ambulances, funeral cars, fire apparatus, street sweepers and busses. Canadian figures have been supplied by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Wage Cuts In New England Mills.

Wage cuts of 10% in mills in Maine and Massachusetts have been announced during the week. On Nov. 21 Associated Press from Boston said:

Six Marine cotton mills, five in Lewiston and one in Augusta, announced to-day a 10% wage reduction effective next Monday. Poor business was the reason given by the manufacturers. The only formal statement was the following from the office of the Continental Mills of Lewiston.

"The reduction has been forced by the continued poor conditions in the textile industries after having been postponed as long as possible in the hope that there would be a material turn for the better."

The mills affected, employing at present about 4,800 operatives, are the Continental Mills, Bates Manufacturing Company, Hill Manufacturing Company and Roscoggin Mills and Lewiston Bleachery and Dye Works, all of Lewiston, and the Edwards Mills, Augusta.

The Lewiston bleachery is owned by the Pepperell Manufacturing Company, of which Russell H. Leonard of Boston is Treasurer. On Oct. 31 this company announced a 10% wage cut in its Massachusetts Cotton Mills at Lowell, at the same time saying that this was a local matter due largely to high taxes and would not affect its plants in Lewiston or Biddeford, Me., or its two mills in the South.

Inquiry in textile circles to-day indicated that there was no immediate prospect of wage reductions in such important textile centres as Lowell, Lawrence, New Bedford, Fall River or Manchester.

Ipswich (Mass.) press advices Nov. 23 stated:

The New York "Journal of Commerce" reported the following from Boston Nov. 22:

A 10% reduction in wages was announced today by the Ipswich Mills Corporation, stocking manufacturers, with mills at Ipswich, Gloucester and Lowell. About 1,500 employees and officials are affected.

Competition from Southern mills is given as the reason.

With six Maine mills following the lead of the Massachusetts Cotton Mills in reducing wages 10% it would seem inevitable that other mills generally through New England must make similar reductions, according to opinion here.

The reduction at Lowell recently was effected through the evident subscription of the employes of the Massachusetts Cotton Mills that if they cared to keep the mill in operation in Lowell there could be but one method of doing so, namely, of allowing the manufacturers an operating basis sufficiently low to yield some slight profit, at least, on the investment.

Costs Called Too High.

In general that is the situation with respect to other mills in the New England sector. Costs of production, including especially wages and taxes, have been too high, and the only alternative to going out of business with the great majority of the mills at least, and including especially those engaged on standard productions, has been to secure lower costs of production, mill men say.

Maine mills have found business slipping slightly in the last few weeks and could see no way of overcoming the adverse market situation except through a better competitive opportunity through lower costs of production, especially in the matter of wages. It is argued that if Maine, with a 54-hour working week, must lower her wages, Massachusetts, with 48 hours as the maximum working week, must of necessity lower her wages. Officials of the Pepperell Manufacturing Co., referring to its wage cut at Lewiston, state that it had been found necessary, following the Lowell cut at the other plants of the company, but during the last three weeks business has changed for the worse rather than for the better, and the cut became necessary.

25 P. C. Curtailment.

They say further: "Our business at the Lewiston Bleachery & Dye Works is dependent upon our plant at Biddeford and other mills in Lewiston. Last week we were forced to curtail 25% at Biddeford, and the operations of the other mills to whom we look for business have been curtailed.

"The only way we know to meet the higher cost of smaller production is by lowering our cost of production. It is hoped that the industry generally will realize that curtailment of output affords the only means of improving the unsatisfactory conditions which have existed so long. In addition, measures must be applied to lower cost of production in Northern mills."

English Mills to Cut Pay—Woolen Manufacturers Say a Reduction is Essential to Prosperity.

Developments in the English textile industry, particularly the woolen section, are following closely those reported from New England says Associated Press advices from London Nov. 24. These advices, as given in the New York "Times" go on to say:

Employers in the woolen industry have notified their workers that it is deemed impossible to restore prosperity unless wages are reduced, and, therefore, the expiring wage agreement will not be renewed.

The Industrial Council has been trying to effect an amicable settlement of the difficulty, but the negotiations have been fruitless so far. The negotiations have not been broken off, however. The main stumbling block is the insistence of the employers that the wage question should be disposed of first, whereas the workers maintain that alternative methods for helping the industry are available and should receive equal consideration by the employers.

The employers also object to the questions in dispute being submitted to arbitration, as proposed by the workers.

The notices sent out by the employers that the wage agreement would not be renewed will become effective at the end of this week, but it is not probable that there will be an immediate wholesale stoppage of work.

With regard to the cotton textile industry the master spinners of Yorkshire purpose requesting that an official inquiry into the industry shall be made under the Safeguarding of Industries Act. Yorkshire manufacturers assert that foreign countries are dumping surplus yarn into Great Britain at 3 pence per pound less than is obtainable by the home manufacturers.

Activity in the Cotton Spinning Industry for Oct. 1927.

The Department of Commerce announced on Nov. 19 that according to preliminary reports compiled by the Bureau of the Census figures 36,548,808 cotton spinning spindles were in place in the United States on Oct. 31 1927, of which 32,497,504 were operated at some time during the month, compared with 32,343,454 for September, 32,239,246 for August, 32,324,426 for July, 32,756,862 for June, 32,905,256 for May, and 32,604,764 for October 1926. The aggregate number of active spindle hours reported for the month was 8,704,511,019. During October the normal time of operation was 25¾ days (allowance being made for the observance of Columbus Day in some localities) compared with 25½ for September, 27 for August, 25 1-6 for July, 26 for June, and 25½ for May. Based on an activity of 8.78 hours per day the average number of spindles operated during October was 38,301,055 or at 105.3% capacity on a single shift basis. This percentage compares with 107.0 for September, 103.5 for August, 99.1 for July, 109.3 for June, 108.9 for May, and 98.9 for October, 1926. The average number of active spindle hours per spindle in place for the month was 238. The total number of cotton spinning spindles in place, the number active, the number of active spindle hours and the average spindle hours per spindle in place, by States, are shown in the following statement.

Increasing Efficiency Seen by New York Trust Co. in Trend Toward Consolidation in Newsprint Industry.

The trend toward consolidation in the newsprint industry is proving to be an important factor in increasing its efficiency, according to THE INDEX, published by The New York Trust Company. In its article the trust company says:

In the astonishing postwar development of the pulp and paper industry on this Continent, ranking first as to value of its product in Canada and seventh in the United States, the changes in the manufacture of newsprints have been particularly marked. Canadian and American newsprint production has grown from 2,387,000 tons in 1920 to 3,500,000 tons last year.

The increase has come almost entirely from Canada. In 1926 for the first time Canada passed the United States in output and definitely assumed the world leadership in the manufacture of newsprint. Of the world's total exports of newsprint paper Canada contributed 55.5%. The industry is one of the most important factors in the Canadian national income, and does not approach the same size in any European country.

Norway with a newsprint production of above 120,000 tons a year, Finland with 165,000 and Sweden with 209,000, are the principal European producers. The United States consumes annually about 67,000 tons of newsprint from Sweden, 40,000 from Norway, and 30,000 from Finland.

Canada's Rise to First Place.

The rise of Canada to first place in newsprint production is due chiefly to the abundant resources of wood and water power in that country. In almost every instance newsprint can be produced in Canada at a lower cost per ton than is possible in this country. While there has been an increase of 28% in newsprint production in the United States since 1913, the production in Canada has grown 438%.

In 1911, the American consumption of newsprint was 1,300,000 tons of which 95% was produced in this country and only 5% imported. Today the United States consumes over 3 million tons of which less than half is produced in this country and the rest imported. About 90% of these imports come from Canada.

Figures for the two countries are given in the following table:

	Domestic Production.	Canadian Production.
	(Thousands of short tons).
1926	1,678	1,882

Newsprint manufacture, more than any other large industry, has been faced with the need of a constantly increasing economy in operation. The investment in machinery and factory equipment for the manufacture of newsprint is necessarily very large. Since 1920 productive capacity has been constantly in excess of demand, and the competition in the industry has been intense. As a result, the margin of profit has been particularly small.

The combination of these factors has influenced the newsprint industry to be more than ordinarily concerned with the promotion of efficiency and the elimination of waste. In 1925 the Department of Labor estimated an increase of 34% in the productive efficiency of the pulp and paper industry as a whole since 1914; it is probable that the newsprint branch has exceeded this record. As has been staated, the gradual transference of the bulk of the industry to Canada is largely due to the lower cost and the greater abundance of timber and water power. Also, to secure the economy of large scale operation, there has been a definite trend towards consolidation of the smaller units.

Efficiency Through Consolidation.

This trend has developed into the organization of three major groups in the industry. Of these, the latest and largest will be the consolidation, now to be ratified by shareholders, of what is known as the Mead-Spanish-Abitibi group of paper mills. This consolidation embraces the Abitibi Power & Paper Company, Ltd., and the Spanish River Pulp & Paper Company, Ltd.; and also four smaller concerns—all Canadian mills. When completed, the consolidated company will have the largest production of any newsprint company in the world.

The International Paper Company and the St. Maurice Valley Corporation represent the other two major groups in newsprint manufacture. The daily average production of the Abitibi consolidation will amount to approximately 1814 tons as compared with 1694 tons for the International Paper Company and 909 tons for the St. Maurice Valley Corporation. The three groups together account for more than one-third of the newsprint production on the Continent.

There can be no doubt but that these large units have been able to effect substantial savings in operating costs. It has been of equal importance, however, that competition in the industry should not be so severe as to result in an over-supply of paper from the industry's enormous capacity to produce. At present the industry has a production capacity about 20% greater than demand. Figures published by The George H. Mead Company Monthly Review for the first nine months of the current year indicate the problem with which the industry has constantly been faced:

Net imports	43,479	34,071
Per Cent operation	84.8	96.6

As indicated by the table, during the year so far there has been an increase in mill capacity of 14.6%, which is largely due to improved machinery. Consumption has increased only 3.6%. As a result, the rate of operation dropped from 96.6% to 84.8% of capacity. The actual output of newsprint from production and net imports has been only slightly in excess of current demand.

Sound management on the part of the leaders in the industry as a whole, therefore, has prevented any over-production of paper or the accumulation of an abnormal reserve stock. This adjustment of the supply of newsprint to the demand has undoubtedly been facilitated by consolidating the smaller units and thus reducing the competition and the number of conflicting policies. Mr. George H. Mead, who will be Chairman of the Board of the Mead-Spanish-Abitibi consolidation, recently summed up the problem of the newsprint industry as follows:

"The newsprint industry finds itself in the position every industry experiences periodically, with an excess capacity over the normal consumption. While the excess capacity at the present is approximately 20%, there has been no over-production of paper during the past six months, and so long as the mills are operated in such a way as to avoid over-production and accumulation of excess tonnage, the situation will continue sound . . .

"It now appears that in other industries a bottom price has been reached and because of the very narrow margin of profit left, I feel the newsprint industry is in he same position."

Further reductions in the cost of newsprint manufacture will undoubtedly take place, but these will be offset to some extent by costs beyond the manufacturer's control—the cost of wood and woodpulp and the expenditure necessary for fire protection.

If the industry will be content to adjust itself to a slow and steady increase in demand, there need be little fear for its prosperity. Americans constitute a newspaper-reading public and have apparently been able to absorb a growing amount of advertisements as well as reading matter. There are now more than 2,000 English dailies in the United States whose combined circulation exceeds 25,000,000 copies on Sunday and 37,000,000 copies daily—an increase of 22% in four years.

Crude Oil and Gasoline Prices Decline in Several Districts.

A number of reductions occurred in the prices of crude oil and gasoline during the week just ended. Reports from Shreveport, La., on Nov. 21 stated that the Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana had reduced Smackover crude oil, making 24 gravity and above $1 a barrel and below 24 gravity, 85 cents. The reduction amounts to 15 cents a barrel on higher grades and 5 cents on oil below 24 gravity. On Nov. 22 Magnolia Petroleum Co. (a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Co. of New York) followed the reduction of 5 to 15 cents a barrel in posted price of Smackover crude made by the Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana. The Texas Co. on Nov. 23 also made a similar reduction in price to 85 cents a barrel for below 24 degrees gravity and $1 for 24 and above, representing cuts of 5 and 15 cents a barrel respectively. It was later reported from Houston, Tex., that all purchasing companies had met the reduction of 5 to 15 cents in Smackover crude oil made by Standard Oil Co. of Louisiana.

In the gasoline market at Toledo, O., it was reported on Nov. 23 that the Roxana Petroleum Co. (Shell Union Oil) and Paragon Refining Co. had reduced gasoline prices four cents a gallon to 12 cents at filling stations, exclusive of three cents state tax, as the result of a price war. A few independent stations are selling at 11 cents, with Roxana, Paragon, Sinclair, Sun Oil and Cameron maintaining 12 cents price. Both Standard Oil of Ohio and Hickok Products Co. continue to retail gasoline at 19 cents a gallon, including three cents State tax.

Tne Standard Oil Co. of Kentucky on Nov. 25 reduced tank wagon price of gasoline one cent at Louisville, to 18 cents a gallon, effective as of Nov. 19, followed by the Gulf Refining Co.

In the Chicago wholesale markets on Nov. 25 quotations were as follows: U. S. motor grade 5⅞@6⅛c.; kerosene, 41-43 water white, 4½@5⅝c.; fuel oil, 24-26 gravity, 80@85c.

Small Decline in Crude Oil Output Reported.

With a decrease of only 2,550 barrels reported in the daily average crude oil output for the week of Nov. 19, the production amounted to 2,466,950 barrels per day, according to setimates made by the American Petroleum Institute. This compares with 2,469,500 barrels for the preceding week of 1927 and with 2,370,450 barrels per day in the corresponding week of 1926. The current daily average production east of California was 1,842,850 barrels, as compared with 1,849,000 barrels, a decrease of 6,150 barrels. The following are estimates of daily average gross production by districts for the weeks indicated:

Gross Crude Oil Stock Changes for October.

Pipe line and tank farm gross domestic crude oil stocks east of the Rocky Mountains increased 2,763,000 barrels in the month of October, according to returns compiled by the American Petroleum Institute from reports made to it by representative companies. The net change shown by the reporting companies accounts for the increases and decreases in general crude oil stocks, including crude oil in transit, but not producers' stocks at the wells.

Standard Oil Dividend Payments for 1927 Break All Records.

Despite the depression which has prevailed in the oil industry the Standard Oil group of companies will distribute record breaking dividends to stockholders for 1927, according to a compilation made by Carl H. Pforzheimer & Co., specialists in Standard Oil securities. Preliminary estimates indicate the various companies will pay out a total of $213,617,940 in cash this year, an absolute high record since the dissolution of the old Standard Oil Company of New Jersey in 1911, and an increase of $13,290,346 compared with cash dividends paid in 1926. In view of the generally unsatisfactory conditions prevailing in the oil industry during the greater part of 1927, the increase in the amount of cash dividends to stockholders, in the opinion of the bankers, clearly demonstrates the soundness of the conservative financial policies of Standard Oil management and their ability to maintain dividends through periods of severe depression in the industry.

Of the increased amount of cash dividends paid during the current year, special dividends by Indiana Pipe, Southern Pipe and Crescent Pipe Line accounted for $3,416,000 and the remainder represented increased payments to stockholders. Of the $213,617,940 paid out during the year, it is estimated that the four leading companies will account for $130,357,418. Standard Oil Company of New Jersey heads the group with payments totaling $38,423,860. While the company retired its preferred stock issue on Mar. 15 1927, which reduced its dividend requirements $3,499,526 quarterly, the outstanding amount of common stock was increased which together with extra dividends of 12½c. a share quarterly resulted in the total dividend payments for 1927 exceeding last year's dividends by $1,195,081. Continuing the bankers say:

Standard Oil of California was the second largest, paying out $33,059,506 compared with $25,192,364 n 1926. Standard of Indiana ranked third in dividend payments, disbursing $31,978,164 approximately the same as last year. Standard of New York's dividend outlay is estimated at $26,895,888, an increase of $3,439,096 over last year. Prairie Pipe Line Co's dividends increased $1,620,000 over 1926. Vacuum Oil Company disbursed $12,494,160 during the year, approximately the same as last year. Imperial Oil's dividend of $9,712,000 are about $1,597,000 larger than last year and $949,405 was added to Humble Oil & Refining Company's dividends, bringing that company's disbursements up to $5,848,404 for the year.

Most of the important declarations for the last quarter have already been made and it is estimated that $55,724,472 will be disbursed in the final quarter. This is $7,996,032 greater than in the third quarter, but $6,961,076 less than the final quarter of 1926. Vacuum Oil Company was largely responsible for increasing the amount over the previous quarter by adding $1.00 extra, which increased the company's payments $2,498,832. Southern Pipe Line Company's dividend added $200,000 and Chesebrough Manufacturing Company's extra dividend adds an additional $180,000.

The record of dividend payments by quarters during the past few years follows:

	First Quar.	Second Quar.	Third Quar.	Fourth Quar.	Total for Year.
1927	$55,873,413	$54,291,615	$47,728,440	$55,724,427	$213,617,940

Active Trading in Copper and Other Non-Ferrous Metals.

Active trading took place in non-ferrous metals in the past week, with higher prices for copper, zinc and tin. Lead also was firmer, though quotably unchanged in the East, "Engineering and Mining Journal" reports. The minor metals closed the week substantially unchanged. An excellent business was done, says this publication, in domestic copper and the market advanced to the basis of 13.75 cents a pound, delivered in the East. Most of the trading occurred, it is stated, before the market moved up to this level. December and January have been specified in about equal volume, with February represented by a few sales. Wire drawers have been conspicuous among the buyers. The Exporter's price has been advanced to 14.05 cents, c.i.f. Sales for export in November have been exceptionally large, the aggregate, it is estimated, being about 60,000 tons so far this month.

Galvanizers were good buyers of zinc and a premium of from 5 to 10 points for future positions existed most of the week. Demand for lead was excellent, all producers selling much more than usual. In the East the contract price held at 6.25 cents, New York. In the Middle West demand was sufficient to advance the market above 6 cents. A good business was done in January lead. The stronger tone in tin in London brought dealers and consumers into the market, good sales being made for both prompt and forward shipment.

Steel Market Reports Vary—Pig Iron Trade Shows Improvement.

Compared with conditions a week ago, the steel market is quiet, observes the "Iron Age" in its weekly market summary. Most consumers of bars, plates and shapes (which in the aggregate represent over 40% of all the steel rolled), got under cover for the rest of the year's needs when prices were advanced 12 days ago. This buying was largely an obligation against late December and early Jan. mill schedules, and output now is barely holding to the October rate, continues the "Age" giving further details regarding the state of trade as follows:

Sheet users are looking for a corresponding price upturn. Pressure to sell has subsided in most quarters and buyers meet refusals to enter bookings for 1928 delivery at to-day's quotations. Meanwhile, with the automobile trade still taking only small lots for immediate use, demand has slackened and interest is centered on next year's business.

Reports uniformly emphasize unusual stress being directed to approximate zero inventories. Indications thus point to greater general activity in December only on the score of releases against rail contracts and the speeding up of automobile manufacture.

On railroad account have come orders for 68,000 tons of rails and 30,000 tons of track accessories in Chicago. Rail mill operations have been stepped up a trifle, with probable sharp increases within two weeks. The Santa Fe is in the market for 3,850 miscellaneous freight and 76 passenger cars, requiring some 50,000 tons of steel.

Fresh structural steel inquiries amount to 28,000 tons, including 7,000 tons for New York subway construction. Definitely known bookings for the week cover 14,000 tons, with some 7,000 tons in addition not fully identified.

Bookings of fabricated steel in the first qp months are put at 2,311,860 tons by the Department of Commerce, compared with 2,133,780 tons in 10 months last year.

An oil company has closed on 75 miles of 10-inch pipe.

Pig iron buying shows improvement, particularly in the South and Central West. Southern furnaces, which have opened their books for the first quarter at $16, Birmingham, have sold 100,000 tons to pipe foundries, as well as close to 20,000 tons in the Cincinnati district.

Scrap remains weak except at Pittsburgh, where heavy melting steel has advanced 25c. a tons on fair-sized consumer purchases. The same grade has declined 50c. at Philadelphia and 25c. at Cincinnati.

The "Iron Age" composite price for finished steel has risen to 2.307c. a pound from the low of 2.293c., which was held for the four preceding weeks. The pig iron composite price remains unchanged at $17.63 for a second week, as shown by the following table:

In noticeable contrast to the remarks of the "Iron Age" quoted above, the "Iron Trade Review" of Cleveland in summarizing conditions in the iron and steel markets of the country, on Nov. 23 said in part:

Confidence in the long pull, which has been growing among producers of steel, received substantial reinforcement this week. Not only has new business displayed encouraging expansion but fresh and prospective inquiry also has registered marked gains. Even in those departments of the industry which still tend to drag, the morale is noticeably better. The "Review" went on to say:

Heavy finished steel products have been the chief beneficiary of this improvement with an accompanying tendency toward firmness in price. The lighter steel products continue unstable in price and in comparatively light demand. The corrective of this condition—accelerated automotive buying—is believed closer. Demand for steel pipe continues at the record-breaking pace of recent weeks, purchasing of 1928 track material still is reasonably high and freight car inquiry is the heaviest since mid-summer.

Operations of Steel Corporation subsidiaries average 69% this week, a recession of 2 points. Curtailed schedules of independent producers, especially in the Mahoning Valley, drag the national steelmaking average down to 65%. But if orders continue to develop from sources that appeared dried up a few weeks ago, operations may follow sentiment upward.

Pig iron has not made the strides of finished steel in the past week but the outlook continues propitious. Closing of a sanitary ware manufacturer's inquiries for foundry iron for its Pittsburgh district plants will probably precipitate demands from other large melters. Furnace interests contend further concessions are not compatible with current costs. It develops that in the Southern selling campaign, now ended, Birmingham district producers booked well over 150,000 tons. Inquiry in the Cincinnati and Indianapolis districts has been vigorous. Automotive foundries are expected to take heavier shipments after mid-December. Greater price firmness is manifest at Buffalo. Eastern Pennsylvania melters who are good at guessing the bottom of the market are buying.

With the Santa Fe RR. out for 3,750 freight cars, the Louisville & Nashville for 2,250 and the Chicago & Eastern Illinois for 500, pending freight car inquiry totals 9,350. Nearly 68,000 tons of rails and 25,000 to 30,000 tons of track fastenings have been distributed by Western carriers in the past week. Probably 300,000 tons of 1928 rails remains to be placed. Rail mills at Chicago are going on higher schedules.

Except in isolated cases, producers of plates, shapes and bars are entering all new business on the basis of 1.80c., Pittsburgh, and 1.90c., Chicago. Efforts to obtain the $2 differential on small business have been no more successful than previous ones. In some districts first quarter business is being booked at current quotations and extensions to contracts at lower levels are being refused. Bars again lead the heavy finished market at Chicago in spite of improved demand for plates, including 7,000 tons of tankage.

Projected gas lines in the West and Southwest call for over 200,000 tons of steel pipe, while 50,000 tons is pending in oil lines. Bids will be taken shortly on the first unit of 3,000 tons of a 12,000-ton riveted pipe line in New Jersey. A similar project in the same State, requiring 30,000 tons, will be up early in January.

Structural steel and reinforced concrete bars reflect seasonal lethargy, although 30,000 tons of shapes are up at New York in various transportation jobs.

Iron and steel scrap has shaken off the extreme weakness of recent months and while no defnite upturn is apparent, a turn for the better may be in the making.

Sheet prices continue to ease off, especially in the East. The top of the galvanized market is now 3.65c., Pittsburgh, while 2.10c. has become more general than 2.15c. on blue annealed. Black sheets show a wide range, with 2.80c. about the top. Some makers claim to be refusing first quarter orders at current minimum prices.

In both cold finished bars and strip steel slight gains in new business are reported, although the price situation, expecially in strip, continues unsteady.

Largely because of declining sheet prices, the "Iron Trade Review" composite of 14 leading iron and steel products has declined 12c. in the past week to $35.24. This gives Nov. thus far an average of $35.39, compared with $35.67 in Oct. and $38.43 last November.

Two of the cities show increases in employment in comparison with September, five of the cities show decreases, and one of the cities shows no change. Four of the cities show increases in employment in comparison with October 1926 and four of the cities show decreases. The seasonal corrections are made in the table so that percentage changes will have due significance in indicating the trend of employment.

The reports from seven blast furnaces show a continuation of the recovery from the August low point. Employment in October was 5% greater than in September and 24% less than in October 1926.

The "Iron Trade Review" reports 54.3% of the Ohio blast furnaces in operation in October. This is the same as last month and 24% less than October 1926.

William Green and John L. Lewis Urge President Coolidge in Behalf of Organized Labor to Take Action Toward Settlement of Coal Strike in Bituminous Fields—President Refers Request to Labor Department.

Representatives of organized labor, headed by William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor, and John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, called upon President Coolidge on Nov. 21 and urged that he call a conference of coal operators and miners with a view to bringing to an end "the destructive and intolerable situation in the soft coal fields." The labor leaders also asked "an investigation by Congress to determine whether the use of the injunction had not been exceeded by the Federal and State courts." A statement by Mr. Green relative to his request to the President was issued by him as follows, according to the New York "Times":

We called upon President Coolidge to acquaint him with the very tragic and depressing situation in the bituminous coal fields of Central Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia, particularly. In doing so we submitted three definite and concrete requests for his consideration.

First, we requested him to include in his message to Congress a recommendation that Congress conduct an investigation into the alleged conspiracy of large railroads to depress the price of coal for fuel purposes, which depression prevented the operators having higher wage scales. The railroads consume one-third of the bituminous coal mined, and for that reason are a great factor in deflating fuel prices.

We were prompted to do this because we know that the railroads are allowed to pay a reasonable price for fuel, and if they paid a reasonable price the coal operators could pay the better wage scale asked by the miners.

Second, we urged him to call a conference of coal operators and miners with the purpose of settling the strike and bringing an end to the destructive and intolerable situation in the soft coal fields. We believe if he uses his great office and his moral influence to bring these two elements into conference a settlement would be reached.

Third, we asked an investigation by Congress to determine whether the use of the injunction had not been exceeded by the Federal and State courts. We cited particularly the decision of Judge Shoonmaker, of the Federal Courts of Pennsylvania, in which he held that the mining of coal was an interestate function. Another injunction was granted by the Pennsylvania courts in Indiana County, which prevented workers talking to other miners, furnishing them food and holding religious services and even singing in the Magyar Presbyterian Church in Indiana, Pa.

It was stated in the "Times" of Nov. 22 that Mr. Coolidge suggested to the labor leaders the presentation of the Inter-State Commerce Commission of their charges that the railroads were conspiring to deflate coal prices. This, he thought, was the proper tribunal to investigate such allegations, since it was empowered by law to regulate the railroads and was prepared to start an inquiry if the complain justified such action. The same account said:

Without indicating a decision as to the proposal that he call a conference to consider settlement of the strike in the soft-coal fields the President told the leaders that he would confer with the Labor Department on this subject. It was said in his behalf, however, that he did not see that such a conference had much chance of reaching a successful conclusion, unless both parties were agreeable to come to-

The report here is that the operators are opposed to a conference and feel that they cannot meet the wage demands of the miners and compete with the non-union field.

The conference with the President, held in the executive offices, lasted for more than an hour and was attended by Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green, the two Presidents representing the power of organized labor, and the American Federation of Labor Executive Committee, consisting of Frank Morrison, Secretary; Daniel J. Tobin, Treasurer; Matthew Woll, James Wilson, James E. Noonan and Martin J. Ryan.

As to the developments on Nov. 22, the "Times" of Nov. 23 stated:

The bituminous coal industry is going through an economic readjustment which makes it rather difficult for some operators to meet the wage scale proposed by the miners and operate at a profit, in the opinion of President Coolidge.

This economic development, it was asserted today at the White House, makes it hard for the operators to agree to the requests of the miners for a higher wage scale.

The President let it be known that he had referred to the Department of Labor the request of the miners' leaders that he call a conference of operators and miners in an effort to settle the coal strike. This department is in close touch with the strike situation, it was said, and has been helpful in obtaining settlement in parts of the region. The President would be glad, it was indicated, to do anything possible to obtain settlement in other localities, and has asked the Labor Department to explore the situation.

It appears to the President that the soft-coal business is going through a reorganization period. Some mines are closing, probably not to open again, and certainly not in the near future. The President has heard that coal can be bought by some of the high-cost mines cheaper than they can mine it.

Such is the general difficulty, the President finds, which is facing some of the fields where the wage scale asked by the miners has not been adopted. The market for coal is such that certain of the mines cannot sell coal at the prevailing rate and meet demands for an advanced wage.

John L. Lewis, President of the United Miine Workers, held another conference today with Hugh L. Kerwin, Director of Conciliation of the Department of Labor, relative to the proposals made yesterday to President Coolidge.

"It is my understanding that neither the President nor the Secretary of Labor has reached a final decision on the requests submitted to them," Mr. Lewis said.

He left for Philadelphia tonight. He thought that the operators would not object to a conference with the mine leaders, if the President called it.

At Pittsburgh on Nov. 20 the American Federation of Labor, through its officers and the heads of national and international unions affiliated with it, voted unanimously to lay before President Coolidge the cause of 130,000 striking miners in Central and Western Pennsylvania and Ohio and to demand from Governor John S. Fisher an immediate investigation into the charges of misuse of power by agencies of the state government against 85,000 mine workers in the two Pennsylvania districts. Forty-five thousand miners are on strike in Ohio. The Associated Press advices from Pittsburgh on Nov. 15 in reporting this, said:

The action was taken by the labor leaders after two days of consideration of the mining situation at an emergency conference here, which was also attended by officials of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor and of various central councils of the state. The plan of action was contained in a report submitted by a special committee headed by William L. Hutcheson, of the Carpenters' Union, which condemned the use of injunctions in labor disputes and the activities of coal and iron police.

The report pictured 85,000 striking miners of central and western Pennsylvania and their 325,000 dependents as in the verge of bitter destitution.

The report also called upon organized labor forces of Pennsylvania to renew their activities in organizing the unorganized workers of the state into trade unions and appealed to all labor unions for "moneys, food and clothing" to aid the striking miners.

William Green, president of the American Federation, was named to head the two committies directed to call upon President Coolidge and Governor Fisher.

Mr. Green and a special committee were directed to visit Governor Fisher personally, "to demand an immediate and impartial investigation of all that is charged against the state government."

Regarding the conference with Gov. Fisher on Nov. 19 the Associated Press Advices from Harrisburg said in part:

Intensified investigation of conditions in the Western Pennsylvania bituminous coal fields was promised to-day by Governor John . Fisher after a three-hour conference with labor leaders who outlined conditions that the Mine Workers' Union alleges exist in that section where 85,000 miners are on strike.

The delegation, headed by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, left with the Governor a voluminous report of conditions and affidavits of persons alleged to have been brutally treated by coal and iron police employed, with the approval of the state, by various coal operating companies.

The contents of the report and the exact matters discussed at the conference were not disclosed, evidentvl by agreement, but Governor Fisher let it be known that he would seek further information on the situation. He termed his proposed investigation an "intensification of present inquiries."

Two days ago at the Pittsburgh meeting Governor Fisher was denounced as the vice-president, attorney and director of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, which officials of the United Mine Workers called "strike-breaking subsidiary of the New Yor Central Railroad." Governor Fisher at that time pointed out that he had relinquished all interests and connections with that and other companies when elected Governor.

Governor Fisher said that, generally speaking, they went over the question of police duties and the social and economic influences on the country with the intent of accommodating the differences between employers and employees.

"You may say," the chief executive asserted, "that we expect to intensify state activities in the soft coal district, although throughout the strike we have been in close touch with the progress of the strike."

After the conference Mr. Green had nothing to say. Previously he had asserted that he would demand an immediate inquiry into the practice of issuing commissions to coal and iron police who are paid by the coal companies; into allegations of brutality on the part of these officers and into alleged partiality against the strikers by members of the state police force.

There are now 3,982 commissions in effect for all sorts of special officers, including coal and iron police, railroad police, public utility officers and others.

The Federation president declared that it was "outrageous" for the state to delegate police powers to private interests as is done in Pennsylvania.

On Nov. 20 an appeal, signed by President Green and Frank Morrison, Secretary of the American Federation of Labor, was sent to members of organized labor throughout the United States and Canada; money, clothing and food is asked therein in behalf of the striking miners and their families in the bituminous coal fields of Central and Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, etc. The appeal says:

"For seven long, weary months thousands of bituminous coal miners have been either locked out or on strike in Central and Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Northern West Virginia and elsewhere.

"The plight of these striking miners and their families presents a most tragic and pitiable picture. Suffering, sacrifice and starvation have been endured and are being faced by these heroic miners and their families. In the state of Pennsylvania these miners, members of the United Mine Workers of America, are the victims of brutal and inhuman treatment accorded them by coal and iron police, the state constabulary and deputy sheriffs.

"Thousands have been evicted from their homes and are living in barracks built for them by the United Mine Workers of America. Thousands more are facing eviction.

"With the approach of winter their hardships will be almost unbearable and they must have help in order to endure them.

"In these desperate straits they look to us, their brothers and sisters in the trade-union movement, for sustenance and support. The long continued struggle during the summer and fall has exhausted their resources. Without funds, clothing, food or shelter they battle on with a grim determination and with an unconquerable spirit. The intensity and duration of the struggle constitute a test of the courage and purpose of the miners. Each day makes new demands upon their fortitude and each hour they are called upon to make new sacrifices.

"The suffering of the wives and the children, who are poorly clothed, ill-fed and under-nourished should reach the great heart of the American labor movement in such a way as to bring an immediate response to their pathetic appeal for help.

"This situation is so serious that it calls for immediate action. The Los Angeles convention of the American Federation of Labor, in response to the appeal for help made by the officers of the United Mine Workers of America, unanimously directed that a conference of national and international officers, representatives of the state federation, city and central bodies of Pennsylvania and the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, to be held at Pittsburgh on Nov. 14, to devise ways and means by which the needed assistance could be given. This conference was held and it recommended that this appeal be sent to all national and international officers, to city and central bodies, to state federations of labor, and to the membership of organized labor and their friends for money, clothing, food, shoes and blankets to help the many thousands of striking miners and their families in the bituminous coal fields of Central and Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and elsewhere.

"There are 150,000 miners on strike. There are 600,000 women and children dependent upon them. Seven hundred and fifty thousand persons must be clothed, fed and cared for by the United Mine Workers of America. Will you help them in the discharge of this stupendous obligation?

"The American Federation of Labor, through the executive council, appeals to the membership of our great organized labor movement and to their friends asking for money, food, clothing, shoes and blankets. The Voice of the sturdy miner whose head is bowed with grief, as he daily witnesses the suffering of hiis wife and offspring, is in this appeal. The voice of the wife and mother begs of you to help her feed her young. The cries of the little children, huddled in barracks and temporary shacks, resound in this appeal. Think of this and let these cries which must rise with ever-increasing volume reach your heart and touch your deepest emotions.

"Give money. Give clothing. Give food. Give anything you have that will help the miners in this great struggle.

"We are face to face with a supreme test of the solidarity, brotherhood and fraternity of the organized labor movement. Tragedy, misery and woe stalk abroad in the bituminous strike fields. The victims of it all are our brothers, their wives and their children. In the name of humanity and in the cause of organized labor we appeal to you to give in full measure and to keep giving over and over until the need for help is ended."

Bituminous Coal Trade Is Unsettled While Anthracite Remains Stable.

Uncertainty and unevenness are still the outstanding features of the bituminous coal markets of the country, declares the Nov. 24 "Coal Age News" in reviewing trading conditions. Complete readjustment of production schedules to meet the conditions created by the resumption in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Kansas has been complicated by the development of conflicting seasonal cross-currents of trade. The situation has been rendered still more complex by the heavy reserves carried in storage by large inductrial consumers in various parts of the country and by shifts in buying, continues the "News", which adds:

Weather, once the whip which lashed consumers into action, has lost much of its effectiveness in many sections. For this, of course, the stockpiles are directly responsible. But the improvement in transportation which has been so notable since the restoration of the railroads of the country to private operation and management also is a factor the full force of which is just beginning to be appreciated in the coal industry. The bettered service was welcomed long since; but the effect of that service on buying habits is only now engaging serious attention.

Bituminous production continues in excess of current requirements as measured by consumption and storage reserves.

As might be expected, losses in certain non-union districts have been marked since Oct. 1. Kentucky has been slipping backward and present weekly output is now below the figures for the corresponding weeks in 1926. Southern West Virginia, too, has suffered; weekly losses are ranging up to 500,000 tons. Pennsylvania has lost. On the other hand neither Illinois nor Indiana are producing as much coal as they did a year ago.

The range of price fluctuations is narrowing. For the country as a whole "Coal Age News" index of spot bituminous prices on Nov. 22 was 157 and the preliminary estimate for the weighted average price $1.90—the same figures as reported for Nov. 16. Mine-run in a number of widely separated producing fields weakened. Probably the most cheering feature, however, was the upward movement in spot prices on fine stream coal—a movement which affected West Virginia high- and low-volatile coals, Indiana screenings, Western Kentucky and Kansas slack.

Except upon special permits to complete loadings, lake loadings at the mines ended last Saturday. During the week ended at 7 a. m. Nov. 21 cargo dumpings at the lower lake ports were 788,860 net tons; vessel fuel, 27,397 tons. This brought the season's cargo dumpings to 31,828,499 tons. Weather continues to create a brisk demand for fuel in the Northwest and trade there remains one of the bright spots of the picture.

Despite a slowing up in retail buying in the Philadelphia market, the anthracite trade has held its recent gains in chestnut and stove and the situation with respect to other sizes is improving. Pea, which has been very backward in recent weeks, is showing more signs of life, although price-cutting prevails in some quarters, but egg still lags. Steam sizes also are moving more freely. Concessions on No. 1 buckwheat, which were the order of the day, are being withdrawn. Production, however, is still behind weekly figures of a year ago.

Weakness dogs the Connellsville beehive coke market. Nothwithstanding the efforts to regulate merchant-oven production upsets in the metallurgical trade result in temporary surpluses which undermine the price structure on spot coke. Some furnace coke has moved as domestic coke prices. Weakness also is in evidence in the Birmingham district, where contract prices on metallurgical coke have dropped 50 cents and Spot, $1. Domestic, too, is easier, and declines have been registered in spot quotations.

Brief extracts from the remarks of the "Coal and Coal Trade Journal" in its Nov. 24 review of conditions affecting the markets reveal the fact that in the "Journal's" opinion the bituminous coal trade has no special feature this week. The "Journal", speaking with reference to anthracite, says:

About 80% reflects the running time of the anthracite mines as a whole during the past week, though here and there some of the leading independent companies are hanging on to full time. Considering temperature conditions, 80% is pretty good when the big steel industry and others are reported operating on about a 70% basis and less.

Overproduction is still the "bogey man" of the market with prices scraping a bottom full of sink holes.

But at last something constructive that will broaden the coal market. The good steamship "Mercer," with representatives of the coal trade, steamship companies using oil, and other industries, is conducting a thorough test of pulverized coal. So far competitive results in economy and efficiency are reported favorably.

Movement by Coal Miners, Operators and Retailers for Study of Anthracite Coal Market With View to Stabilizing Industry.

A Co-operative Anthracite Congress called by the Mount Carmel (Pa.) Chamber of Commerce in an effort to bring about harmony and co-operation of all interests in order to stabilize the industry and to regain lost markets, was held at Mount Carmel on Nov. 9 and 10. It was stated on Nov. 10 that the concrete results of the congress constituted appointment of a committee by the Mount Carmel Chamber of Commerce to confer with leaders of the mine workers' union and the mine operators' organization on whether a permanent organization should be formed with the single purpose of broadening the market for anthracite. Samuel D. Warriner, President of the Anthracite Operators' Conference, and John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, are said to have both signified their approval of such an organization before leaving the city.

Operators, mine workers, retailers and the public were represented on the Committee, whose membership consisted of:

Operators—Daniel T. Pierce of New York City and E. H. Suenders of Frackville, Pa.

Workers—Thomas Kennedy of Indianapolis, Secretary-Treasurer of the United Mine Workers, and Chris J. Golden of Shamokin, President of District No. 9.

Coal Dealers—Joseph E. O'Toole of Washington, D. C., and W. H. Bertolet of Reading.

Public—Raymond E. Gibbs of Scranton, C. W. Laycock of Wilkes-Barre, Dr. W. R. Buckley of Mount Carmel, J. H. Paul of Carbondale, William A. Dyatt of Hazleton, O. L. Underwood of Pottsville, W. K. Armstrong of Shamokin, J. C. Noonan of Mahoney City and W. H. Blanning of Lykens.

It was expected that the permanent committee would be established, with Roy C. Haines, Secretary of the Mount Carmel Chamber of Commerce, as Secretary. Press advices Nov. 10 stated:

Among the suggestions offered today by various industrial experts for the reinvigoration of the anthracite industry were an advertising campaign to acquaint the public with the advantages of anthracite coal as a fuel research to ascertain better mining and operating methods, to find more uses for anthracite and to obtain data for advertising purposes; better co-operation between mine workers and operators so that the partnership spirit between some corporations and their employes might be developed, and better co-operation between the producers and the retailers to avoid some of the bad feeling of the past.

Regarding the first day's session of the Congress, on Nov. 9 Associated Press despatches from Mount Carmel stated in part:

The greatest blessing that could flow from the Anthracite Co-operative Congress, which met here today, would be the signing of another agreement for five more years or longer between anthracite operators and miners, John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers of America, declared in addressing the conference tonight.

"If such an agreement were possible," Mr. Lewis said, "operators could go ahead with more confidence in their program of advertising and furthering public service.

"In addition, such an agreement would carry conviction to the consuming public that never again would they be denied the service to which they are entitled. The anthracite communities and their businesses could go ahead with plans for expansion without further fear of suspension of operations."

In any case three and one-half more years of peace are assured in the industry by virtue of the agreement signed last year.

The Congress was prevented from becoming a meeting of the "love feast" type when the labor leader declared in no uncertain terms that the mine workers disavowed responsibility for all the industrial strikes which heretofore had beset the industry. He declared that the anthracite problem was not of price, but of quality and service to the consumer.

He warned any one who believed that the salvation of the industry was based on wage reductions and arbitration of the fundamentals of wage agreements not to try to impose his opinions upon the mine workers.

President Lewis shared the spotlight of the evening program with Samuel D. Warriner of Philadelphia, Chairman of the Anthracite Operators' Conference and President of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company.

At the afternoon session Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, and Governor John S. Fisher of Pennsylvania spoke.

Mr. Warriner said that engineers must keep abreast of the times not only with advanced and more efficient methods of mining and preparation but also in the development of improved furnaces and appliances which would prove attractive to the consumer.

Commercial departments, he said, must form closer contacts with consumers and, by advertising and service, cultivate an attitude toward the industry of intimate knowledge with the uses of anthracite and of confidence in its quality, service and dependability.

The knowledge that the industry was faced with severe competition, he said, should act as a challenge to these communities to meet this competition by stronger support, to labor to give a full day's work for a full day's pay and to transportation interests to do as well for anthracite as other railroads do for other fuels.

The anthracite region, he asserted, should be advertised and known all over this country as the place where the best, the safest, the most convenient fuel is produced. Once so known, trade would inevitably follow.

Referring to the five-year contract signed after the last anthracite strike, President Lewis said that the blessings of this long peace should be an encouragement and an incentive to all to believe that the managers and leaders of industry would not again lightly take up the instruments of industrial warfare and would exercise every honest and commendable effort to continue the era of peace throughout the period of the lives of those now employed in or served by the industry.

"The great strike of 1925 and 1926," he said, "witnessed the tremendous concentrated influence of the anthracite operating interests carrying on a magnificient attempt to convert the anthracite consuming territory to a bituminous burning basis.

"They were aided and abetted in the producing region by groups of business men, banded together as chambers of commerce and so-called civic clubs, who were committed to the fallacious economic theory that no cost was too great to be paid to crumble the resistance of the mine workers' organization.

"Influences in New England, Canada and New York State, whose hate was engendered by the inconvenience of the depleted supply, have in many instances continued the opposition which was hailed as meritorious in its first inception but which is now recognized as striking at the very heart of the anthracite communities. Time itself is the only balm which will heal some of the wounds thus opened.

"The mine workers have no desire to discuss a subject which might be controversial, or to flaunt the stained garments of ancient combat, but, with all earnestness, they disavow responsibility for all the industrial strikes which heretofore have beset the industry. They sought only to maintain their recognized standard of living."

Hoover Praises "Get-Together."

"The fact that you have successfully organized this conference that is attended by the leaders of all sides of the industry in itself is evidence of a march in the spirit of co-operation," Secretary Hoover said.

"The anthracite industry is not today a monopoly which can impose its commodity and its prices upon the public," he continued. "The developments in use of gas, coke, oil, smokeless coal and electrical current have all to some degree entered the special market occupied by anthracite, and it must compete with them.

"The workers in the anthracite industry are vitally interested in the ability of the companies to sell coal in competition with other forms of fuel, for it is through the expanding use of anthracite that full employment and stable wages must come."

In short, Mr. Hoover urged consideration of the problem of assuring the public a continuity of the anthracite supply and reduction in costs by improved scientific methods, new methods of co-operation by employes and improved sales organizations.

Although the Governor told the conference that he would be happy to approve repeal of the anthracite tax whenever it could be done without impairing the budget, he warned that when this tax was removed the public would demand a decrease in price comparable with the increase made when the tax was imposed. The tax amounts to 1½% of the value of coal prepared for market.

Bituminous Coal Output Gains Slightly—Anthracite and Coke Decline.

The output of bituminous coal during the week of Nov. 12 increased somewhat over that of the week of Nov. 5, notwithstanding the partial observance of Armistice Day on Nov. 11. The tonnage amounted to 9,440,000 net tons, as compared with 9,027,000 tons for the week of Nov. 5, according to the U. S. Bureau of Mines. In the same period, the production of anthracite fell to 1,530,000 net tons, the lowest output in any one week since Sept. 24.

The observance of Armistice Day and the partial observance of Election Day were the chief causes of the decline. Coke output also receded during the week, amounting to 88,000 net tons, as compared with 94,000 net tons during the week of Nov. 5. The Bureau of Mines says:

BITUMINOUS COAL.

The total production of soft coal during the week ended Nov. 12, including lignite and coal coked at the mines, is estimated at 9,440,000 net tons, an increase of 413,000 tons, or 4.6%, over the output of the preceding week. Armistice Day, Nov. 11, is observed as a legal holiday in certain bituminous fields. Loadings on that day decreased to 21,783 cars.

The total quantity of soft coal produced during the calendar year 1927 to Nov. 12 (approximately 267 working days) amounts to 454,637,000 net tons. Figures for corresponding periods in other recent years are given below:

1926	485,989,000 net tons	1923	494,250,000 net tons

ANTHRACITE.

The total production of anthracite during the week ended Nov. 12 is estimated at 1,530,000 net tons. This is the lowest output recorded in any week since Sept. 24, and a decrease of 38,000 tons from that in the preceding week. Armistice Day, Nov. 11, is accounted a full holiday in the anthracite fields. Loadings on Tuesday, Nov. 8 (Election Day) amounted to approximately 3,325 cars, as against an average of about 6,000 cars on other recent Tuesdays.

Current Events and Discussions

The Week with the Federal Reserve Banks.

The consolidated statement of condition of the Federal Reserve banks on Nov. 23, made public by the Federal Reserve Board, and which deals with the results for the twelve Federal Reserve banks combined, shows declines for the week of $107,500,000 in member bank reserve deposits of $39,800,000 in bill and security holdings, and of $34,000,000 in cash reserves and an increase of $22,300,000 in Federal Reserve note circulation. Holdings of discounted bills increased $50,900,000, while holdings of acceptances purchased in open market declined $7,100,000 and of Government securities $83,600,000. After noting these facts, the Federal Reserve Board proceeds as follows:

Larger holdings of discounted bills are reported by most of the Federal Reserve banks, the principal increases being: Boston, $16,000,000; Chicago, $12,300,000; San Francisco, $10,400,000; New York, $9,600,000; Atlanta, $7,100,000, and St. Louis, $7,000,000. Discount holdings of the Cleveland bank declined $12,100,000 and of Kansas City $3,600,000. The System's holdings of acceptances purchased in open market declined $7,100,000 and of Treasury notes and bonds $1,200,000. Holdings of Treasury certificates declined $82,300,000 as a result of the reduction from $164,500,000 to $80,500,000 in holdings of temporary certificates issued by the Treasury in connection with its mid-November financial operations.

The principal changes in Federal Reserve note circulation for the week comprise increases of $9,400,000 reported by the Chicago bank, $5,700,000 by Philadelphia, and $5,500,000 by Cleveland.

The statement in full, in comparison with the preceding week and with the corresponding date last year, will be found on subsequent pages—namely, pages 29 5 and 2906. Returns of Member Banks for New York and Chicago Federal Reserve Districts—Brokers' Loans.

Beginning with the returns for June 29 last the Federal Reserve Board also began to give out the figures of the member banks in the New York Federal Reserve District as well as those in the Chicago Reserve District, on Thursdays, simultaneously with the figures for the Reserve banks themselves, and for the same week, instead of waiting until the following Monday, before which time the statistics covering the entire body of reporting member banks—now 659—cannot be got ready.

The following is the statement for the New Yoek member banks and that for the Chicago member banks thus issued in advance of the full statement of the member banks, which latter will not be available until the coming Monday. The New York statement, of course, also includes the brokers' loans of the reporting banks, whick this week again rose to a new high figure, the grand aggregate of these loans for Nov. 23 being $3,481,286, against $3,456,115 for Nov. 16. This latter was the previous record figure.

Complete Returns of the Member Banks of the Federal Reserve System for the Preceding Week.

As explained above, the statements for the New York and Chicago member banks are now given out on Thursdays, simultaneously with the figures for the Reserve banks themselves, and covering the same week, instead of being held until the following Monday, before which time the statistics covering the entire body of reporting member banks, now 659, cannot be got ready.

In the following will be found the comments of the Federal Reserve Board respecting the returns of the entire body of reporting member banks of the Federal Reserve System for the week ending with the close of business Nov. 16:

Partly as a result of the Government's financial operations as of Nov. 15, the Federal Reserve Board's condition statement of 659 reporting member banks in leading cities as of Nov. 16 shows increases for the week of $47,000,000 in loans and discounts, $205,000,000 in investments, $233,000,000 in net demand deposits, $195,000,000 in Government deposits and a reduction of $78,000,000 in borrowings from the Federal Reserve banks.

Loans on stocks and bonds, including U. S. Government securities, were $105,000,000 above the Nov. 9 total, the principal charges, including increases of $88,000,000 in the New York district and $17,000,000 in the Chicago district and declines of $10,000,000 and $8,000,000 in the Boston and Cleveland districts, respectively. "All other" loans and discounts declined $59,000,000, of which $21,000,000 was in the New York district and $19,000,000 in the Chicago district.

Holdings of U. S. securities, due to the Government financing on Nov. 15, were $194,000,000 above the previous week's figure, most of the districts showing substantial increases. Holdings of other bonds, stocks and securities increased $12,000,000 at reporting banks in the New York district and $11,000,000 at all reporting banks.

Net demand deposits were $233,000,000 higher than on Nov. 9, the principal increases comprising $137,000,000 in the New York district, $27,000,000 in the San Francisco district, $16,000,000 in the Cleveland district, and $11,000,000 each in the Boston and Chicago districts. Increases of $21,000,000 in time deposits in the Philadelphia district, $9,000,000 in the New York district and small increases in other districts were partly offset by a decline of $22,000,000 in the San Francisco district. Government deposits increased $195,000,000, banks in all districts reporting larger figures than a week ago.

Borrowings from the Federal Reserve banks were $78,000,000 below the total reported a week ago, the principal reductions being $44,000,000 in the New York district and $13,000,000 and $9,000,000 in the Chicago and Boston districts respectively.

Summary of Conditions in World's Market According to Cablegrams and Other Reports to the Department of Commerce.

The Department of Commerce at Washington releases for publication to-day (Nov. 26) the following summary of conditions abroad, based on advises by cable and other means of communication:

ARGENTINA.

Crop conditions continue to be good. Sales of most commodity lines are normal except those of textiles which appear to be on the increase. The October statement of all Buenos Aires banks, compared with that of September, shows an increase of 35,000,000 paper pesos in deposits and a decrease of 55,000,000 paper pesos in loans and discounts.

AUSTRALIA.

Moderate rainfalls in the Eastern States of Australia in the past month averted the danger of drought in many districts. Rain is badly needed, however, in many sections, particularly in the States of Queensland, South Australia, Victoria, and Western Australia where precipitation has been only patchy. Improved weather conditions have reduced anxiety in pastoral regions, and large Australian grain houses have increased their estimates of the wheat crop by about 10,000,000 bushels. Financial stringency continues and traders have apparently resigned themselves to a continuation of quiet in business circles Retail business in most large centers is reported as slow, and holiday sales not yet begun. Building continues at a high level and bankers believe this is contributing materially to existent financial stringency, though housing needs are admitted. There is noticeable increase in unemployment.

AUSTRIA.

Austrian foreign trade in September took a favorable turn and showed an import surplus of 79,900,000 schillings, as compared with 113,300,000 last month. The import surplus for the first three quarters of 1927 totaled 747,100,000 schillings, as compared with 765,200,000 schillings in the corresponding period of 1926 The foreign trade figures for the first nine months of 1927 show that the import of raw and half finished goods amounted to 469,900,000 schillings, as compared with 417,500,000 schillings in the corresponding period of 1926, while the export of finished goods during the first three quarters of 1927 totaled 1,036,600,000 schillings, as compared with 922,800,000 during the same period of last year. During the month October there were 195 receiverships and 77 bankruptcies, as compared with 196 and 36, respectively, in September.

BELGIUM.

There has been a slight improvement in Belgian trade and industry during the past month. With the close of the first year of operation under a stabilized currency, Belgium has good reason to be satisfied with the progress made in practically every branch of economic life. The monetary reform has been carried out with serious results of any sort and may be considered an unqualified success thus far. Business failures thus far this year are much below those for the corresponding period of last year. Total estimated receipts contained in the budget proposals for 1928 are 10,565,000,000 francs and estimated expenditures are 9,285,000,000 francs. Both items are slightly higher than those for 1927 but it is expected that increasing tax yields will permit the reduction of certain taxes The Bourse is still active and has apparently suffered no serious effects from the slump in Berlin Issues of local securities continue high. The production of cement is normal and the demand is good. It is reported that Belgian cement producers have reached an agreement with those in France with regard to sales in the French market. Conditions in the plate and window glass industries are quite satisfactory. The foreign trade balance continues to be very satisfactory.

BRAZIL.

Brazilian business continues dull, but exchange remains steady.

BRITISH MALAYA.

With rubber and tin prices weak and the country's leading export markets uncertain, British Malayan trade continues slack. The present tendency in rubber prices, however, is slightly upward. The normally favorable balance of British Malayan trade was rendered unfavorable in October as the result of decreased exports and increased imports, compared with the previous month.

CANADA.

Total imports into Canada in October, $93,900,000, were nearly 7% larger than a year ago, but exports, $103,884,000, were 20% smaller owing chiefly to the late harvest and consequent delay in shipments of grain. October exports of wheat total 19,429,000 bushels or 36% less than last year. Flour exports, 898,700 barrels, were nearly 7% smaller. Colder weather during the past week has stimulated purchases of winter lines. Wholesale trade in all lines is reported as fair to very active. The delayed returns from harvesting operations are apparent from the reports of trade collections in important commercial centers which characterize the situation in the Prairie Provinces as slow to fair and generally improving. The October output of newsprint in Canada was 191,171 tons averaging 86.5% of the capacity of the mills. Several pupl and paper plant companies in Quebec and New Brunswick have announced plans for the extension of their manufacturing facilities. The index number of security prices in Montreal and Toronto rose 3.5 points during the week ending Nov. 12 to 490.3. Trading on Nov. 14 on the Toronto exchange broke all previous records. The Government crop report of Nov. 16 estimates this year's potato crop at 47,927,600 hundredweight from 572,281 acres, 1½% smaller than the 1926 yield. The yield of sugar beets is placed at 412,900 tons from 44,103 acres. The crop is nearly 22% smaller than it was last year. The total area estimated as sown to fall wheat up to Oct. 31 is 1,009,000 acres which is 3% larger than a year ago. In the case of fall rye the area is placed at 542,100 acres which is 8% smaller than last year.

CHINA.

Recent activities tend to unify the political administration over the portion of China south of the Yangtze River, but little probability of any immediate trade revival is anticipated. Strikes and labor agitations at Shanghai, involving 25,000 workers in the larger cotton mills and principal foreign-owned tobacco factories, are causing some concern. Nevertheless a gradually returning confidence in Shanghai's future is evidenced in the continued growth of building activities. Chinese customs collections in Shanghai for the first ten months of 1927 showed, exclusive of the famine relief surtax, a decrease of 23% compared with the same period last year. The favorable effect of high silver exchange on the import situation is offset by the approach of Chinese New Year settlements. Native banks are reluctant to finance new transactions and native dealers are inclined to restrict forward commitments to orders for goods arriving no earlier than late Jan or early Feb. The general business outlook in North China continues uncertain, but improved traffic conditions on the Peking-Suiyuan Railway are being followed by heavy shipments from that line of kerosene and flour.

FRENCH INDO-CHINA.

Maturing of the new rice crop has been early and prospects now indicate a good average harvest. Current rice trade, however, continues dull and business conditions in general are quiet. Exports of rice are low, with little demand, and prices have fallen.

HAWAII.

Retail trade has been dull in Hawaii during the past month, though collections have been fair and the tourist trade is growing steadily as the winter season advances. Hawaii's agricultural output this year is expected locally to amount in value to $120,000,000, of which sugar accounts for $77,000,000 and pineapples for $38,000,000, the balance being made up of coffee, cotton and miscellaneous exports of primary products. The coffee crop is expected in Hawaii to be 10,000 bags more than last year's production.

HUNGARY.

Imports in September totaled 115,800,000 pengos and exports, 82,100,000 pengos. This brings the adverse balance for the first nine months of the year to 275,900,000 pengos. Budapest bank clearings amounted to 159,563,924 pengos in October 1927, as compared with 147,353,419 pengos in September. According to newspaper reports, money continues to be scarce in Hungary, with interest rates increasing. The unusually large requirements for crop financing are generally quoted as the principal cause of this situation. Unemployed trade union members numbered 11,565 at the end of September compared with 12,419 in August, and 21,332 in Sept. 1926.

INDIA.

The Indian market has shown marked improvement in the past month, justifying the anticipated revival of trade following the Poojah holidays, particularly in the bazaars, where business is reported seasonally healthy. With few exceptions, major commodities have maintained a steady tone, and money has been plentiful, with collections good. Railway loadings and earnings will exceed those of this time last year.

ITALY.

Imports during October amounted to 1,402,000,000 lire and exports 1,398,000,000 lire. September imports were 1,140,000,000 lire and exports 1,168,000,000 lire. A study of the Italian foreign loan policy prepared by Mr. Angelone, Royal Italian Commercial Attache at Washington, places the total nominal value of all loans placed by Italy and now outstanding in American and British money markets at $298,100,000.

JAPAN.

Business in Japan is still spotty and generally dull, although somewhat better than at any time since last March. Attention of financial interests is centered on the downward trend of exchange and on the various loans for refunding purposes. No improvement is noted in the silk industry. Prices have declined to such an extent that the Impreial Silk Syndicate on Nov. 15 commenced withdrawals of raw silk from the market. Conditions in the cotton industry are also unsatisfactory, although curtailment of production has helped stabilize prices to some extent. Estimated budg t for 1928–29 is larger than at first stated. During October increases were noted in Japanese national debt, note issue, stock and bond flotations, postal savings and bank clearings. Exprots to the U. S. declined, due to smaller demand for raw silk.

LITHUANIA.

It is reported that the Swedish Match Syndicate has purchased all of the match factories in Lithuania, and that only one, a modernly equipped plant in Kovno, will be kept in operation. The Lithuanian match factories have been idle for some time and have been receiving compensation from the Swedish Syndicate. Some apprehension is felt within the country over the amalgamation, as it is thought that a suspension of the production of matches for export may result which would react unfavorably on the economic situation.

MEXICO.

A slightly better tone in commercial circles was in evidence during the week ended Nov. 18 1927. Collections also showed some improvement. Night service on the Mexican Railway between Mexico City and Vera Cruz, which was suspended has been resumed.

NETHERLAND EAST INDIES.

Except for continued dullness in the textile market, business conditions in Netherland India are favorable. Importers of cotton goods, however, are still buying cautiously. Automotive sales are steady and greater competition is expected from the Fiat car with the beginning of next year. Continued building operations create active demand for construction materials. Pepper prices continue firm at high levels and the islands' sugar market is weak. Local estimates of the year's sugar production, made on Nov. 1 place the output at 2,353,000 long tons.

NETHERLANDS.

Business conditions in the Netherlands during October were generally good. The improvement in industrial and trading conditions noted during September was maintained and confidence in the future is better. Living costs are stable. Unemployment is somewhat higher than last month. Imports and exports during October fell off somewhat as compared with those in September. Commodity markets have maintained a firm tendency.

NORWAY.

The Norwegian harvest, which, because of extremely difficult weather conditions, was completed later than usually, according to official preliminary survey will yield considerably below normal. The hay crop, one of the most important in Norway, is very good and is estimated to be above average. Grain crops are about 10% below the normal yield, and of rather poor quality. The root crops also have given a very poor return, notably the potato crop which is estimated about 30% below average.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS.

With seasonal improvement inaugurated in November, a generally healthy tone now prevails in Philippine business circles. Textile trade, however, continues slow and little improvement is expected before next year. October sales of automobiles were slightly lower and tires were heavily stocked on a slack market. Demand was active for imported flour and canned salmon but trade in sardines was dull. Sugar milling started in October in Negros and grinding in Luzon began in early November. It is estimated locally that the crop will equal that of last year. Trading in abaca continues light but the copra market is firmer as the result of lighter arrivals and a strong tone in foreign markets. Tobacco trading is somewhat brisker, with larger exports of raw leaf, but shipments of cigars have again declined.

POLAND.

As a result of the legalized devalorization of the zloty the two chief items in the assets of the Bank of Poland, those of gold and silver and of foreign currency and bills, show an increase of about 288,000,000 zlotys in the Bank's statement of October 31. The reserve of about 208,000,000 zlotys, formerly carried by the Bank in its assets against the difference between the par value of the rate of exchange of its gold and foreign bills, has been eliminated, and the resulting surplus of 80,000,000 zlotys is now carried as a special reserve, in conformity with the stabilization program. Banknotes circulation reached at the end of October a new high of 929,413,000 zloty (as compared with 728,000,000 at the end of June and 592,000,000 on Jan. 1 of the current year) and the cover against the notes equaled 88.5%. All currency in circulation at the end of October totaled 1,300,000,000 zlotys, against 1,121,000,000 in June and 995,000,000 in January last. Foreign trade for September closed with an adverse balance of 8,000,000 gold zlotys, against similar balances of 9,620,000 and 22,000,000, respectively, in August and July. The relative improvement in the trade balance resulted chiefly from the cessation of imports of breadstuffs, which in July accounted for more than 18,000,000 zlotys of imports. The preliminary budget for 1928-29 (April-March), as approved by the Council of Ministers, carries estimated revenues of 2,350,395,000 against proposed expenditures of 2,228,950,000 zlotys (new par value $0.112), which represents an increase over 1927-28 budget of 359,855,000 in revenues and 237,000,000 zlotys in expenditures.

PORTO RICO.

The recent heavy rains are expected to cause some reduction in the tobacco acreage and are expected to retard but not materially affect sugar production. The shipment on Nov. 19 of 5,000 bags of sugar disposes of all known stocks from the old crop. Tobacco sales continue to be small but are encouraging. Fruit shipments for the week ending Nov. 18 amounted to 11,682 boxes.

RUMANIA.

Foreign trade for the first nine months of the current year resulted in a favorable balance of 3,575,000,000 lei (average rate of exchange, $0.060)—imports, 25,208,000,000 and exports, 28,783,000,000 lei. This compares with 26,166,000,000 lei of imports, 27,854,000,000 lei of exports and a resultant favorable balance of 1,688,000,000 lei (average rate of exchange $0.044) during the same period of 1926. The increase in the favorable balance in 1927 is almost equally accounted for by a decrease in imports (956,660,000 lei), caused by the higher import duties established by the tariff of April, 1927, and by a heavy increase in exports of the principal kinds of grain, and especially corn. The budget estimates for 1928 have been kept within the total of the 1927 budget of about 35,000,000,000 lei, exclusive of the separate budgets of 15,000,000,000 lei of the State Railroads, and 2,000,000,000 lei for the Postal-Telegraph Administration.

SIAM.

Siam's rice crop is in favorable condition and the outlook continues optimistic. The period before harvesting, however, is seasonally dull and the trade situation is consequently quiet.

SPAIN.

Spanish business during October was decidedly on the upgrade, due to the good regurns of the cereal harvest which, however, was slightly under normal, and to the prospects of an unusually abundant olive crop. This crop is expected locally to yield over 448,000 tons, and some estimates place it at over 500,000 tons. The early arrival of cold weather has also contributed to the revival of business, as within recent weeks there has been brisk buying in all lines of winter goods. Bank clearances at Madrid amount to 5,500,000,000 pesetas; Barcelona, 1,235,000,000 pesetas, and Bilbao, 152,000,000 pesetas. The highest dollar exchange at Madrid during October was 5.87 and the lowest 5.73 with an average of 5.82. Spanish Bourses showed considerable activity, the turnover on the Madrid Bourse being 58,000,000 pesetas; Barcelona, 142,000,000 pesetas; and Bilbao, 21,000,000 pesetas. Bank of Spain accounts for October 29 show gold reserve at 2,603,000,000 pesetas and silver at 678,000,000 pesetas. Circulation on that date stood at 4,193,000,000 pesetas, an increase of 18,000,000 pesetas over the September closing figures. Discounts amounted to 509,000,000 pesetas, an increase of 15,000,000 pesetas. Imports increased during September, partially in anticipation of treaty developments with the United States. The announcement of the indefinite continuation of the most favored nation treatment of American goods has been exceptionally well received in all quarters.

SWEDEN.

The renewal of wage agreements in most of the important industries, with the exception of the pulp mills in which negotiations are still under way, has increased the optimism with which the future in industry and trade is regarded. In the absence of adverse developments, the present high level of prosperity in Sweden is expected to continue. Swedish industries remained at a high level of activity during October. The large volume of lumber sales for this year has been followed by a considerable increase in orders for next year's delivery. The money market remained easy, meeting the heavy demand without difficulty, and foreign exchange holdings continued to increase. The Bourse remained firm, notwithstanding the slight nervousness caused by the uncertainty of other European exchanges. The price level showed a slight seasonal rise. Foreign trade maintained its high volume of previous months. With the export surplus for the first ten months reaching approximately 31,000,000 crowns, a favorable balance for the year is assured.

UNITED KINGDOM.

The South Wales and Monmouthshire Coal Owners Association has decided to form immediately a coal marketing association, to allocate production and establish minimum price schedules. A commercial committee appointed by the Association will meet this week to settle the details of organization. The Durham Wages Agreement has been renewed for one year, including the adoption of the owners' amendment to permit application to the Wages Board for a revision of the subsistence wage and minimum percentage clauses, on condition the present wages continue throughout the winter. Coal output during the week ended Nov. 5 was 4,762,100 tons. The Films Bill passed the third reading of the House of Commons on November 14. Amendments eliminating the blind block booking clauses and other minor changes having been defeated. It is proposed to give the vill a validity of ten years. The World Motor Transport Congress closed Nov. 15 after a successful session, at which two hundred and fifty delegates represented sixty countries. The commercial Motor Vehicle Exhibition opened at Olympia on Nov. 17. Unemployment for the week ended Nov. 7 is reported by the Ministry of Labor at 1,111,700, an increase of 5,000 over the total for the previous week.

Gold and Silver Imported into and Exported from the United States by Countries in October.

The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce at Washington has made public its monthly report, showing the imports and exports of gold and silver into and from the United States during the month of Oct. 1927. The gold exports were $10,697,641. The imports were $2,056,216, $696,069 of which came from Canada, and $540,326 from Mexico. Of the exports of the metal, $8,400,000 went to Argentina, and $1,086,186 went to Canada.

Dr. Schacht of Reichsbank Supports S. Parker Gilbert and Warns Nation.

In an article in the Deutsche Volkswirt on Nov. 18 and in an address the same night at Bochum before the Association of the Rhine and Ruhr Industrialists, Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, the President of the Reichsbank stoutly supported S. Parker Gilbert, the Agent General for Reparations, on the need for strictest economy in Germany to meet the obligations under the Dawes plan. According to copyright advices from Berlin Nov. 18 to the New York "Times," the latter's account says:

In his newspaper article Dr. Schacht said:

"Mr. Gilbert was following to the letter the policies of the original reparations plan, which he considers fair."

In his speech to the industrialists Dr. Schacht characterized many German cities as spendthrifts of money for luxuries while neglecting necessities. He believed that the Dawes plan would eventually be changed, but declared Germany must not agitate for alterations until the four-year test expires. He explained his theories of economics which have brought the Reich from financial chaos to a state of stability and warned that it was necessary to continue to hold the mark at the gold level.

"Stable currency is impossible without a well-balanced economic system," he said. "The fact that every banknote issued is covered by gold is not sufficient. Business has to be supplied with sufficient stable currency. The most important requirements are a favorable trade balance and a balanced domestic budget."

Stability Under the Dawes Plan.

Dr. Schacht said that Germany was at a disadvantage because of war losses, but that so long as the Reich did not know the amount of reparations it would have to pay, the stability of money and the budget were constantly threatened from the outside. The Dawes plan, he said, removed one of the dangers to the economic system by giving Germany fixed payments, which were established by the Transfer Committee and, he added, that so long as the present system remained in force it would be impossible to stabilize the payment of the balance completely.

"Despite the disadvantages, we are able to balance the budget and make payments and at the same time stabilize the purchasing power of our currency both in the home and international markets," he went on. "This is not done, unfortunately, from surplus production, but through loans.

"We must realize that these credits do not mean the permanent improvement of our situation, but simply a postponement of the final accounting. No country can live on credit permanently. Interest and amortization must be paid from the labor of the nation. Foreign loans, therefore, are justified only as far as they serve to increase home production and make savings possible.

Warns of Borrowing Limit.

"The United States and the other young countries of the New World borrowed large sums in the nineteenth century which they were able to return from their overproduction. Germany, however, is neither a new nor a colonial country and cannot pay her debts with agricultural products and raw materials as America did, but only with finished industrial products in markets which are now severely contested."

Dr. Schacht pointed out that the Reich has borrowed about 10,000,000,000 marks since the Dawes plan went into effect and that in addition 2,500,000,000 for reparations and another 750,000,000 for interest and amortization must leave the country. Then he continued:

"The advocates of foreign loans forget that American dollars borrowed can ultimately be spent only in America. Loans may, therefore, increase consumption and imports, but how far they stimulate the exporting capacity of our industries is very problematical."

Borrowing dollars to place in the Reichsbank as a reserve for German notes also has limit, he said, adding:

"Should we obtain $5,000,000,000 and issue 20,000,000,000 of German marks, it would mean inflation, resulting in a terrific increase in prices and wages. The United States experienced this after the war and the Federal Reserve Bank was obliged to reduce note circulation by $1,000,000,000 in order to restore normality."

Increasing Capital by Saving.

Germany's currency is now about 6,000,000,000 marks, a little larger than pre-war, though prices have increased 50%, he continued. The check system, however, has grown now three times the volume of pre-war.

Germany needs more capital for her industries, Dr. Schacht believed, but must not borrow it and must obtain it through savings. Germany as an industrial nation needing exports for its existence cannot afford to be protectionist and, therefore, he declared the present commercial policies regarding the tariff to be correct.

Germany is required to keep her reserve up to 40%, he said, and this means that if the nation loses 1,000,000,000 marks in foreign currency, the Reichsbank must withdraw 2,500,000,000 marks from circulation. For this reason, the Reichsbank cannot tolerate loans except those of a purely productive character.

Scores Municipal Loans.

Taking up the demand of States and municipalities for a free hand in borrowing, Dr. Schacht said:

"Between the borrowing of a private firm and of a commonwealth there is the difference that the private concern mortgages only its own property, while the commonwealth mortgages its taxpayers."

He revealed that of 5,500,000,00 marks in long-term loans the Reich borrowed only 300,000,000. Private concerns borrowed half the entire amount and States and communes the rest.

Dr. Schacht scored city loans as wasteful, lavishing borrowed money on building stadiums, baths, parks, planetariums, museums, etc., while real needs were neglected.

In his opinion none of the city loans was necessary and the only possibility of paying the interest on the principal was by selling German goods abroad below cost, manufacturers and workers losing in the deal. When the day of final accounting comes, he said, the cities must produce foreign currency or declare themselves bankrupt.

"The Dawes plan leaves the question of reparations open, but all sensible people agree that this condition cannot be continued permanently," he said. "It would be foolish to raise the question of a change now before the expiration of the four test years."

He said that Germany had proved her loyal intention to fulfill the Dawes plan and had the right to demand the same loyalty from her political creditors. As long as business remains in the hands of the present capable leaders and public finances are administered in the same careful manner, none of the creditors need regret the confidence placed in Germany.

Asserting that the Reichsbank was forced to raise its discount rate on account of the unnecessarily large number of foreign loans this year, Dr. Schacht continued:

"Our young republic lacks a sense of responsibility in many places. There is no sense of responsibility when a city spends millions to build palaces and buy feudal estates, while it declares in the same breath its inability to build houses for workers because the Reichsbank holds the pursestrings too tightly."

Whispers in the audience repeated "Berlin! Berlin!" at this point.

In conclusion Dr. Schacht said:

"Germany today is one of the strongest factors in the reconstruction of international affairs, and we shall continue to show that we intend to remain a free, democratic, conscientious people for peaceful, civilizing work."

Denies Dr. Schacht's Charges—League of German Municipalities Resents His Statement on Loans.

Berlin Associated Press Advices Nov. 22 were published as follows in the New York "Times":

Several days ago Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, President of the Reichbank, in a speech at Mochum, defended the Reichbank attitude against the "unbridled borrowing abroad of municipal bodies," which he charged had wasted money for luxuries such as stadiums, swimming pools, parks, airdromes, theatres and playgrounds.

To-day the German League of Municipalities published a manifesto aimed at refuting these charges. It lay stress on the task of German municipalities, unlike those of other countries, to supply gas, water and electricity, and pointed out that the total foreign loans floated by all the German municipalities were only 10 per cent. of the aggregate of Germany's foreign loans.

Since the stabilization of the currency up to Sept., 1927, the municipalities had borrowed abroad 548,000,000 marks, whereas the total foreign debt of Germany was 5,500,000,000 marks. Although from 1914 to 1923, the manifesto says, the municipalities were completely debarred from borrowing money, the average communal loans in the succeeding four years were from 100,000,000 to 200,000,000 less than the municipalities' pre-war liabilities.

"Not one dollar, guilder or pound sterling was used unproductively," it is asserted, "but the money was exclusively used for productive purposes. Of all the municipalities exceeding 100,000 in population, without the three Hansa cities — Hamburg, Lubeck and Bremen — an aggregate of 406,000,000 marks was floated abroad, of which only 19 per cent. was expended for alleged luxuries."

The manifesto warns that the Reichbank's fight against the cities and the resulting estrangement of foreign markets for municipal loans will lead to new disturbances in the labor market, with a heavy unproductive financial strain through millions of unemployed.

F. Eberstadt of Dillon, Read & Co. Says Publication of Memorandum of S. Parker Gilbert Regarding Overborrowing of Germany Has Had Clarifying Effect.

Ferdinand Eberstadt of the firm of Dillon, Read & Co., in an interview in Paris, made the following comment on the memorandum of S. Parker Gilbert to the German Finance Minister, published in our issue of Nov. 12, page 2617:

The publication of the memorandum of the Agent General for Reparation Payments sent at the request of the German Finance Minister and of the reply thereto of the German Government has had a clarifying and salutary effect. Failure to publish the memorandum gave an air of mystery and led to the belief that the situation was critical, but such fears have now been dispelled.

Criticisms in the memorandum are directed at tendencies rather than at any actual occurrences now endangering the soundness of the German economic structure. None of the proposed new laws which are the subject of criticism have been passed and in part have not yet even been drafted. Undoubtedly there will be a drastic reduction of the outlay originally contemplated.

The memorandum specifically recognizes the soundness of the present German situation:

"During this period (during Dawes Plan) Germany has made remarkable progress. She has re-established her credit at home and abroad, her industries have been reorganized and her productive capacity largely restored, her supplies of raw materials, and to some extent her working capital, have been replenished, and the general standard of living has greatly improved."

The German reply indicates a frequently reiterated desire of Germany to co-operate to the fullest extent with the Agent to accomplish the Plan. The principal tendencies criticized by the Agent, namely, budgetary burdens, unsatisfactory relations between the finances of the Reich and States and communes, heavy borrowing and spending by communes, and various movements tending to increase the cost of production, prices, etc., have all been severely criticized and are strongly opposed by influential industrial, financial and political circles in Germany, who are in entire accord with the Agent on these questions. The memorandum and reply mentioned measures already taken to supervise borrowings of States and communes.

It is to be noted there is no reflection whatsoever in the Agent's memorandum on private loans to German industrials and private loans to Germany heretofore made are characterized as productive and beneficial in their effect on the German economy.

Both Mr. Gilbert's memorandum and the German reply emphasized the serious difficulty of the accomplishment of the Dawes Plan lies in the question whether foreign countries and particularly creditor countries can without violence to their economy accept exports from Germany to the extent which will be necessary to put through the Plan. This, of course, is a situation which is beyond the German Government's power to remedy without the full co-operation of other nations. If other nations find the payments are upsetting their economy, a movement for the revision of the Dawes Plan would undoubtedly come from their side. Such move would not reflect upon or jeopardize existing German public or private loans.

On the whole, the past year has been an exceptionally favorable year for German industry and internal German business is good. It is to be reasonably expected that an increasing policy of economy will result in falling prices which should be followed by increased exports.

France Defines Her Attitude on German Loans—Approves Those Made for Production, but Will Resist Any Held to Be Needless—Faith Placed in S. Parker Gilbert.

Writing under date of Nov. 22, the Paris correspondent of the New York "Times," Edwin L. James says in copyright advices:

On the issue of the relative position of German foreign loans and reparations with respect to transfers of money from Germany abroad, the attitude of France may be stated as follows:

"American subscribers, or rather the banks which assume responsibility for loans, should not lose sight of the fact that so long as they lend money to Germany for her economic recovery, for the employment of her labor and for promotion of her industry, the Allies, and France particularly, are in agreement and even satisfied.

"As long as the matter remains within these limits, which is to say, as long as the Commission for Reparations and its representative at Berlin make no objections, American subscribers may be reassured. From the moment that these loan operations no longer constitute an aid to production, but fall into the category of non-productive loans, the said operations become doubtful and dangerous, for in case of default on reparations and in case of bad faith on the part of Germany the Allies are entitled to invoke their privileges under Article 248 of the Treaty of Versailles, which gives them a lien on Germany which may be characterized as a first mortgage."

The Issue Involved.

The issue is important, for it concerns on the one hand the $10,000,000,000 reparation debt of Germany and on the other hand $3,000,000,000 loaned to Germany, which total is constantly growing.

Reading between the lines of the above statement, which may be taken as representing accurately the position of the French Government—most interested in reparations—it appears that American subscribers to German loans may have no fears until either Mr. Gilbert or the Reparation Commission or the Allied Governments themselves condemn the nature of German loans newly contracted.

This mean in effect that the French will not invoke reparation claims to interfere with the service of German foreign loans until loans fall into what is regarded as the non-productive class and until after the Allies have given the warning.

This does not mean that the French believe Germany has not contracted unnecessary loans. They agree with Mr. Schacht that she has done so and that continuance of such a program would imperil reparations. But now, after Mr. Gilbert's warning, arrangements have been made which in effect require his approval of all future German foreign loans, and apparently the French are quite willing to leave the situation there for the present.

When the issue first arose, considerable pressure was brought to bear on Premier Poincare to issue a declaration that France considered reparations came first in claims on such transfers as the German economic machinery was capable of making. But after study the French leaders have come to the conclusion that the matter is not so simple as that, since the foreign obligations of Germany of all classes have interrelation and may be said to stand or fall together. In other words, putting it frankly, if Germany defaulted on the service of her foreign industrial loans her exchange situation would quickly get to be such that, under the terms of the Dawes plan, cash transfers for reparations would become impracticable.

French View of Situation.

Therefore the inquiries which have been made by French experts have shown that it is not practicable to give a black or white answer to the question as to which German debt comes first. Reserving their theoretical rights under the treaty, the French prefer to take what they regard as a practical view of the situation—namely, they do not object to Germany's borrowing the money she needs, but will object if Germany borrows money she does not need and the service of which would interfere with reparation payments. Thus it may be seen that the French have come very near to meeting what Dr. Schacht has described as a fair view of the situation.

It is recalled that in 1926, when the Prussian State sought a loan, the Commission for Reparations notified Germany of its right to approve or disapprove this loan. The Germans then took the position that the Dawes plan had replaced the general lien on Germany by specific liens on railroads, industries and so on. The Allies then took the position that the Dawes plan liens had not replaced the general lien but had created a modus for the liquidation of the general lien. That remained the allied position, and it will be recalled that recently it was agreed, largely through the work of Dr. Schacht, that no German loan should be contracted without notice being given through the agency of Mr. Gilbert.

The Poincare Government wishes to give this system a fair trial, without in the meanwhile trying to start a polemic. If, on the other hand, the Germans insist on loans which Mr. Gilbert and the Commission for Reparations may regard as useless, France reserves all her rights to accuse Germany of failure to cooperate in the honest execution of the Dawes plan.

The position thus taken by the French Government, while not going so far as certain English, German and American bankers would go, nevertheless is of a nature to give assurance to American investors in German securities.

France Reimposes Frozen Meat Duty—Levy Suspended Since 1914 Restored as Paris Raises Meat and Rye Flour Tariff.

The New York "Evening Post" in Associated Press accounts from Paris Nov. 19 said:

Another 33 1-3% increase in the French tariff on wheat and rye flour imports decreed this week was followed today by renewal of the duties on frozen meat which have been suspended since 1914. Of the two increases, the higher grain tariff will have the greater effect on American exporters.

A 33 1-3% rise in the grain tariff went into effect on September 2 and accordingly the additional tax decreed this week makes the tariff 70% or more above that which existed three months ago.

Nevertheless France is expected to buy large quantities of grain in the United States because the 1927 domestic crop is not only below national needs, but is of such poor quality that better wheat will have to be brought in from abroad to make bread palatable.

Resumption of the tariff on frozen meat eventually will hit American packers now engaged in bringing this product from Argentina to France. At present this trade is almost at a standstill because of the low prices prevailing in France, where growers are receiving only two-thirds of their normal prices. Very little frozen meat comes to France directly from the United States.

For the present the tariff remains the pre-war rate to be paid in paper francs on a coefficient of 1.7 instead of 5—which is the paper franc's relation to the gold franc—so that, figured in dollars, the tariff is really less than a third of what it was before the war. The pre-war duties on fresh and chilled meats were renewed in July, 1926.

The French peasants who grow grain now enjoy protection double what they had last year. The new increase on wheat and rye flour also applies to such cereal products as grits, American breakfast goods, spaghetti and macaroni.

The tariff on wheat is increased from 25 to 35 francs per hundred kilograms, while on rye it is from 11 to 15 francs. The new tariff works out at approximately 35 cents a bushel on both wheat and rye.

Prussian Loan Syndicate Closes—Bonds of $30,000,000 6% Issue Sell Down to 92 in Heavy Turnover.

The syndicate which on Oct. 13 offered the $30,000,000 6% loan of the Free State of Prussia was terminated on Nov. 21, and the bonds of this issue broke more than 3 points on the New York Curb Market, going as low as 92 and closing around 93, it is noted in the New York "Journal of Commerce" of Nov. 21, which goes on to say:

This issue was brought out at 96. Its immediate reception, in spite of the fact that the postponement of the offering after the expected date had caused some question as to its approval by the State Department and had given rise to the belief that it was not regarded favorably by the Reparations Agent, was reported as very satisfactory, and the bonds sold at a premium, reaching a high point of 96¾.

Later on, however, with the continued discussion as to the position which charges on German post-war debts would hold in relation to reparations payments, with regard to the transfer of funds, all German dollar bonds weakened in this market and enthusiasm for the Prussian loan is said to have cooled. Consequently, according to report, there have been quite a number of these bonds around the market and the result was that the closing of the syndicate brought out a heavy volume of bonds. Other German issues sold off fractionally, although the turnover of those loans listed on the New York Stock Exchange was relatively light.

Rentenbank 6s, due October, 1960, which experienced a sharp decline on Wednesday as support was withdrawn with the closing of the syndicate which offered the issue, sold down a little lower, touching 92, more than 3 points below the original offering price. An exception to this week's market in German dollar loans was found in German Electric 7s, which were firmly maintained at 102½.

Public Deficit in Prussia—Ascribed to Increase of Salaries by State.

Copyright advices from Berlin, Nov. 20, to the New York "Times" state:

Prussia's new budget for the financial year 1928-29 estimates expenditure of 4,120,000,000 marks and revenue of 4,046,000,000. The deficit of 74,000,00 is entirely due to the proposed increase of official salaries.

It is also stated that if federal subventions to Prussian municipalities, which pass through the budget, are omitted, the estimated expenditure will be much greater.

Bonds of Danish Consolidated Loan Due Feb. 1, 1946 Called for Redemption.

The National City Bank of New York, as fiscal agent, has issued a notice to holders of Danish Consolidated Municipal Loan twenty-five year 8% sinking fund external loan gold bonds, Series A and Series B, due Feb. 1, 1846, that $325,000 aggregate principal amount of these bonds have been called for redemption Feb. 1, 1928, at 107½ and accrued interest. The drawn bonds will be paid at the head office of the bank on and after Feb. 1, 1928, after which date interest on such bonds will cease.

R. S. Byfield of Ames, Emerich & Co. Finds Central Europe Prospering.

Central Europe has made important progress in reconstructing its economic and financial structure, and the outlook for the future is promising at the present time, Robert S. Byfield of Ames, Emerich & Company stated before the Conference on Foreign Investments of New York University Nov. 17. The conference was held in the Governors' Room of the New York Stock Exchange, and the speaker was introduced by Dean A. W. Taylor of the Graduate School of Business Administration. Mr. Byfield stated that Hungary had greatly improved her position, and that, whereas at the time of the International League of Nations loan it had been estimated that it would take two years to balance the nation's budget, the work was actually accomplished in seven months. Mr. Byfield said that the re-establishment of internal credit is proceeding rapidly, and that the favorable operation of the mortgage bank system is permitting the modernization of Hungarian agriculture.

Jugoslavia has followed a vigorous policy of railroad reconstruction since the end of the war which will greatly increase the productive capacity of the country, Mr. Byfield said. He concluded:

Over 500 miles of railroad have been constructed since the Armtslice. Possibly the most important piece of railroad construction is the so-called Belgrade-Adriatic Railway, which connects Belgrade with the Adriatic sea-coast by a standard gauge line. The benefits to the country can hardly be conceived by anyone who has not been there.

The government is carefully controlling its expenditures and has had a surplus of receipts over revenues ever since 1922. This is particularly noteworthy in that the country found itself after the Armistice with five separate kinds of land taxation in the different provinces. A uniform system has been finally created by a constitutional act.

Liquidation of Ecuador's Farm Bank.

Guayaquil (Ecuador) advices, Associated Press, Nov. 19, said:

Harry de la Vergne Tompkins, a New York banker, superintendent of banks of Ecuador, ordered liquidation today of the Banco Comercial Agricola, which suspended payments April 9, 1926. He acted in conformity with the new banking law promulgated upon recommendations of the American Financial Mission headed by Professor Kemmerer of Princeton. The announcement caused a sensation here.

Gold Movement to Brazil—Third Shipment of $11,000,000 Made by Dillon, Read & Co.

Eleven million dollars in gold, constituting the third consignment of that size, was shipped to the United States of Brazil by Dillon, Read & Co. on Nov. 19. This makes $33,000,000 of a total movement of $36,000,000 which is being sent for the account of the Brazilian Government and which represents the proceeds of its recent financing in the American market. The previous shipments were referred to in these columns Nov. 12, page 2607 and Nov. 19, page 2749.

Bank of Poland Gold Shows a Heavy Gain—Mystery of Recent Purchases in London Explained—Effect of Stabilization Loan.

The mystery regarding the steady purchase in London for several weeks of large quantities of gold from the Bank of England is explained by the latest return of the Bank of Poland, which shows very substantial changes in foreign currencies and coin held abroad, says a London cablegram Nov. 24 to the New York "Times" (copyright). The cablegram added:

The return shows an increase of 101,958,199 zlotys in coin and 522,123,543 zlotys in foreign currencies. At the current rate of exchange, roughly 44 zlotys to the pound, which under the decree of last October is the gold value given to the zloty, the increase in ten days in the Bank of Poland's bullion holdings is equivalent to £2,314,959. Part of this increase no doubt was obtained in the London market.

The increase in the figures of the Polish bank's return is a natural result of the recent stabilization loan, which was offered in New York and several Continental countries as part of a comprehensive monetary and budgetary administrative program. The London portion of the loan was £2,000,000 and the American $47,000,000; France, Holland, Switzerland and Poland dividing the remaining $15,000,000. The funds which this emission will place to the credit of the Bank of Poland are so substantial that the foreign balances holding gold must be increased.

The prospectus of the loan stated that the new reserve requirements provided for a minimum reserve in gold and gold exchanges, against both note and deposit liabilities of 40% at least, 30% being the actual gold. The entire foreign exchange resulting from the present loan, moreover, will be put at the disposal of the Bank of Poland, with the result that its gold reserve will then become approximately 80%, which is one of the highest ratios of any bank issue in the world.

Reduction in Gold Freight Rate from London to N. Y.

The New York News Bureau announced the following from the Central News, London, Nov. 23:

The Cunard and White Star steamship companies have cut the freight rate on gold from London to New York from ⅛% to ¼%.

Turkey Taking Up Debt Pact Problem—National Assembly Considers Agreement Opening Way to Loan.

From Constantinople Nov. 3, the New York "Journal of Commerce" of Nov. 22 reports the following correspondence:

Plans are now under way to press action on the tentative agreement between the Turkish Government and the foreign bondholders on the Turkish debt before the National Assembly, which is now in session here.

It will be recalled that the Lausanne Treaty did not deal with the question of the division of the debt of the Ottoman Empire among its component parts or the willinness of these States to accept the shares allotted them. The Republic of Turkey was allotted 62.25% of the debt of the former Ottoman Empire, and the negotiations regarding the settlement of the question are of great importance to the future credit standing of the country.

At tentative agreement has been drawn up by the various parties concerned in a meeting held this spring in Paris. This agreement does not take effect until it has been ratified by the bondholders and the Turkish Assembly.

The payments in Turkish gold pounds (one pound equals $4.40) for a period of years will be as follows under this plan: 1928 to 1935, £T. gold, 1,980,000; 1935 to 1941, £T. gold, 2,380,000; 1941 to 1946, £T. gold, 2,780,000; 1946 to 1951, £T. gold, 3,180,000; 1951 until full service is resumed, £T. gold, 3,400,000.

These payments represent for the respective periods 38, 48, 58, 68, 90 and 100% of the full contractural interest of the share of all the loans allotted to Turkey.

Upon ratificaticn of the agreement by the bondholders and Turkey debt service will be resumed on June 1, 1928. The service is to be effected in the most appteciated currency of the respective loan contracts and, where such currency is the French franc, resumed service will be paid in full in that money.

Arrears are to be paid off over a period of 30 years at the same rate as the current services. It is understood that the Turkish Government will be willing to pledge the customs revenues of Constantinople and other ports to guarantee the fulfillment of the proposed schedules of payment.

The financial burdens imposed by the meeting of this schedule will doubtless be heavy, but the effect upon the credit of the country will be beneficial, and, if approval is forthcoming, an early loan is expected here.

Turkey Plans to End Hoarding by Peasants—Issue of New Currency on Dec. 1 Will Start Campaign Against Practice, Causing Money Shortages.

How to persuade the Anatolian peasants to change their time-honored hoarding customs will be a problem confronting the Turkish banking and financial officials after Dec. 1 says a copyright message from Constantinople Nov. 19 to the New York "Times," which adds:

That is the date, it has been decided by the Turkish Finance Minister, for the first issue of the new Republican paper money, which will be put into circulation by the method of retiring the old money, note for note. However, a brave effort will be made and local banks will be asked to cooperate with the officials of the Ottoman Bank in this important matter.

Meantime, Smyrna and Constantinople are suffering from the annual period of the shortage of money, which comes about the time the crops are paid for. After the payment of large sums for the Summer yield of tobacco, figs, raisins, &c., there is always a scarcity of legal tender, due to the peasants' tendency to believe that the money's appropriate place is hidden away where it can be dug out at any time rather than put in the bank.

It is hoped that the new money will change this attitude, but as a matter of fact it probably won't. Angora has realized this and is now definitely considering whether the next step in its work of modernizing Turkey ought not to be the establishment of rural banks for the education of the peasants in banking, if only for the purpose of ending the yearly shortage problem.

Chinese Request Us to Bar Morgan Loan to Manchurian Line—Business Men Charge That Japan Uses the Railway for Imperialistic Penetration—Protest Follows T. W. Lamont's Visit.

According to a copyright cablegram from Shanghai to the New York "Times," persistent rumors since the recent visit to Japan of Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co. concerning the alleged intention of Morgan interests to advance large loans to the South Manchuria Railway resulted Nov. 23 in a group of influential Chinese financiers and business men sending a cablegram to the Chinese Minister at Washington requesting him to present their resolution opposing such loans to Secretary Kellogg and the American people. The "Times" cablegram went on to say:

The resolution asserts that the South Manchuria Railway is an "imperialistic Japanese political and economic instrument," and declares that the line is not a commercial enterprise but one used by Japan to promote her aggressive policy in Manchuria and Mongolia.

The recent trend of affairs has indicated that some such action as an American loan was being considered, for Dr. C. C. Wu, the Foreign Minister of the Nanking Nationalist Government, recently questioned M. Yoshizawa, the Japanese Minister to Peking, concerning the matter, and the press both here and in Japan has been discussing the possibilities of such loans for several weeks.

Move Declared Political.

Effort are being made to get Nanking to lodge an official protest in the event that the Morgan loan is made. The reasons behind these activities of private citizens are, doubtless, political, for while the Nationalist Government is not able to protest in view of the fact that, so far as it knows, no steps for loans to the railway have been taken, persons interested in the Nanking régime and opposed to Marshal Chang Tso-lin, the Peking dictator and warlord of Manchuria, are quite free to precipitate an agitation.

Notable among these incidents is the recent public demonstration at Nanking against the reported decision of Premier Tanaka of Japan to pursue "a strong policy in Manchuria."

Speakers at the demonstration violently asserted that Chang Tso-lin was selling Manchurian rights in order to obtain revenue to fight the Southern revolutionists.

The conference which sent the resolution to Washington included representatives of the General Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai, the Bankers' Association, the Federated Chambers of Commerce of the Yangtse Valley and the Institute of Pacific Relations.

The document deplores the alleged proposed loans, belabors Japan's Manchurian policy generally and closes with this appeal:

"America, maintain your traditional policy of friendship; do not help Japan's encroachments in China."

Special advices from Washington Nov. 23 to the "Times" said:

A protest from Chinese financiers and business men against reported contemplated loans by J. P. Morgan & Co. and other American financial houses to the South Manchuria Railway, was delivered today by the Chinese Legation.

Both the Department and the legation decline to discuss the protests or make public its text.

The Chinese feel that Manchuria is an integral part of China and that the United States should not assist in alleged Japanese penetration of that region.

Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, the Chinese Minister here, inquired recently whether the loan was contemplated, but he has made no representations for his Government to the State Department.

Thomas W. Lamont of the Morgan firm and Charles E. Mitchell, President of the National City Bank of New York, conferred recently with Secretary Kellogg and other State Department officials with a view, it is understood, to ascertaining whether the department would veto a loan to the railway by entering objection to application for floating the issue in this country.

$40,000,000 Mentioned.

Although officials refused to discuss the question, it has been reported from Japan that a loan of about $40,000,000 is sought, of which half would be used for refunding operations and the rest for railway improvements.

The Department has reached no conclusion in the matter. Indications are that it may be called upon to decide whether it should oppose a loan designed merely for a railway that has floated loans previously in foreign markets, or, for some reason of broad policy, veto the loan.

A loan to Japanese interests would not be contrary to the Department's generally recognized policy, as it would not involve a country which has not funded its debt to the United States, is not designated for monopolistic purposes affecting the United States or intended for the purchase of arms where competitive armament might result. It would be studied with care, however, in connection with the policy of equal opportunity and the "open door" policy in Japan.

Japanese Own Most of Line.

The main line of the South Manchurian Railway runs from Dairen to Changchun and a branch connects Mukden and Antung, the whole system being 686 miles long.

The original grant for the road was made by China to Russia for thirty-six years, dating from completion. This would make the expiration date 1940, but the grant came into the possession of Japanese under the Treaty of Portsmouth, a transfer which was recognized by China through treaty with Japan on Dec. 22, 1905.

By another treaty in 1915, consequent upon the "twenty-one demands" on China made by Japan, China extended the thirty-six-year period to ninety-nine years.

Since then China at every opportunity has challenged the validity of this later treaty, contending that it was obtained by Japan under duress. But it is argued that this does not affect the status of the original grant as transferred to the Japanese at Portsmouth, which would have a dozen years yet to run.

Half the stock of the company, which totals $100,000,000, is held by the Japanese Government, and the rest by Japanese and Chinese investors, the former holding the greater part.

The United States has already accepted Japanese operation of the line without question, being interested primarily in seeing that equal opportunity is accorded its nationals in use of the line.

Washington Associated Press advices last night (Nov. 25) stated that confirmation was given at the State Department yesterday that this country would not object to the projected loan by Morgan & Co., of New York, to the South Manchurian Railway. The dispatch added:

A State Department announcement said it knew of no reason why the loan could be considered objectionable and that it did not fear the development of political situations antagonistic to the United States as a result of it. The railroad is controlled by the Japanese Government.

Offering of $6,000,000 5% Bonds of Kingdom of Norway Municipalities Bank.

An offering of $6,000,000 external 5% sinking fund gold bonds of the Kingdom of Norway Municipalities Bank (Norges Kommunalbank) was announced on Nov. 23 by White, Weld & Co. at 95 and accrued interest, yielding 5.30%. This is the first foreign financing ever done for the Municipalities Bank, which is owned by the Norwegian Government and is the central banking institution for granting loans to Norwegian municipal bodies. The bank has the power to prohibit, with the consent of the Ministry of Justice, as a condition of the loans made to municipalities, the future mortgaging of the assets of these municipalities. The bonds will be dated Dec. 1, 1927 and will mature Dec. 1, 1967. They will be redeemable as a whole or in part by lot at 100 and interest on Dec. 1, 1930, or any interest date thereafter upon six months' notice. A cumulative sinking fund, operating semi-annually beginning Dec. 1, 1931, by redemption by lot, with the right to the Bank to deliver for cancellation to the fiscal agent bonds of this issue at their principal amount in lieu of cash is calculated to retire all the bonds by maturity. In coupon form, in denomination of $1,000, the bonds will be registerable as to principal. Principal and interest (June 1 and Dec. 1) will be payable in time of war as well as in time of peace whether the holders are citizens of a friendly or hostile state, at the office of National Bank of Commerce in New York, Fiscal Agent, in United States gold coin, without deduction for any Norwegian taxes, present or future, except in case of holders otherwise subject to taxation thereon in Norway. Information as follows is credited to B. Stuevold Hansen, Chairman of the Bank, and other official sources:

Organization: Kingdom of Norway Municipalieies Bank (Norges Kommunalbank) is the central banking institution which the Norwegian Government has established for the purpose of granting loans to Norwegian municipal bodies. The Bank was established pursuant to provisions of Norwegian Law of February 12, 1926 and commenced business September 1, 1927. The Bank has foundation capital of $5,360,000 (Kr. 20,000,000), and reserve fund of (Kr. 3,000,000) fully subscribed and paid in by the Norwegian Government. Principal office of the Bank is at Oslo, the capital of Norway. Operation of the Bank is by the Government through a Board of three members, the Chairman of the Board being appointed by the King of Norway and the other two members by the Norwegian Storting. The Bank operates under the supervision of the Ministry of Finance.

The Bank's resources will be increased beyond the foundation capital and reserve fund mentioned above by any undivided profits, which must be added to reserve fund, and by any issuance of participation capital shares as described below.

Operations: The Bank grants loans only to Norwegian municipal bodies and similar political subdivisions in Norway. Norwegian Law provides that when the Bank grants loans out of funds borrowed by it in foreign currency, it must make such loans in, and such loans must be repaid in, the same foreign currency. The proceeds of this loan, therefore, shall be loaend to Norwegian municipal bodies only in United States Dollars and both principal and interest of such loans must be payable to the Bank in United States Dollars. All loans applied for must be approved by the Ministry of Justice, and prior to granting loans the Bank is directed by Royal Decree of Aug. 5, 1927, to assure itself that the financial and economic condition of the borrower is satisfactory. The Bank enjoys certain powers of restriction on further financing of municipal bodies to which it grants loans, including power to prohibit with the consent of the Ministry of Justice, as a condition of the loans, such municipal bodies from future mortgaging of their assets.

The Bank retains 5% of the face amount of every loan granted by it, subject to the right of the King to regulate or limit this contributory duty, issuing to the borrower an equivalent par value of participation capital shares in the Bank in the form of registered non-negotiable certificates; a maximum of 5% per annum dividend is payable on the participation capital shares, at the discretion of the management.

A sum equal to at least two-thirds of the foundation capital of the Bank, plus its entire reserve fund, must be kept on deposit in banks or invested in interest bearing obligations of the Norwegian Government or guaranteed by the Government.

Security: These bonds are the direct obligation of the Bank, which covenants that if in the future it shall sell, offer for public subscription, or in any manner issue or dispose of any bonds or loan or create any obligation, secured by lien on any revenue or asset of the Bank, the bonds of this issue shall be secured equally and ratably therewith. These $6,000,000 bonds are the first series issued by the Bank to grant loans as described above, and constitute its funded debt. The law creating the Bank limits the aggregate amount of the bonds issued by it at any time outstanding to eight times the sum of its foundation capital and that part of its participation capital which exceeds $1,340.000 (Kr. 5,000,000).

Application will be made to list the bonds on the New York Stock Exchange. It is expected that delivery will be made in the form of temporary bonds about Dec. 15.

The proceeds of this Second Series are to be used to retire approximately $1,353,000 internal 10% bonds and to continue the construction of the highway to the sea. The bonds will be dated April 1, 1927. A cumulative sinking fund is calculated to retire the Second Series of bonds by maturity through purchase in the open market at not over 100% and accrued interest or call by lot at 100% and accrued interest. The International Acceptance Securities & Trust Company is Fiscal Agent of the loan. These bonds will be the direct obligation of the Department of Antioquia, and will be specifically secured, together with the First Series bonds, of which there are $3,979,000 outstanding, by a first lien on 75% of the gross revenues from the Departmental monopoly. It is also stated:

The average annual revenues pledged as security for these Bonds for two years preceding this issue were equal to more than 2¾ times the annual interest and sinking fund requirements on the $7,979,000 principal amount to be presently outstanding, and the average net revenues were equal to about 2¼ times such requirements.

All series of these Bonds up to the total of $12,350,000 authorized will share equally with the present issue in the above named security, but the Department has covenanted that it will not issue any additional series unless and until for two consecutive years immediately preceding any issue, 75% of the net revenues from the Department liquor monopoly and/or other revenues satisfactory to the Bankers, hereafter pledged, shall have aggregated each year an amount equal to at least twice the annual interest and sinking fund charges on all the Bonds outstanding and then to be issued.

Since its creation in 1886, the Department of Antioquia has never defaulted in the payment of principal, interest or sinking fund on any of its debt.

The total debt of the Department, including this issue, is approximately $26,125,000; the value of proptrty owned by the Department, including its railways, is estimated at $33,500.000. Within the last three years, Antioquia has borrowed in the American market $14,500.000 for railway construction. It operates its own railways, the net earnings of which for the year ending Dec. 31, 1926, were sufficient for the service of the railway loans.

The Colombian Peso is equal to $.9733 United States currency at gold parity, and conversions into dollars above have been made at this rate. Banco de la Republica has the sole right to issue bank notes and had on June 30, 1927, a gold reserve of 86¾ against notes outstanding and demand liabilities.

Principal and interest (April 1 and Oct. 1) will be payable in New York City at the principal office of International Acceptance Securities & Trust Company or Guaranty Trust Company of New York in United States gold coin of or equal to the standard of weight and fineness existing on April 1, 1927, without deduction for any taxes, present or future, levied or imposed by the Republic of Colombia, or by any taxing authority therein or thereof. Prosperousu Conditions in Republic of Colombia During Last Twenty-Five Years.

The Consulate General of the Republic of Colombia in New York issued this week a statement on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the termination of the last civil war of that country. The statement, which includes a brief review of the economic progress of the Republic, one of the most popular South American borrowers in this market since the war, said in part:

"In the last 25 years no internal disorder or international conflagration has affected the Republic which today enjoys the most absolute peace. In this period the resources of the Republic have increased and by means of direct negotiations it has endeavored to solve its international problems. Colombia occupies a place in the League of Nations and the Minister of Colombia in Washington has been during the last year vice president of the Pan American Union. The credit of the Republic increases manifestly every minute and social problems do not affect it, thanks to its great natural resources and to the hard and constant work of its sons and daughters."

Proposed Peruvian Loan.

It was announced on Nov. 24 that J. & W. Seligman & Co. and the National City Co. have agreed with the President or Peru to purchase first series of $50,000,000 of Peruvian national loan. The necessary papers are now being drawn and it is expected that public offering will take place within the next few weeks. Associated Press advices from Peru yesterday (Nov. 25) said:

Representatives of J. & W. Seligman & Co., the National City Co. and New York bankers who represent other bankers have granted a loan of $80,000.000 to the Peruvian Government. The money will be used to cover outstanding debts.

The first issue of bonds covering $50,000,000 will be purchased by Seligman & Co. and by the National City Co. The documents pertaining to the transaction will be signed this week.

Bills destined to give constitutional character to the loan are being prepared and will be submitted to the next extraordinary congress.

The "Sun" of last night (Nov. 25) reported a dispatch from Lima as stating that $2,500,000 of the proceeds of the first series of bonds will be used for the agricultural bank and $4,000,000 for the regulation of Peruvian exchange. The same dispatch said that the interest rate would be 6%.

New York State Attorney-General to Seek Legislation for Supervision and Regulation of Investment Trusts.

The enactment of legislation which will lodge with the New York State Banking Department authority to supervise and regulate investment trusts will be sought by the State Attorney General, Albert Ottinger, at the coming session of the State Legislature. The recommendations proposed follow an extended study of these organizations by Attorney General Ottinger and Assistant Attorney General Timothy J. Shea, in charge of the Bureau of Securities of the Department of Law. The report of the conclusions deduced from the investigation is accompanied by a draft of proposed legislation, prepared by Mr. Shea, designed to govern this form of institution. Mr. Shea, it is stated, predicts in his report that as a result of the enactment of the proposed legislation many advantages and benefits will accrue both to investment trusts and investors. Mr. Shea says:

Our conclusion is that investment trusts are charged with an unusual degree of public responsibility; accordingly, we strongly recommend legislation which will subject investment trusts to legal supervision by the State. The Martin Act which gives the Attorney General the right to investigate the conduct of affairs of companies selling securities within New York State is ample protection to the public in the purchase of securities of fraudulent concerns.

It is not, however, primarily protection from fraud that is needed in the case of investment trusts; it is the public assurance that the people managing these trusts are men of integrity; that they are willing to show their faith in their enterprises by investing a substantial amount of their own funds in them, and that books and accounts are properly kept, with accurate and reasonably frequent reports to security holders.

It is believed abuses of practice which might otherwise occur will be adequately forestalled if a public officer of the state is charged with the responsibility of refusing a charter to improper or dishonest incorporators; examining the original plan and prospectus, with the right to reject improper plans, and requiring reports and from time to time examining the books and accounts of investment trust organizations.

The investigation has revealed many well-defined and eminently proper rules of conduct which have been followed by successful investment trusts abroad and for the most part by the larger and better-sponsored trusts in the United States.

According to the New York "Journal of Commerce," in setting standards for the operation of investment trusts in the future, the following important points are covered in the report of the Attorney General:

1. Especially because of its financial and public nature, an investment trust should pay only a moderate amount for its capital. "It is believed that any cost of marketing securities in excess of 10% is excessive." It is said actual costs vary from as much as 20% to as little as 1 or 2%.
2. The primary purpose of an investment trust should be restricted to the investment and reinvestment of funds in marketable securities.

Short sales, margin trading, participation in stock pools and joint accounts for market manipulation are held "distinctly improper activities for an investment trust."

3. Periodic audits, at least annually, of balance sheets and income accounts by independent public accountants, and the mailing of such reports to shareholders.

4. Competent legal opinion should vouch for legality of security issues beyond question

5. Contingent liability, such as that incurred in the purchase of bank and joint stock land bank stocks and other extra-liability companies, should be stated to investors. Also, any liability on the part of the company to issue optional shares or otherwise to dilute the equity of the security holders should be clearly stated in the balance sheet and literature.

6. The literature should clearly and accurately describe the character of the company and securities offered. "The employment of estimates of future earnings is to be deplored. The use of the conservative language and the avoidance of bright colors is strongly commended. The amount of the investor's dollars which goes into the purchase of securities and the extent of which assets are readily marketable should be clearly revealed in descriptive literature.

7. Loans to or transactions with officers, directors, trustees or closely affiliated companies as principals in the purchase and sale of securities is bad practice. "The opportunity and temptation of abuse in the fixing of prices of securities under such circumstances is of sufficient importance to be included in the articles of incorporation, the declaration of trust or by-laws of any corporation or trust transacting an investment trust business.

The report also discusses the proper limitation of the term investment trust. It holds that holding and financing companies should not use the title investment trust. The former are said to "facilitate the further development of the subsidiaries whose securites they acquire."

Restriction on Name.

Under the new legislation the name "investment trust" is to be restricted to companies formed for the following purposes:

1. For the principal purpose directly or indirectly of selling, offering for sale or otherwise marketing its trust certificates or any certificate of interest of said company, entitling the holder thereof to receive the income from any designated securities or to receive disignated securities or the proceeds thereof deposited with, delivered to or pledged with a trustee for the benefit of any such trust certificate or certificates of indebtedness.

3. For the principal purpose directly or indirectly of investing and reinvesting the principal or surplus of any trust fund, the ownership or partial interest in which is evidenced by trust certificates other than stock certificates.

The same paper says legislation is expected by Mr. Ottinger to have the following results:

1. It will permit honest and competent manager of domestic corporations doing business in New York as investment trusts to avail themselves of the right of incorporation and regulation by the Superintendent of Banks of the State of New York.

2. It will permit the Superintendent of Banks to determine the responsibilty and incompetency of the organizers of an investment trust. He has this right now with reference to incorporators of banks, trust companies, etc., and this power has ever been wisely and properly used by the incumbents of that great office.

3. It will permit the Superintendent of Banks to satisfy himself that the enterprise has a sound financial basis upon which to start.

4. It will provide approved systems of bookkeeping for investment trusts.

5. It will permit the Superintendent of Banks to supervise the operation of the investment trust through annual or more frequent reports. It is not intended to permit the Superintendent of Banks to substitute his management for the management of the investment trust, but he may check upon it and may force it to discontinue any unwise or dishonest practices.

To Segregate Frauds.

6. Lastly, and most important of all, it will gradually bring about a distinction in public opinion between honest and well managed investment trusts who avail themselves of the legislation and those irresponsible trusts which will seek to evade the effect of the legislation. All companies incorporating under its provisions in New York will be required to call themselves "investment trusts," and a foreign entity seeking a license to do business here must acquire a similar distinctive label. The law will prohibit the use of the words "investment trust" to all others, and hence the public will be able to distinguish readily between investment trusts which are under State regulation and those which have refused to submit to it and refrain from doing business in New York, although they attempt to sell their securities here. It may be confidently predicted that the Attorney General under the Martin Fraud Act can take care of these latter investment trusts which attempt to sell securities in New York without incorporating or obtaining a license to do business in New York.

It is also proposed to change the tax law to permit those incorporated in other States to be taxed only on the proportion of their assets used in New York State. The proper method of taxation, it is stated, is to tax them under Section 182 of the State Tax Law as holding companies.

The report says we have no desire to draw a conclusion that the organization of investment trusts is a sinister influence among American finaclial institutions. As we have pointd out, they are the direct result of the change in the financial situation of America after the war. They are apparently a corollary of a financial situation in which capital is seeking an outlet. They have a real and substantial place in our financial structure. In the main they afford an opportunity for the investor to make a reasonably safe investment based upon broad diversity of securities.

We are in a time of great prosperity and for the last few years have been in a rising market. The American investment trust has not yet withstood the time of stress which may be caused by a falling market, or time of adversity. It seems, therefore, that the time for the state to adopt reasonable and constructive legislation providing a guide for the future is the present.

It is obvious that no legislation could be framed which would fit every exact situation, and no legislation can be framed which may not possibly be evaded by adroit and irresponsible investment trusts.

In its account of the proposed legislation the New York "Times" stated:

Summary of the Legislation.

A summary of the proposed legislation shows that there are two amendments to the tax laws, an amendment to the banking law, an amendment to the stock corporation law. an amendment to the general corporation law, and the addition of an entirely new article to the banking law.

The sections of the additional article provide (1) that five or more persons may form an investment trust; (2) that the investment trust cannot do business until approved by the Superintendent of Banks, until at least $100,000 of the capital shall be fully paid in in cash, and until Section 3 is complied with; (3) that as a pledge of good faith, such trust shall deposit interest bearing stocks or bonds of the State or the United States to the amount of $25,000 with the Superintendent, the trust to collect the interest on deposited securities; (4) the trust shall have the power to issue bonds, debentures or obligations with a 100% equity provided, and preferred and common shares of any class, to buy, own or sell real estate for buildings for the transaction of its business, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts, &c.; (5) shall enter only its own assets in its books, &c.; (6) must submit to directors and note in its minutes communications from the Superintendent; (7) shall report to Superintendent annually or at such times as required; (8) is liable for assessments by Superintendent; (9) shall preserve records for six years; (10) no director, officer or employee shall lend or borrow upon any note or other evidence of debt of the company; (11) no person shall transact investment trust business until the foreign corporation or unincorporated association they represent shall have complied with this article; (12) every foreign corporation or unincorporated association before being licensed by the Superintendent to transact in this State an investment trust business shall comply with a number of provisions; (13) lists certain other provisions for such foreign corporation or unineorporated association; (14) if such foreign corporation or unincorporated association is licensed it may transact an investment trust business in this State until Jan. 1 succeeding the date of the license; (15) such corporation or association shall deposit $25,000 in bonds, as the State corporation must do; (16) all agents or representatives of such corporation must be listed, with full names and addresses, and the list filed with the Superintendent; (17) all rights and privileges granted such foreign corporation or unincorporated association will cease if the Superintendent revokes the license, and (18) any business corporation previously organized under the Business Corporations law may within ninety days become an investment trust, if its corporate purposes include the transaction of the business of an investment trust, under its former name, within ninety days of the passage of this article, provided it reincorporates in accordance with this article.

The amendments to the other laws are largely technical changes in phraseology due to the State recognition of the investment trust as such and defining the investment trust. The amendments to the tax law have the effect of taking investment trusts out of article 9A, which imposes a tax of 4½% of the income and placing them under article 182, which would tax them only on the proportion which their holdings in New York corporations bears to the total holdings.

It is stated in the "Herald Tribune" that those assisting in the drafting of the legislation, but who did not necessarily endorse all that it contained, were Claude T. Dawes, William Peter Hamilton, Alexander Dana Noyes, Edgar Lawrence Smith, Dr. Leland Rex Robinson, Melvin E. Sawin, George V. McLaughlin, John Gemmell, Stuart C. Pratt, Leonard Wallstein, Walter Tallmadge Arndt, Arthur S. Kleeman, Louis Seagrave, Jackson A. Dykman, Arthur E. Goddard, Francis L. Durk and Arthur Gunther.

Walter T. Arndt, Vice-President of the United States Shares Corp., and a member of the Advisory Committee which helped frame the report, in commenting thereon on Nov. 21 said:

As the first report of an official nature put forth by any recognized State body in this country, the survey on investment trusts prepared by the Assistant Attorney General may rightly be said to be a milestone in the history of these institutions in America. Aside from that, however, the report is worthy of comment. In form, scope and tone it is admirable. It presents an analysis of an institution in its formative stage with all the difficulties that such a situation naturally involves, and it does it on the whole with great fairness and ability.

Admittedly there is room for argument in respect to some of its conclusions as there is for a difference of opinion as to some questions of investment policy. Its criticisms, which apply in specific cases rather than to the entire field of investment trusts, contain constructive suggestions of great value, and should result in the elimination of unsound practices of certain trusts.

The proposals for legislation are of course tentative. As discussion develops they will doubtless be perfected. This report will undoubtedly result in the clarification of the ideas of the investing public as to these growing financial agencies and must, in the end, strengthen and improve the opportunities for sound and conservative growth which such institutions possess.

From the "Journal of Commerce" of Nov. 22 we take the following:

Mr. Shea stated yesterday that, for the time being, his office was through with the investment trust question. It will hold no further investigation or hearing. The recommendations have been passed on to the special legislative committee, and the latter will now arrange for hearings. The committee, which is headed by Nelson W. Cheney and Senator W. W. Campbell, is scheduled to resume hearings on changes in the law governing investments of mutual savings banks next week. It is doubtful if the committee will hold any session on the investment trust question before that time.

Hearings Expected Later.

As the Cheney-Campbell committee is expected to recommend the investment trust legislation proposed by Mr. Shea to the Legislature as part of its report, it is expected that hearings will be called by it as soon as its savings bank work is completed. At these hearings, from present indications, the suggestions of Mr. Shea will get full support.

Group IV of Pennsylvania Bankers' Association Concerned Over Movement to Increase Interest Rate on Time Deposits to 4%.

According to advices to the Philadelphia "Ledger" from Selinsgrove, Pa., Nov. 20 rather a tense situation exists at present in the territory covered by Group IV of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association over the question of paying 4% interest on time deposits. The dispatch states many bankers who are confronted with the possibility that they may be forced to increase interest rates on time deposits explain that they are being forced into a position which they regard as "inconsistent with conservative banking."

A review of recent developments made here indicates that banks of Snyder County and several banks in Union County have been paying 4% on time deposits for almost two years. Two banks in Northumberland decided on Friday, November 11, that they would pay 4% on time deposits. Three per cent is the rate now paid on time deposits in Sunbury, but one of the banks there is considering the advisability of paying 4% interest on bonds of not less than $100 denomination which are to be issued as underlying mortgage bonds.

The agitation over this question dates back many years. Some banks in Perry and Juniata Counties have been paying 4% on time deposits for a decade or more. They are neighboring counties to Snyder and, therefore, naturally as long as Snyder County banks remained at 3% much money from this county found its way into 4% institutions in Perry and Juniata Counties. Moreover, those 4% banks evidenced by their periodical statements of condition that they were doing a large business.

When Snyder County banks decided to meet 4% competition by paying that rate themselves, the firing line was advanced through Snyder County to Northumberland County and then the commotion started.

Meanwhile, the two banks of Mifflinburg in neighboring Union County promptly went to 4% interest.

Then committeemen from northern sections of Group IV began an investigation in areas to the south of Snyder County to learn the source of the practice of paying 4% on time deposits.

Bankers of Juniata and Perry Counties declared that they had been forced into paying 4% by banks in Harrisburg paying 4%.

In telegraphic advices from Sunbury (Pa.) the "Ledger" reported that the bankers of Sunbury and Milton are unanimously against a 4% rate of interest on time deposits, as not being consistent with conservative banking, it was announced by Walter W. Wilson, president of the First National Bank, Milton, and chairman of the Group IV, Pennsylvania Bankers Association. That dispatch added Mr. Wilson declared that under present conditions with the yield on securities constantly falling and with money more and more plentiful, sound business would not permit a 4% rate. New issues of stocks bring scarcely 5%, while new Government bonds yield little more than 3%..

Most banks feel that an advance to 4% from the present 3% rate would be unwise, in view of the trend of the money market and of financial conditions in general. Were there a general advance in interest rates the country over, the situation would be different. But the reverse is true. George B. Reimensnyder, Sunbury bank president, spoke, and he also talked for a committee of bankers, which made a tour of the fourth district, interviewing the officers of all the institutions embraced in the district. The group making the tour consisted of Mr. Wilson, the district chairman; N. T. Marsh, of Milton; Charles Steele, of Northumberland; Benjamin Apple, of this city, president of the Freeburg Bank; Roscoe C. North, of Selinsgrove, president of the First National Bank of Selinsgrove, and a number of others. They found a great preponderance of sentiment in favor of retaining the present 3% rate throughout the district.

Although several banks have raised the interest rate, the indications now are that the present rate will be retained in a major portion of the institutions in the fourth banking district.

Movement Toward Reduction in Interest Rates on Savings Deposits by Commercial Banks and Trust Companies in Pennsylvania.

A reduction in the interest rates on savings accounts now paid by many of the commercial banks and trust companies in Pennsylvania was said to be in prospect as a result of a meeting of a representative group of bankers from all sections of the State held at Philadelphia on Sept. 21. The "Ledger" at that time stated:

The meeting was that of the Committee on Rates of Interest on Savings Deposits of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, and at its conclusion it was stated that the question of interest rates on savings accounts was considered only from the viewpoint of the commercial banks and trust companies; the mutual savings banks not entering into the matter.

Interest rates paid on savings accounts by commercial banks and trust companies in the State now range from 2% to 4¼% and yesterday's meeting, which was attended by all nine members of the committee, appointed recently, was the first concerted action taken by the bankers of Pennsylvania to obtain a reduction in rates and to place in operation machinery that ultimately will result in the adoption of a uniform method of calculating interest on savings deposits.

Uniform Methods Urged.

During the course of the meeting members of the committee reported activity in the eight groups, into which the State is divided by the bankers' organization, to reduce interest rates on savings accounts and to adopt a uniform calculating method. Analyses of savings accounts were submitted by a number of banks. They showed the results obtained.

It was decided by the committee to carry the plans before meetings of county groups of bankers so that all bankers in the State may give the interest question careful consideration before the matter is brought before the next annual convention of the association, when a report of the entire committee will be submitted for action to the membership.

The meeting voted to send to each member of the association a folder prepared by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association, which contains an analysis of savings account interest rate.

Members of Committee.

The appointment of the committee, which met yesterday, was in accordance with a resolution adopted by the 1927 convention of the association held in Pittsburgh. Those in attendance at the meeting included Harry J. Haas, President of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association and Vice-President of the First National Bank of Philadelphia; C. F. Zimmerman, Secretary of the association and President of the First National Bank of Huntingdon, and the following members of the committee:

Chairman Walter W. Wilson, First National Bank, Milton; Livingston E. Jones, First National Bank, Philadelphia; E. H. Effing, Glenside Bank & Trust Co., Glenside; Thomas F. Keim, First National Bank, Bethlehem; H. O. Sakemiller, York National Bank, York; George F.. Wideman, First National Bank, Barnesboro; S. E. Nichols, Peoples Bank & Trust Co., Erie; Clark Hammond, Keystone National Bank, Pittsburgh, and C. W. Oswig, Commonwealth Trust Co., Pittsburgh.

Group III, New York State Bankers Association, Recommends That 3½% Be Limit Paid on Savings Accounts—New York Banks Not Expected to Reduce Rates.

While a resolution recommending that not more than 3½% be paid on savings accounts was adopted in September by Group III of the New York State Bankers Association, Paul W. Albright, General Secretary of the Savings Bank Association of the State of New York, stated on Sept. 29 that he knew of only one case where a cut was under consideration, from 4½ to 4%. On the other hand, Mr. Albright (according to the "Wall Street Journal") said he knew of five or six banks whose directors are considering plans of lifting the savings interest rates from 4 to 4½% because of increasing surpluses and competition. Mr. Albright's further statement, as given in that paper follows:

"Manhattan savings banks," he continued, " had on deposits as of July 1 1927 $1,937,715,937, an increase of $115,887,552. The surplus held by these savings banks is something in excess of $274,000,000, or about 11% of deposits. With such ample reserves there is no occasion for savings banks to cut their interest rate, even with a tightening of yield because of an easy money market.

"Savings bank funds are not subject to quick turnover, and it must be borne in mind many mortgages which are carried by the banks were made at 6%, when money was not so free and are still returning that yield. In the long run, the periods of easy money and tight money average up and interest rates of 4 and 4½% are predicated, not on these fluctuations, but on the volume of business done by the banks and their sound management."

On the other hand, in Brooklyn, where all the savings banks are paying up to 4½%, there are some institutions with relatively small surpluses and it has been contended, with equal force, that some of these institutions might very well reduce their rates to 4% until their surpluses are brought up to 10% as was the general practice in Manhattan.

Regarding the action of Group III, we quote the following from the "Wall Street Journal" of Sept. 28:

The easing money market, with its consequent lower trend in the yields of high grade investments, is necessitating banks up State taking action in respect of interest paid on savings deposits. At the fall meeting of Group III of the New York State Bankers Association held in Ithaca last Saturday, a resolution was passed expressing the opinion that interest rates paid on savings accounts "are generally too high, based on income from high grade bonds" and recommending to all members of the group that after Jan. 1 next "no more than 3½% be paid on such accounts." Group III consists of banks located in Broome, Chemung, Schuyler, Tioga and Tompkins counties.

Many of the banks up the State have been paying 4% on these accounts. They were led to do so during periods of firmer money, although the practice was viewed as unsound for commercial banks. Competition between the banks has heretofore made it difficult to bring about concerted action. When money rates took a definitely lower trend this summer, however, culminating in a general reduction in Federal Reserve rediscount rates, it was inevitable that these institutions would readjust interest on deposits in accordance with the money market. It might be pointed out that New York city banks, members of the Clearing House, did not find it necessary to make any changes in interest allowed on savings and other deposits when the bank rate was lowered last month, for the reason that they had not raised interest rates when the bank rate was advanced on the previous occasion. On certificates of deposit payable on or after 30 days from date of issue or demand and on credit balances payable on or after 30 days from demand, the interest under the Clearing House rule has been 2½%. These interest rates payable by Clearing House members are adjustable, in the discretion of the Clearing House Committee, whenever the bank rate is changed.

It is interesting to note that in recent years savings banks have been inclined to increase the interest on deposits. This, of course, is another proposition. They are not governed by the same considerations as commercial banks, which have to keep their funds at all times liquid. Furthermore many savings banks have built up large surplus accounts which might reasonably entitle depositors to a larger return. There are five savings banks in Manhattan that pay 4½% and one that pays 4¼%. There are several in the State that pay these rates, while there are two savings banks in Suffolk County that pay as high as 5%. Most of the New York savings banks adhere to the 4% rate.

Movement in Nebraska to Reduce Interest on Time and Saving Deposits.

A movement has been launched by the Nebraska Bankers Association to bring about a further reduction of the interest rate paid by bankers on time and savings deposits, it is learned from Associated Press advices Sept. 3 from Lincoln Neb. The Omaha "Bee" in indicating this, published the following further advices:

The maximum of 4% was established by law for State banks on April 1 1926. In some communities the rate is said to have been cut to 3 or 3½%, and elsewhere banks have given notice to the customers that they will cut beginning Jan. 1.

Bankers who are sponsoring the downward revision of the interest payments to depositors are said to justify their action on the grounds that money is so abundant they cannot keep all available funds employed on a profitable basis, and the general level of interest rates in the money market does not justify 4% on deposits.

Special Assessment Levied Against Nebraska State Bank Deposits.

The Wall Street "Journal" of Oct. 18 reported the following advices from Lincoln:

A special assessment of ¼ of 1% against State bank deposits has been levied, and the $673,000 proceeds will be used, with funds on hand, to retire $882,438 of receivers' certificates, representing depositors' claims in 20 failed banks. This will wipe out practically all allowed claims against the deposit fund. There will be left outstanding certificates totaling $1,122,438, with $123,000 still in the fund. The fund had $332,000 on hand Oct. 1.

On July 1 1926, the fund had $2,241,961 of certificates outstanding, reduced on July 1 last to $1,340,000, but increased by recent flotations to over $2,000,000. With the payments ordered the fund will have contributed $2,500,000 the past year.

San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange Takes Over San Francisco Stock Exchange—San Francisco Curb Exchange Organizing.

The following announcement is made by the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange:

The San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange has accepted the offer of sale by the San Francisco Stock Exchange of its name and its properties consisting of an exchange building and site on Bush Street. The price paid for the assets of the Exchange and its name was $370,000. The building will be used to house the San Francisco Curb Exchange which is being organized by the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange for the purpose of dealing in all of those securities which have not been admitted to listing on the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange. This new plan vastly improves the security exchange situation in San Francisco, and gives that city a listed market in the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange and an unlisted security market in the form of a curb exchange, and an exchange confining its activities to mining stocks.

The plan contemplates that each member of the San Francisco Stock and Bond Exchange shall have a membership in the San Francisco Curb Exchange, and that additional seats will be sold to the public at an initial price of not to exceed about $20,000. The number of such memberships to be sold has not been finally determined. It is quite possible that the total authorized memberships of the Curb Exchange will be 100 members. These memberships will be sold only at such times and at such prices as the curb exchange will in the future determine.

Price of Curb Exchange Seats Reaches New High for Year.

The sale of two Curb Exchange seats on Nov. 21 for $35,000, one of J. C. F. Jacoby, deceased, to J. J. Gillies, of Pouch & Co. and the other of William H. Hays to Cornell Emery, at A. J. Rosenthal & Co., brought the price of memberships up to a new high level for the year. During the first half of the year, a number of memberships were transferred around the $30,000 level and since that period there has been a steady increase in value.

Associated Stock Exchanges Seek Adoption of Uniform Listing Requirements.

At its second annual convention, held in Cincinnati Nov. 10 and 11, the Associated Stock Exchanges adopted a resolution empowering the President of the Association to appoint a committee whose functions it shall be to urge upon the various member exchanges the advisability of adopting, in so far as practicable, the uniform listing requirements as recommended by the committee and by this Association.

The following resolutions were also adopted at the convention:

Resolved, That the Associated Stock Exchanges on this, the occasion of its second annual meeting, held in Cincinnati on Nov. 10 and 11 1927, hereby records its deep appreciation and thanks to the Cincinnati Stock Exchange, to its Board of Governors and to all of its members for making its stay in Cincinnati so pleasant and so profitable, and further expresses its deep regret for the unfortunate circumstances which prevented its meeting President Phillip C. Swing and sincerely hopes that he will soon be completely recovered.

Resolved, That the Associated Stock Exchanges on the occasion of this its second annual meeting held in Cincinnati Nov. 10 and 11 1927, hereby records it sdeep appreciation and thanks for the splendid and inspiring addresses delivered at this convention by Mr. Lucius H. Plumb, Assistant Secretary of the Bankers Trust Company of New York; Mr. Sherwin A. Hill, member of the Detroit Bar; Mr. Charles W. Dupius, President of the Central Trust Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio; Mr. George D. Crabbs, director of the Federal Reserve Bank at Cleveland and President of the Cincinnati Railway Development Co. of Cincinnati; the Honorable William J. Donovan, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, of Washington, D. C.; Mr. Louis L. Coudert of the American Bank Note Co. of New York; Mr. William H. Bell of Haskins & Sells of New York City, and all others who by their efforts have contributed to the success of this convention.

Resolved, That the Associated Stock Exchanges on this the occasion of its Second Annual Convention, held in Cincinnati on Nov. 10 and 11, hereby records its thanks to the able and efficient manner in which the affairs of this Association have been conducted during the past year by its President, Ralph W. Simonds, and by its Secretary, Clark C. Wickey.

Resolved, That the Associated Stock Exchanges on this the occasion of its Second Annual Convention, held in Cincinnati on Nov. 10 and 11 1927, hereby expresses its appreciation to the New York Stock Exchange, the New York Curb Market Association and the Chicago Stock Exchange, and to the Bank of America for sending representatives to this meeting, and for the spirit of co-operation thereby expressed.

Security Sales—Financial Advertisers Dropping "Hedge Lines"—Merrill, Lynch & Co. Adopt New Form to Explain Position of Syndicate Offerings.

"Hedge lines" in financial advertisements and lines which may possibly have more than one construction in the mind of the reader are rapidly disappearing, says the New York "Times" of Nov. 23. It points out that in an advertisement appearing that day by Merrill, Lynch & Co., in connection with the oversubscription of the common stock of Crowley, Milner & Co., sold Nov. 22, the firm makes this statement:

"Subscriptions have been received from the public in excess of the amount of this offering."

The "Times" further stated:

It was explained by members of the firm that this action was taken because the caption explains the exact situation. In this case the fact that subscriptions have been received from the public means that individuals, corporations and others have actually subscribed for the stock. It is expected that this clause or a similar one will be used by many dealers in the future when they wish to reflect the true position of their syndicate offerings. The same stand was taken last week by Goldman, Sachs & Co., who in an offering of United Biscuit Company securities, which was fully subscribed, eliminated any reference to the securities being all sold, on the theory that some of them were sold to dealers and that the line "this issue has been fully subscribed" might be misconstrued by investors.

Member Banks in Texas Reported as Dissatisfied With Credit Policies of Dallas Federal Reserve Bank—Removal of Governor Talley Sought.

Reports of dissatisfaction with the credit policies of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank by certain member banks have been current during the past month. On Nov. 18 Associated Press advices from Fort Worth credited the Fort Worth "Star-Telegram" with stating that about 350 member banks were threatening to withdraw from the Dallas Reserve Bank because of their opposition to the Bank's policies. The Associated Press accounts of Nov. 18 added:

Lynn P. Talley, Governor of the Bank, refused to comment on the situation today at Dallas, but it was pointed out at the Reserve Bank that there were 820 members of the Federal Reserve system in the district, of which 719 were national banks and unable to withdraw so long as they remained national banks.

Some banks are not patronizing the Federal Reserve system to any extent. The Star-Telegram said, while many are prepared to withdraw their membership.

Failure of the Reserve Bank to extend credits in some cases was given as one cause for resentment, together with methods pursued in denying credits.

Directors of the Dallas Reserve Bank at a meeting this month will fix a date for an investigation of complaints of its members, said J. P. Williams, President of the First National Bank of Mineral Wells, Texas, and a leader in the fight to remove Mr. Talley.

According to dispatches from Dallas Nov. 23 (Associated Press) the directors of the Dallas Reserve Bank have fixed Dec. 12 as the date for a hearing on the Bank's policies. These dispatches also said:

Loan policies were attacked recently by a group of West Texas banks on the ground that country bankers and their customers did not reecived "due consideration," that loans frequently were called too soon to permit the producer of cotton to realize the full value of his crop, and that Lynn P. Talley, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank, was out of sympathy with the original purpose of the Bank.

A movement was started in some quarters to procure Mr. Talley's removal through election of directors not favorable to his tenure. Results of this election, taken by mail ballot, will not be known for some time.

The bank directors invited to the meeting the members of the advisory committee of the stockholders of the Association of Member Banks.

From the Houston "Post" we take the following (Associated Press) advices from Fort Worth Nov. 18:

While Mr. Williams said that the report that some 350 members of the reesrve bank are threatening to withdraw their memberships, was news to him, he declared that as the result of an investigation he has been making among member banks approximately 300 have stated they are dissatisfied with the present policy of the federal institution.

Blamed for Loss

At a meeting in Lubbock, October 12, of 37 south plains bank officials, the enormous loss by Texas farmers on the 1926 cotton crop was laid at the door of the Dallas Reserve Bank, and resolutions were passed asking that Talley be removed as Governor of the Bank. Another meeting since then was held in Forth Worth. It was decided that a thorough investigation be made concerning the feelings of member banks toward the policies of the Dallas institution.

Mr. Williams was invited by the directors of the Federal Reserve Bank to come before them when he had assembled his data. The Board is scheduled to meet some time before the end of November, at which time a date will be fixed for the hearing of member banks' complaints, Mr. Williams said.

"Conditions are far worse than the public or average business man think," Mr. Williams said, concerning the policies of the reserve bank. "However, I believe, as do my colleagues, that relief can be had within the organization. Our criticism is constructive and not destructive. But the purpose of the bankers whom I represent is to remove Talley and get a new governor of the Dallas bank," Williams said.

Criticize Policy

The Texas bankers who are seeking the removal of Governor Talley, of which Mr. Williams is the leader, are criticiizng the Federal Reserve Bank's policy last year in retiring loans to members in smaller towns when money was needed to advance business credit.

Had the Federal Reserve members in this district been given cooperation they should have, a majority of cotton planter would have been carried by their bankers for eight months, the bankers charge. "But planters liquidated and were forced to sell their cotton at six cents," Williams said.

On Nov. 2 the Dallas "News" said:

Directing their attacks at Lynn P. Talley, Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, a group of West Texas bankers are making a new effort to remove him from office, it was learned Tuesday.

Myron A. Pease, active Vice-President of the City National Bank of Corpus Christi, in Dallas Tuesday, was appointed by J. P. Williams, President of the First National Bank of Mineral Wells, as spokesman for the bankers desiring to have Mr. Talley removed.

These dissatisfied bankers, Mr. Pease said, think that the present board of directors of the Dallas bank allow Mr. Talley to dominate them. They desire to change the administration of the bank by electing new directors to the board the latter part of November.

"It is our purpose," he said, "to elect Morgan Graves, President of the Red River National Bank of Clarksville, as Class A director, and A. Baker Duncan, business man of Waco, Class B director. If we succeed in electing these men, they will succeed Joe Frost of the Frost National Bank of San Antonio, and Frank Kell, business man of Wichita Falls."

Mr. Pease said he believed the two suggested men, with the aid of other directors in sympathy with them, could effect a change in the office of governor by January.

None of the bankers, Mr. Pease said, doubts the integrity of Mr. Talley. They believe that his ideas of the duties of Governor of the Federal Reserve Bank are at variance with the idea of the majority of bankers in the district, he added. They believe that he does not understand the problems of the country bankers, he concludes.

The following from Washington Nov. 20 appeared in the New York "Journal of Commerce" of Nov. 21:

The widespread demand among member banks in Texas that Lynn P. Talley, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, be removed and that a radical change in credit policy be adopted by the bank has been brought to the attention of the Federal Reserve Board informally, it became known here today. Officials indicated, however, that the problem is one for solution by the directors of the Dallas bank, who have full power to act, and undoubtedly will be backed up by Governor Roy A. Young and other members of the board.

The Dallas directors, it was learned, have requested that the 200 or more member banks said to have objected to the credit policies of the reserve institution file a specific complaint and detailed charges. The directors will consider the matter and no doubt will make an official report of the Federal Reserve Board.

Officials here pointed out that the Federal Reserve Act sets forth in considerable detail the establishment of policy regarding extension of credit from reserve banks to member banks. The law narrows the latitude of action by the banks, and for this reason it was thought possible that the member banks did not have grounds for complaint, provided that Governor Talley was following out the terms of the act.

No reports have been received here to indicate that Talley was demanding greater collateral on credit extensions than is provided for in the act.

The Federal Reserve Board has the power to remove bank officials for cause, but it was stated here that there would be little likelihood of action of this character without the approval of the board of directors. In the Dallas case it was thought probable that the directors would adjust the matter to the satisfaction of the board and the member banks.

Cotton Slump Blamed

J. P. Williams, of Mineral Wells, Texas, was understood here to be at the head of the movement to oust Talley. Williams is a widely known Texas banker.

The internal troubles in the Dallas district are believed to have dated from the severe slump in cotton prices about a year ago. The Texas planters were hard hit and the break had a severe action in banking circles. It is said to have been asserted in some circles that a more liberal extension of credit by the Dallas bank through the member banks might have saved the situation to a degree.

While no official statement was forthcoming from the Federal Reserve Board over the Dallas controversy there apparently was no disposition to regard the situation seriously.

Press advices from Corsicana, Texas, Nov. 24 stated that opposition to Lynn F. Talley as Governor of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank was voiced in resolutions asking his removal adopted by the Navarro County Bankers' Association on Nov. 23. Seventeen banks were represented, with one dissenting vote. The association pledged its support to J. P. Williams, leader of the movement against Mr. Talley.

Forthcoming Treasury Issue.

Indications of a coming Treasury loan, which according to expectations will be in the neighborhood of $300,000,000 to $350,000,000, are given in a preliminary notice sent to banking institutions in the New York Federal Reserve District regarding the method to be pursued in the filing of subscriptions. The letter, issued by Governor Strong under date of Nov. 23, follows:

FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF NEW YORK.
[Circular No. 823, Nov. 23 1927.]

New Treasury Issue—Preliminary Notice of Offering and Methods of Filing Subscriptions.

To all Member Banks, State Banks, Trust Companies and Savings Banks in the Second Federal Reserve District:

From advices received from Treasury Department of the United States, this bank is enabled to transmit to banking institutions in this district the following information:

1. That a Treasury offering may be expected shortly.

2. That the subscription books may be closed by the Treasury without advance notice, and therefore,

3. That each subscribing bank, upon receipt of information as to the terms of the Treasury offering (either in the press, through the mails or by telegram) should promptly file with the Federal Reserve Bank any subscriptions for itself and its customers. This is important, as no guarantee can be given as to the period the subscription books may remain open, and subscribing banks, even before receipt of official subscription blanks, may file their subscriptions by telegram or by mail with the Federal Reserve Bank. Any subscriptions so filed by telegram or mail in advance of receipt by subscribing bank of subscription blanks furnished for the particular issue should be confirmed immediately by mail, and on the blank provided, when such blank shall have been received.

4. That if the terms of the offering when announced provide for both cash subscriptions and subscriptions for which payment may be tendered in other securities, the subscribing bank should prepare its subscriptions in such manner as to indicate the method by which it proposes to make payment and the respective par amounts of securities, if any, to be tendered in payment.

Classification of Subscriptions, Etc.

Bank Customers' Subscriptions: With regard to issues, subscriptions to which the Treasury determines for the purpose of allotment shall be considered as on a cash basis irrespective of whether or not payment is to be made in cash or in securities, the following classification will be required of subscriptions made for account of customers, stating the number of subscriptions in each class.

Class A—Subscriptions dor $1,000 or less for any one subscriber;
Class B—Subscriptions for over $ 1,000, but not exceeding $ 10,000;
Class C—Subscriptions for over $ 10,000, but not exceeding $ 50,000;
Class D—Subscriptions for over $ 50,000, but not exceeding $ 100,000;
Class E—Subscriptions for over $ 100,000, but not exceeding $ 500,000;
Class F—Subscriptions for over $ 500,000, but not exceeding $1,000,000;
Class G—Subscriptions for over $1,000,000.

Where the maturing securities are not by the instructions accompanying the offering given a preference they shall be treated as cash and such subscriptions to be paid for in securities should be included in the classification.

Bank Subscriptions: A subscription for a bank's own account should not be included in the above classification of subscriptions for account of customers but should be clearly indicated as for the bank's own account and in addition to subscriptions for customers.

Subscriptions Not Classified: Where under the terms of an offering or or under instructions accompanying an offering, the Treasury agrees to allot new securities in full for any of its securities maturing on the date of the new issue or on any later date subscriptions to be paid for in such securities *should not be classified.

Application Forms to be Furnished.

When the terms of the offering are announced, notice thereof, together with subscription blanks, will be mailed promptly by this bank to banking institutions in this district. Should notice and subscription blanks for any reason be delayed in reaching such institutions this bank will nevertheless receive subscriptions either by letter or telegraph. It is suggested that subscriptions be promptly transmitted to this bank.

If it be found necessary to telegraph subscriptions they should be confirmed immediately either by letter or on subscription blank, setting forth the classifications indicated above and method of payment, and clearly stating that the confirmation is not an original subscription so that duplication may be avoided.

Very truly yours,
Benj. Strong,
Governor.

Views of Gilbert H. Montague on Canadian Investigation of Canadian Proprietary Articles Trade Association.

According to Gilbert H. Montague, of the New York Bar, careful analysis of the recent report of Commissioner L. V. O'Connor, appointed under the Canadian Combines Investigation Act to investigate the Canadian Proprietary Articles Trade Association, shows that the Association and the late Sir William Glyn-Jones' plan for rescueing the Canadian drug and toilet goods trade from the evils of price cutting have been condemned by Commissioner O'Connor in much more disconcerting, thorough-going, and complete fashion than was indicated in the first newspaper and trade despatches. Mr. Montague, under date of Nov. 20 makes the following further statement:

Never, perhaps, at least in recent years, has there been on this continent a more comprehensive and vigorously defended investigation regarding resale price standardization than that which has been brought to a conclusion by Commissioner O'Connor's report.

The Canadian Proprietary Articles Trade Association comprised 157 manufacturers, 28 wholesale druggists, and 2,732 retail druggists, and Commissioner O'Connor states in his report that a meeting of the Executive Committee held in September 1926 it was reported that a defense fund of $100,000 was being formed for the purpose of meeting special expenses connected with litigation or legislation.

The hearings, including argument, occupied 51 days. The evidence comprised 5,458 typewritten pages. Counsel appointed by the Minister of Justice introduced into evidence 152 documentary exhibits, and counsel for the Association introduced some 75 exhibits. The Association was represented at the hearings by the late Sir William Glyn-Jones and by four other legal and economic counsel. When the case was finally submitted to Commissioner O'Connor, counsel on both sides expressed themselves as satisfied that all possible evidence pertaining to the trade in Canada had been adduced.

Some of the friends of the Canadian Proprietary Articles Trade Association had been hopeful that, by various changes in its program, the Association might be brought into conformity with the provisions of the Canadian law, and at the same time accomplish, in substantial measure, the objects that were aimed at when the Association was organized.

These hopes are completely dashed by Commissioner O'Connor, whose report could scarcely have been more drastic if he had been applying to the Association the provisions of the United States anti-trust laws and the decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

The significance of this, on the prospects of the movement to induce the United States Congress to enact legislation permitting various modes of resale price standardization now forbidden by the United States anti-trust laws, deserves thoughtful consideration.

For years, friends of such proposed legislation in the United States have been able to point to the sympathetic attitude heretofore evidenced by the courts of Great Britain and the British dominions generally toward agreements and methods for establishing resale price standardization.

Until the Canadian Proprietary Articles Trade Association was condemned as unlawful, in the preliminary report of several years ago and again in Commissioner O'Connor's recent report, few people seem to have realized, either in Canada or in the United States, the degree to which this heretofore sympathetic attitude of the courts of Great Britain and the British dominions generally toward resale price standardization was being undermined, in Canada at least, by the steady stream of decisions adverse to resale price standardization that has been coming ever since 1912 from the United States Supreme Court and the lower United States courts and the Federal Trade Commission.

Several times in the course of his report, Commissioner O'Connor dramatically illustrates this from testimony of the late Sir William Glyn-Jones himself.

Statements and declarations by the late Sir William Glyn-Jones, setting forth the purposes, objects and methods of the Canadian Proprietary Articles Trade Association, which until recently at least would certainly have been sympathetically regarded by the courts of Great Britain and the British dominions generally, were quoted by Commissioner O'Connor in his report as evidence of what Commissioner O'Connor considered to be unreasonable, coercive, opposed to public policy, and contrary to the Canadian law.

Resale price standardization, during the past fifteen years, has suffered its greatest defeats and discouragements from the unsuccessful efforts of some of its sincerest friends, who have sought to accomplish their objectives by various "short cuts" that eventually have resulted not merely in severe judicial condemnation of these particular "short cuts" but also, most unhappily, in adding to the judicial distrust, the governmental suspicion, and the public and legislative inertia toward any and all modes of resale price standardization.

Secretary Mellon to Recommend in Annual Report Tax Exemption for All Future Issues of United States Securities.

Legislation to exempt all future issues of United States securities from taxation will be recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, in his coming annual report, according to reports from Washington, Nov. 23, the Associated Press accounts stating:

Such action would remove all Federal securities from the taxation field and would be in line with recommendations made in a speech by Under-Secretary Mills recently, at Worcester, Mass., in which he declared that, because of the exemption of corporations from the sur-tax, corporations fixed the price of Government securities and prevented their wide distribution.

Secretary Mellon also believes the lifting of the surtax on Federal securities would put them more on a par with State and municipal offerings which are free from the surtax and, under present conditions, make a more attractive investment.

Wide Distribution Sought.

Since the war-time bond issues are being rapidly called, the Treasury hopes by eliminating the surtax to encourage a wider distribution of Federal securities which it claims is more wholesome than to have the majority of Federal issues closely held by corporations.

Drafting of New Revenue Legislation by House Ways and Means Committee—Tax Cut of $235,000,000 Proposed—Corporation Tax Lowered to 11½%.

While it was announced on Nov. 21 that the House Ways and Means Committee had agreed upon a maximum reduction of $250,000,000, compared with the limit of $225,000,000 recommended by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, it was stated on Nov. 22 that it was believed that the reductions effected in the new revenue bill as drafted by the Committee would not go beyond $235,000,000. Last week (page 2757) we referred to some of the changes in existing law decided upon by the Committee in its task of revising the revenue law. Important among its action the present week was its decision to reduce the Corporation tax from 13½% to 11½%. The tax on automobile sales was at the same time lowered from 3% to 1½% and the transfer tax on shares of capital stock was cut from 2 cents to 1 cent. A statement (oral) by Chairman Green on Nov. 22, regarding the changes made that day, is taken as follows from the United States Daily:

The Committee today reduced the corporation tax from 13½% to 11½% without particular opposition on the final vote. The Undersecretary of the Treasury, Mr. Mills, estimated that every per cent taken off meant $90,000,000 revenue loss, but the Committee, figuring on a different basis estimates it at $83,000,000 for every 1% taken off which would mean $166,000,000 of reduction in the corporation income tax.

Credit Exemption Raised.

(2) For the benefit of the smaller corporations having a net income of $25,000 or less, it was agreed to raise the credit exemption from $2,000 to $3,000. That would cause a loss of revenue of $12,000,000.

(3) The Committee agreed as to admission tickets to raise the exemption from the present rate which calls for a tax on 75-cent tickets, to $1 as the minimum which will be taxed; revenue reduction, $8,000,000. It also agreed to tax at 25% all boxing match admissions that are $5 and over in price. No definite estimate as to the effect of this on revenue was given.

(3) The Committee reduced club dues tax by one-half; revenue loss $5,000,000.

(4) The Committee reduced the tax on automobile sales from 3 to 1½%; revenue loss $33,000,000.

(5) It reduced the transfer tax on shares of capital stock from 2 cents to 1 cent; loss, $8,337,000.

(6) It repealed the stamp tax on exchange sales and produce which is now 1 cent on each $100; loss, $2,884,000.

(7) It repealed the tax on cereal beverages. Revenue loss, $198,000.

(8) As to wines used in making patent medicines and for fortifying purposes, it reduced the tax to correspond with alcohol to pre-war figures. Revenue loss, $400,000.

This totals approximately $235,820,000, according to the Committee estimate or about $249,000,000 according to Mr. Mills' estimate. This completes all major rates so far as I know but there are some minor propositions which may make some few decreases and the Committee Nov. 23 will take up some administrative provisions.

I want to have the draft of the bill ready by the middle of next week. The majority's idea as to the tax on boxing matches is that the matches are as a whole rather a bad thing for the country and prizefighters and promoters are a good subject for tax.

As to admissions, it was agreed that if a person wanted to see a drama he can get good seats in the balcony any way.

Extra Tax Rejected.

The question of extra tax on distributed and undistributed earnings was brought up twice in the Committee but was rejected.

According to the New York "Times" only one negative vote was cast on the motion that led to the adoption of the 11½% corporation tax. Continuing it said:

A motion to fix the rate at 11%, made by Representative Garner of Texas, in behalf of the Democratic minority, was defeated, 16 to 7.

The increase in exemption for the benefit of corporations with incomes of less than $25,000 a year was carried 15 to 8.

A motion to increase the exemption to $40,000 was rejected, 12 to 9.

A motion to fix the tax on distributed earnings of corporations at 10% and on undistributed earnings at 12%, was beaten, 14 to 9.

Of the twenty-one members present when the vote was taken on the proposal to levy a 25% tax on fight tickets costing more than $5, only four voted in the negative.

A motion to repeal the automobile taxes in their entirety was defeated, 12 to 11. The cut of 1½% in the automobile sales tax was carried 18 to 5.

An attempt to exempt all tickets of admission up to $3 from payment of tax was defeated, 15 to 5.

On Nov. 21, when the Committee voted favorably on a motion that the tax reduction should not exceed a maximum of $250,000,000, it voted against the repeal of the Federal Estate tax, and refused to make any reduction in the intermediate brackets of the sur tax. The Committee at the same time voted to refuse to do anything with respect to the tobacco tax, and it decided to eliminate the tax of one-tenth of one cent a gallon on cereal beverages. As to the Committee's action on that day (Nov. 21) we quote the following from the New York "Times":

By an overwhelming vote the members of the House Ways and Means Committee today decided to recommend a total tax reduction of $250,000,000, or $25,000,000 more than Secretary Mellon suggested when he appeared before the Committee three weeks ago. Only a few members, all Republicans, voted in the negative.

Two blows were dealt the Treasury program when the Committee, by a vote of 17 to 6, disapproved repeal of the Federal estate tax, and, voting 21 to 2, declined to urge reduction in the middle brackets of the surtaxes on personal incomes.

Democrats on the committee held, at the conclusion of the session, that they had won a signal victory. Representative Garner of Texas, the ranking Democrat, said:

"I wanted $300,000,000 reduction in taxes, and all the Democrats did, but $250,000,000 was the best figure obtainable in the Committee. Never mind, it will be more than $250,000,000 before it gets out of the House, and a good deal more besides before the bill becomes a law. We shot the Treasury plan full of holes."

Although Mr. Garner proposed a tax cut of $400,000,000 some time ago, he and all the other Democrats fought for $300,000,000 as the maximum in the session today. They were defeated in this and also when they voted solidly for $275,000,000, with the support of one unnamed Republican. Then the vote came on the proposal for a cut of $250,000,000, and the issue was settled at this figure.

Republications and Democrats joined in recommending that the corporation income tax be cut, but the matter was put over until tomorrow, when the minority will try to force a reduction to 10%, as compared with the 12% urged by Mr. Mellon. The present tax is 13½%. There are indications that the Democrats will concentrate on 11½%, one-half per cent under the Mellon figure.

Mr. Garner now suggests taxing corporations with net income of $7,000 or less 5%, those with net incomes of $12,000 or less 7%, and those with $15,000 or less 9%. His plan, the Democratic tax leader said, would cost about $27,000,000. He would still permit corporations to make the customary $2,000 deduction.

The Washington correspondent of the New York "Journal of Commerce" in reviewing the Committee's proceedings on Nov. 21 said in part:

Committee Votes Tentative.

Some days ago the committee agreed to the granting of exemption for income derived by foreign banks of issue on bankers' acceptances held in this country. That will constitute a revenue loss of $250,000.

The fact was stressed today by Chairman William Green, that the votes taken in the Committee are tentative, since the Committee is not legally constituted and will not be until after Congress convenes, the House is organized and the two vacancies on the Committee are properly filled. There is quite a fight on with respect to the appointment of Representative-elect Estep of Pennsylvania to the Committee, since he has had no service in Congress. Representative Sweet of New York, also has a temporary appointment to the Committee. The appointments however, are merely designations by the Republican Committee on Committees and must be ratified by the House. It is considered that their votes would be on the side of the Treasury in tax and tariff matters.

The Democrats today were somewhat disappointed at the failure of a number of the Republicans to join them in making a deeper tax cut. It was pointed out that Representatives Crowther of New York and Bacharach of New Jersey were among those who have been advocating a more than $225,000,000 cut as made a maximum by Secretary Mellon.

Undersecretary Mills Presents Report.

The action of the Ways and Means Committee was taken this afternoon after Undersecretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills painted a very gloomy picture of business conditions throughout the country. He explained the means by which the Secretary's estimates were computed, and his presentation had quite an effect on a number of members of the Committee, probably resulting in the failure of some of the Republicans to go over to the Democrats, agreeing to a greater degree of tax reduction than was finally voted.

Mr. Mills was equipped with a number of private reports, all of which seemed to support his report on depressed business conditions. He stated that he hoped for a business revival in 1928 but admitted that the estimates made in the Treasury Department did not reflect this hope, since they were arrived at on the basis of a continuance of the decrease in business that marked the present year. He told the Committee that nearly every corporation in the country showed a slowing up of business. Aside from the United States Steel Corporation and General Motors corporations in the iron and steel industry have felt depression of business, he declared.

Back taxes will not continue to yield large sums into the Treasury, Mr. Mills explained, since the old cases are gradually being cleaned up. This quarter would have showed quite a slump but for the settlement of two very large cases rather unexpectedly, yielding a considerable sum.

He argued that taxes now can be stabilized, since we no longer are on a war-needs footing, but rather on a peace-time industrial basis. Our revenues are becoming stabilized and we can now engage in the drafting of permanent tax laws. He said, however, that it is dangerous to go beyond a $225,000,000 tax cut, letting it be known at the same time that in making this suggestion the Treasury had not taken into consideration probable expenditures for Mississippi Valley flood control, or for Boulder Dam or Muscle Shoals development.

The retention in the new revenue bill of present regulations governing computation of the exemptions and tax on earned income was decided upon on Nov. 18 by the Committee. It was noted in Associated Press accounts that day that by disposing of this question, the committee concluded consideration of virtually all recommendations that have been made for administrative changes in the present statute, and cleared the way for discussion of actual reduction in tax rates at its session this week. The dispatches also said:

Decision to retain present earned income regulations came after considerable debate and the rejection of a substitute system submitted by the Advisory Board of the Joint Congressional Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

Chairman Green said a majority of Ways and Means Committee members felt that no better plan for administration of the earned income provisions could be obtained at the present, and that it was possible that existing regulations had not been tested sufficiently. He added that under various substitutes offered it was estimated that the loss in revenue would be somewhere between $15,000,000 and $50,000,000.

It was indicated that the Committee next week probably would call Director Lord, of the Budget Bureau, for questioning concerning prospective government expenditures.

The following regarding the arguments on the question of Federal estate tax was reported from Washington under date of Nov. 20 by the Washington correspondent of the New York "Journal of Commerce":

When Secretary of the Treasury Mellon appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee with his recommendations for the revision of the present tax law and took up the proposed repeal of the estate tax provisions he told but one-half of the story, tax experts assert. His statement to the Committee asserted "the loss in revenue will be insignificant. Owing to the 80% credit on the taxes paid the States, it is estimated that in five years the Federal estate tax will not produce more than $20,000,000. Should it be repealed the loss in revenue in the fiscal year 1929 will not exceed $7,000,000."

The contention that the revenue loss in the fiscal year 1929 would be but $7,000,000 has created a great deal of confusion in the minds of those who have been studying this matter. If the law became effective as of March 1 next repealing the estate tax provisions it would mean that the revenue that might be created from additional estates would be lost as to the four remaining months of the fiscal year 1928, payable in the fiscal year 1929.

Treasury Figures Contradicted.

The assertion that after five years the estate tax would produce but about $20,000,000 a year is based on the assumption that all of the States of the Union will avail themselves of the present provision of the law allowing a deduction for inheritance taxes paid the States in an amount not to exceed 80% of the Federal estate tax levy. Thus far, aside from the State of New York, few States have passed laws raising their inheritance tax rates to absorb part of the revenue otherwise collected by the Treasury. It is suggested that if this tax is continued it will bring into the Treasury in excess of $81,000,000 next year and $63,000,000 in 1929.

This matter was brought to the attention of the House Ways and Means Committee by Lowndes C. Connally, Washington attorney, who spoke both on his own account and for the Baltimore Federation of Labor. For five years he was connected with the estate tax division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue and equipped with statistics from that division he contested the assertion made by the Treasury secretary.

"The Treasury statement that there will be a loss only of $7,000,000 of revenue for the fiscal year 1929 and further estimating that the estate tax would produce only $20,000,000 after a period of five years is not in accord with the estate tax division estimates," he declared.

"It is estmiated by the estate tax division that there will be $81,500,000 in estate taxes collected for the fiscal year 1928 and $63,000,000 for the fiscal year 1929. It also may be stated that the preliminary report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue for the fiscal year 1927 shows the collections for the estate tax for that year to be $100,339,852. The collections for 1926 were $116,041,036, of which the additional assessments and collections amounted only to $20,540,328, a portion of which doubtless resulted from an audit of returns filed during the year

Loss Depends on Repeal Date.

"The estimate of loss for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, depends greatly upon the date the repeal of the estate tax, if repealed, takes effect, but if the tax should be repealed at the next session of Congress then for succeeding years the loss in revenue naturally would be much greater than that of 1929.

"In considering the production of future income from this source the estimate should not be based upon allowance of the full 80% credit. At the present time only seventeen States have passed laws which entitle their citizens to the full 80% and a glance at the entire field of estate taxation will indicate that the average credit for all the States combined at the present time will probably be about 50%.

"If the estate tax is repealed the Government will not be losing merely 'chicken feed' as referred to by the Treasury officials, but will be losing enough in the future revenue to permit under the retention of the tax a reduction in corporate taxes of an additional 1%."

The sentiment in the House of Representatives is largely against the repeal of the estate tax provisions, so that it is not beyond the realms of possibility that since Secretary Mellon concluded that the loss would be but $7,000,000 during the fiscal year 1929, while calendar year figures indicate a probable return of $81,500,000, many members of Congress will seize upon the latter amount as an additional surplus to be counted upon next year and will be inclined to add it to the Mellon maximum of $225,000,000, thus providing in excess of $300,000,000 for tax reduction.

It was stated in the advices Nov. 22 from Washington to the New York "Times" that notice was given that day by Representative Garner (Democratic spokesman on revenue matters) that he would reserve the right to oppose provisions of the bill in the House. The despatch likewise said in part:

Mr. Garner declared tonight that no risk would have been taken in cutting the revenues $350,000,000.

"The Treasury could well stand such a reduction," he asserted. "If we had fixed upon $350,000,0000 as our figure we could easily have repealed the automobile and amusement taxes in accordance with insistent public demand.

"I shall try to have these taxes repealed when the bill comes up for debate in the House. I am of the belief that by the time the bill reaches the President it will call for a cut nearer $300,000,000 than the amount fixed by the Ways and Means Committee."

Representative Sol Bloom, Democrat, of New York, expressed confidence tonight that the House would extend the exemption on theatre tickets up to those costing $3.

"To limit the exemption to all tickets costing $1 and less is all right for motion-picture houses, but affords no relief to the legitimate stage," said Mr. Bloom.

"Travelogues, concerts, the spoken theatre and other performances of a cultural character derive no benefit from this cut. It will help de luxe motion-picture houses some, and also assist baseball in the minor leagues. The Committee should have exempted tickets up to $3 from payment of the war tax."

The Treasury is understood to be fairly well satisfied with the labors of the Committee. Through the influence of Secretary Mellon and Undersecretary Mills the bill was kept within reasonable limits, the Treasury feels, and is nearer the figure of $225,000,000 set by Mr. Mellon than to the recommendation of the Democrats of at least $325,000,000, or the proposal of the United States Chamber of Commerce that the reduction go as high as $400,000,000.

Mr. Mellon failed in his endeavor to have surtaxes scaled and was hopelessly beaten in the Committee on his recommendation for repeal of the inheritance tax.

Coolidge Holds Cut Too High.

The Committee compromised on the corporation tax between the 12% suggested by Mr. Mellon and the 11% recommended by the Democrats.

Just what fate awaits the bill in the Senate is a matter of conjecture. There, the Republicans may be required to enter into compromise of far-reaching character, owing to the slim majority by which they hold control, it is said.

However, House leaders do not believe that even the Senate will vote for tax reduction in excess of $300,000,000, and that is the limit which they expect ultimately to be adopted in the upper house.

President Coolidge is standing pat for a reduction in taxes of $225,000,000, as urged by Secretary Mellon. He made that plain to callers at the White House today.

Discussing the action of the Committee in proposing cuts aggregating more than $225,000,000, the President suggested that the Committee should not have approved a larger reduction unless it had information that warranted exceeding the limit prescribed by Secretary Mellon.

It was stated in dispatch from Washington Nov. 23 to the "Times" that present indications are that the House Committee will incorporate a provision in the pending bill making the cut in the levy on corporations and other proposed reductions apply on income for 1927. The same account stated:

The Committee seems to be in accord that the reduced rates on automobiles, club dues, admissions and other items should become effective thirty days after approval of the new bill by the President, but differences have developed over the proposal by Representative Garner, Texas, Democrat, that the lower rate on corporations should be collectable in 1929 on income for 1928 and not before.

The Ways and Means Committee to-day adopted an amendment increasing by five times the present tax on foreign-built yachts, pleasure boats, power and motor boats. The present tax on such craft ranges from $2 to $8 a foot, according to measurement.

The committee rejected an amendment offered by Representative Bacharach of New Jersey providing that the exemption of $400 authorized for dependent children should continue in force while such children were at school up to the age of 21 years.

Federal Gift Tax Not Applicable to Gifts Made Prior to Passage of 1924 Revenue Act.

The Federal Gift Tax in the Revenue Act of 1924 is inapplicable to gifts made prior to the passage of the 1924 Act, according to a decision on Nov. 21 of the U. S. Supreme Court in the case of John W. Blodgett against Charles Holden, Collector of Internal Revenue. It was a four to four decision, Mr. Justice Sutherland not having taken part in the consideration or decision of the case. During 1924 John W. Blodgett made gifts aggregating about $900,000 mostly in State, County and Municipal bonds. The Revenue Act, approved June 2 1924, imposed a graduated tax on transfers by gift, made "during the calendar year 1924 and each calendar year thereafter." The taxpayer paid a tax of $52,000 under protest and sued to recover it, claiming that the tax on gifts was unconstitutional. The District Court held the tax valid. The Circuit Court of Appeals certified the constitutional questions to the Supreme Court of the United States. The taxpayer maintained the tax is unconstitutional, because it is a direct tax and should therefore have been apportioned among the various states, that it is unconstitutional in so far as it is imposed on securities issued by states and their political subdivisions, and that the tax amounted to taking his property without due process of law, since the gifts were made before the 1924 Act was enacted.

Prominent attorneys, among them John W. Davis, who filed briefs as amici curiae argued that the tax was not made retroactive to affect gifts made in 1924 before the enactment of the statute; and that the gift tax is so capricious as to violate the Fifth Amendment. The Government maintained the tax was constitutional because it was not a direct tax on the person or his property, but an excise tax imposed on the right to transfer property by gift.

"So far as the Revenue Act of 1924 undertakes to impose a tax because of the gifts made during Jan. 1924, it is arbitrary and invalid under the due process clause of the Fifth Amendment." Thus Mr. Justice McReynolds, with whom Chief Justice Taft, Mr. Justice Van Devanter and Mr. Justice Butler concurred, characterized the limitations of the Federal Gift Tax in the Supreme Court decision this week. "I think it tolerably plain that the act should be read as referring only to transactions taking place after it was passed, when to disregard the rule 'would be to impose an unexpected liability that if known might have induced those concerned to avoid it, and to use their money in other ways,'" said Mr. Justice Holmes with whom Justices Brandeis, Sanford and Stone concurred. The entire court thus agreed in the result, namely, that the Federal Gift Tax does not apply to gifts made prior to the passage of the 1924 Act. The dissenting opinion was evoked by the principle that wherever possible a statute should be interpreted so as to avoid declaring it unconstitutional.

Referring to the decision in its issue of Nov. 22 the "Wall Street Journal" had the following to say in advices from Washington:

An unprecedented situation arose in the Supreme Court when the court split even on the constitutionality of a feature of the federal gift tax as incorporated in the Revenue Act of 1924. Four judges held the act was unconstitutional, while others maintained the court should not hold the act unconstitutional. The question at issue was whether the Revenue Bureau could assess gifts made during 1924, but made prior to June 2 of that year, when the Revenue Act was passed.

Justice McReynolds read an opinion holding that it was the intent of Congress to make the gift tax retroactive and that it was unconstitutional, while Justice Holmes read an opinion in which it was held that it was not the intent of Congress to make the tax retroactive. Three justices sided with McReynolds and three with Holmes.

The net effect of the decision is to force the Revenue Bureau to return money collected on gifts made in 1924 prior to passage of the act, but to leave the act operative up until the time of its repeal by the Revenue Act of 1926.

Wisconsin Establishes Income Tax Precedents—Assessments to be Made on a Three-Year Average as is Done Under British Law.

The following is from the "Wall Street Journal" of Nov. 22:

Wisconsin's new income tax law—vintage of 1927—establishes two precedents for income tax legislation in the United States.

The new law adopts the English system of computing taxable income for any one year by requiring an average for three years—except for payments due in 1928 when the taxable income will be the average for 1926 and 1927.

The second innovation is to require computation of the tax before exemption, and then to rebate the exemption against the amount found due. Thus, any taxpayer figures his tax according to a graduated schedule, ranging from 1% on the first $1,000 of net income to 5½% on the twelfth $1,000, and 6% on all income in excess of $12,000.

Then, if he (or she) is single, he takes a credit of $8 against the computed tax. If the tax figures to $9.26, the amount actually paid is $1.26. If the tax amounts to $7.95, nothing is paid. For husband and wife or a head of a family the credit is $17.50. For each dependent the credit is $3 additional.

Wisconsin has been the pioneer in income tax legislation in the United States. Its income tax law went into effect in 1911—two years before the Federal tax and eight years before the New York tax. Only now, however, has it reverted to the English plan for averaging incomes over a three-year period.

Students of the income tax have long urged the advantage of the English method of equalizing extreme trends in business and income by a three-year average.

In the United States heretofore, in both Federal and State procedure, if $50,000 was the profit in one year, tax was exacted on such income, payable in the following year, even though the taxpayer then suffered from a deficit of $50,000. Under the Wisconsin plan, the taxpayer, if his income was $25,000 in 1926 and $50,000 in 1927, would pay in 1928 on a basis of $37,500. With income $60,000 in 1928, he would pay in 1929, for the calendar year 1928, on a basis of $45,000, the average of $25,000, $50,000 and $60,000.

The rule works both ways, however. With income of $50,000 in 1927, $60,000 in 1928, and only $10,000 in 1929, his tax payable in 1930 would be on a basis of $40,000, as against actual income of only $10,000, compensating for the relief experienced in 1929.

Chain Letter Petition Favoring President Coolidge as Candidate for Re-Election Discontinued In Accordance with President's Wishes.

President Coolidge made known in his talk with newspaper men on Nov. 22 that he did not approve a move, through a chain letter plan, to urge upon him his consent to becoming a candidate for re-election, and on Nov. 23, announcement was made that the movement would be discontinued. From the "Herald-Tribune" of Nov. 24 we take the following:

Satisfied that his endless chain petition to show President Coolidge that a majority of the American people want him to reconsider his choice not to run for re-election has accomplished its purpose in an unexpected way. Philip M. Tucker, Boston broker, tried yesterday to withdraw it from circulation. In deference to the President's wishes he issued a statement appealing to those carrying on the rapidly developed movement to cease.

By distributing a few hundred unobtrusive circulars calling for the signatures of citizens who believed the best interests of the country required Mr. Coolidge's return to the White House and asking signers to get ten others to follow suit, Mr. Tucker, a novice in practical politics, had caused one of the greatest uproars in Presidential politics since Mr. Coolidge issued his surprising "choose" announcement of August 2.

Mr. Tucker gave out his statement while at the Harvard Club, where he stopped before taking a midnight train for his home in Brookline, Mass.

"In the last few months people have shown in many ways that they have faith and trust in the President," said his statement.

"By this time Mr. Coolidge must be aware of the facts. From the spontaneous response to the form sent by my office there can be no doubt there is an overwhelming majority of the American people who would vote for Calvin Coolidge for another four years. One million signatures would not make it more conclusive.

"I want to state most emphatically that the idea of a series of letters was entirely my own. My sole purpose was to make it possible for a large number of citizens to speak as one voice. I first thought of getting others to begin the movement, but finally decided to go it alone. The method chosen was necessary for the reason that I had no organization to carry on other methods properly. I therefore chose the only means I could think of to make possible an expression from the people themselves. I made inquiries as to Mr. Coolidge's health before beginning and received ample assurance of his physical fitness.

"Mr. Coolidge has expressed his wish that any petition favoring his candidacy for 1928 should be discontinued. In accordance therewith, it seems best to desist from trying to bring further pressure on him to consent to run. Therefore, I sincerely trust that all work on my plan be ceased."

"It is a cause of satisfaction that the resources of the trust companies of the country continue to seek new high levels year after year, the totals at the present time being considerably more than double those of ten years ago. Yet it is none the less gratifying to note the unprecedented efforts being made by the trust companies to extend their service into new channels.

"The situation is most encouraging and warrants every confidence in the future of trust companies and their ability to render a most valuable and constantly broadening service to the public."

As we have upon other occasions pointed out, this yearly publication of the United States Mortgage & Trust Co. is not limited to trust companies, per se, but embodies statistics of all companies with the word "trust" in their titles, actively engaged in business in the United States and Territories, coming under the jurisdiction of the State Bank Commissioner, Auditor, etc., and doing either a trust or banking business or both, and those banks, banking associations, or institutions acting in a fiduciary capacity without the word "trust" in their titles, but supervised as above, and commonly classed as trust companies by the State officials to whom they are amenable.

The Chatham Phenix National Bank & Trust Co. of New York opened its Upper Fifth Avenue offices on Nov. 21 at Fifth Avenue and 55th Street on a site that was forest-land bordering a lake when the original operations of the bank began, 115 years ago. The same location, after the Civil War, was a fashionable residential area and, as the location of the now demolished "Brownstone Block" was known for decades as the social centre of Manhattan. Modern developments in banking construction and appointments are exemplified in the new Chatham Phenix quarters. Excepting for a base course along the floor margins, marble is eliminated from the interior furnishings. Lobby desks are of American walnut and walls are paneled with the same material to a height of 13 feet. This unit at 55th Street constitutes the third Fifth Avenue location among the 14 offices comprising the system of the Chatham Phenix. The main offices of the bank, at 149 Broadway, are within 100 yards of its first location in 1812. In the intervening years the resources of the institution, which is now a city, State and national depositary, have grown to over a quarter billion dollars.

They authorized increase of capital from $2,000,000 to $2,875,000, the additional stock, 17,500 shares, to be issued in acquisition of the National Bank of Commerce. The board of directors of Bankers Trust Co. was increased to take in seven of the twelve who have been directors of the Bank of Commerce, those elected to the Bankers Trust Co. board being Jacob Cartun, N. F. Eberbach, Nathan T. Folwell, Joseph J. Greenberg, Jacob Netter, Eli K. Selig and William D. Wark. Jacob Paley, Vice-President of the Congress Cigar Co., was also elected a member of the board. The consolidation of the two institutions will be made as at the close of business Dec. 3. Aggregate resources will be about $18,500,000. According to the Philadelphia "Ledger" of Nov. 22 Jacob Netter, President of the National Bank of Commerce, has been elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the enlarged bank. Samuel H. Barker, President of the Bankers Trust Co. of Philadelphia, will continue in that office. The proposed union of these banks was noted in our issues of Sept. 10 and Sept. 17, pages 1416 and 1541, respectively.

William B. Griscom, Vice-President of Abbotts Dairies, Inc., was elected a director of the Quaker City National Bank of Philadelphia on Nov. 18 to succeed C. R. Lindbach, resigned, according to the Philadelphia "Ledger" of Nov. 19.

Announcement was made on Nov. 15 by Heyward E. Boyce, President of the Drovers' & Mechanics' National Bank of Baltimore of the election of John H. Duncan and Rufus K. Goodenow, Jr., as Vice-Presidents and of Joseph R. Schneider as an Assistant Cashier of the institution, all former officers of the Old Town National Bank of Baltimore, recently absorbed by the Drovers' & Mechanics', according to the Baltimore "Sun" of Nov. 16. The latter will operate a branch office at the former location of the Old Town National Bank, it was stated. The proposed purchase of the business of the Old Town National Bank by the Drovers' & Mechanics' National Bank was noted in our issues of Oct. 8 and Nov. 12, pages 1926 and 2632, respectively.

Officals of the East Side Bank of Milwaukee announced on Nov. 9 that the capital of the institution has been increased from $150,000 to $200,000, according to the Milwaukee "Sentinel" of Nov. 10. Present stockholders will be given the right to subscribe to the new stock (par value $100 a share) in the ratio of one new share for each three shares held, at $150 a share. This is the second time, it is stated, that the institution has enlarged its capital, the previous increase having been from $50,000 to $150,000 two years ago. The present increase is to take care of the bank's expanding business. It was furthermore stated that the bank's last statement of condition showed total deposits of $2,328,000.

After nearly forty-five years of active service with the Indiana National Bank of Indianapolis, Macy W. Malott resigned as a Vice-President of the institution on Nov. 16 and announced that hereafter he would devote his attention to outside interests, according to the Indianapolis "News" of that date. Mr. Malott entered the service of the Indiana National Bank about the time his father, Volney T. Malott, acquired control of the institution and became its President in 1882. The elder Mr. Malott was President of the bank for 39 years and later Chairman of the Board. When Mr. Malott began work as a clerk in the Indiana National Bank its entire force did not exceed twelve employees. It occupied a small room in the old John Building, which formerly stood on the site of the present Kahn Building at the northeast corner of Washington and Meridan Streets. Shortly afterwards the bank was moved into rooms on the site now occupied by the Woolworth 5-and-10-cent store. By that time Mr. Malott had been promoted through various stages to the position of Assistant Cashier. The resources of the institution were then little more than $700,000. To-day they are approximately $35,000,000. The growth of the institution while Mr. Malott has been associated with it has corresponded with the development of Indianapolis from a town of 30,000 people to a city with a population of nearly 400,000.

"Trusty" is the name of the new biplane purchased by the recently established aviation department of the Union Trust Co. of Detroit. The biplane was lately piloted to the Ford airport by Captain Ray Collins. The Union Trust Co. claims to be the first financial institution in the United States to establish a regularly authenticated aviation department and to make practical use of air service in its business. The establishment of the aviation department is a continuation of the interest which the Union Trust Co., particularly its President, Frank W. Blair, has taken in aviation advancement and progress in Detroit.

"The Union Trust Co. believes thoroughly in the commercial and industrial possibilities of aviation development," said Mr. Blair. "We want to do everything possible to assist in bringing about a furtherance of proper commercial advancement for airplane commercial progress. We feel sure that through the personality of Captain Collins, we can be of real help in that progress." Mr. Blair added:

"We feel that it is only a question of time when Detroit will employ thousands of its citizens in airplane manufacture. Our city already has taken a conspicuously successful part in this work. Captain Collins has speaking engagements which will keep him very busily occupied in spreading the good gospel of Detroit's activities for aviation development all over the country. He will make these trips in the Union Trust plane. In addition to that, our officers are to use the plane on business trips which call for quick action to avoid loss of time.

"We also have in mind the development of a definite program for fast service for the benefit of our Union Title & Guaranty Co. in delivery of policies and rapidity of service between our main office in Detroit and our numerous branch offices throughout the State of Michigan. Personally, I have felt the certainty of aviation's opportunities for service in business and industrial life from the time I took my first ride, five years ago. I continue to believe that the future holds untold opportunities for further work."

A plan looking towards a consolidation of the Chicago Trust Co., Chicago, and the National Bank of Commerce of that city, under the title of the former, ,was made known last week by Lucius Teter, President of the Chicago Trust Co., according to the Chicago "Journal of Commerce" of Nov. 18. The proposed merger will go into effect Dec. 1, the enlarged bank to be operated from the present quarters of the trust company at Monroe and Clark Streets. As part of the merger plan the capital stock of the Chicago Trust Co. will be increased from $2,000,000 to $2,400,000, the 4,000 shares of new stock being exchanged for shares of the National Bank of Commerce—the capital of which is $800,000—in the ratio of one-half share of Chicago Trust Co. stock for each share of National Bank of Commerce stock held. In addition the stockholders of the latter institution will receive approximately $50 a share in cash for each share held. The stock of the Commerce Trust & Savings Bank, a subsidiary of the National Bank of Commerce, which heretofore has been held in trust for the benefit of the stockholders of that institution, will also be distributed simultaneously with the closing of the merger on the basis of one-quarter share for each share of National Bank of Commerce stock held. In the future the Commerce Trust & Savings Bank, which is located in the South Water market district of Chicago, will be operated separately as an independent institution. The enlarged Chicago Trust Co. will have combined surplus and undivided profits of about $2,300,000, deposits of $36,000,000 and total resources of approximately $44,000,000. Mr. Teter will continue as President of the consolidated bank, while Edwin L. Wagner, President of the National Bank of Commerce, will become a Vice-President and a director. Ralph N. Ballou, Vice-President and Cashier, and H. B. Ahrensfeld, Assistant Cashier of the National Bank of Commerce, will become a Vice-President and an Assistant Cashier, respectively, of the Chicago Trust Co., and Charles W. Higley, one of the incorporators and a director of the Commerce bank, will be made a member of the Board of Directors of the enlarged bank. The entire remaining staff of the Commerce bank will also become affiliated with the new organization. A meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago Trust Co. will be held on Dec. 20 to formally confirm the action of their directors. A brief outline of the history of each of the consolidating banks was given in the paper mentioned, as follows:

The National Bank of Commerce in Chicago was organized in the fall of 1907 as the National Produce Bank of Chicago and opened for business at the corner of Clark and Lake Streets with a capital of $250,000 and surplus of $50,000. The bank shortly afterwards moved from temporary offices on the north side of Lake Street to the Ogden Building at the Southwest corner of Clark and Lake Streets, where it remainded for ten years and in the interim increased its capital from $250,000 to $300,000 with a stock increase of 20 per cent.

On October 19, 1917, the bank increased its capital from $300,000 to $500,000, and on November 12, 1919, the capital was again increased from $500,000 to $600,000, and on May 25, 1926, the capital was increased from $600,000 to $800,000. In 1918 it moved from the Ogden Building to the Ashland block, located at the northeast corner of Clark and Randolph streets, where the business has steadily increased to total deposits of about $6,000,000.

Chicago Trust Company opened its doors for business May 1, 1902, as the Chicago Savings Bank, with a capital of $250,000. In 1904 the bank changed its name to Chicago Savings Bank and Trust Company and its capital was increased from $250,000 to $500,000. The full credit loan functions of a commercial banking organization were assumed in 1907. The capital was again doubled in 1911 to $1,000,000. In 1919 the corporate name was changed to its final form, "Chicago Trust Company," and two years later the capital was increased to $1,500,000.

During 1905 it moved to a location on the southwest corner of State and Madison streets. Here it built itself into Chicago's history and remained until early in the spring of 1925, when it moved into its present quarters, southeast corner of Monroe and Clark streets, with deposits of $15,976,386.79 and total resources of $20,066,855.23. Its deposits at the time of the last bank call, October 10, 1927, were $27,904,282.52, and its resources $34,267,149.60. Lucius Teter was one of the organizers of the bank and became its president in January, 1908, which office he continues to hold.

An application to convert the Exchange Bank of Jefferson City, Mo., into the Exchange National Bank was approved by the Comptroller of the Currency on Oct. 26; the National bank began business Nov. 17.

Nelson R. Darragh, President of F. C. Taylor Fur Co., was elected a director of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co. of St. Louis on Nov. 17, according to the St. Louis "Globe-Democrat" of that date. Mr. Darragh, who has many business affiliations, was recently elected President of the St. Louis Better Business Bureau.

Announcement was made Nov. 19 of a consolidation of the investment banking house of Stevens, Page & Sterling with First Securities Co. of Los Angeles, Calif., and the election of James R. Page as a Vice-President of the Los Angeles-First National Trust & Savings Bank, and of E. C. Sterling as a Vice-President of First Securities Co. The firm of Stevens, Page & Sterling has been actively engaged in the underwriting and distribution of investment securities in southern California for the past twelve years. First Securities Co. is owned by the stockholders of the Los Angeles-First National Trust & Savings Bank, the aggregate resources of which exceed $300,000,000.

The Los Angeles "Times" of Nov. 8 stated that according to an announcement by Andrew M. Chaffey, President of the National City Bank of Los Angeles, the directors of the institution, following the precedent set by other California financial institutions, had on Nov. 7 taken preliminary steps looking towards the reduction of the par value of the bank's capital stock from $100 to $25 a share. No other change in the bank's capital, it was stated, is contemplated at this time. The bank's capitalization at present is $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of the par value of $100 each, and following the reduction to $25 a share will consist of 40,000 shares. The controlling stock of the National City Bank of Los Angeles, as well as that of other outlying banks in the same territory, the "Times" stated, is owned by the California Group Corporation, a holding company affiliated in ownership with the California Bank of Los Angeles. The National City Bank of Los Angeles was organized in July 1923 as a commercial bank and has shown a substantial growth during the past four years. As of Oct. 10, last, total deposits of the institution were reported at $10,113,955 and total resources at approximately $13,000,000. In conclusion the paper mentioned went on to say:

Other banks which have reduced the par value of their shares, or are in the process of the undertaking, include the Bank of Italy, National Trust and Savings Association, Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank, California Bank and United Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco.

Acquisition of the Lodi National Bank of Lodi, Cal., by the United Bank & Trust Co. of San Francisco, through its auxiliary, the French-American Corporation, was announced by the United Bank & Trust Co. on Nov. 17, according to an Associated Press dispatch from that city on Nov. 17, appearing in the Los Angeles "Times" of the following day. The Lodi bank, it was stated, has a capital of $400,000, surplus of $100,000, deposits of $2,650,000, and total resources of $3,615,000, and will be operated as an independent unit of the United Bank & Trust Co. until further announcement. The dispatch also reported the purchase by the French-American Corporation of the First National Bank of La Habra, Cal., including its affiliated institution, the Citizens' Commercial & Savings Bank, of La Habra, both under the same management. This bank, according to officers of the United Bank & Trust Co., will also be operated as a separate unit of the United Bank & Trust Co., it was said.

The following from the Publicity Department of the Bank of Italy National Trust & Savings Association, issued at San Francisco under date of Nov. 17, announces the acquisition by that institution of several additional banks:

Five new banks, one of them a $4,000,000 institution, in the city of Alameda, are to be added to the system of the Bank of Italy in the next few weeks, marking one of the most notable periods of banking expansion in California in the present year.

Four of the banks are to be located in San Francisco, one a new downtown institution, which will have its temporary quarters in the Press Club Building at the corner of Powell and Sutter streets, pending the erection of the new hotel building across the street. The other San Francisco branches will be at Haight and Ashbury, Geary and Divisadero and Pierce and Chestnut streets, all centers of thriving business districts.

All of these San Francisco branches will be opened on or about December 1, and will increase the number of the big bank's offices in this city to 36.

In Alameda, where the Bank of Italy now has a branch, consolidation is being affected with the Citizens National Bank and the Citizens Savings Bank on Saturday, November 19, and the combined institutions will be ready for business at 1500 Park street on Monday morning.

The Citizens National and the Citizens Savings Banks, having $4,000,000 resources, are situated strategically in the downtown section of Alameda. These affiliated institutions were established in 1906, and for some years have been under the presidency of T. G. Hutt, one of California's best known bankers. Their growth has been reflective of the uniform prosperity of the beautiful city of Alameda and of the other East Bay cities.

The purchase of these banks will not increase the number of Bank of Italy branches in Alameda, as the present branch there will consolidate with the purchased institutions. The enlarged branch will conduct its business in the quarters of the Citizens National and the Citizens Savings Banks.

No changes in personnel will be effected other than the retirement of Mr. Hutt from the presidency of the purchased bank. He will serve, however, as a member of the Advisory Board of the Bank of Italy in Alameda. P. A. Gohn of the Citizens National and John J. Mulvany of the Bank of Italy will be given the status of vice-presidents in the enlarged bank. J. C. Stannard, present manager of the Bank of Italy branch, will continue as manager of the merged institutions.

The opening of the Sutter and Powell branch in San Francisco will mark the installation of John H. Dumbrell, one of the best known of the bank's younger executives, as manager. He is at present associated with the branch at 550 Montgomery street. W. C. Vibert, Assistant Cashier of the branch at Burlingame, has been named manoger of the Haight and Ashbury Branch. George Walker, one of the most popular members of the New Business staff, which has its headquarters at the Head Office, has been named manager of the Geary-Divisadero Branch, while Joseph Zucchi of the branch at 550 Montgomery street will head the branch at Pierce and Chestnut streets.

These five acquisitions mark a program of unmatched expansion for the Bank of Italy in the past year, the program beginning with the amalgamation of the Bank of Italy and the Liberty Bank, which more than doubled the size of the former institution.

The San Francisco "Chronicle" of Nov. 9 stated that according to an announcement by Leon Bocqueraz, Chairman of the Board of the United Bank & Trust Co. of that city, B. C. Brown and G. P. McNear were elected directors of the institution on Nov. 8 to fill vacancies which had existed for some time.

George S. Campbell of Halifax, President of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and one of the leading financiers of the Maritime Provinces, died suddenly of heart disease at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, on Nov. 21. Mr. Campbell had arrived in Montreal on Nov. 16 from Toronto, where he had been attending a meeting of bankers. He was 76 years of age. In March last the deceased banker underwent an operation in a New York hospital, but recently had been in good health.

THE WEEK ON THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

The stock market week has shown improvement in a number of directions notwithstanding the sharp reactionary period on Monday and the interruption by the Thanksgiving holiday on Thursday. The greatest activity was apparent on Wednesday when a remarable series of bullish demonstrations in cerain industrail shares and specialties pushed the day's turnover up close to 3,000,000 shares. Copper issues have, been prominent in the rise. Mercantile shares have been in active demand and many new high levels have been recorded in this group. The stock market was active and strong during the greater part the short was active and strong during the greater part of the short session on Saturday and many new tops were recorded among the industrial shares and specialty stocks. Midland Steel Products preferred continued its sensational advance by soaring 7 points to a new high at 207. United States Cast Iron & Foundry moved forward 2 points to 222¼ and United States common sold up to 144⅛. Motor shares continued to attract considerable speculative interest, Parkard leading the advance and closing at a new high above 52 Brooklyn Edison crossed 185 to the highest peak since 1905. Other new highs included Montgomery-Ward, Sears-Roebuck, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco "B," Radio Corporation, Kennecott Copper and Calumet & Arizona.

On Monday speculative interest centered around the copper stocks, Kennecott crossing 82 to its highest level in all time, followed by Anconda which sold above 51. Calumet & Arizona sold up to 98 and both American Smelting & Refining and Chili Copper were in strong demand at substantial advances. Public utilities continued to improve, Brooklyn Edison lifting its top above 188, Western Union Telegraph adding to its 5 point gain of last week and International Tel. & Tel again crossed 180. New high records were scored by Parkard Motor, Hupp., Radio Corporation, Sears-Roebuck and Internat Paper. National Biscuit also broke into new high ground at 157¼. Railroad shares moved to the front as the feature of the market on Tuesday, Norfolk & Western crossing 200 to the highest level in the history of the road. The strength of this issue stimulated the rest of the rail list. Some of the strong stocks were Nor. Pac., Atchison, Del. & Hud., Can. Pac., Kansas City Southern, Mo.-Kan.-Tex., Chicago-Great Western and new Haven. Industrial stocks were unusally active, American Can reaching a new high for the present shares at 73¼ and United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry sold up to 223, as compared with its previous close at 220½. Parkard reached a new high above 34, and Hupp Motors, moved to a new top level at 54. Dodge Brothers common was active and Mack Truck shot forward 2 points to 109½. Mercantile stocks continued in demand, especially Montgomery-Ward, which gained 3 points for the day, and Abraham & Straus, which advanced to a new peak. Among the public utility stocks Brooklyn Union Gas and Consolidated Gas improved from 3 to 4 points. The stock market was closed on Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving Day. Irregularity characterized the movements of the market during the greater part of the day on Friday, though here and there throughout the list certain stocks moved vigorously forward until the final hour when practically the entire list swung upward. Railroad shares were fairly strong, Canadian Pacific leading the upward movement with gain of 2⅝ points to 200⅞, followed by Northern Pacific and Great Northern preferred both of which crossed par. Radio Corporation lifted it record above 93 and National Biscuit scored a further advance of 3⅝ points to 158⅞. In the final hour copper stocks moved to the front, Greene Cananea advancing 5½ points to 87 or better, followed by Calumet & Arizona which improved 2⅞ points. General Motors made no further progress and United States Steel common failed to participate in the recovery. Public utilities continued in demand at improving prices.

COURSE OF BANK CLEARINGS.

Bank clearings this week will again show a satisfactory increase over a year ago. Preliminary figures compiled by us, based upon telegraphic advices from the chief cities of the country, indicate that for the week ending to-day (Saturday, Nov. 26), bank exchanges for all the cities of the United States from which it is possible to obtain weekly returns will be 13.8% larger than for the corresponding week last year. The total stands at $9,429,554,157 against $8,289,498,334 for the same week in 1926. At this centre there is a gain for the five days of 20.9%. Our comparative summary for the week is as follows:

Complete and exact details for the week covered by the foregoing will appear in our issue of next week. We cannot furnish them to-day, inasmuch as the week ends to-day (Saturday) and the Saturday figures will not be available until noon to-day. Accordingly in the above the last day of the week has in all cases had to be estimated.

In the elaborate detailed statement, however, which we present further below, we are able to give final and complete results for the week previous—the week ended Nov. 19. For that week the increase is 21.7%, the 1927 aggregate of clearings being $12,323,806,767 and the 1926 aggregate $10,124,-094,743. Outside of New York City, however, the increase is only 12.1%, the bank exchanges at this centre having increased 30.0%. We group the cities now according to the Federal Reserve districts in which they are located, and from this it appears that in the New York Reserve District (including this city) there is an expansion of 29.5% and in the Boston Reserve District of 22.8% while in the Philadelphia Reserve District the increase is only 9.9%. The Cleveland Reserve Dsitrict shows a gain of 8.9%, the Richmond Reserve District of 9.2% and the Atlanta Reserve District of 5.1%, notwithstanding that Miami shows a loss of 53.7% and Jacksonville of 26.7%. In the Chicago Reserve District the totals are larger by 13.3%, in the St. Louis Reserve District by 17.9% and in the Minneapolis Reserve District by 10.8%.

The Kansas City Reserve District suffers a decrease of 3.0% and the Dallas Reserve District of 4.2% but the San Francisco Reserve District shows 17.9% improvement.

In the following we furnish a summary by Federal Reserve districts:

THE ENGLISH GOLD AND SILVER MARKETS.

We reprint the following from the weekly circular of Samuel Montagu & Co. of London, written under date of Nov. 9 1927:

GOLD.

The Bank of England gold reserve against notes amounted to £149,738,000 on the 2d inst. as compared with £150,286,780 on the previous Wednesday.

About £450,000 Bar Gold was available in the open market yesterday. The Home and Continental Trade secured £152,000, India £35,000 and Egypt, £17,000. The balance, £246,000, was taken for a destination not disclosed.

The following movements of gold to and from the Bank of England have been announced:

	Nov. 3.	Nov. 4.	Nov. 5.	Nov. 7.	Nov. 8.	Nov. 9.
Received	Nil	£500,000	Nil	Nil	Nil	Nil
Withdrawn	£15,000	10,000	Nil	£6,000	£20,000	£32,000

The £500,000 received on the 4th inst. was in sovereigns released from "set aside-account South Africa." The £55,000 sovereign withdrawn were destined as follows: Holland £20,000, Straits Settlement £10,000, India £9,000, Italy £6,000, Germany £5,000 and Spain £5,000. During the week under review £417,000 on balance has been received by the Bank, decreasing the net efflux this year to £861,000, and since the resumption of an effective gold standard to £6,185,000, as set out in the daily bulletins at the Bank.

The following were the United Kingdom imports and exports of gold registered in the week ended the 2d inst.:

Imports.		Exports.

SILVER.

The market has maintained a steady tone, mainly on account of purchases by India for cover or shipment, possibly owing to the unexpected shipment of 2,000 bars to China out of the stock in Bombay. Another inciting cause may be the persistence of Chinese speculation in yen, which has still more increased the over-sold position in that currency. The pressure for cash delivery drove the spot price on Nov. 7 to 26.7-17d.—the highest quotation since June 16 last—and a premium was established of 3-16d. as against silver for two months' delivery. Not since May 9 has so large a premium been fixed. To-day the tendency is a shade easier, but the condition of the market is such that renewed firmness might easily set in again, though the present level of prices, being treaceable to the yen speculation has no solid basis.

The following were the United Kingdom imports and exports of silver registered in the week ended the 2d inst.:

Weekly Return of the Federal Reserve Board.

The following is the return issued by the Federal Reserve Board Thursday afternoon, Nov. 24 and showing the condition of the twelve Reserve banks at the close of business on Wednesday. In the first table we present the results for the system as a whole in comparison with the figures for the seven preceding weeks and with those of the corresponding week last year. The second table shows the resources and liabilities separately for each of the twelve banks. The Federal Reserve Agents' Accounts (third table following) gives details regarding transactions in Federal Reserve notes between the Comptroller and Reserve Agents and between the latter and Federal Reserve banks. The Reserve Board's comment upon the returns for the latest week appears on page 2817, being the first item in our department of "Current Events and Discussions."

NOTE.—Beginning with the statement of Oct. 7 1925, two new items were added in order to show separately the amount of balances held abroad and amounts due to foreign correspondents. In addition, the caption, "All other earning assets," previously made up of Foreign Intermediate Credit Bank debentures, was changed to "Other securities," and the caption, "Total earning assets" to "Total bills and securities." The latter item was adopted as a more accurate description of the total of the discounts, acceptances and securities acquired under the provisions of Sections 13 and 14 of the Federal Reserve Act, which, it was stated, are the only items included therein.

Following is the weekly statement issued by the Federal Reserve Board, giving the principal items of the resources and liabilities of the 659 member banks from which weekly returns are obtained. These figures are always a week behind those for the Reserve banks themselves. Definitions of the different items in the statement were given in the statement of Dec. 12 1917, published in the "Chronicle" of Dec. 29 1917, page 2523. The comment of the Reserve Board upon the figures for the latest week appears in our department of "Current Events and Discussions," on page 2878, immediately following which we also give the figures of New York reporting member banks for a week later.

NOTE.—Beginning with the statement of Oct. 7 1925, two new items were added in order to show separately the amount of balances held abroad and amounts due to foreign correspondents. In addition, the caption "All other earning assets," previously made of Federal Intermediate Credit bank debentures, was changed to "Other securities," and the caption "Total earning assets" to "Total bills and securities." The latter term was adopted as a more accurate description of the total of the discounts, acceptances and securities acquired under the provisions of Sections 13 and 14 of the Federal Reserve Act, which, it was stated are the only items inc'uded therein.

Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit Corporation.

(4th Annual Report—Year Ended June 30 1927.)

Gerhard M. Dahl, Chairman, Nov. 21, reports in substance:

Results.—Operations for the fiscal year ended June 30 1927, shows that the consolidated net income for 1927 was $6,348,445, an increase of $600,258 over the preceding fiscal year.

Such income is after providing for all maintenance charges, taxes and reserves for depreciation.

Corporation has followed the policy of placing and keeping the properties in excellent operating condition and of furnishing as good service as possible, limited as to rapid transit lines by the facilities provided by the city. During the last two years the expenditures for maintenance of way and structure and of equipment, including reserves for depreciation, have totaled $22,429,271, which is 24.50% of the total operating revenues of $91,551,560 for the two years.

There were paid, for the fiscal year, on the outstanding preferred stock, four quarterly dividends aggregating $1,496,808, and on the outstanding common stock, four quarterly dividends of $1 each, aggregating $3,079,644.

Rapid Transit Lines.—The city has now nearly completed the 14th Street-Eastern Line, the construction of shops and storage tracks near Coney Island, and the lengthening of certain station platforms to accommodate eight car trains. In anticipation of requirements for additional equipment your rapid transit operating subsidiary, New York Rapid Transit Corp., purchased 213 cars, comprising 71 units of triplex articulated cars, which were equipped in the Coney Island shops and are now largely in use.

The city has not yet started work on the construction of the Nassau-Broad Line. This line, with the added facilities mentioned above, would materially increase the capacity and efficiency of the rapid transit lines under Contract No. 4.

Results of Operation under Contract with City.

The first annual report stated briefly the provisions of Contract No. 4 as to the disposition of revenue arising from operations under the contract. New York Rapid Transit Corp. is entitled to its operating and preferential deductions, including cumulative deficiencies thereof, ahead of any payments to the city. The condensed comparative summary below, for the fiscal year ended June 30 1927, and for the fourteen-year period from the commencement of operation under the contract, namely, Aug. 4 1913, to June 30 1927, shows the order in which such deductions are made from revenues and the application of revenues thereto, together with the cumulative deficiencies.

It will be observed that the earnings for 1927 showed an excess over the year's deductions, applicable to the cumulative deficiency. With a continuation of favorable operating conditions and particularly with the additional facilities that the city is obligated to provide, it is hoped that the net revenue will continue to increase so that the cumulative deficiency of full deductions may be gradually made good.

This shows that the increase in 9 years in passengers on the rapid transit lines has been 148.03% and the increase on the system 78.2%. It also shows that the surface lines carried nearly 270,000,000 passengers in 1927, which is about 50% of the total surface traffic in Brooklyn, and are therefore performing an important and essential part of the city transportation.

Kansas City Southern Ry.—Valuation Case.—
A Washington dispatch Nov. 22 states: Action which customarily indicates dismissal of a case was taken by the Supreme Court Nov. 22 when it decided it would be unnecessary for Government counsel to present their argument in the proceedings of the Kansas City Southern attacking the I.-S. C. Commission valuation of its property.
The announcement came from the bench after counsel for the railroad had argued for an hour against the Government's contention, made in its brief, that the case involved issues similar to those decided in the Los Angeles valuation case, in which the commission's valuation was upheld.
In holding that Government counsel need not present an argument, the Court indicated that on an early opinion day it would reverse the lower court in which the railroad won.
The question was brought before the Court by the Government's appeal to have set aside an injunction granted the Kansas City Southern by the Federal District Court for Western Missouri.
When called upon by the Court to sustain his contention that there were questions presented which properly brought the Kansas City Southern valuation before it, counsel for the road asserted that the commission's valuation was working irreparable injury to the system, in that it had been used as the basis for refusing rate increases; that it would be used in the recapture of excess earnings, and that it had injured the company in its attempt to raise funds for construction and repair work.
The Court was unable, however, to see any basis for passing upon the validity of the commission's valuation work, although it was made plain by members of the Court that any orders of the commission based on its valuations may be set aside if it is shown to the satisfaction of the courts that the valuation used was illegal.—V. 125, p. 2143.

New Orleans, Texas & Mexico Ry.—Bonds.—

New York Central RR.—Injunction Against "Big Four" Dissolved.—
A Cincinnati, O., dispatch, Nov. 18, states: That the court below should not have issued the injunction which prevented the New York Central from voting its majority stock holdings in the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis (Big Four) in favor of a proposed 99-year lease of the properties of the Big Four to the New York Central at a stockholders' meeting called for Sept. 27 1926, to be held in Cincinnati, is held by the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. Its opinion was announced in the appeal of the New York Central and the C., C., C. & St. L. companies vs. John D. Jackson, Hamden, Conn., a minority stockholder of the Big Four.

Merger Hearing Postponed.—
The I.-S. C. Commission has postponed from Nov. 28 until Jan. 9, hearing on the application of the New York Central to acquire control of the Big Four, Michigan Central and Chicago, Kalamazoo & Saginaw railroads.—V. 125, p. 2669.

Commission on Nov. 12 issued a certificate authorizing the company to abandon a track known as the cutoff, between Main Line Junction and McSweeney Junction, extending from a point in section 16, township 3 north, range 41 east, to a point in section 14, township 2 north, range 41 east, M. D. M., a distance of 6.75 miles, all in Esmeralda County, Nev.—V. 124, p. 2276.

Virginian Ry.—Newport News Favors Joint Control of Road —Would Like to See Pennsylvania, New York, Central and Van Sweringens All Have Hand in Its Direction.—
Prominent commercial interests of Newport News, Va., it is understood, are opposed to the Virginian Ry. going to the Chesapeake & Ohio in pending merger negotiations on the theory that if such unification were effected Newport News would become merely a way station on the direct line of the C. & O. to Norfolk. As the City of Newport News has suffered keenly already from the decline of ship building at its principal industry, the Newport News Shipbuilding & Dry Dock Co., the city feels especially anxious to maintain its importance as a railroad center and port of entry.
What the business men of Newport News would really like to see, it is stated, would be an arrangement similar to that entered into in the purchase of a controlling interest of the Western Maryland by leading trunk lines, whereby the Pennsylvania, Chesapeake & Ohio and New York Central would jointly own the Virginian and use it in building up the commercial importance of the city.
Control of the Virginian rests in a voting trust which holds all of the $27,955,000 preferred stock and $29,203,800 of the $31,271,500 common stock. Col. Henry H. Rogers is the principal trustee. The others are William R. Coe, Adrian H. Larkin and George H. Church. A fifth trustee, Godfrey H. Hyams of Boston, died recently and the vacancy created by his death has not yet been filled. The small amount of common stock outstanding is traded in the over-the-counter market at prices in the neighborhood of $186 per share.—V. 125, p. 910, 645.

Wabash Ry.—Dividend Suit Withdrawn.—
The suit instituted in the U. S. District Court at New York, Nov. 16, by John G. Barclay, a stockholder, of Montclair, N. J., to restrain the company from paying dividends on class "B" preferred and on common stock, pending the payment of allegedly overdue dividends on class "A" preferred, of which Barclay is one of the holders, was withdrawn Nov. 23.
A notice of withdrawal was approved by Judge John C. Knox of the United States District Court without prejudice and without cost having been filed.
Mr. Barlcay alleged that $6,000,000, a large part of which should have been devoted to paying class "A" dividends, had been transferred to other accounts, and asked that the court, in addition to granting an injunction, give judgment directing that the overdue dividends on class "A" preferred stock be paid
The withdrawal of the suit follows closely the announcement that William Fraser Dickson of 5 Nassau St., N. Y. City, reputed holder of from 50,000 to 100,000 common and preferred shares of Wabash Ry: stock, had retained Davis, Wagner, Heater & Holton, attorneys, to intervene in Barclay's suit. —V. 125, p. 910.

Western Pacific RR. Co.—To Increase Capitalization.—
The company proposes to increase its authorized capital stock from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000. Vice-Chairman Charles M. Levey states this increase is purely a technical move designed to make the capitalization of the operating company conform with the holding company, the Western Pacific Railroad Corp.
Chairman Arthur Curtiss James confirmed Mr. Levey's statement saying: "It is simply a matter of bookkeeping. The decision to increase the capital of the operating company was made last spring and announced at the time."—V. 125, p. 2805.

Wheeling & Lake Erie Ry.—Surrender of Control of Company by Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central and Nickel Plate Recommended to I.-S. C. Commission.—See last week's "Chronicle" p. 2727-28.—V. 125, p. 1049.

Florida Public Service Co.—Bonds Offered.—H. C. Allyn & Co., Inc., New York are offering at 101 and int. to yield over 5.90%, an additional issue of $1,814,000 1st mtge. 6% gold bonds, series "B." Dated April 1 1925; due April 1 1955.

Listed.—These bonds are listed on the Boston Stock Exchange.

Data from Letter of W. S. Barstow, President of the Company.

Business.—Company supplies electric light and power at retail to 66 communities in central Florida, including DeLand, Eustis, Tavares, Apopka, Davenport, Haines City, Lake Wales, Frostproof, Winter Park and Avon Park, and in addition supplies electricity at wholesale for distribution in Mt. Dora. Company supplies gas in Orlando and Winter Park, and water and ice in other of these communities. The territory served extends from Seville on the north to Lake Placid on the south, a distance of about 185 miles, and forms a part of the most important fruit, truck growing and industrial sections in Florida. The aggregate permanent population of the territory served with electricity or gas is estimated at 87,000, and the territory is experiencing a rapid and substantial growth and development.

Security.—The bonds are secured by a direct first mortgage on all the fixed property of the company, subject only to $61,700 of divisional bonds outstanding on a small portion of the property. Based on appraisals by independent public utility engineers and appraisers, plus additions to date at cost, the value of the property of the company is very largely in excess of its entire outstanding funded debt.

Earnings.—For the 12 months ended Sept. 30 1927, the earnings of the company, including those of properties now owned, were as follows:

Gross earnings (incl. other income)	$2,140,985
Operating expenses & taxes	1,161,225
Net earnings	$979,760
Annual int. req. on 1st mtge. bonds (incl. this issue)	559,806

Net earnings as shown above were thus 1.75 times annual interest requirements on the total 1st mtge. bonds outstanding, including this issue.

Sinking & Improvement Fund.—For the purpose of establishing a sinking and improvement fund for the benefit of the series "B" bonds, the company covenants in the supplemental mortgage to pay to the trustee on April 1 1931, and on April 1 in each year thereafter to and incl. April 1 1954, an amount equivalent to 2% of the principal amount of the series "B" bonds outstanding at the time of each such payment. The mortgage provides that the moneys so paid may be repaid to the company for expenditures made for any purpose for which bonds could be issued under the mortgage, or that such moneys may be used, at the option of the company for the purchase or redemption of the series "B" bonds, and the company has the right, in lieu of paying cash to this fund, to surrender series "B" bonds and to receive credit equal to the principal amount of such bonds so surrendered and the company is also entitled to a credit on account of payments due to such fund equal to the amount expended for any purpose for which bonds could have, but have not been issued under the mortgage.

Capitalization.—As of Sept. 30 1927 (after giving effect to this financing.)

Rollins & Sons and Spencer Trask & Co., are offering at 98 and int., to yield over 5.13% an additional issue of $5,000,000 1st & ref. mtge. 5% 30-year gold bonds, series C. Dated Dec. 1 1926; due Dec. 1 1956 (see description in V. 123, p. 3182).

Corporation also controls Illinois Traction, Inc.—which owns an extensive system of trunk line electric railroads in Illinois—and other utilities of which the most important are Des Moines Electric Light Co. and The Kansas Power & Light Co.

The business of the corporation and its controlled companies includes service rendered to more than 470 municipalities. The electric power and light properties, with a generating capacity of over 337,000 kw., serve without compensation over 255,000 customers. The gas properties, with a generating capacity of about 27,000,000 cubic feet of artificial gas a day, serve, also without competition, over 91,000 customers. The city railway and bus properties have over 235 miles of routes. The principal portion of the electric trunk line railroad system, which has over 550 miles of main line track, connects the cities of Peoria, Springfield, Bloomington, Danville Urbana, Champaign and Decatur with St. Louis, which it enters over its steel toll bridge into its own terminal in the heart of the city. Company also controls a steam railroad entering East St. Louis and exchanging traffic with the St. Louis Belt System.

Security.—Bonds are secured by direct mortgage or collateral lien, on properties appraised at a value in excess of the total mortgage bonds outstanding, and are a direct first mortgage or lien, free of prior encumbrance, on properties, including some of the most important power and light properties of the system, which alone produce net earnings greater than the annual interest requirements on the first and refunding mortgage bonds out standing. The mortgage contains provisions permitting its modification (except in certain important particulars) with the assent of the trustee and the holders of 80% in aggregate principal amount of bonds outstanding thereunder.

Market Street Ry.—Purchase by City Urged.—

Acquisition by the municipality of San Francisco of the Co's properties is urged as the logical solution of the local traction problem, by Dr. Delos F. Wilcox in a 225-page report on the situation submitted to the City Board of Supervisors.

The questions to be solved, Dr. Wilcox points out, are just two:

Making the street car service, whether it is conducted under municipal or private operation, pay its expenses, and maintaining if possible the present 5c. fare.

To accomplish these ends Dr. Wilcox recommends union of all the lines under one ownership and operation, namely the city.

If the purchase is to be made it should be for cash, Dr. Wilcox declares, and he suggests as the city's offer, $20,000,000 to be paid for the Market Street Railway Co.'s properties, and $1,000,000 for those of the California Street Co.

The "pay-as-you-go" plan, often discussed, he holds is not desirable, for the reason that the system would not pay out on the price paid.

The report goes exhaustively into the situation caused by the franchises which will soon begin to expire.

The first to die is that of the California Street Co., which goes out in Sept. 1929.

The franchises of the Market Street Co. will begin to expire in the same month, and by Jan. 1 1930, all of the main franchises of that company will be dead.

The last of this company's rights to use city streets run until 1947. However, after Jan. 1 1930, the company will be unable to continue in operation, he declares, because of the financial difficulties involved in running a system with so many of its lines dead.

Even now many of the company's lines are not paying operating expenses, he points out, especially those south of Mission Street, and last year the company fell short by $650,000 from making its legally permitted return of 7% on its system at a book value of $26,000,000.

"It is clear," the report states, "that only by a substantial operating economy can a 5c. fare and the present municipal wage scale be retained under consolidation."—V. 125, p. 2387.

Gross earnings from operation	$1,909,559	$2,526,663

Ann. int. requirements on $9,000,000 1st M. bds. (this issue)		$450,000

Net earnings, as shown above for the 12 months ended Sept. 30 1927 were equal to more than twice the annual interest requirements on this issue of bonds.

Of the total gross earnings for the 12 months ended Sept. 30 1927 of properties now operated approximately 81% was derived from electric power and light service, 8% from transportation service, 5% from manufactured gas service, and 6% from miscellaneous business.

Property and Service.—Physical property owned by the company (together with certain minor property owned by a subsidiary, Mississippi Central Power Co.) includes electric generating stations having an aggregate installed capacity of 16,250 kilowatts, 766 miles of high-voltage transmission lines, 427 miles of electric distribution system, gas generating capacity of 900,000 cu. ft. per day, 24 miles of gas mains and 25 miles of electric railway track.

A substantial portion of the company's power supply is purchased under favorable contract from Louisiana Power & Light Co. (an associated company), whose Sterlington steam electric generating station is located in the Monroe natural gas field in northeastern Louisiana. The energy is delivered over 110,000-volt lines to Mississippi Power & Light Co. at Greenville and Vicksburg, Miss.

Transmission lines recently completed include a 110,000-volt line, 95 miles in length, extending from Cleveland northward through the delta to the Mississippi-Tennessee State line and effecting an interconnection with the properties of Memphis Power & Light Co. Lines now nearing completion include a 110,000-volt line, approximately 62 miles in length, extending from Indianaola eastward to Grenada.

Interconnection.—Transmission systems of the company in northern and southern Mississippi form a part of a large interconnected system which serves wide areas in Mississippi and the three adjacent States of Arkansas, Louisiana and Tennessee.

Company's electric properties are, with a few minor exceptions, completely interconnected with each other directly or through the lines of its associated companies, Arkansas Power & Light Co. and Louisiana Power & Light Co., and are also interconnected with those of Memphis Power & Light Co.

The electric properties of the company are operated in two principal groups.

The northern group is interconnected at Greenville with the extensive transmission system of Arkansas Power & Light Co., serving a large part of the State of Arkansas, and at the Mississippi-Tennessee State line with the properties of Memphis Power & Light Co. This latter interconnection was recently effected by completion of a new 110,000-volt transmission line, 95 miles in length, between Cleveland, Miss., and the Mississippi-Tennessee State line. Through the lines of Arkansas Power & Light Co., interconnection is had with the Sterlington steam electric generating station owned by Louisiana Power & Light Co.

The southern group is directly interconnected with the Sterlington station by a 110,000-volt line of Louisiana Power & Light Co. tying in to the properties of Mississippi Power & Light Co. at Vicksburg. A 110,000-volt transmission line of Mississippi Power & Light Co. extends east from Vicksburg to Jackson and thence south to the Mississippi-Louisiana State line, where it interconnects with properties in southeastern Louisiana owned by Louisiana Power & Light Co.

The interconnections of the company's electric properties already made and those under way provide consumers with a greater assurance of an ample and uninterrupted supply of electrical energy, in addition to affording facilities for the effective interchange of electrical energy, which is of great economic importance not only to the companies so interconnected but also to consumers and the territories served. It is expected that the adequate power supply thus made available will be an important factor contributing to the further industrial upbuilding and growth in population and wealth of the territory served by the company.

Franchises.—The franchises under which the company operates are, generally, satisfactory from a business standpoint and free from burdensome restrictions.

Supervision.—Company is controlled through ownership of all its 2d pref. and common stocks by Electric &Power & Light Corp.

Electric Bond & Share Co. supervises (under the direction and control of the boards of directors of the respective companies) the operations of Electric Power & Light Corp. and Miss. Power & Light Co.—V. 123, p. 2391

Dillon, Read & Co., Lee, Higginson & Co. and Continental & Commercial Co. have sold at 94¾ and int., to yield 4.84%, $9,702,000 1st & ref. mtge. 4½% gold bonds, series "D." Dated June 1 1926; due June 1 1956 (see description and original offering in V. 122, p. 3606).

Data from Letter of Geo. N. Tidd, President of the Company.

Company.—Owns and operates large electric power and light generating plants and transmission and distribution systems in important manufacturing, mining, agricultural and stock-raising sections of Ohio. Company owns transmission and distribution lines aggregating 3,924 miles and supplies electric power and light service to 268 communities in a prosperous territory in Ohio, having an estimated population of 800,000.

The company's principal electric generating stations are located at Philo, Ohio, and Power (formerly Windsor), W. Va. All the electric power and light properties owned by the company are interconnected by high-voltage transmission lines and this system in the State of Ohio is connected with the high voltage lines of other subsidiaries of American Gas & Electric Co. This interconnected system, extending into 7 States, constitutes one of the largest superpower systems in the world.

Security.—The bonds (of which $43,131,500 will be outstanding upon completion of the present financing) are secured by direct mortgage lien on the company's plants and physical properties. Such plants and properties are valued at an amount substantially in excess of the funded debt of the company, based on an appraisal made by Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., in 1921, with subsequent additions at cost. The mortgage is a first lien on the greater part of the company's physical properties; on the remainder it is subject to $2,648,000 divisional lien bonds outstanding under closed mortgages. All these divisional lien bonds must be paid at maturity and not extended.

Purpose.—Proceeds will provide part of the funds required for the retirement of the $9,702,000 1st & ref. mtge. 7% gold bonds, series A, now outstanding.

Earnings.—Gross earnings (incl. other income) and total net revenue, derived from all properties now owned, have steadily increased in recent years as indicated below. a Incl. other income. b 12 months ended Sept. 30.

Data from Letter of Thomas N. McCarter, Pres. of the Company.

Company.—One of the largest companies of its kind in the world. Owns or controls electric and gas systems serving a rapidly growing population in New Jersey estimated at over 2,900,000, or over 80% of the population of the State. The territory served extends from the Hudson River opposite N. Y. City southwest across the State to the Delaware River opposite Philadelphia and includes Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, Trenton, Camden, Elizabeth, Bayonne, Hoboken, Passaic, the Oranges, Perth Amboy, Union City and New Brunswick.

Company's electric system includes 10 generating stations with an aggregate rated capacity of 624,432 kv-a., approximately 1,320 miles of transmission lines and 35,000 miles of distribution wire, serving over 767,000 electric customers. Its gas system includes 12 generating plants with an aggregate capacity of 114,000,000 cu. ft. daily, and over 4,200 miles of mains, serving over 714,000 gas customers.

Security.—Bonds are secured by mortgage on all of the company's mortgageable property and by pledge of leasehold estates. The mortgaged and pledged property, as valued in 1924 by independent engineers plus net additions to date at cost, is over twice the company's funded debt to be held by the public upon completion of this financing plus the securities of leased companies in the hands of the public.

The property on which these bonds are secured by first mortgage includes over two-thirds of the electric generating capacity of the system—the Kearny power plant of 215,588 kv-a. installed capacity and the Essex power plant of 205,044 kv-a. installed capacity—and is valued, as above, at substantially more than the principal amount of the first and refunding mortgage bonds outstanding.

Purpose.—Proceeds of these $45,000,000 bonds will provide for the retirement of all of the outstanding $40,601,000 1st & ref. mtge. gold bonds, 5½% series due 1959 and 5½% series due 1964, (which will be called for payment at 105 and int. on April 1 1928, and Feb. 1 1928, respectively), and for expenditures already made for additions and improvements to the properties.

Company.—A Maine corporation. Organized in 1904 for the purpose of holding for income and (or) for sale the securities of railroads and public utility enterprises and have operated successfully for over 23 years. Unusual stability of income results from the wide diversification of the company's present holdings, which include bonds of 38 and stocks of 25 public utility and railroad companies. The business has been profitable, due both to the steady income from these holdings and to their market appreciation.

Security.—The $1,000,000 ninth series 5% bonds are a direct obligation of the company and are secured by pledge of collateral with a market value of over $1,300,000. Indenture provides that the market value of the pledge collateral, consisting of bonds, notes, stocks and other securities, shall be equal at all times to not less than 120% of the principal amount of bonds of the ninth series at the time outstanding, and shall include bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness of a market value not less than 60% of the principal amount of bonds of this series outstanding. Within the above limitations the company may make withdrawals and substitution of collateral in the conduct of its business.

Sinking Fund.—Indenture provides that the company, beginning in 1932, shall retire annually $20,000 of the outstanding bonds of this ninth series. This sinking fund will retire $400,000 face amount of bonds prior to maturity.

Interest payable without deduction for normal Federal income tax, not in excess of 2%. Auth., $1,000,000.

Data from Letter of W. L. Pearson, President of the Company.

Company.—A Texas corporation organized in 1923. Supplies natura gas to the City of Corpus Christi, and to Houston Gulf Gas Co., on contracts which after Dec. 1 1927, will call for a guaranteed minimum of 26,000,000 cubic feet per day. Both of these customers have expended large sums for pipe lines and other equipment in reliance upon these agreements and the large proven gas reserves of the Saxet Co.

Security.—Bonds are secured by deposit of leases and contracts, owned or controlled by the company, covering gas rights in approximately 11,300 acres of land in South Central Texas. Messrs. Brokaw, Dixon, Garner & McKee, Engineers and Geologists, New York, have estimated that the reserve in the company's proven acreage, amounts to 53,750,000,000 cubic feet of gas, with probable additional reserves of 127,750,000,000 cubic feet. They have placed a present value on these properties of $1,150,000 and on completion of this financing and including a reserve of $250,000 to be used for further development a total of $1,400,000.

Earnings.—The net income of the company, available for interest, income taxes and depletion, as audited by Thulin & Co., Public Accountants, has been as follows:

During the past 2 years, therefore, the company's net income has averaged over 3.6 times maximum interest on these bonds, and for the year ended Aug. 31 1927, amounted to over 5 times such requirements. Net income for the last 3 months of this period as follows: June, 1927, $11,933: July, 1927, $21,609: Aug., 1927, $25,255; total, $58,798.

The increase during this period was due to the contract with Houston Gulf Gas Co., which became operative on July 6 1927. Net income for the 3 months was at the rate of over 7 times maximum bond interest. The new contract with Houston Gulf Gas Co., which will take effect Dec. 1 1927, calling for the purchase of a guaranteed minimum of 25,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, together with the guaranteed minimum in the contract with the City of Corpus Christi, should produce an annual net income, available for interest, taxes and depletion, in excess of $300,000.

Sinking Fund.—Beginning Dec. 1 1927 the company agrees to deposit monthly, to and including Jan. 1 1930, the sum of $12,000 as a sinking fund; and thereafter, beginning Feb. 1 1930, to deposit monthly, so long as any of these bonds remain unpaid, the sum of $19,500, as such sinking fund. Company also agrees to deposit monthly, as an additional sinking fund, a sum equal to 50% of its gross income, during the preceding month, from the sale of gas in excess of 32,000,000 cubic feet per day. Sinking fund moneys shall be applied semi-annually to the payment of bond interest and Federal income taxes in respect to such interest; and to the purchase of bonds at not to exceed the call price, or, if sufficient bonds are not available, to their redemption at such call price.

On the basis of the minimum sinking fund which the company is required to pay, all of these series A bonds will be retired prior to maturity.

Purpose.—The proceeds of this financing will be used to partially reimburse the company for capital expenditures, to provide funds for the development of additional acreage, and for other corporate purposes.

Southern California Gas Corp.—Organized.—

The corporation has been formed for the purpose of acquiring substantially all of the common stock of Southern California Gas Co., a California corporation, which company has recently consolidated the properties of Midway Gas Co., Central Counties Gas Co., River Bend Gas & Water Co., and Hanford Gas & Power Co., located in the State of California. Southern Cities Utilities. Co.—Pref. Stock Sold.—

The company recently completed a successful 12-day customer ownership campaign in which applications for more than 2,500 shares of its $6 prior pref. stock were received from approximately 750 customers by the employees of its subsidiary properties in Tennessee and Alabama. This campaign was supervised and directed by representatives of the customer ownership department of P. H. Whiting & Co., Inc., New York.—V. 125, p. 2266.

Issuance.—Approved by The Railroad Commission of Wisconsin.

Data from Letter of E. C. Deal, President of the Company.

Company.—A Wisconsin corporation will directly own and operate properties which supply electric light and power, gas or water service, without competition, for domestic and industrial purposes to various cities and communities located in the State of Wisconsin. Over 72% of the net earnings derived from operation are from the electric properties. The territory served by the properties has a population of approximately 45,000.

Electric light and power, generated by hydro-electric plants, is supplied to a number of communities approximately 65 miles from Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn. The majority of these communities are interconnected by high tension lines. This section is one of the prosperous farming and dairying districts of the State. Trunk line railways and exceptionally fine highways facilitate transportation of produce to the principal markets of the middle west. In addition to serving customers on its own distribution systems, the properties render service at wholesale to several municipally and privately owned systems and also supply a substantial part of the energy requirements of the Rice Lake system of Northern States Power Co. There is also a favorable interchange power contract with Northern States Power Co.

x Issuance limited by the provisions of the mortgage.

The Seaboard National Bank of the City of New York has been appointed transfer agent of 20,000 shares preferred stock, par $100.

Security.—This issue which will constitute the only funded debt of the company, will be secured by a direct first mortgage on all the physical properties of the company. The depreciated value of the properties, as determined by The Railroad Commission of Wisconsin as a basis for the issuance of the securities of the company to be presently outstanding is in excess of $3,260,000.

Earnings.—The earnings of the properties are reported as follows:

Gross revenues	$500,009	$474,189	$431,536

Balance	$281,117	$271,526	$233,076

The annual interest requirements on company's entire funded indebtedness (this issue) requires $100,000.

Physical Properties.—The electric properties consist principally of 8 hydro-electric generating plants having a total installed capacity of 4,600 k. w., and over 315 miles of transmission lines. The principal electric lines are 22,000 volts, so constructed as to form a continuous circuit loop around the major portion of the district served, thus affording a high degree of efficiency and economy in operation. A 1,200 k. w. plant recently completed on the Namakagon River is materially improving power generating conditions. Company will control undeveloped waterpower sites, capable of producing approximately 4,000 additional h.p. The properties and equipment have been well constructed and excellently maintained and are for the most part of recent installation.

The water properties comprise systems serving Ashland at retail and Hurley at wholesale. Water for Ashland is produced from Lake Superior. The supply for Hurley is obtained from Lake Lavina, constituting a practically inexhaustible source. The gas properties at Monroe and Platteville are adequate and well maintained plants.

As of Oct. 1 1927 the properties were serving approximately 6,400 customers, of which 3,736 were electric customers.

Management.—Company is controlled by Peoples Light & Power Corp. which controls and manages a group of public utility properties located in 13 States and serving a population estimated to be in excess of 385,000.

Purpose.—Proceeds from the sale of the securities authorized by The Railroad Commission of Wisconsin, will be used for acquisition of the properties and for other corporate purposes.

American Woolen Co.—Wood's Estate Obtains Attachment in Boston Suit Seeking Order on Tax Payments.—

A special precept of attachment for $5,000,000 against the properties of the company, in the northern and southern districts of Middlesex, Essex and Worcester Counties and in Norfolk and Plymouth Counties of Massachusetts was authorized Nov. 21 by Judge Bishop of the Massachusetts Superior Court.

The Court acted on the motion of F. H. Nash of the law firm of Choate, Hall & Stewart, representing the Old Colony Trust Co. and Cornelius A. Wood of Andover, as executors of the estate of William M. Wood, late President of the company.

The executors want the company to be ordered to perform, specifically, the terms of an alleged contract based on a vote of the board of directors as of Aug. 3 1916 and amended March 25 1918, concerning the payment by the company of Federal and State income taxes out of the treasury of the company, so that the officers and other employees named in the resolution would receive their salaries or other compensation from the company without shrinkage.

The executors also want the Court to have the respondent company procure the release of the estate of William M. Wood from future liability for future income taxes, and to indemnify the estate against costs, expenses and charges incurred in that connection

Will Vigorously Fight the Wood Estate Suit.—

Concerning the suit of the estate of William M. Wood, A. G. Pierce, president, makes the following statement:

"The company has paid in full Mr. Wood's salary and the tax assessed on that salary. Mr. Wood's executors now want the company to pay a tax on the tax that the company paid for Mr. Wood, and another tax on that tax and so on. The company is advised that it is not bound to do this. The claim will be vigorously defended."—V. 125, p. 1328.

George Wigglesworth and the other trustees of the company says: The Amoskeag Mfg. Co. has acquired and retired all of its $28,500,000 of preferred stock and paid therefor $8,135,076 in cash, $14,665,000 in 20-year 6% gold bonds dated Jan. 1 1928 and 13,191 shares of common stock.

The trustees who held 93.37% of the preferred shares of the Manufacturing company by means of this transaction now hold $13,692,700 of the company's 6% bonds and 342,316 shares of common stock.

These steps were taken pursuant to the vote passed at the shareholders' meeting held in Manchester, Oct. 5 1927.

After reserving sufficient assets for the Amoskeag Co's preferred shareholders, there remain available cash and securities to permit your trustees to make the following proposal:

To such of the common shareholders as wish to avail of it, they offer, at any time until Dec. 6 1927.

For each common share of Amoskeag Company, $52 in cash, $40 in 6% bonds and 1 Amoskeag Manufacturing Co. common share.

The Old Colony Trust Co., upon presentation of certificates, properly endorsed and stamped for transfer, on or before Dec. 6 1927, will pay the cash and give a receipt calling for the new bonds and shares when ready.

The Amoskeag Co. will continue as in the past and a common shareholder may therefore if he prefers retain his present shares having behind them their pro rata share of the company's assets, including cash and securities received from the Manufacturing company. In that case shareholders need take no steps whatever.

The trustees have had two objects in mind. (1) To distribute to such common shareholders as wished their proportion of the company's assets thereby preventing anyone else acquiring them below their true value. (2) To secure continued operation of the works to Manchester and New Hampshire without the danger of wasteful wrecking.

The plan places the plant where it should be, upon its own responsibility to succeed or fail. The Manufacturing company is provided with sufficient means to operate. Bond interest must be earned and paid as well as a reasonable return upon the money invested in the businses. To accomplish this end the management must first institute every possible economy and the community and employees must do whatever is necessary to enable the concern to complete in the market with other mills. Otherwise there can be but one result.

The plan now presented is the result of long and careful consideration and has been adopted by the board as being in their judgment advantageous for the shareholders.

The 20-year 6% bonds will be callable in whole or in part on any interest date at 105. In the case of liquidation and the winding up of the company's business the bonds will be paid off at par.

A suitable indenture will be executed between the company and the Old Colony Trust Co. as trustee for the protection of the bonds, providing a covenant by the company that no mortgage shall be placed upon the property of the company without the consent of two-thirds of the principal amount of the bonds then outstanding and that any such mortgage shall ratably secure such outstanding bonds and a further convenant that net quick assets of the company shall not fall below 50% of the principal amount of the bonds outstanding.

At the meeting of the Manufacturing company, G. P. Gardner Jr., W. H. Trumbull Jr., and Robert Windsor were added to the board.—V. 125, p. 2390.

Amsterdam Trading Co. (Handelsvereenigin "Amsterdam" Holland).—Exchange Not to List "American Shares."—The New York "Times" Nov. 19 says: "One of the two foreign companies first proposed for listing on the New York Stock Exchange under that institution's recent plan to create an international securities market here has, upon the motion of its own officials, been put on the "waiting list" because they did not feel that a New York market for their shares was necessary or desirable.

"The Stock Exchange, by the action of this company, the Amsterdam Trading Co., has met the first rebuff in its ambitious effort to become a world market. At the same time, it has been confronted with a delicate problem in deciding whether it should list foreign shares that are properly accredited by American banking interests where the company concerned does not seek listing privileges.

"In the case of the Amsterdam Trading Co., the problem is complicated by the fact that two of its officials appeared before the Stock List Committee of the Exchange and formally opposed the listing of the shares. This happened after the bankers who marketed the shares here, Brown Brothers & Co. and Charles D. Barney & Co., had sought to have the stock listed in conformance with their advertised assurance that "application will be made to list the 'American shares' on the New York Stock Exchange."

The stock consisting of 50,000 shares, is represented by original shares of the Amsterdam Trading Co. deposited in Amsterdam. The bankers purchased the original stock in the open market in Amsterdam. Every 40 American shares are represented by or 'exchangeable for one deposited share deliverable at the office of the agent of the depositary in Amsterdam' and that after May 1 1928. See also V. 125, p. 2532.

The American shares of the company, it is said may be listed on the New York Curb Market.—V. 125, p. 2532.

Bell Financial Corp.—To Extend Activities.—This corporation, which already has acquired two banks and controls two well known investment corporations, plans to materially extend its activities within the next few months, it was announced Nov. 24, by President Samuel Katz. Plans under way, it was stated, contemplate the acquisition of a number of financing and investment companies, which will materially enlarge the scope and importance of the corporation.

"While the corporation is primarily a bank and investment company holding corporation," said Mr. Katz, " it may from time to time participate in approved underwriting syndicates. However, the major part of its activities will be confined to ownership, or control of established profitable banks, investment companies and kindred organizations."

The two banks which the corporation has acquired are the Century Bank of New York, on 23rd St., between 8th and 9th Aves., and the Dewey State Bank of Brooklyn, N. Y., of which Louis Margolis is president. The resources of the Century Bank have increased to $1,000,000 since its affiliations with the Bell Corporation, it is stated.

Its capital has been increased 3 times in a period of a year. It is estimated that this company's net income for the current fiscal year will exceed $24 a share.

The Elpeco Trading Co., organized in 1918 and now capitalized at $1,000,000, is another subsidiary of the Bell Financial Corp. This company discounts notes and trade acceptances and furnishes liquid cash for accounts receivable.

Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Inc.—May Acquire Candy Company.—

The company has obtained an option to purchase the Campfire Corp., a Milwaukee candy manufacturing company, it is announced by Paul L. Bedel, president of the latter company.

The Campfire company has been reorganized as the Campfire Corp. of Delaware as a step in preparation for the proposed merger, with approximately $500,000 additional cash put into the business.

Under provisions of the option the Canada Dry company has the privilege of taking over in exchange for the equivalent of its own stock all the outstanding stock of the Campfire company.

Besides its factory and offices in Milwaukee the Campfire company has plants at Montreal and at Cambridge, Mass.

The option was given in connection with an arrangement made by the Canada Dry company about a month ago to distribute the product of the Campfire Corp. in the metropolitan district for the ensuing two years. The Campfire Corp. manufactures marshmallows and marshmallow creams. It has no distributing organization in the metropolitan district.—V. 125, p. 2534.

Canadian Canners, Ltd.—Scheme of Arrangement.—

The stockholders will vote Dec. 20 on approving a scheme of arrangement which provides that the authorized capitalization be changed from 100,000 shares of 7% cumulative preference stock (par $100) and 25,000 shares of common stock (par $100) into 50,000 shares of 6% cumul. 1st preference stock (par $100), 400,000 shares of convertible preference stock (no par value) and 200,000 shares of common stock (no par value).

Each two shares of preference stock now outstanding or unissued shall be converted into one share of 6% cumulative 1st preference stock and 8 shares of convertible preference stock.

Each share of common stock now outstanding or unissued shall be converted into 6 shares of common stock of no par value.

The holders of the new 6% cumulative 1st preference stock will have preference and priority over the convertible preference stock and over the common stock on any voluntary or involuntary liquidation to the amount of the var value thereof and any accumulated and unpaid dividends to the date of payment. Said shares will be subject to redemption at $105 and accrued dividends per share, or will be purchasable in the open market for redemption.

The convertible preference stock will have preference and priority over the common stock of any voluntary or involuntary liquidation to the amount of $20 for each share. Said shares will be subject to redemption at $20 per share on 30 days' notice from the company subject, however, to the right of the holder to elect to convert the same into common shares, share for share. The maximum dividend payable in any year on the convertible preference stock will be $1 per share, and when the quarterly dividend thereon exceeds the rate of 60c. per annum, the convertible preference and common shares will participate simultaneously in any further distribution of earnings in the proportion of two for the convertible preference stock to 5 for the common stock up to the maximum of $1 per share each, after which all further distributions of earnings will be payable to the holders of common shares only.

At present the company has outstanding $2,282,500 common stock and $9,114,300 preference stock.

Chairman Avern Pardoe, Nov. 15, says in substance:

At the end of 1927 the accumulation of unpaid dividends on the preference stock will amount to 21½%. At that time there will also be an accumulation on the common shares of 17½, which would have to be paid before the holders of preference and common stock would be entitled to participate equally in further earnings.

When the company was incorporated in 1923 the individual companies which became integral parts of the Canadian Canners, Ltd., had real estate, buildings and fixtures of such a large value that when the same were paid for in preference stock of the latter company, the issued preference stock became 4 times greater than the amount of issued common stock. This has militated greatly against the stockholders' interests in many ways. First and foremost it has resulted in banking and other financial interests regarding the preference stock issue of the company as little better than a common stock issue.

If the scheme of arrangement is adopted a first quarterly dividend will be paid on Jan. 1 1928, on the proposed new 6% cumulative 1st preference stock, and a first quarterly dividend of 15 cents will also be paid on the same date on the convertible preference shares. This will mean that the present annual return to the holders of the existing preference stock will be at the rate of $5.40 per share or an immediate increase of 40 cents per share per annum.—V. 125, p. 2534.

Detroit-Ontario Subways, Inc.—Vehicular Tunnel to Be Financed in New York—Project Will Be Operated as Private Enterprise.—New York bankers will finance the construction of a vehicular tunnel to be built by the Detroit-Ontario Subways, Inc., from Detroit to Windsor, Ont. The voters of Detroit on Nov. 8 approved, by an overwhelming majority, a city ordinance giving the Detroit-Ontario Subways, Inc., the right to construct and operate this tunnel, which will be similar to the Holland Vehicular Tubes. A charter has been granted by a special Act of Provincial Parliament covering the construction of the Canadian section, and it is expected that actual construction will begin by Jan. 1 1928.

Wm. A. Comstock, prominently identified with the lumber industry in Michigan, and who has built and operated railroads in many States, is President of the Detroit-Windsor Subways, Inc. The corporation is authorized to construct under city streets or city-owned property in the downtown area of Detroit adjoining the section for the proposed Civic Centre.

Borings in the river and on both Canadian and American sides have been completed, all traffic studies and completed surveys made, War Department hearing has been held and final plans and specifications will be ready within a few weeks. Parsons, Klapp Brinckerhoff & Douglas have done all preliminary engineering work and prepared their plans and specifications. Construction contracts will be let on the basis of competitive bids. The nation's second great vehicular tunnel will be built under their supervision with Ole Singstadt, chief engineer of the Holland tunnel, as chief consulting engineer. In contrast with the building of the Holland tunnel by the States of New York and New Jersey, the Detroit-Windsor tunnel will be privately owned.

The Canada Trust Co., trustee. Legal investment for life insurance companies under the Insurance Act, 1917, Canada.

Future issues may be made in one or more series at such rates of interest and under such terms as the Trust may determine at the time of each issue, but no issues may be made ranking senior to the bonds of series "A."—V. 124, p. 1225.

Ford Motor Co.—Stockholders of Old Bankrupt Lincoln Motor Co. Bring Suit for $6,000,000 Against Fords—Failed to Keep Verbal Agreement.—

Detroit dispatches Nov. 15 stated that the long-heralded suit of the stockholders of the Lincoln Motor Co. against Henry Ford and Edsel Ford, making claims of about $6,000,000 for some 1,800 individuals, was filed Nov. 15 in the Circuit Court at Pontiac, Mich.

The suit sets forth, in effect, that the Fords made verbal promise to Henry M. Leland and Wilfred C. Leland that he would reimburse the stockholders of the Lincoln Motor Co. when the Fords bought the Lincoln plant from the receiver in bankruptcy in 1922 for $8,000,000.

At the time of the sale the elder Leland was President and Wilfred C. Leland was Vice-President of the company. The suit is brought in their names.

The bill of complaint asks that the stock of the new Lincoln Motor Co. now held by the Fords by held in trust for the benefit of the plaintiff stockholders, among whom are persons from all walks of life, residents of Detroit and many other cities in the United States and Canada.

"They (the Fords) came into possession of a going concern, the fair value of which was upward of $25,000,000," the complaint states.

The plaintiffs ask that the Court order an accounting to made of the sums invested by the plaintiffs in the old company and by the Fords of all dividends received by them from the company, the dividends to be held in trust for the benefit of the plaintiffs.

The Court is also asked to require the defendants to transfer the stock of the company to the plaintiffs and decree that the stock may be sold, the balance after certain payments to the defendants to be distributed among the plaintiffs proportionately to their interests.

A decree that the Fords are personally liable to the plaintiffs in the amounts found to have been invested by them with interest at 5% is further sought.—V. 124, p. 2127.

Data from Letter of John Polachek, Pres. of the Company:

Corporation.—Incorp. in New York on Nov. 21 1927. Corporation is to acquire as of Oct. 31 1927 all the property, business and good-will of John Polachek Bronze & Iron Co., Inc., and Renaissance Bronze & Iron Works, Inc., subject to the outstanding liabilities which are to be assumed. The predecessor companies have been engaged for many years in the manufacture of bronze and iron work for architectural and ornamental purposes for public buildings, banks, office buildings, residences, etc. The 2 plants to be acquired are located in L. I. City, New York, and consist of modern, well equipped brick and steel manufacturing and foundry buildings covering over 2 acres of ground. Increased output and substantial savings in manufacturing costs are expected to result from a rearrangement of departmental operations of the two plants. The aggregate number of employees is over 500.

Capitalization—

	Authorized.	Outstanding.
7% cumul. convertible pref. stk. (par $100)	$3,000,000	$1,500,000
Common stock (no par value)	300,000 shs.	*175,000 shs.

*Not including 90,000 shares to be reserved for conversion of pref. stock.

Earnings.—The business does not require the maintenance of a stock inventory of finished products. All work is done under written contracts, from architects' plans and specifications, and the manufacturing operations extend over periods of from several months to two years. For these reason average annual earnings over a period of several years afford the most reliable measure of earning power.

Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, accountants and auditors, have examined the books and records of John Polachek Bronze & Iron Co., Inc., and its predecessor for the period from Jan. 1 1923, to Oct. 31 1927 (4 years and 10 months) and they certify aggregate net profits for this period, including estimated profits on partially completed contracts at Oct. 31 1927, and after allowances for Federal income taxes thereon and other deductions, to have been $1,341,168, which is at the average annual rate of $277,483. Such average annual earnings of the Polachek business alone were more than 2.6 times the annual dividend requirements on the 7% cumul. convertible preferred stock to be outstanding on the completion of this financing.

For the 16 months ended Oct. 31 1927 the same auditors report upon a like basis net profits, after allowances for Federal income Taxes thereon, for John Polachek Bronze & Iron Co., Inc. of $623,256, and for the 22 months ended Oct. 31 1927, net profits, after allowances for Federal income taxes thereon, for Renaissance Bronze & Iron Works, Inc., of $240,453. The conbined current net profits of the predecessor companies for said respective periods have been at the average annual rate of $598,598, which is more than 5½ times the annual dividend requirenents on 1,500,000 7% cunulative convertible prefered stock, and after deductions of such pref. stock dividend is equal to earnings at the annual rate of $2.81 per share on 175,000 shares of common stock. The foregoing figures do not include the income to be derived from the net cash proceeds of the sale of $1,000,000 of preferred stock by the corporation.

The ultimate capacity of the station will be 240,000 kilowatts, and will be used to meet the fast growing load demand of the South.—V. 125, p. 2272.

General Motors Corp.—October Car Sales.—Commenting on the October sales of General Motors cars, President Alfred P. Sloan Jr., said:

Retail sales of motor cars by General Motors dealers to consumers in October were 153,833. This compares with 99,073 in Oct. 1926 and further with 86,281 in Oct. 1925. The increase of October this year over last year is 55.3%. Sales by General Motors to its dealers totaled 128,459 cars as compared with 115,849 in Oct. 1926 and further with 96,364 in Oct. 1925.

The purpose of issuing monthly statements of sales to consumers and sales to dealers is to keep the public correctly informed as to the trend of motor car sales throughout the world to the extent that General Motors operations makes that possible. To avoid misunderstanding, in dealing with the figures now being reported, specific attention is called to the fact that the October sales are larger than would normally be expected and in excess of the current sales trend having been influenced, by aggressive sales campaigns, tending to advance into October business that would otherwise have been consummated in November. Therefore, sales for November may be expected to be adversely influenced this year and may even be less than the corresponding month of a year ago as similar campaigns were carried on last year in the month of November.

The following tabulation shows monthly sales of General Motors cars by dealers to ultimate consumers and sales by the manufacturing divisions of General Motors to their dealers:

Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, O.—Minority Stockholder Seeks Injunction to Prevent New Pref. Stock Issue.—

A Cleveland, Ohio dispatch, Nov. 23, says: An attack on the company's refinancing plan and request that the company be stopped from issuing new preferred stock for payment of dividends accrued on old preferred stock was made Nov. 23 in Common Pleas Court at Cleveland.

A minority stockholders, Kent P. Johnson, of Kenton, Ohio, is plaintiff, who says he represents 5,000 other small stockholders.

The company, according to the petition, owes $25 on each share of old preferred stock and planned to pay it by issuing stockholders 5 shares of the new for 4 of the old. It seeks to issue $100,000,000 worth of new preferred, which is unnecessary, the plaintiff contends, because the corporation had in its treasury $35,000,000 worth of unissued old preferred stock which could have been used toward paying off the accrued dividends, which total about $16,000,000.

Mr. Johnson and his attorneys also challenge the notification sent to shareholders by the corporation that no holders of old preferred stock would be entitled to vote or receive dividends after Oct. 15 1927, unless they surrendered their old shares for the new, on the 5 for 4 basis. He declares he should have the right to demand cash instead of the new stock.

The petition challenges the corporation's interpretation of the recently enacted General Corporation act of Ohio, which permitted, according to the corporation, issuance of preferred stock for payment of accrued dividends. The law does not give such permission, the plaintiff contends, and the petition alleges that the corporation officials were guilty of misrepresentation.

[Over 80% of the old preferred stock has already been exchanged for the new on the 5 for 4 basis.]—V. 125, p. 2817.

Net income for the first 10 months of 1927 is equal to $34.05 a share, or about double that of last year, it is stated.—V. 124, p. 1227.

Fraser to the Federal District Court as company operates under a charter granted by the State of New Jersey. Mr. Fraser recently obtained an alternate writ of mandamus directing company to pay him the par value of the preferred stock held by him or show cause why it should not do so on the ground that the company had begun distribution of assets in payment of dividends on the common stock out of capital surplus.—V. 125, p. 2675.

Guardian Title & Mortgage Guaranty Co. of N. J.

Hare & Chase, Inc., Phila.—Receiver Refused.—

The Chancery Court at Wilmington, Del., has refused to appoint a receiver pendente lite for the company, pending a final hearing on applications of D. M. Freeman, of Washington, for a permanent receiver.—V. 125, p. 790.

Hazeltine Corp.—Radio Litigation.—

An action alleging infringement of U. S. patent No. 1, 648,808 has been filed in the Brooklyn Federal District Court by the company against E. A. Wildermuth, a distributor of radio receiving apparatus for Atwater Kent Manufacturing Co. of Philadelphia. The patent involved covers many important features of inventions of Prof. L. A. Hqzeltine which resulted in changing radio receiver design and made tuned radio frequency apparatus the dominant type of broadcast receiver.

The present suit is the third of a series brought by the plaintiff against distributors of the Philadelphia manufacturer. Another action against Atwater Kent Manufacturing Co. is pending in Federal District Court of Philadelphia. The present suit asks a permanent injunction restraining the defendant from selling the alleged infringing apparatus. Accounting of damages is also sought.—V. 125, p. 527.

President Shea of the Reece companies says: "Business of all Reece companies is in a healthy condition and increase in foreign business since the war has been such that the directors feel warranted in putting the International company stock on an 8% annual basis. The Reece companies have no debts either funded or otherwise and each has a substantial cash surplus. The Reece Buttonhole, the parent company, has an unbroken record of 42 years' continuous dividends."—V. 120, p. 2339.

Federal Commerce Trust Co., St. Louis recently offered $660,000 1st mtge. real estate serial 6% gold notes at 100 and int.

Dated March 15 1927; due serially March 15, 1929-1939. Prin. and int. (M. & S.) payable at Federal Commerce Trust Co., St. Louis, Mo., Trustee. Denom. $100, $500 and $1,000c*. Callable on any int. date on 60 days' notice at 102 and int. No portion of Federal income tax paid.

The property covered by this mortgage consists of three parcels of land and improvements thereon. The land has been valued at $227,000 and the buildings at $905,320 or a total of $1,132,320.

The property at the Northeast corner of Lafayette and Convention Streets is under a lease to the Standard Motor Car Co. until Jan. 1 1932, at an annual net rental of $9,759. "While it is gratifying to report the very favorable investment results obtained, yet it is appropriate to point out that (owing to the short period in which this fund has been in operation) these results cannot be accepted without reserve as a basis for future expectations."

McLellan Stores Co.—Recapitalization Plan Approved.—

The stockholders on Nov. 7 voted to increase the authorized capitalization from $2,000,000 7% preferred stock (par $100) 62,000 shares of class A common stock and 38,000 shares of class B common stock (both no par value) to $2,000,000 7% preferred stock (par $100) $7,500,000 preferred stock (par $100) and 372,000 shares of class A common and 228,000 shares of class B common stock (both no par value).

The stockholders also approved the following plans:

First.—To split up the shares of the common stock, both class A and B, so that each holder of such stock will receive a certificate for 5 additional shares of the same class without additional payment on his part, leaving sufficient class A common stock in the treasury for the purpose of providing for the right of conversion, share for share, into such common stock, of the amount of the preferred stock presently to be issued, as well as of future issues in subsequent series of the new preferred stock, if conversion shall then be thought advisable.

Second.—To provide for the exchange or redemption of the present limited issue of 7% preferred stock of which $1,931,800 is outstanding. The present preferred stock will be called for redemption on Jan. 1 1928, but in the meantime the holders will be given the right until Nov. 28 1927, to arrange for the exchange of such 7% preferred stock for the new 6% preferred stock, series A upon a basis which should be satisfactory to all concerned.

Third.—To authorize the issue in series of $7,500,000 of preferred stock of which 35,000 shares are presently to be issued as series A, entitled to cumulative dividends, at the rate of 6% per annum from Jan. 1 1928, redeemable at $110 per share and convertible on and after Jan. 2 1928 until Jan. 1 1933, share for share, into class A common stock. The remaining 40,000 shares of the new preferred stock will be reserved for future issue in one or more series as and if circumstances require.

Fourth.—To offer the right to subscribe to the new preferred stock, series A to the holders of record Nov. 7 1927, of the present class A and class B common stock in the ratio of one share of the preferred stock series A for each 5 shares of common stock held prior to the split up of the common shares as indicated above, this subscription right to be exercised up to and including Nov. 30 1927, at $105 per share less interest at the rate of 6% per annum from Dec. 1 to Jan. 1 1928, when the dividends upon the new preferred stock, series A will begin to accrue, thus making the net price per share, after the deduction of one month's interest, $104.50.

Fifth.—To provide for the underwriting of the 35,000 shares of the new preferred stock, series A by bankers at satisfactory prices, the purpose of such underwriting being to assure the sale of such of the preferred stock, series A as may not be exchanged for the present 7% preferred stock or subscribed for by the holders of the common stock, and thus to render certain the receipt of sufficient funds for the retirement of the present outstanding preferred stock and additional funds required for expansion.

President William W. McLellan, Oct. 27, says in part:

The number of stores operated by the company and also its gross sales have shown a rapid increase, as is indicated by the following figures taken from the company's records:

	Stores.	Sales.	x Profits.
1923	77	$4,699,472	$351,722
1924	81	5,551,555	421,557
1925	94	6,731,106	624,328
1926	112	9,486,549	903,334

x Before taxes or dividends.

At the present time numerous attractive opportunities for opening additional stores and increasing the gross sales and also the net earnings of the company present themselves and in the opinion of the officers and directors it is advisable that the company provide additional funds for the necessary and profitable expansion of its business by the issue of additional preferred stock. Furthermore, the market value of the common stock has increased to such a point that it is thought advisable to provide that the stock be split up 6 shares for 1 so as to establish a broader market for this stock and to render it less unwieldly for the purposes of purchase and sale. In addition, in order to make provision for the conversion of the new preferred stock upon any proper basis the split up of the common stock is necessary.

In view of the fact that the company will not be able to issue the new preferred stock, series A as a first preferred stock until after the redemption and retirement of the present 7% pref. stock the company will issue in the first instance registered transferable receipts calling for the delivery of shares of the new preferred stock, series A on and after Jan. 10 1928.

A cash dividend of 25 cents per share has been declared with respect to the present class A and class B common stock payable Jan. 2 1927 to holders of record Dec. 20 1927. As soon as practicable after Dec. 10 1927, the present certificates for class A and class B common stock will be exchangeable for new certificates which will represent 6 times the number of shares represented by the certificates surrendered for exchange. The cash dividend, however, will be paid only upon the present shares.

Redemption of Preferred Stock.—

All of the outstanding preferred stock has been called for redemption Jan. 2 1928 at 110 and divs at the Brooklyn Trust Co., 26 Broad St., N. Y. City.—V. 125, p. 2678.

(R. H.) Macy & Co.—5% Stock Dividend.—

The directors have declared a 5% stock dividend in addition to the regular quarterly cash dividend of $1.25 a share on the common stock, both payable Feb. 15 to holders of record Jan. 28.—V. 124, p. 2289.

Pres. Frederick M. Small, says in part: "In order to consolidate all of the companies we thought it advisable to anticipate the deferred payment of the Oakes Corp. (Del.) in its contract of purchase of the Oakes Co. (Ind.). We also purchased the minority interest of $12,400 at par in the Martin-Parry Corp. of Oregon and Washington. These two payments amounted to $252,400, which increased notes payable at the end of the year by that amount. This consolidated statement has eliminated all intercompany accounts.

"Notwithstanding the trying condition that the management has faced in the past year, and is still facing, I can say for the management that we are all extremely optimistic for the year 1928.

It manufactures 4 distinct lines of products: automatic screw machines and automatic chucking machines, brass and steel automatic screw machine products, automatic threading dies and taps, centrifugal clarifiers and separators and automatic filling machines. Company is the largest manufacturer of automatic screw machines and chucking machines in the country.

Company has recently acquired the business of the Positive Filling Machine Co. of Philadelphia, and is now producing a line of centrifugal clarifiers and separators adaptable to use in a wide range of products such as varnishes and lacquers, oils and dairy products, and automatic filling machines used in the paint and varnish trade and various other lines of industry for automatically filling containers of a variety of sizes.

Company has 2 plants, one at Cleveland, O., and one at Windsor, Vt. Company's automatic screw machine products, automatic threading dies and taps, centrifugal clarifiers and separators and filling machines are manufactured in Cleveland. Its automatic screw machines and chucking machines are manufactured at Windsor.

Security.—Secured by first closed mortgage on all of the fixed assets of the company, carried on its balance sheet as of Sept. 30 1927, at the depreciated value of $4,297,601. The present replacement value would be substantially in excess of this amount.

The balance sheet of the company as of Sept. 30 1927, adjusted to give effect to this financing, shows net current assets of $1,690 and net tangible assets (exclusive of patents, good-will and deferred charges) of $3,484 for each $1,000 bond in this issue.

Purpose.—Proceeds of this issue of bonds, together with other funds, will be used to retire $2,660,000 outstanding 1st mtge. 7½% gold bonds, due Dec. 1 1931, originally issued in 1921 in the amount of $5,000,000.

Earnings.—Company's sales and net earnings, after all charges incl. depreciation, available for bond interest and Federal taxes, for the 4 years and 9 months ending Sept. 30 1927 have been as follows:

Net earnings a	646,292	loss243,447	865,375	442,282	255,462

a Available for bond interest and Federal taxes.

The average annual net earnings for the 4 years and 9 months' period shown above were $413,887, or 2.75 times the maximum annual interest requirements on this issue. Net earnings for the year 1926 were 2.94 times such requirements, and for the 9 months ending Sept. 30 1927 2.27 times interest requirements on these bonds for the period. During the period covered by the above earnings statement there were charged against surplus account items amounting to $2,287,272, represented chiefly by write-off of inventory to sound realizable values.

With the introduction of the company's new lines of machinery, the concentration of its entire automatic screw machine manufacture at Windsor, resulting in increased efficiency and reduced manufacturing costs, and with the very satisfactory increase in export business, the outlook for the company is favorable.

Sinking Fund.—The indenture securing this issue will provide for a sinking fund estimated to be sufficient to retire approximately 60% of this issue by maturity.

Without the protection of the underwriting of bankers, the Graham Brothers, who recently acquired a controlling interest in the company, have completed an offering of common stock to shareholders, raising $3,000,000 for the company's expansion.

Paige stockholders were offered the opportunity to purchase 300,000 shares of additional common stock at $10 a share, and announcement has just been made that the offering has been fully subscribed. The three Graham brothers personally underwrote the issue at no cost whatever to the company, merely advising all stockholders that whatever proportion was not taken up by the other shareholders would be purchased by them at exactly the same price. Practically all of the rights were exercised, the Grahams being permitted to take very little in addition to their pro rata share of the offering.

The proceeds will be applied to an expansion program which the Graham Brothers have put under way since acquiring control of the company last June. They have already purchased, enlarged and equipped a large body building plant at Wayne, Mich., a few miles from the main factory of the company. A $1,000,000 addition also has been made to the Paige plant on Warren Avenue in Detroit, which is now fully equipped for the manufacture of a full line of Paige motors. Another unit, 1,038 feet long, is now being added to the Detroit plant. Data from Letter of Arthur Batty, President of the Company.

Company.—Has been organized in Delaware for the purpose of erecting, operating and maintaining a toll bridge across San Francisco Bay connecting the two main highways on the east and west sides of the bay.

The western terminus of the bridge will be located at San Mateo, approxy mately 14 miles south of the city line of San Francisco, and will be directli connected with the El Camino Real highway, and with the new Bay Shore Boulevard, which is now under construction and expected to be completed to San Mateo during 1928. The eastern terminus will be near Mt. Eden and will be directly connected with the Lincoln Highway. The bridge, planned for completion before July 1 1929, will afford the most direct all-highway route between San Francisco and points in the San Joaquin Valley.

The county of San Mateo, which has jurisdiction in respect of this bridge, has granted the company a franchise extending to July 11 1977 to operate the proposed toll bridge. The power to establish tolls is lodged in the county Board of Supervisors, which body has unanimously approved the franchise and the tolls provided therein. Under the Political Code of the State of California, these tolls cannot be revised, in the opinion of counsel, prior to July 11 1947, except upon proof that they are excessive or inadequate in relation to the cost or value of the property. The law contains provisions relating to the purchase of the bridge by the counties in which it is situated, either within 5 years from the filing of the completion certificate or at any time after the bridge has been in operation for 10 years; in either case the purchase price is to be determined by a commission on which the company and the purchasers will have equal representation and which will include an appointee of the Judge of the County Superior Court.

Estimated Earnings.—Based upon traffic counts made by the California Highway Commission during 1926, and without allowance for increased traffic during the construction period, it is estimated by Sanderson & Porter, engineers, that revenues at toll rates stipulated in the franchise, and expenses, for the first year of operation after completion of the bridge, its approaches and the Bay Shore Boulevard to San Mateo, now under construction, will be as follows:

Oper. exps., maint. & taxes (excl. of Fed. income taxes)	189,260
Net earnings before interest, amortization & Federal taxes	$868,469

Such estimated net earnings are approximately 3 times maximum annual interest charges of $292,500 on the first mortgage bonds.

Security.—These bonds, limited to $4,500,000, will be the direct obligation of the company, secured by first mortgage lien on all the fixed property now or hereafter owned, including the above-described bridge across San Francisco Bay, together with its approaches, appurtenances, rights of way and franchise. The total cost of the enterprise, including construction of the bridge, carrying charges during construction, financing expenses, and allowance for contingencies, has been estimated by Waddell & Hardesty, bridge engineers, to be approximately $7,500,000. Based upon the above estimate of earnings for the first year of operation, and on a conservative allowance for future growth of traffic, these engineers have appraised the bridge, when completed, at approximately $9,000,000.

Purpose.—Proceeds of the bonds and of $2,000,000 15-year participating sinking fund 7% debentures will be applied to the cost of the enterprise. Provision has been made for the issuance of $730,500 of 8% preferred stock in lieu of cash payments due in connection with the project, and in addition $269,500 of 8% preferred stock has been underwritten for sale, if necessary, to provide additional funds.

Underwood Elliott Fisher Co.—New Name after Consolidation.—
See Underwood Typewriter Co. below.

Underwood Typewriter Co.—Proposed Merger with Elliott-Fisher Co. to Be Voted on Dec. 15.—The stockholders will vote Dec. 15 on approving a plan for amalgamating the company with the Elliott-Fisher Co., and on changing the charter of the company and its a thorized capital stock to consummate the proposed plan. 1 resident John T. Underwood further says:

While the business and earnings of the company have shown steady and satisfactory increase, the net earnings for the first 9 months of the current year being approximately one-quarter of a million dollars in excess of the similar period of the preceding year, the management has, nevertheless, been of the opinion that its net earnings would be more rapidly increased and the best interests of the stockholders promoted if the business could be broadened so as to include additional products, which are not competitive with those now produced by the company.

Elliott-Fisher Co. is the largest manufacturer in the world of writing and accounting machines on flat surfaces, and through its subsidiaries also manufactures and sells adding machines, figuring machines, cash registers and bookkeeping machines. Its products are in no wise competitive with this company's typewriter business, but supplement the products of the company.

After a careful investigation directors have concluded that an amalgamation of the lines of products of the two companies would form a logical and profitable union to all interests concerned, and are, therefore, now submitting to the stockholders for appropriate action a plan to accomplish that result.

Elliott-Fisher Company.

The outstanding capital stock of the Elliott-Fisher Co. consists of 8,100 shares of voting $7 pref. stock (par $100 each) and 33,600 shares of common stock (par $100 each), which is equivalent to 134,400 shares on the basis of a $25 par value, which is the par value of the present Underwood Typewriter common stock.

The financial position of the Elliott-Fisher Co. is excellent, and its prospects for profitable expansion are very bright. That its product is cordially accepted by the trade is shown by the fact that the consolidated gross income of the company and its subsidiaries has increased from $3,692,240 for 1922 to $10,336,463 for 1926, while for the same years its consolidated net profits have increased from $434,821 to $1,767,685. This increase is in part accounted for by the acquisition of additional subsidiaries. The net profits for the first 9 months of 1927 exceeded the net profits for the corresponding period of 1926. Neither the Elliott-Fisher Co. nor any of its subsidiaries has any indebtedness except current operating expenses not vouchered for payment and $175,000 of outstanding commercial paper of one of its subsidiaries not yet matured. They have on hand cash and Government securities in excess of $2,600,000.

The book value of its capital stock (including both tangible and intangible assets) aggregates more than $7,000,000, but its net earnings available for its capital stock indicate a value very materially larger than the book value of the stock.

Effect of Amalgamation.

By the proposed amalgamation, and disregarding the savings which it is believed will result therefrom, the consolidated net earnings of the reorganized company will be increased from 8.8 times the amount necessary to pay the dividend on the pref. stock of the Underwood Typewriter Co. now outstanding to 13 times the amount necessary to pay the dividend on both classes of the pref. stock of the reorganized company outstanding on the consummation of the plan; and the net earnings, after pref. dividends and sinking fund, will be increased from $4.41 per share on the common stock of the Underwood Typewriter Co. now outstanding to more than $5.20 per share on the common stock of the reorganized company outstanding on the consummation of the plan, in both cases using the 1926 earnings of each company. As already stated, the earnings of the two companies for the first 9 months of 1927 are in excess of the earnings of the corresponding period of 1926. The gross business will be expanded from $27,382,263 of the Underwood Typewriter Co. to $37,718,726 of the reorganized company, again using the 1926 figures.

How Amalgamation Is to Be Effected.

It is proposed to effect the amalgamation of the two companies through the present acquisition of not less than 70% of each class of the Elliott-Fisher Co. stock by the issuance of the common stock of your company and of shares of a new class of pref. stock of your company in the amounts set forth below after the requisite changes have been made in the certificate of incorporation of your company. These changes include the following:

(1) The name of your company is to be changed to Underwood Elliott Fisher Co.

(2) The number of directors of your company is to be increased so as to provide representation to both companies.

(3) A new class of voting pref. stock without par value to be called series B pref. stock is to be created, consisting of 8,100 shares entitled equally with the present outstanding pref. stock to cumulative dividends at the rate of $7 per share per annum and to $100 per share upon any distribution of assets (other than from surplus or profits) and redeemable at $115 per share and divs. at any time on the vote of the directors. This issue is created for the express purpose of exchanging it share for share for the existing $7 pref. stock of the Elliott-Fisher Co. The issue of this stock will not injuriously affect the existing pref. stock and common stock of your company, as the assets and income of the Elliott-Fisher Co. are more than ample to cover the obligations created by this stock.

(4) The common stock of your company is to be changed from shares with a par value of $25 each to shares without par value. One share of the new non-par common stock is to be exchanged for each share of the common stock of your company now outstanding, and the total number of shares which the company may issue is to be increased from the present authorized issue of 400,000 to 1,000,000 shares. Of this total authorized capital 400,000 shares will go share for share to the present Underwood stockholders, and 245,200 shares of the new non-par value common stock of your company are to be authorized to be issued to acquire the entire outstanding common shares of the Elliott-Fisher Co. This distribution will result in an excess of 354,800 shares of the new non-par common stock thus authorized which shall remain in the treasury of the reorganized company, to be issued if necessary or advisable to acquire additional working capital or additional businesses or other property.

Arrangements with Banking Syndicate.

Arrangements have been effected with a banking syndicate which includes director Oscar L. Gubelman and Wertheim & Co., of which your director Maurice Wertheim is a member, and Lehman Brothers, of which your director Philip Lehman is a member, each such director being interested in the profits or losses of such syndicate, controlling under option more than 70% of each class of the outstanding stock of the Elliott-Fisher Co., whereby your company is assured of acquiring at least that percentage of each class of the capital stock of the Elliott-Fisher Co. To facilitate the consummation of such arrangements, Pres. John T. Underwood, Treas. DeWitt Bergen and directors Henry Morgenthau and Charles Strauss have sold a substantial portion of their common stock in the company to the above-mentioned syndicate, still retaining, however, a considerable interest in the pref. and common stock of the company. It is believed that the holders of all of the outstanding shares of the Elliott-Fisher Co. will agree to effect the exchange of their stock on the basis contemplated in the plan.

The directors are confident that the proposed amalgamation is in the best interests of the company and its stockholders, and they have accordingly contracted with the banking syndicate to acquire the outstanding stock of the Elliott-Fisher Co. on the basis outlined, subject to the authorization of the necessary changes in the certificate of incorporation of the company by the stockholders at the forthcoming meeting. They earnestly recommend that the changes in the certificate of incorporation mentioned be authorized.

Officials of Amalgamated Company.

The plan contemplates that Pres. John T. Underwood will become Chairman of the board of directors of the reorganized company and P. D. Wagoner now Pres. & Gen. Mgr. of Elliott-Fisher Co., will become Pres. & Gen. Mgr. of the reorganized company. Other changes in personnel are not now contemplated.—V. 125, p. 2683.

This company, through the Universal Carloading & Distributing Co., a subsidiary, handled 217,732,356 pounds of freight in October, an increase of 30,641,740 pounds over the 187,090,616 pounds handled in October last year.—V. 125, p. 2684.

Sales for its first full fiscal year ended Sept. 30 1927 according to figures just received by cable, totaled approximately $330,000,000. Unfilled orders on the books at the end of Sept. were 33% greater than at the same time last year. The present rate of operation of the corporation's plants, including its coal mines, is reported to be satisfactory and the large volume of unfilled orders is expected to provide for the continuation of activity into the ensuing year.

The corporation represents a consolidation of leading German coal, iron and steel concerns into the largest industrial unit in Europe. It produces approximately 40% of the entire German steel output.—V. 125, p. 2543.

After allowing for debenture bond interest of $88,853, the consolidated net income is $908,486.

On Oct. 26 1927 the company took over the operations of its by-product coke ovens which have been operated under lease agreement by the Semet Solvay Co. The company's operation of these by-product coke ovens should result in additional income.—V. 125, p. 2278.

USL Battery Corp.—Earnings.—
The corporation and subsidiaries report, for the 5 months ended Sept. 30 1927, net earnings of $875,702, after charges but before Federal taxes. During this period there was a large increase in sales to service stations.—V. 125, p. 1724.

Welte Co., Inc.—Receivers Named.—
Hardie B. Walmsley, Secretary of the company, and William Blau attorney, of 475 Fifth Ave., N. Y. City, were appointed receivers by Federa Judge Knox Nov. 7 on the application of Robert T. Lytle, V.-Pres. of the company. Assets were listed as double the total liabilities and the action was explained to be due to a temporary stringency of liquid capital.

The company took over the Estey-Welte Corp. and the 6 subsidiaries of the latter last July. As then planned, the reorganization was to include the marketing of gold notes to supply additional working capital needed for the extensive business of the various subsidiary companies. For reasons not explained, these notes were never offered, and the new company took over the business without additional financing.

The decision to apply for an equity receivership was reached by the directors, it was said, as the best means of protecting the company and its business in the face of the lack of liquid capital.

West Virginia Coal & Coke Co.—New President.—John C. Cosgrove of Johnstown, Pa., Chairman of the Board of the Cosgrove-Meehan Coal Corp., was recently elected President, succeeding W. M. Wilshire.—V. 123, p. 2008.

The issue has been oversubscribed. The purpose of the issue is to refund at a lower rate of interest the company's entire outstanding bonded debt amounting to $64,422,500 and to reimburse the treasury of the company for part of its expenditures for additions and improvements. The annual interest on the $75,000,000 new 5% bonds, of $3,750,000, will be less than the present annual interest on the $64,422,500 bonds to be retired. Data from Letter of J. A. Campbell, Youngstown, O., Nov. 21 1927.

Company.—Organized in 1900. Ranks as the third largest steel company in the United States, with an annual ingot capacity of over 3,000,000 tons. It is engaged in the manufacture and sale of a diversified line of products, comprising pig iron, billets, sheet bar, plates, sheets, bars, rods, nails, wire, tin plate, &c., and specializes in the manufacture of steel pipe, of which it is the second largest producer in the world.

It has two steel plants located in the Youngstown district, approximately midway between the principal consuming centres of the country. At Chicago it has a large steel plant, with finishing mills, a large merchant pig iron production and two of the finest harbors in that district. Its iron ore properties are situated in the Lake Superior region and its coal properties in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky. Company also owns profitable zinc mines in Wisconsin, Kansas and Oklahoma.

In the past three years the company has spent large sums on new plant and equipment and in 1926 made an important addition to its output by placing in operation two seamless tube mills in the Youngstown district and a large tinplate mill in the Chicago district. Company has recently appropriated $12,000,000 for the construction of a by-product coke-oven plant for its South Chicago blast furnaces and a boiler and power station at its Campbell plant, Youngstown, which will result in very material savings to the company. The plants of the company are modern and represent the latest development of the industry. Company owns about 600 acres in the Youngstown district and about 300 acres in the Chicago district, still unused, which provide ample sites for future growth. The management is in the hands of executives and directors, many of whom have been associated with the business since its inception.

Security.—The bonds will be the direct obligation of the company and will be secured by its 1st mtge. to Bankers Trust Co., New York, trustee. The bonds will be secured by a direct 1st mtge. on all of the fixed assets of the company owned on Nov. 1 1927, as well as upon all additions, improvements and betterments thereto, and by the pledge of stocks and certain obligations of subsidiary companies (other than sales companies) then owned by the company, as will be defined in the mortgage, none of which subsidiary companies are subject to any mortgage. The combined book value of the assets to be mortgaged and pledged, as of Sept. 30 1927, was over $121,000,000, of which over $97,000,000 represented fixed assets and over $24,000,000 represented stocks and obligations of said subsidiary companies. The 1st mtge. will cover all the company's present real estate, plants and mineral properties, except certain mineral leases which, by their terms, cannot be assigned or pledged. The book value of the fixed assets is much below the intrinsic value as is shown by the fact that such assets of the companies now comprising the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and its subsidiary companies, were appraised in 1921 by independent experts at more than $73,000,000 in excess of the values at which such assets were carried upon the books. Any properties that may be required by the company hereafter, with the proceeds of the reserved $75,000,000 bonds as hereinafter specified, are also to become subject to the 1st mtge., and the company will agree not to mortgage any property otherwise acquired without first subjecting the same to the prior lien of the 1st mtge. In case of the purchase of properties subject to a lien, an amount of 1st mtge. bond equal to the amount of such lien shall be reserved for the eventual payment of such lien in so far as bonds are available.

The net tangible assets of the company as shown by its books, as of Sept. 30 1927, adjusted to show the sale of the present issue of bonds and the application of the proceeds thereof, will be $200,957,944, of which $72,502,309 will be net current assets.

The company is not presently borrowing from its banks nor has it done so for a number of years.

Earnings.—The annual earnings of the companies now comprising Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. and its subsidiary companies, applicable to the payment of interest, after charges for depreciation and depletion for the five years ending Dec. 31 1926, have averaged $15,929,371, or more than 4.2 times the interest charges on the $75,000,000 1st mtge. bonds now being issued. Company's sales, depreciation charges and the profits applicable to all interest for each of said years were as follows:

Cal. Year—	Net Sales.	Net Earnings. a	Depreciation & Deplet'n.	Avail for All Interest. b
1922	$124,331,551	$11,270,974	$6,180,419	$5,090,554
1923	165,649,369	28,525,538	7,555,260	20,970,277
1924	121,456,369	21,461,893	8,715,638	12,746,255
1925	136,513,585	28,253,968	9,023,877	19,230,090
1926	152,508,502	30,776,312	9,166,632	21,609,680

a Before depreciation, int. and Fed. taxes. b Before Federal taxes.

Despite the decreased demand and lower prices for iron and steel products during the current year as compared with 1926, the statement of the company for the first 9 months of this year, after charging $7,844,091 for depreciation and depletion, shows net earnings of $9,735,000, available for bond interest, being at the rate of more than 3.4 times interest charges for 9 months on the $75,000,000 1st mtge. sinking fund 5% bonds.

In the 27 years during which the company has been in existence, it has never failed to earn a substantial profit in every year with the single exception of the year 1921, in which abnormal conditions prevailed and there was a lack of demand for iron and steel products. Company has outstanding $14,241,100 pref. stock paying 7% dividends, and 987,606 shares of no par value common stock on which dividends at the rate of $5 per share per annum are now being paid. Dividends have been paid on the common stock of the company uninterruptedly since 1906. The present market value of the shares of the company is over $100,000,000.

Sinking Fund.—The $75,000,000 series "A" bonds now issued will have the benefit of a sinking fund sufficient to retire the entire series by maturity at the rate of $1,500,000 bonds per annum.

The 1st mtge. will provide for a sinking fund for series other than series "A" sufficient to retire annually not less than 2% of the bonds of such series at any time issued thereunder.

Description of the First Mtge. Bonds.—The 1st mtge. will provide for the issuance of bonds in series to a total authorized amount not exceeding $175,000,000. Of this total authorized amount, $75,000,000 series "A" constitute the bonds presently sold, $25,000,000 additional bonds may be issued for any corporate purpose, and the remaining $75,000,000 of bonds are reserved to be issued to reimburse the company for 75% of the amount of capital expenditures made after Nov. 1 1927 for the acquisition of new property or for betterments, improvements and additions to the mortgaged property or for advances to subsidiary companies to the extent of 75% of like expenditures made by subsidiary companies (provided in such cases that mortgage bonds of such companies for the full amount of such expenditures are subjected to the 1st mtge.) or for 75% of the cost of stocks or obligations of other companies, but not more than 10% of the total amount of bonds outstanding under the 1st mtge. may be issued for acquisition of stocks or obligations of other companies. None of the $75,000,000 reserved bonds shall be issued except for refunding purposes unless the net earnings (after payment of interest on current indebtedness other than indebtedness to be repaid out of the proceeds of bonds then to be issued) applicable to interest on funded debt of the company (incl. subsidiary companies) and of any new properties to be acquired, for either the year preceding such issue, or the average of the last three years preceding such issue, have been at least 1½ times the interest on the funded indebtedness of the company and its subsidiary companies, including the new bonds to be issued.

The 1st mtge. will provide that the company will not pay dividends on its common stock (other than in stock) in excess of $5,000,000 in the aggregate, except out of earnings of the company after Jan. 1 1927.

Bonds may be issued under the mortgage, par for par, upon or to provide for payment or retirement of any bonds theretofore issued, except for bonds retired by the sinking fund.—V. 125, p. 2686.

CURRENT NOTICES.

—Measured by the stability of the principal European exchanges, Europe may now be said to have an economic stability of 95.3%, a new post-war high mark, according to data prepared by Ames, Emerich & Co., investment bankers. On the same basis of currency fluctuations, European stability was measured at 58.1% in 1922 and 85% in 1926. "Indications of growing international stability", say the bankers, "are found in the increasing strength of the financial position of the central banks, in the growing volume of foreign trade and in the increasing quantity of manufactured goods produced and consumed. But Europe's recovery is most strikingly revealed in the ever-growing stability of the foreign exchanges of these nations".

November 1 1927.

To the President and Directors of The Fajardo Sugar Company of Porto Rico:

We have examined the books and accounts of The Fajardo Sugar Company of Porto Rico and its Associated Organizations, including Loiza Sugar Company, for the year ended July 31 1927, and find that the annexed Consolidated Balance Sheet and relative Consolidated Profit and Loss Account for the period have been correctly prepared therefrom.

The Miscellaneous Investment is stated at cost and consists of stock of a corporation not managed or controlled by your Companies. There is no published quotation and we have no information as to its market value.

Raw sugars on hand have been valued at the net prices subsequently realized, excepting as to quantities equivalent to 47,917 bags of 310 pounds each, unsold at September 1 1927, which have been valued on the basis of 4.77c. c.&f. New York, the market price at that date, less all shipping and selling expenses.

Subject to the foregoing and to such adjustments, if any, as may be made on final review of the Companies' Tax matters, we certify that, in our opinion, the annexed Consolidated Balance Sheet is properly drawn up so as to show the true financial position of the Companies at July 31 1927, and that the relative Consolidated Profit and Loss Account correctly shows the result of operations for the year.

PUNTA ALEGRE SUGAR COMPANY

TWELFTH ANNUAL REPORT—FOR THE TWELVE MONTHS ENDED SEPT. 30 1927.

To the Stockholders:

The Board of Directors submit herewith their annual report for the fiscal year ending Sept. 30 1927.

The production in bags of 325 lbs. each of raw sugar at the Company's estates compares with previous crops as follows:

	1926-27.	1925-26.	1924-25.	1923-24.	1922-23.
Central Baragua	435,038	508,907	605,573	481,327	440,904
Central Punta Alegre	415,497	485,209	540,687	409,989	402,852
Central Florida	353,410	405,189	378,235	292,232	266,660
	1,203,945	1,399,305	1,524,495	1,183,548	1,110,416
Cost of cane (including depreciation on cane fields)	1.331c.	1.016c.	1.165c.	2.105c.	2.038c.
	2.246	1.964	2.093	3.088	3.087

The President of Cuba, as authorized under the law enacted in May 1926, decreed that the production of the 1926-27 crop should be limited to 4,500,000 tons, and further that operations start not earlier than Jan. 1 1927. This occasioned a decrease of 385,943 tons for the Island of Cuba from the previous year's production.

Further, a commission was appointed by the President to apportion the amount of sugar to be made by each mill in Cuba. The authorized production of your mills amounted to 1,203,945 bags, which resulted in a reduction of 195,360 bags from the previous crop.

The Cuban Government on Oct. 3 1927 enacted a law authorizing the creation of a commission for the purpose of compiling statistical data and informing President Machado on or before Nov. 30 each year what the status of the world's production and consumption was, so that Cuba could regulate its sugar production in accordance with the requirements of the law of supply and demand.

This law also created a Sugar Export Corporation as a central selling medium for all sugars to be sold to countries other than the United States. The amount thus sold is to be allocated pro rata to all mills in Cuba.

The comparative operating statement of the past five years illustrates that your Company has adjusted itself to the lower production status, and its controllable operating costs have been reduced over those of the previous year. The properties of your Company are in a high state of efficiency and at this time have facilities and raw material to produce 1,600,000 bags in a normal, unrestricted grinding season.

On Sept. 30 1927 it had all of its raw sugar sold at an average selling price of 2.818c. per pound f.o.b., after deducting all marketing expenses.

Your molasses in the amount of 7,683,790 gallons has been sold at a price f.o.b. Cuba of 7c. per gallon which, after deducting expenses in Cuba, amounts to $455,268.32, equivalent to 37.8c. per bag of sugar, and compares with receipts last year of $269,760.73, equivalent to 19c. per bag of sugar produced.

The raw sugar operating profit for the past year was $2,773,708.66, which, after providing for interest, taxes, depreciation, adjustments on previous years and amortization of bond discount, leaves a balance of $1,162,549.53. A special deduction from this balance has been made to provide for the estimated non-recurring loss under the refined sugar contract explained hereafter, which leaves a balance carried to surplus account of $312,549.53.

Your Company for several years past has marketed annually 1,000,000 bags of its raw sugar as refined through the Pennsylvania Sugar Company's refinery at Philadelphia. Due to the unsatisfactory conditions which have prevailed during the past year in the refined sugar business, in which the margin between the price of raw and the selling price of refined sugar has been abnormally low, your Company has sustained a loss estimated for the full year ending Dec. 31 1927 at $850,000. This sum has been charged against 1927 earnings and in accordance with the profit and loss statement appears as a separate deduction in order more clearly to differentiate between the Company's raw and refined operations. The contract in connection with the tolling of raw sugars expires on Dec. 31 of this year, and will not be renewed.

Through the functioning of the Sinking Fund requirements of the Punta Alegre Sugar Co. its bonded indebtedness was reduced $267,500, and that of the Baragua Sugar Co. by $204,600, a total decrease of $472,100. Also there has been deposited with the Trustee of the Baragua Sugar Co. $20,400 to complete the total sinking fund requirements. The stock outstanding in the hands of the public at Sept. 30 1927 was unchanged at 381,537 shares, there remaining in the treasury 28,528 shares in addition to 79,468 shares reserved for conversion of Debenture bonds.

Since the close of the fiscal year of your Company it has disposed of an issue of $4,000,000 of 6% Gold Notes dated Nov. 1 1927 and due Nov. 1 1930. The proceeds of this sale of notes has been used to retire $2,000,000 6% gold notes due Nov. 1 1927 and the balance has been allocated to the working capital requirements of your Company.

The Consolidated Balance Sheet as at Sept. 30 1927 is appended hereto, together with statement of Profit and Loss for the year and Surplus Account, all of which have been certified by the Company's auditors, Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.

By order of the Board of Directors,

WILLIAM C. DOUGLAS, President.

To-day cost and freight offers were generally lower. Prompt Santos Bourbon, 2-3s, 22.15c.; 3-4s, 20¼ to 20¾c.; 3-5s 19½ to 20¾c.; part Bourbon 3s at 20¾c.; Rio 7s at 12.80 to 13.10c.; 7 8s at 12.45 to 12.70c.; Victoria 7-8s at 12.15c. The total stocks of Brazilian coffee in New York warehouses were 444,927 bags which with 62,065 at New Orleans, leaves a total in the United States of 506,992. The afloats for the United States aggregated 651,300 bags, making a total visible supply for this country of 1,138,292 bags against 1,039,950 for the same time last year and 1,105,-959 for the same time in 1925. Fair to good Cucuta 22½ to 23½c.; prime to ch. 24 to 26½c.; washed 26 to 27½c.; Colombian Ocana, 21 to 22c.; Bucaramanga, Natural 24 to 25c.; washed 27½ to 28c.; Honda, Tolima and Giradot 29 to 29½ to 30c.; Manizales 29¼ to 29¾c. Arrivals of mild coffee in the United States since Nov. 1 totaled 150,977 bags, against deliveries for the same time of 129,998 bags. The stock of mild in the United States on Nov. 21 was 177,283 bags, against 147,195 on Nov. 14 and 416,699 last year. Deliveries of Brazilian coffee in the United States last week were 197,994 bags, against 186,723 in the previous week and 169,054 last year. Futures on the 22d inst. were 20 to 25 points net lower with sales of 47,000 bags, cost-and-freight business dull and in some cases 15 points lower, Brazil more disposed to sell and December liquidation a feature here. Also there was some selling by the trade and Europe.

It is recalled that there have been only two freak Santos crops since statistics have been compiled by our Coffee Exchange, i. e., in 1906-07, when the crop was about 15,000,000 bags, and the present 1927-28 crop, is estimated at about the same. Unusual climatic conditions produced them; not the planting of millions of new trees. The average Brazil crop for 33 years in Rio was 3,372,000 bags and of Santos 8,892-,000. The average crop for the past 11 years was of Rio 3,295,000 bags and of Santos 9,114,000. Why the planting of millions of new trees in Santos has not materially increased production can only be accounted for by the reduced productiveness of old trees. The estimates so far for the 1927-28 Santos crop are about the average for the past 11 years of 8,500,000 to 9,000,000 bags. At present there are no indications, say some, toward any further advance in Santos, with Rio and Victorias uncertain. The market at this time is usually quiet until after the turn of the year. Receipts during November were 284,000 bags at Rio, 667,000 at Santos; grand total 951,000; since July 1 they were 1,890,000 at Rio, 4,300,000 at Santos; grand total, 6,190,000; same time 1926-27, 1,873,000 at Rio, 3,220,000 at Santos; grand total, 5,093,000; same time in 1925-26, 2,112,000 at Rio, 3,642,000 at Santos, and 5,754,000 grand total.

The popular idea is that the market should do better after the liquidation of the spot position. But it is added by some that after the liquidation of December coffee comes a period that has been generally dull. With no great liquidation, December to some, acted rather badly. They look for a decline, unless December has more support. Some say that until the December liquidation is over there seem to be little hope for any marked advance. The spot position it is contended has acted worse than any spot month for several years. It causes buyers to hold aloof. Recent reports intimated that this Rio crop would be over 5,000,000 bags and the New York market is based on Rio and Victoria, and if they appear anxious to sell, it will take the edge off the inherent merits of Santos 4s and milds.

Liverpool people think that the lull in the demand for actual coffee is not likely to be of long duration; good grades of Santos are particularly wanted and even the lower grades of Victoria and Rios are firm. Some relief from the tension may come when mild coffees are more readily available from Central America and anticipation of the movement may possibly be reflected in a rather easier tendency of the December and January positions on the New York Exchange. Nothing further they add has been heard there about progress of the 1928-29 crop in Brazil, and too much teliance should not be placed on poor reports. Next month more reliable information should be available. In December first estimates are usually given of the probable yield of the coming crop, conditions of the trees, &c. Liverpool adds that if the present quietness in futures is prolonged, we should expect to have rather easier quotations throughout the list of active positions, but with the very firm hold that Brazil has established upon the position, setbacks will not be severe and they should be taken advantage of to make purchases in the forward positions.

To-day futures closed 4 to 8 points higher with sales of 58,000 bags. At one time there was a drop of 15 to 18 points with Brazilian markets lower, and Europe also rather weak. Moreover there were notices for 22 Victoria. Local and foreign liquidation told for a time, on December and other months. Short covering accounted for the later rally when it was found that the notices had been promptly stopped. Final prices show a decline for the week of 4 to 11 points.

SUGAR.—Prompt Cuban raws were quiet early at 2⅞c. to 2 15–16c. Futures on the 21st inst. closed unchaged to 1 point lower after being 3 points higher on some months. European demand for the new crop months and covering led by a prominent operator tended to offset in a measure heavy December long liquidation. Early firmness was due to the stronger European cables. But Senator Tarafa's negotiations with the Dutch-Java producers may not succeed. Vienna cabled the International Sugar Producers Association estimate of beet root outturn as follows: Germany 1,650,500 against 1,662,582 last year; Czecho-Slovakia 1,237,466 against 1,041,985 last year; Austria 105,000 against 76,686 last year; Hungary 180,569 against 175,086; Jugoslavia 85,450 against 77,800, Rumania 142,850 against 147,217; Bulgaria 39,600 against 35,233; Ireland 20,137 against 13,436; Belgium 255,000 against 235,000; Italy 277,265 against 305,771; Denmark 150,000 against 155,000; Sweden 146,662 against 20,872 last year and Finland 6,667 against 3,936 last year. The Association's present estimate of production in the countries therefore totals 4,297,226 metric tons which compares with Mikusch's estimate for these countries of 4,473,000 tons and Licht's last estimate for the same countries of 4,444,000 tons. Production for these countries last year, based on the figures of the International Sugar Producer's Association, also given above, totaled

According to Associated Press advices from Amsterdam, Holland, Col. Tarafa chairman of the Cuban Sugar Defense Committee presented the Cuban viewpoint of the sugar situation to President Webster, of the Webster Sugar Refinery and other Dutch and Japanese sugar interests. The Cuban representative invited the Dutch interests to join the international combination just organized in Paris by Cuban, German, Polish and Czechoslovakian sugar interests. The Dutch sugar people will take a day to think over the arguments presented by Col. Tarafa. Washington advices took the ground that unless sugar interests throughout the world co-operate with J. M. Tarafa, head of the Sugar Defense Committee of Cuba, the attempt of Cuban and European sugar producers to limit production will fail is opinion of officials there. Cuban and European sugar interests believe that unless present over-production is checked the indu try will face disaster. Important Java producers however, are reported reluctant to join the cartel because limitation would necessarily entail planting of a lessened acreage in sugar and thereby seriously affect trade of sections engaged solely in sugar production.

The future market awaited developments on first December notice day on Wednesday and the outcome of Col. Tarafa's conference with the Java Syndicate. Some 12,000 tons of new crop Philippines for December to March shipment sold at 4.63 to 4.73c., c.i.f., according to position. London cabled that 12s. 6d. was bid and declined for nesf crop San Domingos. Later there were rumors of sales at 2 7/8c.; 12,500 tons of Philippines sold at 4.63 to 4.73c., c.i.f., according to shipment. London was very steady; 500 tons of Perus sold at 12s. 3¾d. and some Demeraras, the latter to Liverpool at 15s. 10½d., both showing an advace. More Perus were wanted and 12s. 4¼d. was asked. Futures on the 22d inst. were 2 to 3 points higher at one time. The first December notice day was on the 23d; 8,000 to 10,000 tons in tenders are expected. The trade and Europe bought on the 22d. Liquidation went into strong hands. Hedge selling against buying of new Philippines was well taken; also concentrated selling of January including a block of 5,000 tons. The transactions for the day were 90,500 tons, about 50% exchanges.

Washington advices said that revised estimates for the 1926-27 world crop received to date by the Department of Agriculture indicate a crop of 26,336,000 short tons raw sugar, including 8,437,000 short tons beet sugar and 17,899,000 cane sugar. In 1925-26, 9,028,000 short tons beet sugar and 18,679,000 cane sugar, or a total of 27,707,000 short tons were produced. Brussels cabled that much space is given in the press to the sugar conference and that hotels and restaurants in Belgium have started serving wrapped packets of two lumps of sugar, anticipating a rise in the price. It is pointed out that sales of new crop Philippines up to date are about 70,000 tons or about the same as at this date last year. Trading in new Philippines this season attracts more attention as business in new Cuba, Porto Rico and San Domingo which was brisk a year ago is slow now pending the outcome of Col. Tarafa's mission in Europe.

Col. J. M. Tarafa head of the Cuban Sugar Defense Committee, when he meets the representatives of the Java sugar interests will it is said grapple with the hardest task of his mission. The Conservative Dutch capitalists are not convinced that the production of raw materials can be restricted. They contend that if the acreage of plantations is not reduced it is difficult to see how over-production can be avoided, pending the time when a steady increase in consumption will have caught up with it. The Cuban experts theory, which won over the Germans, Poles and Czechoslovaks, is that steady over-production is bound to cause a crash in the industry before that time arrives. The negotiations are expected to continue for three days or longer, after which Col. Tarafa will return to Paris to add the finishing touches to the plan for working out the agreement with the representatives of the sugar interests of Poland, Germany and Czechoslovakia.

Refined was quiet with withdrawals fair; quoted 5.70 to 5.80c. Prices showed little net change though December ended 1 point higher. Many begin to believe that Col. Tarafa may succeed in his Javan negotiations. About 100 December notices were issued. They caused some liquidation, but a rally came later. At one time there was a rise of 1 to 3 points. The trading was rather light pending further developments. Cuba bought December. Other months were bought by Europe. Wall Street and in some cases the trade sold later deliveries. Prompt raws were quiet at 2 7/8c. or a decline for the week of 1–16c. Futures ended at a decline of 3 points on December with March unchanged.

LARD on the spot was firm; prime western 12.75 to 12.85c; refined to the Continent 13½c; South American 14¼c; Brazil 15¼c. Today spot lard was dull and weak; prime western 12.65c; Refined Continent 13½c; South American 14¼c. Advanced slightly on the 19th inst. Hogs were lower owing to larger receipts. Liverpool was unchanged to 6d higher. There was no pressure here in a small market. Futures advanced on the 21st inst. 3 to 5 points; hogs closed steady with unexpectedly small receipts. Deliveries were 50,000 lbs. at Chicago. Packers are believed to have bought owing to the upturn in corn of 7/8c. On the 22nd inst. futures early showed a firm undertone with January advancing 10 points on a better demand from packers and a steadier Liverpool market. Hog receipts were expected to be smaller on the 23rd. Later in the day prices reacted however on a lower hog markets and rather large receipts at all Western points. Ribs were generally unchanged. Today futures ended 7 to 17 points lower. There was liquidation in near months; also considerable hedge selling. Some early decline in grain had an effect. Covering and buying on the upturn in corn stopped the decline in lard. Hogs were 25c higher with the top $9.40. Western receipts 78,000 against 92,000 a year ago; Chicago expects 6,000 on Saturday. Final prices show a decline for the week of 7 to 22 points.

The Gulf market was dull at 7c. for motor and 8c. for 64-66 gravity, 375 e.p. in bulk. Later a better jobbing demand was reported. At New York harbor the price was 8 to 8¼c. while in tank cars delivered to the trade it was 9 to 9¼c. Conditions remained quiet in the Gulf. On the 22nd inst. prices advanced 50 to 100 points in an active market. A good speculative and manufacturing demand was noted. Sales were 819 lots or 2047½ long tons. The outside market was firmer. London advanced ¼d on the 22nd inst. and Singapore was unchanged to ⅛d higher. On the Exchange here November closed at 38.20c.; December at 38.40c.; January at 39c.; March at 39.70c.; April at 39.90c.; May at 40.30c.; July at 40.40¼c.; Sept. at 40.80c. Frankfort-on-Main, Germany, advices said that it may be a year or two before the newly developed German synthetic rubber is put on the market. Some time must elapse between the successful experimentation and the marketing of the finished product. The Department of Commerce on the basis of British Malayan trade returns estimated that net exports of crude rubber from British Malaya during the first 10 months of 1927 totaled approximately 206,500 long tons which was 26,000 long tons or 11% less than the figure of 232,500 long tons for the same period of 1926. Ribbed smoked, spot November and December 39⅝ to 39¾c. of late; January, 40c.; January-March, 40½c. Upriver, fine, Para, 32½ to 33c. To-day prices advanced at the Exchange 90 to 100 points with a very active demand. The tendency is to look for higher prices. At one time to-day prices were reported 90 to 150 points higher. Approximately 2,000 lots were sold. Offerings from the East were at very high prices. Singapore was said to be up 1d. per pound or about 2½c. above Wednesday's closing there. London closed at some reaction from the top. Spot and December at 19½d.; January, 19⅝d. It looks as though consumers had played a waiting game a little too long. At any rate that is the inference drawn by some here. There is also a growing idea that restriction measures may be more rigorously enforced in the Far East. However that may be, prices closed 260 to 290 points higher than a week ago.

HIDES—Frigorifico hides advanced with sales of 53,000 hides at as high as 26 9-16c. Russian buyers bought rather freely. Large United States sole leather tanners bought on a considerable scale. City packer hides were in better demand and three cars of native steers sold at 24½c.; butts sold at 23½c. and Colorado at 23c. Later quotations were: spready native steers 25½c.; native steers 24½c; butt brands 23½c.; Colorados 23c.; bulls, native 18c. Common dry hides; Antioquias 33c.; Orinocos 31c.; Maraceibo 30c.; Central American 28½c.; La Guayras 30c.; Ecuador 28½ to 29c.; Savanillas 28c.; Santa Marta 29c.; New York City calfskins 5-7s, 2.25; 7-9s 2; 9-12s 3.55.

COAL.—With a touch of winter prices have become a little steadier after a trifling decline last week. Even now steam slack which is quoted at $1 sells on occasion at 90c. Fairmont is $1.50 run of mine with slack now and then 50c. it is said, though ordinarily called 80c. to $1.10. At Cincinnati prices are steadier on slack and it is reported 25 to 35c. higher than recently. Illinois slack has sold down to a range of from 40c. to $1. West Virginia smokeless lump in the local market was $3.25 to $3.75 for lump and egg; $2.25 to $2.75 for stove and $1.75 to $2.50 for chestnut, run of mine, $1.50 to $2.25. Sales of cash and carry and broken coal have been helped by the colder weather. Hard coal output fell off moderately. Company prices: Grade $8.50 to $8.75; egg $8.75 to $8.85; stove $8.25 to $9.35; chestnut $8.75 to $8.85; pea $6.25 to $6.40, buckwheat $3.25 to $3.35. Navy standard bituminous mines $2.25 to $2.75.

TOBACCO has been reported steady with a good business. There are no interesting features however. Wisconsin binder 25 to 30c.; Northern 40 to 45c.; Southern 35 to 40c.; New York State seconds 35 to 40c.; Ohio, Gebhardt binder 22 to 24c.; Little Dutch 30c.; Havana first Remedios 90 to 95c.; second Remedios 70 to 75c.

COPPER was quiet but firm, at 13¾c. delivered to Connecticut Valley. There was a better business earlier in the week. Export business was lighter following the announcement of higher prices but of late has picked up a little. England took large tonnages recently. Most of the export business is for November and December shipment. Some demand for January shipment also appeared. Standard copper in London on the 22nd inst. declined 1s 3d to £59 12s 6d for spot; futures unchanged at £59 15s; sales 100 tons spot and 650 futures; Electrolytic unchanged at £64 10s spot and £64 15s futures. Trading was still quiet later on with no change in the domestic price, i.e. 13¾c. The export quotation was 14.05c. Exports during October were 37,388 tons against 43,232 tons in Sept.; imports 23,490 tons against 11,442 in September. In London on the 23rd inst. spot standard fell 18s 9d to £58 13s 9d; futures off 16s 3d to £58 18s 9d; sales 100 tons spot and 1400 futures; spot Electrolytic declined 5s to £64 15s; futures unchanged at £64 15s.

TIN was quiet. On the 22nd inst. prices advanced ⅛c. London was unchanged. Trading here was quiet. Straits sold early in the day at 58⅛c. and later at 58⅜c.; for future delivery 58 to 58⅛c. Straits shipments up to the 22nd inst. were 4,700 tons; the total for the month is expected to be 7,000 to 7,500 tons. In London on the 22nd inst. spot standard £267; futures 15s higher at £264; sales 100 tons spot and 450 futures; spot Straits unchanged at £274 10s; Eastern c. i. f. London advanced 17s 6d to £268 5s on tales of 125 tons. Later trading was more active. On the 23rd inst. sales were 500 tons with consumers doing all the buying. All London limits were accepted. Early on the 23rd Straits in all positions sold at 57⅞c. but at the close 58⅜c. was asked. Tin plate makers are working at 50 to 75% of capacity. In London on the 23rd inst. spot declined £3 to £264; futures off £2 7s 6d to £261 12s 6d; sales 50 tons spot and 650 futures; Spot Straits off £3 5s to £271 5s; Eastern c. i. f. London declined £2 to £266 5s on sales of 250 tons.

LEAD was in good demand. In the Middle West 6.05c. East St. Louis was quoted. At New York the price was 6.25c. Lead ore in the tri-State district was unchanged at $80. A lot of 1,000 tons sold at that price last week for prompt shipment. In London on the 22nd inst. spot advanced 6s 3d to £21 7s 6d; futures up 3s 9d to £21 15s; sales 100 tons spot and 1300 futures. Later 6.07 to 6.10c. East St. Louis was quoted. A good demand was noticeable especially for December. In London on the 23rd inst. prices fell 1s 3d to £21 6s 3d for spot and £21 13s 9d for futures; sales 150 tons spot and 1100 futures.

ZINC was in fair demand and steady. Some February sold at 5.90c. on the 22nd inst. East St. Louis but prompt was 5.82½ to 5.85c. Ore advanced $1 per ton. In London on the 22nd inst. spot was unchanged at £26 12s 6d; futures declined 1s 6d to £26 6s 3d; sales 150 tons spot and 800 futures. Later 5.85c. was quoted for prompt and 5.90 to 5.95c. for next year. Demand was fair. In London on the 23rd inst. prices fell 3s 9d to £26 8s 9d for spot and £26 2s 6d for futures; sales 150 tons spot and 300 futures.

STEEL—Pittsburgh says the tone is rather firmer there and Youngstown makes a similar report, but nowhere is there a change for the better in actual business. That remains quiet. Pittsburgh it is true now quotes $1.85 to $1.90 on small lots of bars, shapes and plates. Finished steel, according to some reports has a better outlook, though the slowness of trade is not denied. Forty per cent. of the steel rooled is bar, plates and shapes and most consumers of these are supplied for the rest of the year. The output is therefore somewhat smaller than in October. Present quotations it is said are not accepted for 1928. But meantime the automobile industry buys little. Heavy finished steel has sold the best at prices said to be firmer, but the lighter products are dull and none too steady. There are hints of continued cuts in prices of such material as the only means of giving even a slight jog to trade. The production of the big corporation averages 69% a decrease of 2% while independent concerns are at 65%. There is little talk of really helpful buying as a rule by railroads. Hope may be rising; actual sales are not. Sales of freight cars it is true are rather large. Of steel pipe the sales too are still notably large and sales of track material are still satisfactory for this time of the year. A revival of business in steel in the biggest branches of the industry still waits on the future.

PIG IRON has remained dull. Orders not only for early delivery but for 1928 are very small. The situation marks time. Something in the way of a distinct filip is awaited in all parts of the country. Birmingham to be sure speaks encouragingly of larger sales, but does not hesitate to say that 1928 sales thus far are lacking. And it seems that $16 has had to be quoted for No. 2 foundry to stimulate business somewhat. It is intimated that this price will not continue into next year, but it is not stated that any other has been substituted for it. The outlook as to prices for the first quarter of 1928 is none too clear. Eastern Pennsylvania was quoted at nominally $18.75 to $19.50, Buffalo $16.50 to $17; Chicago $18.50 to $19; Cleveland $17.50 to $18 with basic Valley $17.50 to $18.50. Coke, Connellsville furnace $2.75 to $3.00; foundry $3.75 to $4.50.

WOOL was steady but still in the main quiet. Boston wired Nov. 22 that several houses received inquiries for Ohio fleeces of ½ blood, 48s, 60s and ⅜ blood, 56s grades, strictly combing staple at 47c. in the grease. Inquiry on these lines is a little broader this week and prices show a slight strengthening tendency. Some activity is reported on fine territory but the volume of business on this grade is inclined to be more moderate than last week.

In London on November 22nd the final 1927 wool sales began. Offerings will be 121,000 bales; on the 22nd 10,887 bales offered. Attendance large. Demand keen. The effect of the advance in Australian and New Zealand markets was plain. Prices on merinos 5 per cent. higher than in September and on cross-breds 5 to 10% higher. Withdrawals amounted to about 800 bales due chiefly to high limits. Best New Zealand greasy half-bred 56s brought 24½d; greasy cross-bred 50-56s, 23½d 50s 22½d; 48-50s, 19½d; 46-48s, 19d; 46s, 17½d; 44-46s, 16½d. Details: Sydney 3822 bales; greasy merinos 19½ to 29½d; Queensland 1601 bales; greasy merinos 16 to 21d; scoured 43 to 47d; Victoria 413 bales; greasy merinos 22½ to 31d; scoured merinos 33 to 41½d; New Zealand 4741 bales; scoured merinos 37½ to 40d; greasy cross-breds 14 to 24½d; scoured cross-breds 17½ to 36d; Cape 272 bales; greasy merinos 21 to 23½d; scoured merinos 28 to 34d; New Zealand slipe sold at 13½d to 27d, the latter being half-bred lambs.

In London on Nov. 24th offerings 9,180 bales. British and the Continent bought prompt at firm prices. Withdrawals of 1,000 of merinos and crossbreds. Best New Zealand greasy halfbred 56s brought 24½d.; greasy cross red 50-56s, 22½d.; 50-56s 21d.; 50s, 18d. and 46s 17d. Details:

Sydney, 2,494 bales; greasy merinos, 22 to 29½d.; Queensland, 667 bales; greasy merinos 21 to 28d.; scoured merinos, 41 to 45½d.; Victoria, 1,578 bales; greasy merinos, 28 to 32½d.; scoured 41 to 45½d.; Adelaide, 316 bales; greasy merinos, 16 to 24½d.; West Australia, 166 bales; greasy merinos 16 to 24½d.; New Zealand, 3,947 bales; scoured merinos, 37½ to 42½d.; greasy crossbreds, 14¾ to 24½d. New Zealand slipe half-bred combing 27½d.; lambs 28½d.; slipe crossbred lambs, 25½d.

At Napier on the 18th inst. 15,200 bales offered and 14,600 sold. It was a representative selection. Competition was good with American keen operators. Prices ruled about the same as at the Wellington sale on November 14th. Crossbred 50-56s brought from 19d to 21½d 48-50s 16¼ to 21½d; 46-48s from 15d to 19d; 44-46s from 14d to 17¾d; 40-44s from 13d to 16¼d; and 36-40s from 11½d to 14¼d. Melbourne cabled November 22nd that a dockers' strike against obertime has extended to all Australian parts, except Brisbane. Wool cargoes are especially affected. At Wanganui November 22nd demand sharp for crossbreds. Tone was firm. Sales of 48-50s were made at from 16d to 19¾d; 46-48s from 15 to 18¾d; 44-46s from 14d to 16d; 40-44s, from 11¾ to 13¾d; 36-40s from 11½d to 13d.

COTTON.

* Beginning with the season of 1926, Houston figures include movement of cotton previously reported by Houston as an interior town. The distinction between port and town has been abandoned.

The exports for the week ending this evening reach a total of 154,503 bales, of which 4,738 were to Great Britain, 26,340 to France, 63,165 to Germany, 10,439 to Italy, 34,139 to Japan and China, and 15,682 to other destinations. In the corresponding week last year total exports were 293,809 bales. For the season to date aggregate esports have been 2,913,950 bales, against 3,753,864 bales in the same period of the previous season. Below are the exports for the week.

NOTE.—Exports to Canada.—It has never been our practice to include in the above table reports of cotton shipments to Canada, the reason being that virtually all the cotton destined to the Dominion comes overland and it is impossible to get returns concerning the same from week to week, while reports from the customs districts on the Canadian border are always very slow in coming to hand. In view, however, of the numerous inquiries we are receiving regarding the matter, we will say that for the month of October the exports to the Dominion the present season have been 17,500 bales. In the corresponding month of the preceding season the exports were 29,944 bales. For the three months ended Oct. 31 1927, there were 36,615 bales exported, as against 49,337 bales for the corresponding three months of 1926.

In addition to above exports, our telegrams to-night also give us the following amounts of cotton on shipboard, not cleared, at the ports named:

* Estimated.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been more active and at times at rising prices owing to smaller ginning than expected and a sharp demand to cover. Also there has been some new buying by Wall Street and the wire houses. The Census Bureau's ginning report on the 21st inst. was a big surprise. There had been, it is true, estimates under 11,000,000 bales, such as 10,900,000 and similar figures but they were few. Most were 11,000,000 to 11,250,000 bales. Perhaps 11,100,000 bales could be called the average. But the total up to Nov. 14th was only 10,899,187 bales against 12,956,444 bales at the same date last year, 12,260,352 in 1925 and 11,162,235 in 1924. The ginning in the period from Nov. 1st to Nov. 14th was 974,- 199 bales, against 1,804,782 bales in the previous period of October 18th to Nov. 1st; 1,702,571 from Nov. 1st to Nov. 14th last year, 1,053,155 in the same time in 1925 andd 1,446,592 the year before. There was a greater percentage of decrease for the period than in the big weevil years of 1921, 1922 and 1923. That attracted attention. Also some 1,942,000 bales remained to be ginned to make good the crop estimate by the Government on Nov. 9th of 12,842,000 bales. Other ginning reports will appear on Dec. 8th, Dec. 20th and Jan. 24th previous to the final ones on March 22nd, so that a different angle may be afforded for judging of the size of the crop, either confirmatory of present notions of 12,500,000 or negatory of it and pointing possibly to 13,000,000 bales. But the popular trend of opinion is towards 12,500,000 bales or less. That explained the rise of 60 to 70 points on the 21st inst. the day on which the ginning report appeared. It was a sensation.

Speculation at one time became active. Realizing sales were well taken and only a momentary reaction of 20 points occurred. It was followed by another upward turn which left the net rise that day about 60 points. Moreover the technical position was better. Dec. selling was erroneously supposed to be about finished. The hedge selling had dwindled. Mills on the 21st inst. raised their bids and called some 25,000 bales. Spot markets rose 50 to 60 points. There was a keen demand for grades under middling. Liverpool ended at 50 to 60 American points higher for future delivery and Bremen 30 to 50 points higher. Havre also advanced although to a lesser degree. Manchester advices were more cheerful. Worth Street reported print cloths and sheetings ⅛ cent higher owing to the unexpectedly small ginning figures. Fine goods were firmer. Some textile reports were better from France, Italy, Spain and Hungary. The world was still taking American cotton, it was said at the rate of 16,000,000 bales for the season. The re-entrance of the Ford car might, it was suggested, stimulate consumption in the automobile trade. Discounts on the low grades of cotton are being reduced at the South.

On the 22nd inst. came a reaction here of 25 to 30 points as December liquidation set in again and there was much evening up for the notices due here today. They were expected to be 200,700 bales, the full amount of the certificated stock here. Liverpool prices moreover came lower than due as the local traders, the Continent and London were liquidating there. Also there was selling here by Wall Street, Uptown, the South and Liverpool. Some hedge selling was done. The fact was stressed that the ginning in the eastern belt came rather close to the crop estimates by States on Nov. 9th, i. e., Mississippi had gained 1,207,173 bales; crop estimate, 1,330,000; South Carolina ginned 646,240 bales; crop, 730,000; North Carolina had ginned 675,407; crop, 845,000; Alabama ginned 1,125,552; crop, 1,180,000; Louisiana ginned 505,661; crop, 525,000. Cool headed people discussed these figures and were not inclined to endorse crop estimates of 12,500,000 bales or less. They leaned to 13,000,000 bales if not more. Meanwhile spot markets were quiet. The daily sales continued to fall noticeably below those on the corresponding days last year. The higher grades were largely neglected. Mill curtailment is apparently spreading at Fall River and elsewhere. In Georgia cotton mills have curtailed their output. Six mills there have stopped work; some are operating only four and five days a week, owing to a lack of orders. Maine advices said that six cotton mills, five in Lewiston and one in Augusta, had cut wages 10% owing to dulness of trade. Not only in the United States, but in Great Britain and Japan, production was exceeding sales noticeably. Meanwhile some sold out December and bought later months at premiums of 8 to 43 points from Jan. to May. On the 23rd inst. prices declined slightly after a rally. Spot houses bought Dec. But liquidation on the eve of Dec. notices continued. Liverpool was lower than due, owing partly to a break of 75 to 82 points in Alexandria and general selling. Further cuts in wages of 10% have latterly occurred in Maine and Massachusetts. Spot sales were relatively small in this country and only 5,000 bales in Liverpool. Spot prices in this country declined somewhat. Bremen and Havre declined. The weather was favorable for saving whenever cotton might remain in the fields of the American belt.

To-day prices advanced early 27 to 30 points with estimated notices for 200,000 bales, promptly stopped it is said, by the issuers. Liverpool cables were better than due. Spot sales there on the 24th were 10,000 bales. All the foreign markets were higher. The spot basis was generally reported steady. Manchester's trade of late has improved, with the Near East, the Continent, and Calcutta. In Liverpool today as yesterday, Bombay and the Continent were buying and the mills fixed prices to some extent. The into-sight total for the week showed a suggestive falling off. Some regarded the weekly figures as in the main bullish. But later on the demand failed, and prices gave way ending at a net decline for the day of 2 to 6 points. Discouraged bulls let go. Exports are running far behind those of last year up to this time. In the afternoon New Orleans and the South sold rather freely. There appeared to be some hedge selling. The final tone was easy. Prices show a net rise for the week of 4 to 14 points. Spot cotton ended at 19.90c. the same as yesterday, a rise for the week of 10 points.

DEATH OF W. C. HUBBARD.—Walter Comstock Hubbard, former President of the New York Cotton Exchange and for forty-five years a member, died at noon Thursday, Nov. 24, at his home, 40 East 72nd St., after a short illness. He was 76 years old. Mr. Hubbard had large interests in the insurance field as well as in the cotton business. He was Chairman of the board of directors of the Liverpool & London & Globe Insurance Co. and was also Chairman of the Globe Indemnity Co., the Star Insurance Co. of America, the American branch of the Prudential Insurance Co. of Great Britain and the Federal Insurance Co. of Chicago.

After being educated in private schools in this city, Mr. Hubbard started in the cotton business, becoming a member of Hubbard Brothers & Co. in Hanover Square, and soon was a prominent member of the Cotton Exchange. For two successive terms, 1905-06 and 1906-07, he was its President. He also was a trustee of the Exchange's gratuity fund for many years. Mr. Hubbard was on the Board of Managers of the New York Cotton Exchange as early as 1894. He became a member of Hubbard Brothers of 66 Beaver Street at the firm's founding in 1895 and later became a special partner. He is survived by a son, Ralph H. Hubbard, a member of the Cotton Exchange, and a daughter, Edythe, wife of Duncan Sterling, a member of the Stock Exchange. Mr. Hubbard was the son of the late Dr. Samuel Hubbard, a prominent New York physician, and of Mary Hustace Hubbard.

WEATHER REPORTS BY TELEGRAPH.—Reports to us by telegraph this evening indicate that the weather during the week has not been favorable for field work in the northern and central sections of the cotton belt, where cotton remains in the field, as there has been considerable rain which delayed picking and ginning. Elsewhere the weather as a rule has been favorable and field work has made satisfactory progress.

BREADSTUFFS

Friday Night, Nov. 25 1927.

Flour has been in only moderate demand at best, but shipping directions were fair. They are expected to continue so for the rest of the year. But the trade from day to day is of the humdrum sort; mostly in small lots with no liklihood of any change in the near future. It has seemingly become a habit in the last two years. Fair clearances were made mostly to Greek ports and Northern Europe.

Wheat on the 19th inst. opened higher and at one time was ⅜ to ½c. higher, but later came a setback on Argentine advices of good rains, especially in the South. Australia reported that harvesting was being rapidly pushed. Australia's crop is estimated at 100,000,000 bushels, or about 60,000,000 less than last year's. Export sales were only 200,000 bushels. The world's visible supply of wheat and flour was estimated at 299,280,000 bushels against 264,000,000 last month, or an increase of 35,000,000 during the period. On the 21st inst. prices advanced ⅜ to ¾c. net with complaints enough of dry weather in Northern Argentina, where Liverpool reports on the 19th inst. said there were such fine rains. Liverpool advanced ½ to ¾c. and Buenos Aires 1¼c. and strong. Also 600,000 to 700,000 bushels were sold for export. Winnipeg was firm with little pressure. The weather at the West was very cold, thus putting a stop to threshing for the time being; 45,000,000 bushels are said to be still unthreshed. Prices advanced 2c. on the 22nd inst. with wires reporting a large export trade in Manitobas. The Gulf wired that 300,000 bushels sold there and northwestern houses send confirmatory reports. The poor quality of rye in Germany is said to be stimulating the demand for wheat somewhat. World's shipments of wheat for the week were 15,513,000 bushels, against 16,797,000 bushels last week and 14,045,000 bushels last year. North America exported 13,071,000 bushels against 13,175,000 last week and 11,138,000 a year ago. Since July 1st, North America cleared 205,022,000 bushels against 206,712,000 last year.

Wheat traders confront December liquidation it is pointed with a 7c. difference between December and May and a large long account in December. Exports of wheat are good, but there is a surplus of 453,000,000 bushels in the United States and Canada. Reports on Argentine crop are in the main favorable, but Australia is expected to be short 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 bushels. There is an abundance say the bears for all world's requirements. Argentine cabled: "Rains continue, harvesting delayed, interrupted north with incidental usual damage to yield and quality's however, no anxiety." Winnipeg wired on Nov. 22nd: "Good cash wheat demand and good business by exporters with no opposition."

There was a decrease in the visible supply of 1,062,000 bushels for the week and an increase in the Canadian visible of 4,666,000 bushels, this latter including the quantity in bond in the United States. World's shipments were 15,513,000 bushels. Canadian carlot receipts for two days were 3,786 against 3,341 last year. Mills took considerable December at Minneapolis. The United States visible supply decrease of 1,062,000 bushels compares with a decrease of about the same quantity last year, and the total of 89,721,000 bushels against 72,558,000 bushels a year ago. Bradstreet's North American shipments for the week were 13,949,000 bushels against 9,846,000 a year ago. Argentine exported this week 1,750,000 bushels and Australia 304,000 and the Black Sea 376,000 including 224,000 from Russia; East India, 144,000. Canadian country marketings yesterday were 3,480,000 against 2,491,000 last year. Total world shipments this week look like 16,500,000. North American exports thus far are said to be 10,000,000 ahead of last year. Liverpool fell 1½d. and Argentine 2¼c. Final prices show a rise for the week of ½ to ⅞c.

Winnipeg wired "The cold weather in the west brings to an end what railroad officials say is the most marvelous season for deliveries of grain by farmers known in history. At the close of the late harvest farmers made an intensive drive to market their wheat before winter closed navigation on the Great Lakes. It is stated that an average of 3,100,000 bushels has been brought to railroad elevators over snow filled roads in the last 30 days. Since August 1st, 225,000,000 bushels have been marketed. Threshing in some places is still progressing. To-day prices closed ¾ to 1¼c. lower in the various markets. There was a fair business. Early prices were down about 2c. Liquidation accounted for that and with professional pressure. Also foreign markets were lower. Crop reports from Argentine were favorable, with good weather. There was little or no export demand, either in this country or Argentina. Later on there was a rally due to buying against privileges, covering of shorts and the firmness of corn. Most traders are inclined to be bearish, however. Interior receipts were fair. Cash markets were steady. Exporters were inquiring for some hard winter from the Gulf, but apparently it was held too high for business. In Argentine, according to private cables, the yields are 14 to 18 bushels per acre in some parts. Some estimates on the Argentine crop, it is said, were as high as 230,000,000 bushels against 224,000,000 a year ago. The weather in Canada was favorable for threshing. The flour trade was moderate.

Indian Corn on the 19th inst. was ½ to ¾c. higher at first, but profit taking caused a decline later and prices ended at the lowest on that day. The weather was good. Country offerings were small. The ending was ¼ to ⅝c. lower. On the 21st inst. again a rise was greeted with profit taking and reacted sharply i.e. 1⅜c. but a noticeable rally came later and the ending was practically unchanged or ⅛c. higher for the day. For the United States the visible supply decreased 1,634,000 bushels and Chicago almost 2,000,000 bushels against an increase a year ago of 830,000 bushels. The total was 20,786,000 bushels against 30,103,000 a year ago. The forecast was for still cold weather. The demand was good. On the 22nd inst. corn emulated wheat, rallying ½c. on buying that stimulated the rise in other grain. The rise, however, met increased offerings and was not fully sustained. St. Louis wired: "White County Ill. reports say farmers are selling some new corn to each other 75c., but none for shipment. Old corn about cleaned up. What's left sells at 80c."

To-day prices closed ¼ to ½c. higher after some early decline of 1 to 1¼c. with weather favorable for husking and little or no demand. Professionals sold. Liquidation played some part in the decline. Profit taking was noticed, however, on the short side, and this with some scattered buying caused a rally later. It was due largely to the comparative firmness of the cash markets. The ending was strong. Country offerings were light, though they may increase in the next two weeks. Old cash corn was ½ to 1c. higher; new was steady. Receipts were only fair. Very satisfactory crop prospects are reported from Argentine due to recent rains. Argentine exports this week are 5,016,000 bushels against 4,761,000 last year. Final prices show a decline of ⅜c. on December but a rise on other months of ⅜c.

Oats were unchanged at the close on the 19th inst. on most months after being at one time ¼ to ⅜c. higher. The cash demand was fair and receipts were rather small. On the 21st inst. prices fell ⅞c. on heavy liquidation, but a rally of ¼ to ⅞c. came later. The United States visible supply decreased last week 137,000 bushels against an increase last year of 237,000; total 23,333,000 bushels against 48,391,000 in 1926. On the 22nd inst. prices rallied ½ to ⅝c. influenced by the advance at Winnipeg and reports of a good export business in Canadian sorts.

To-day prices were practically unchanged in the end. The trend was towards a small advance. The market was held back by liquidation, and the decline in other grain. Moreover there was some hedge selling. Not much support appeared except that there was some buying of December partly by cash houses. A rally in corn helped oats later. Cash prices were about steady, with a moderate demand. Country offerings were small. The weather was rather warm than otherwise. Final prices show a decline of ¼c. on March with other months about as they were a week ago.

Rye declined slightly on the 19th inst. in sympathy with lower prices for wheat and with export demand lacking or at least there was none of consequence. Profit-taking was noticeable. On the 21st inst. prices were sluggish and did not fully respond to an upturn in wheat, though it did rally at one time. The trouble was however that there was no export business. On the 22nd inst. prices were 1⅞ to 2¼c. higher, due to light offerings and further buying on a better export demand and a rise in Northwestern markets. To-day prices closed ½ to 1c. lower, with moderate trading. Some liquidation was noticed. Exports demand was unsatisfactory. On the 24th inst. it is said that 150,000,000 bushels of cash rye sold at Chicago to go to the Bay. Winnipeg closed ⅛ to ¼c. lower than on Thursday. Final prices closed practically unchanged for the week.

WEATHER BULLETIN FOR THE WEEK ENDED NOV. 22.—The general summary of the weather bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture, indicating the influence of the weather for the week ended Nov. 22 follows:

General Summary.

At the beginning of the week abnormally warm weather prevailed from the Mississippi Valley eastward, but at the same time high pressure, attended by much colder weather, had overspread the Great Plains and the Northwest, with freezing temperatures as far south as northwestern Texas. The cool wave moved eastward during the following few days and reached the Atlantic coast on Friday, Nov. 18, when the line of freezing extended southward to southwestern Virginia. It continued cool in the East for a couple of days, with freezing weather reported from the northern portions of the east Gulf States, but in the meantime there was a reaction to much warmer weather in the interior. Over the Northwest it was again much colder, however, by the last of the week.

Early in the period a low pressure area moved from the Mississippi Valley eastward to the Atlantic Coast States, with abnormally high pressure to the eastward over the ocean and to the northwest of the "low". This pressure distribution resulted in widespread precipitation east of the Mississippi Valley, with some severe local storms in the Middle Atlantic Coast States and heavy rainfall in Tennessee and from the upper Ohio Valley northward and eastward. Precipitation was also frequent in the Northwestern States, and was quite general the latter part of the week from the middle and upper Mississippi Valley eastward.

Chart I shows that marked contrasts featured the temperature conditions for the week in different sections of the country. The weekly means were above normal from the upper Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic area northward, and also in practically all sections from the Rocky Mountains westward and in west Gulf districts. On the other hand, a large area, including the central and east Gulf sections, the interior valleys and western Lake region, was cooler than normal, and markedly so in the Central-Northern States. From Minnesota westward to the Rocky Mountains the temperature for the week averaged from 9 degrees to as much as 22 degrees below normal. The marked contrasts in temperatures that are possible in near-by sections is illustrated by this weekly chart, which shows, for example, that Lander, Wyo., and Pocatello, Idaho, had weekly mean temperatures of 9 degrees above normal, while only a short distance northward at Havre, Mont., the week was 22 degrees cooler than the seasonal average. The dotted line on Chart I shows that freezing temperatures during the week extended southward to the south-central portions of the east Gulf States and to east-central Texas. Zero, or lower, occurred in the northern Great Plains, with a minimum for the week of 12 degrees below zero at Havre, Mont., on the morning of Nov. 22.

Chart II shows that precipitation for the week was substantial to heavy from the lower Mississippi and Ohio Rivers eastward, except in the Southeast, and also from the upper Ohio Valley and Middle Atlantic area northward. The weekly totals exceeded 2 inches over a belt extending from northwestern Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, and eastern Arkansa northeastward to the Lake region, and most districts in the more eastern States had an inch or more of rain, except in South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. To the westward of these areas precipitation was very light in all sections, except in the Pacific Northwest and locally in some other Northern States. The week was practically rainless over the Southwest and in the upper Mississippi and lower Missouri Valleys. There was almost continuously cloudy weather from the Ohio and Mississippi Valleys northward, and sunshine was subnormal quite generally over the northern half of the country. There was smuch sunshine in the Southwest and a moderate amount in the Southeast.

Rains in South Beneficial.

Railfall during the week in Southern States, especially from eastern Texas and Arkansas eastward, was very beneficial in conditioning the soil for plowing and for winter grain crops. At the same time, more moisture is still needed in some sections, particularly in much of the area comprising South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. Precipitation was also helpful in the upper Ohio Valley and in the more northwestern States. It is still too dry in much of the Southwest, especially from western Kansas and eastern Colorado southward.

There was some damage by frost to tender vegation in the northern portions of the Gulf States, but harm was not extensive as crops had mostly matured. The first general frost of the season occurred in the southern Great Plains over central and southern Oklahoma and northern Texas. Outside operations were retarded by heavy rains in the Northeast and work was practically at a standstill in the Central Northern, between the Lake region and the Rocky Mountains, because of cold and snow. Otherwise, seasonal farm operations made satisfactory advance. The cool nights in the far Southwest were beneficial for lettuce.

SMALL GRAINS.—The growth of winter wheat was checked in the interior valleys by the prevailing cool weather, but progress in general continued satisfactory from the eastern Great Plains eastward. Rains during the week in upper Ohio Valley sections were very beneficial for wheat, and weather conditions continued generally favorable in the middle and north Atlantic areas. Rains were also helpful in much of the South, but more moisture is needed in many southern districts, while the drought in the Southwest, extending northward from western Texas to western Kansas and eastern Colorado, was unrelieved. Winter grains were protected by snow cover in Northern States between the Lake region and Rocky Mountains. Wheat continued to do well in the Pacific Northwest.

CORN.—Husking corn was delayed by rain in the Ohio Valley districts, while precipitation at the close of last week, and the generally cloudy weather since, has interrupted gathering the crop in the upper Mississippi Valley. Husking made good progress in the Southwest, the Great Plains, the lower Missouri Valley, and quite generally in the Southern States, while in the middle Atlantic area fairly good advance was reported, though there was some interruption by rainfall.

COTTON.—Cool, cloudy, and rainy weather in the central-northern portion of the Cotton Belt was unfavorable for field work and slow progress was made in picking. Killing frost in the northern and some central sections of Arkansas stopped growth, but caused bolls to open rapidly; late bolls are still developing in some eastern and central portions of that State. Frost stopped development of late cotton also in northern Texas, but the weather was ideal for picking, while fair progress in gathering the remaining crop was reported from Oklahoma. In the latter State picking is practically completed in the central and eastern portions and is well along in the west.

The Weather Bureau also furnishes the following resume of the conditions in the different States:

Virginia.—Richmond: Warm, with moderate to heavy rains first part much colder, with freezing weather, latter part. Corn gathering well advanced under favorable conditions. Favorable for winter grains. Pastures continue good in most sections. Part of peanut crop yet to be dug; reports favorable.

North Carolina.—Raleigh: Abnormally warm first part of week, with rain on Thursday; much colder thereafter, with first killing frost in coast section on Sunday. Weather favorable for farm work, mainly husking corn, picking cotton, marketing tobacco. Rain helped germination of wheat and preparation of soil to finish sowing.

South Carolina.—Columbia: Fair early in week; rains improved cereal germination and soil for further plowing and planting, but more needed. First freezing temperature in interior on 21st, but crops beyond danger; winter cabbage generally, and spinich and lettuce on coast, doing fairly well. Considerable hog killing.

Georgia.—Atlanta: Rain at beginning of week beneficial, though light, except in extreme north where exceeding an inch at some stations; freezing temperatures to central division and heavy frosts to southern border middle of week without damage. Rainfall caused fair progress in growth of cereals and truck. All harvesting operations completed.

Florida.—Jacksonville: Temperature averaged below normal; warm first half and cool last half, with scattered rains at beginning and more general at middle of week. Rain very beneficial in most sections in stimulating crop growth and permitting plowing and planting. Conditions especially good in lower east coast counties and region of Everglades, but more rain needed elsewhere. Citrus good and coloring well. Cane grinding and cutting general.

Alabama.—Montgomery: General, locally heavy, rains first two days; remainder fair; temperatures alternately much above and much below normal. Light to killing frosts Saturday and Sunday; much tender vegetation killed in central and northern portions. Little plowing accomplished. Still a little cotton remaining unpicked in scattered fields. Sowing oats progressing slowly; those up doing well. Digging sweet potatoes praccally finished. Pastures and truck crops mostly fairly good in coast sections, but elsewhere scarce and mostly poor. Corn harvesting nearing completion.

Mississippi.—Vicksburg: Generally heavy to excessive rains Wednesday with light to moderate scattered showers Thursday and Saturday. Heavy to killing frost in central and north Friday and Saturday mornings; damage slight. Progress in finishing picking cotton, housing corn, and seasonal farm work generally poor to fair.

Louisiana.—New Orleans: Cold wave middle of week, with heavy to killing frost in interior Thursday and Friday, but damage slight as crops mostly mature; some late garden truck killed in north. Cane harvest making fine progress, with sugar output excellent. Harvest of other crops practically completed; only late remnants of cotton and corn being housed. Some fall plowing accomplished.

Oklahoma.—Oklahoma City: First killing frost and freeze in south-central and east portions on 16-17th. Field work retarded early part of week account cold weather. Fair progress in picking cotton; practically completed in east and central and 80 to 90% out in west portion. Wheat fair growth and generally in good condition, but needing rain in most central and west portions. Some little corn and grain sorghums still in fields.

Texas.—Houston: Cool wave 16-17th gave frost nearly to coast section, with considerable damage to tender vegetation, but none to hardy truck; beneficial rain in eastern third, but dry elsewhere. Progress and condition of pastures, wheat, and oats poor to fair in western half; fair to good in eastern. Truck in coastal section benefited by rain and condition fair to good. Pecan crop short. Frost stopped development of cotton; weather ideal for picking. Progress and condition of citrus very good.

Arkansas.—Little Rock: Weather too cold and wet for gathering corn and cotton. Killing frost in northern and some central portions stopped growth and caused bolls to open; bolls still developing in eastern and some central portions. Rice threshing well along. Favorable for meadows, fall grains, and winter truck.

Tennessee.—Nashville: Cool weather prevailed. While heavy showers first of week delayed farm work, wheat about all sown and doing well. Oats, rye, and barley advancing favorably. Clover revived after rain and looking thrifty. Continuing to plant fruit trees from nursery stock. Livestock in good condition.

Kentucky.—Louisville: Began warm, but temperatures mostly subnormal. Condition of wheat good to excellent; growth slow and checked by freezes. Frequent rains delayed corn gathering and cotton picking, but favorable for tobacco stripping. Pastures still fairly good.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York—Friday Night—Nov. 25th, 1927.

Conditions surrounding the textile markets have continued much the same as during the preceding week. Distribution is more or less irregular in the various divisions, except for rayons which are the one outstanding exception. Producers of this product continue to operate at capacity, with no let up in sight. Manufacturers are now planning to start an advertising campaign in January to provide consumers with a wider knowledge of rayon both as regards its merits and qualities. It is also hoped that this will tend to correct the evil of misrepresentation as reports have come to light wherein many unsuspecting consumers, when purchasing silk, have been given rayon instead, which will prove detrimental to the latter in the long run. In the floor covering division, interest centers in the announcement of the Alexander Smith & Sons Company that they would offer at auction, commencing Monday, Dec. 5th, 93,000 bales of tapestry, velvet and axminster rugs and carpetings, including all of the latest Spring patterns. The forthcoming auction will mark the first time in several years that the Smith Company has held two sales in the same season. The last one, which began Oct. 3rd, comprised 97,000 bales of similar merchandise, and was soon sold, and brought $5,667,000. The unusual terms and conditions will prevail at the coming sale. Samples of the merchandise to be offered will be ready for inspection this coming Wednesday, and from present indications they will probably be well received, and the opening well attended. Most of the larger factors make it a point to be on hand, if for no other reason than to see and keep in touch with any new developments. Conditions in the domestic cotton goods markets are generally unsatisfactory, but it is believed that a large volume of buying must be done soon, in order to provide normal requirements for the Spring trade. This is expected to be stimulated by the coming Government report on cotton, which will contain a preliminatry estimate of the production and acreage abandoned since July 1st.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—Sales in the markets for domestic cotton goods have been less active, owing to the Thanksgiving holiday interruption. The undertone continues irregular. Certain fabrics are selling in fair proportions, but in the main, sentiment favors a waiting attitude until buyers and sellers can get together on a more stable basis. Further reports concerning the curtailment of production are that sheeting manufacturers have decided to shut down on Friday noon of each week. Although some thought that a more drastic action would be taken, at least it is a start. It was further stated that the restriction of output is being practiced more generally than appears on the surface. Furthermore, a number of mills situated in New England announced that wages have been reduced on an average of 10%, which demonstrates the difficulties producers are having in this section. Raw cotton has continued to fluctuate more or less disturbingly, and as a result, flannel manufacturers have preferred to await more stable conditions before instituting new quotations on offerings for Fall 1928. They wish to name an opening basis which will hold through the season without adjustments. Buyers appear to favor this, and have indicated their willingness to await action on the part of mills. Flannels are in a much stronger position than for some years past. Not only does the higher price of raw cotton practically assure advances on the new season's goods, but it is also probable that any move in this direction will receive support from buyers, as supplies are not burdensome. As to wash goods, sales have tended to improve, and factors state that they are well pleased with the showing for this pre-holiday period. In many quarters, they are preparing new patterns, in order to keep the lines fresh and attractive. Print cloths 28-inch 64 x 64s construction are quoted at 6½c., and 27-inch 64 x 60s at 6¼c. Gray goods in the 39-inch 63 x 72s construction are quoted at 9c., and 39-inch 80 x 80s at 11c.

WOOLEN GOODS.—Markets for woolens and worsteds are momentarily quiet, owing to the Thanksgiving holiday and the fact that they are between seasons. Adverse weather conditions in some portions of the country have also exercised a retarding influence. Nevertheless, sentiment concerning the future has continued highly optimistic, chiefly owing to the strong statistical position of the industry. In the meantime, however, business is relatively restricted. In the women's wear division, for instance, factors are only concerned with preparing model garments for which they only need sample pieces. Duplicate business on dress goods is not generally expected to reach sizable proportions until after the turn of the year. Men's wear factors are probably disappointed over the number of orders received for Spring merchandise, but this, no doubt, will prove to be a temporary condition.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Although sentiment is cheerful, linen markets continue more or less irregular, chiefly owing to the poor response to offerings in the household division. Buying of these fabrics for the Thanksgiving holidays was quite limited, but it is expected that the Christmas holiday period will counterbalance the disappointing results. Dress linens are easily the best selling fabric, and conditions give promise of further improvement. Business centers in the better goods with conservative designs. Handkerchief producers are also well supplied with orders, due to the proximity of the year-end trade. Knicker and suiting linens are likewise doing well—in fact, much better than had been generally expected. Burlaps have ruled steady, and especially during the latter part of the week, owing to a better call for spot delivery for South American account. Light weights are quoted at 7.55c., and heavies at 10.25–10.35c.

New York City, N. Y.—Comptroller Temporarily Ties Up Transit Program By Refusal to Sign Notes.—In an affidavit filed on Nov. 24. Comptroller Berry seeks to stop the proposed transit system plan devised by Mayor Walker and Chairman Delaney to maintain the 5c. fare, and announces his refusal to issue the $52,000,000 in short term bonds which were to be the initial subway financing. The "Herald Tribune" of Nov. 25 had the following news article regarding the matter:

Comptroller Berry announced in an affidavit filed with Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel yesterday that he would refuse to issue the $52,000,000 in short term bonds recently voted by the Board of Estimate as a first step toward financing the new subways and maintaining a 5c fare by annual subsidies in the budget.

Mr. Berry's affidavit was submitted at a hearing on the Citizens Union's endeavor to mandamus the Board of Estimate to strike a $13,000,000 item from the 1928 budget. This sum was intended to amortize part of the $52,000,000 in bonds, which were to replace the same amount in notes already issued or to be issued for subway financing.

Blocks Walker-Delaney Plan.

This attitude of the comptroller—if unaltered—means that the plan devised by Mayor Walker and Chairman Delaney, of the Board of Transportation, for financing the building of the city's new subway system out of the returns of short-term bonds cannot go ahead. And with it falls all hope of maintaining the 5c. fare on Samuel Untermeyer's proposed unified system. The 5c. fare was to be maintained through the annual budgetary subsidies aggregating more than 60% of the estimated cost of the new subways, approximately $400,000,000.

The Citizens Union and Mr. Berry maintain that the Delaney-Walker plan is unfair to the taxpayers and rentpayers, as well as a blow at the financial integrity of the city.

Berry Move Expected.

Mr. Berry's affidavit was not entirely unexpected, as he has consistently declared that he would fight all proposals to finance the building of the subways through budgetary subsidies.

Under the charter, the comptroller is the only official who can sell notes, bonds, or other securities of the city. His flat refusal to issue any of the short term bonds which is the sole hope of maintaining a 5c. fare ties, temporarily at least, the hands of Mayor Walker and the other members of the board who outvoted the comptroller.

Walker Puzzled Over Next Move.

It is known that the mayor has considered the possible refusal of the comptroller to issue the short term bonds and has admitted that he did not know what he could do in the event that the comptroller assumed such a position.

The comptroller's defiance of the mayor, in an affidavit sworn to before a notary public, and filed with Justice Wasservogel, was voluminous and unequivocal.

"I shall not issue the corporate stock," swore the comptroller in blunt language.

And the comptroller further swore that he would ignore every suggestion or mandate in the recent resolution adopted by the Board of Estimate—his vote alone opposing—commanding him to issue 4-year bonds to meet municipal notes issued on account of the city's new subway system.

Mr. Berry, who has steadfastly declared that the subways should be self-supporting in the interests of the taxpayers and the rentpayers, filed his affidavit at the beginning of the two hours argument in Justice Wasservogel's chambers when Leonard Wallstein, as counsel for William Jay Schieffelin, head of the Citizens Union, urged the granting of a writ of mandamus compelling the Board of Estimate to eliminate the $13,000,000 from the budget.

The comptroller filed his affidavit through Robert Jordan, chief of the bureau of law and adjustment of his office.

Unusual Holiday Hearing.

In the hearing before Justice Wasservogel—one of the few hearings before the Supreme Court which have been held on a holiday—W. E. C. Mayer, assistant corporation counsel, appeared for the city. The Board of Transportation was represented by William G. Fuller. He took no part in the proceedings, as the board is not a party to the proceeding.

Justice Wasservogel reserved decision and gave both sides until next Tuesday to submit briefs.

The Berry affidavit in its second sentence indicated a determination on the part of this foe of the Walker-Delaney transit program to go through to the bitter end in his opposition to the plan he has so long fought. He said:

"Since this is a proceeding in which an order may affect me individually, or which may be followed by a motion to commit for contempt of court, I am entitled under section 255 of the greater New York charter to be represented by an attorney or counsel other than the corporation counsel.

"I have decided to be so represented herein by counsel other than corporation counsel of the City of New York because, with reference to the issues involved in this proceeding, I am in complete disagreement with the mayor of the City of New York, who appoints and may remove the corporation counsel of said city."

Berry Names as Respondent.

Mr. Berry was named in the Citizens Union petition as a party respondent, because of his membership on the Board of Estimate. He frankly admitted in his affidavit the truth of all the petition's allegations dealing with the action of the board in directing him to issue the $52,000,000 of bonds and in appropriating, over his dissenting vote, the $13,000,000 for amortization of the 1928 installment.

The outstanding issue involved was described in the petition and in the comptroller's affidavit as "transcending any policy of financing independent subways," and as involving an attempt to break up the entire financial structure of the city government by interference with the time-honored functions and power of the comptroller as the elected officer responsible for the administration of the finances of the city.

"The vital issue," Mr. Berry swore, "is whether the conduct of the fiscal affairs of the City of New York is in fact committed to the Department of Finance under section 149 of the charter, under the direction of the comptroller, or to the Board of Transportation, the mayor or the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

"More particularly the issue involved is whether statutory provisions designed to safeguard the city's credit and to protect the taxpayers may be disregarded as meaningless and without force and effect."

Sees Financial System Disrupted.

Comptroller Berry further alleged that it would disrupt the city's financial machinery if the mayor and the two boards associated with him on this issue were permitted to have their way. He pointed out, particularly, his objections to the order directing the sale of the bonds in question by Dec. 31 1927, declaring that any order to sell any amount of city bonds by a fixed date was unsound because of the many and varying conditions of the financial market.

Referring to the Board of Estimate resolutions of Oct. 27, which directed him to make the sale by Dec. 31, Comptroller Berry insisted that they are merely permissive and not mandatory. The comptroller then hurled unqualified defiance at Mayor Walker and his allies in the subway financing plan.

"In any event," said the comptroller, "whether the said resolutions are merely permissive or were intended to be mandatory in such requirements, I desire to state unequivocally that I shall not issue the corporate stock referred to therein prior to Dec. 31 1927."

Mr. Berry then discussed the reasons for his refusal, alleging that to issue the stock would be "an indefensible waste of public funds" and would involve a loss of nearly $230,000 to the city in avoidable duplication of interest on the subway construction notes now outstanding.

A statistical tabulation prepared by Duncan MacInnes, chief accountant of the comptroller's office, was attached to the affidavit and contained figures purporting to bear out this contention.

Referring to the $13,000,000 amortization item in the 1928 budget, Comptroller Berry branded it as "unauthorized and illegal" because of its lack of an estimate and certification from his office. Such estimate and certification, he maintains, is necessary, under the charter, and in accordance with time-honored procedure, to safeguard the city's credit and to protect the interests of the taxpayers.

The comptroller definitely took sides with the Citizens Union by stating in his affidavit that "I admit the allegations in paragraphs 2 to 21 incl., of the petition." These paragraphs set out in detail the steps by which the bond issue was authorized and directed and the $13,000,000 item placed in the budget.

Attached to the city's answer to the petition was the affidavit of Thomas P. Smith, Jr., an examiner in the office of the secretary of the Board of Estimate, alleging that, prior to the fixing on the budget appropriation in question, certain required estimates and certificates on debt service, involving amortization charges on subway construction indebtedness outstanding, had not been submitted to the board.

Near the close of the affidavit was the allegation that such an estimate and certificate were found in the office of the director of the budget on Nov. 22, some time after the budget appropriation was approved. An answering affidavit by Mr. MacInnes alleges that the necessary estimate and certificate were filed with the secretary of the Board of Estimate on Oct. 25, 1927, and a supplemental affidavit by Conptroller Berry supports this contention.

Board's Order on Notes.

The resolutions adopted by the Board of Estimate at its calendar meeting of Oct. 27, as set out in the petition, fixed the term of the issue at 4 years, and "authorized" the conptroller "to issue and sell, before Dec. 31 1927, corporate stock to the par value of $52,000,000, being that portion of the above mentioned various authorizations, as to which a term of 4 years is hereinbefore fixed."

Referring to the $13,000,000 appropriation, the petition points out that it was not requested by the Department of Finance or by the conptroller in the department estimate made under section 226 of the charter, and that the sum named was not estimated or certified by the comptroller, but was, as a matter of fact, contrary to an express certification and estimate submitted by Berry in which $11,350,000, in one item, and $2,800,000, in another, was asked to take care of amortization on all rapid transit construction bonds issued from and after Jan. 1 1910. ...

An affidavit by Chairman Delaney, of the Board of Transportation, attached to the city's answer, set out in great length the details of the independent subway construction plan formulated by that body, together with an argument for its financial program as one calculated to take care of subway construction and still maintain fares upon a 5c. basis.

Argument Held Outside Issue.

Counsel for Comptroller Berry and the Citizens' Union pointed out to Justice Wasservogel that such an argument was entirely outside the issues involved, insisting that if the Board of Estimate was acting beyond its powers, as they contended, it was immaterial what policy the Board of Transportation, the mayor and other public individuals and bodies favored as matters of policy.

Mr. Wallstein argued against the legality of the $13,000,000 appropriation, as well as against the legality of the procedure under which Comptroller Berry was directed to issue the corporate stock.

The Citizens' Union petition asks for a peremptory mandamus order directing the elimination of the $13,000,000 item from the 1928 budget as adopted on Oct. 21, directing Mayor Walker and Comptroller Berry not to certify the budget so long as it contains that item, and directing the comptroller, when submitting to the Board of Aldermen the statement required by law setting forth the amounts authorized to be raised by taxation in 1928, to exclude the amount of the appropriation objected to.

Recites History of Bond Deal.

The petition recites in detail the history of the bond issue resolutions and the budget appropriation, and refers to the letter sent by the Board of Transportation on Oct. 18 to the Board of Estimate, accompanied by a proposed form of preambles and resolutions to be adopted by the latter board. The language of these resolutions, which were approved by the Board of Estimate in executive session of the committee of the whole on that date, Comptroller Berry alone dissenting, "authorized and directed the comptroller to now issue and sell corporate stock to an amount not exceeding $52,000,000."

The petition also alleges—and is backed up by Comptroller Berry's own affidavit—that the action of the Board of Estimate was contrary to the long-established financial practice in this city, that the preservation of the city's credit requires that the handling of its finances be left with the comptroller, that it is unwise and wasteful to allow the Board of Transportation, a large spending organization, "to fix, determine or control even to the slightest detail" the policies to be followed in financing its expenditures, and that an "enormous waste of public funds and unjustified burden on the taxpayers' will be caused if the mandamus is not granted.

The petition also called to the court's attention the recent passage of the $300,000,000 bond amendment, declaring that it has made it unnecessary to finance the construction of independent subways in the manner in which the Board of Transportation and the Board of Estimate have attempted to do. Failure to grant the petition, it is finally argued, will cause an unwarranted increase of 8 points in the 1928 tax rate.

United Real Estate Owners Association Brings Action to Compel City to Frame an Honest Budget.—With reference to these mandamus proceedings against the City, the New York "Times" in its issue of Nov. 24 reported as follows:

While a statutory public hearing on the 1928 city budget of $512,528,831.46 was being conducted yesterday by the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen, Frank A. Cunningham, Chairman of that Committee, was served with a mandamus order by Stewart Browne, President of the United Real Estate Owners' Association. The order directed that the city officials show cause why they should not be obliged to remake the budget, so as to make it an honest one, by the inclusion of more than $40,000,000 additional.

The mandamus was issued yesterday by Supreme Court Justice Delehanty and is returnable at 10 o'clock a. m. on Tuesday.

Mr. Browne issued a statement explaining his legal action and saying that, through the Corporation Counsel, George P. Nicholson, the papers had been served upon the Board of Estimate, as well as upon the Board of Aldermen.

Neither members of the Board of Estimate nor the Corporation Counsel cared to comment upon the step taken by Mr. Browne pending argument before Justice Delehanty, but it was evident that they did not take the matter very seriously as threatening the integrity of the budget as it now stand Suggestion Ignored, He Says.

Mr. Browne's statement follows:

At last year's hearing before your committee on the 1927 budget we suggested that you should appoint a subcommittee to sit in with the committee of the Board of Estimate when it considered the departmental estimates for the 1928 budget. Tnis was not done, and we repeat the same suggestion for next year.

By letter to and by oral argument before the Board of Estimate on the hearing on the 1928 budget, in addition to other objections to said budget, we insisted that said budget was not a true budget inasmuch as the following items were deducted by it and we now ask that they be added to the 1928 budget and like amounts credited to "the general fund" to reduce taxation:

Revenue receipts from Water Department's appropriation	2,916,000
College of the City of New York fees	220,000
Hunter College fees	165,000
Health Department receipts from sale of vaccine, &c	65,000
Bridge revenues	250 000
Estimated fees and permits from Police, Fire and Health Depts.	1,500,000
	$45,313,681
The following amounts should also be added to the budget:
Special revenue bonds for Fire Department pensions	$2,200,000
Illegally deducted from police pensions	900,000
	$48,413,681

Sees Violation of Law.

Budget officers must show why the school budget appropriation should not read $124,545,000 instead of $84,370,000 and why the total city budget should not read $552,720,000 instead of $512,529,000. The order is so drawn that if the taxpayer's suit should be won, the budget might have to be restated in other respects so as to include "just and proper" additions and so as to state truthfully the budget appropriations for next year.

The contention of the petitioner, Mr. Browne, is that the law has been violated by the subtraction of the $40,200,000 estimated as receivable from the State school tax from the total amount intended for use by the Board of Education next year. Former Assemblyman Solomon Sufrin, special counsel for the "United," obtained the order to show cause.

Ohio (State of).—Result of Bond Elections Throughout State.—The Ohio News Bureau Co. has compiled a statement which shows that, of the $58,200,000 bonds placed before the voters of the State on Nov. 8—V. 125, p. 2557—about 40% of the bonds were defeated. The "Ohio State Journal" of Columbus on Nov. 20 said:

Ohio voters rejected more than 40% of proposed bond issues placed before them at the November election, a checkup from all parts of the state reveals. Tabulation of the results just completed by the Ohio News Bureau Co., Cleveland, publishers of the Ohio Builder, shows that close to $35,300,000 worth of bonds for all municipal and public school improvements were approved, as compared with approximately $60,000,000 worth appearing on ballots.

The amount of money voted for street and highway improvements, including grade crossing eliminations and other bridge and viaduct work, equals $13,312,600, and exceeds the amount of school bonds approved, which is $13,094,500. Voters rejected $4,500,000 worth of school bonds.

Sixteen public buildings, including hospitals, county homes, courthouses, city and town halls, to cost $3,448,000 in all, were approved. Other general items approved were, nine water works stations, sewage disposal plants and incinerators, $1,916,730; 11 park and playground projects, $1,456,000; sewer and water extensions and improvements, $1,115,750; fire protection, including alarm systems, new stations, apparatus, $689,000.

The Cincinnati $500,000 airport issue carried, while one for $900,000 in Akron and one for $425,000 in Columbus lost. The large [illegible] project carrying was the Cleveland Lorain-Central viaduct issues, totaling $8,000,000.

In many cases, projects to have been paid for through the bonds proposed, will be financed by other means. An example is the $3,000,000 Cleveland street bond issue which lost at the polls. City council already has voted $1,500,000 in bonds within its legal limitations to proceed with the program.

Hamilton county voters, embracing Greater Cincinnati, approved all of 21 bond issues presented, totaling $9,639,000. In Cuyahoga county, embracing Greater Cleveland, voters approved 32 issues totaling $12,217,800, of the 42 issues presented, which represented $17,974,800 in bonds.

Provisions in Various States for Taxation and Tax Exemption of State and Municipal Bonds.—Nebraska Municipal Bonds Tax Exempt —In this department, in our issue of Nov. 12, we reprinted a very interesting article dealing with the tax exempt features of municipal bonds in the different States. It appears that this article gave the impression that bonds issued by municipalities in Nebraska were subject to personal property taxation. Ware Hall & Co. of Omaha, Neb., write us that this is not the case. There was originally a provision to that effect, but the Supreme Court of Nebraska held it to be unconstitutional. In their communication to us the firm says:

In the "Compiled Statutes of the State of Nebraska 1922," Section 5884, Intangible property—how listed, appears the following: "Bonds and warrants or other evidences of indebtedness of this State or Governmental subdivisions thereof shall be listed and taxed at one mill on the dollar of the actual valuation thereof." This tax, however, was later held by the Supreme Court of Nebraska to be unconstitutional. We refer to the following case "Allied Contractors, Inc. vs. Board of Equalization of Douglas County." The case is reported in Volume 204 Northwestern Reporter, page 374. We quote from the opinion of Mr. Justice Day of the Supreme Court of Nebraska under date of June 12 1925 as follows: "That part of Section 5884 Compiled Statutes 1922, providing that 'bonds and warrants or other evidences of indebtedness of this State or Governmental subdivisions thereof shall be listed and taxed at one mill on the dollar of the actual valuation thereof' held to be unconstitutional."

In "Session Laws of Nebraska 1925" compiled and published by Charles W. Pool, Secretary of State, we refer to page 429, Chapter 165, Section 5884, Intangibles defined. This section repeals Section 5884 of "Compiled Statutes 1922" and exempts bonds of the State of Nebraska or or Governmental subdivisions thereof from classification as intangible property. In "Session Laws of Nebraska 1927" compiled and published by Frank Marsh, Secretary of State, we refer to page 499, Chapter 169, Senate File 39, which repeals Section 5884 "Compiled Statutes of Nebraska 1922" as amended by Chapter 165 "Session Laws of Nebraska 1925" and continues to exempt municipal bonds from the classification of intangible property.

McNear & Co. of Chicago are now being offered on the market priced to yield 4.15% on all maturities. The firm says: "This issue of bonds, which constitutes an obligation of the City of Racine, is payable solely from a continuing fixed proportion of the gross water revenues, which, including and adequate margin, is set aside into a special fund each month for that purpose. In issuing these bonds the City by ordinance covenants, agrees and obligates itself to operate and maintain the plant in good condition and to charge and collect such rates for water service that the fixed proportion of gross revenues applicable to the retirement of this issue will be sufficient at all times to pay both principal and interest as they mature. The annual gross water revenues, which have steadily increased, have averaged $279,379 for the past five years. The annual operating and maintenance expenses for the same period have averaged $78,564, leaving an average annual net surplus of $200,815. The average annual requirement to pay both principal and interest of this issue is only $66,117.

"The Water Works system has a present replacement value conservatively estimated in excess of $2,500,000, and this issue of bonds, which represents the only water works debt, is secured by a statutory mortgage lien upon the plant, including all extensions and betterments. These bonds are issued to refund a like amount of first mortgage 5% bonds of the Racine Water Co., being the remaining portion of the mortgage debt which was outstanding against the property when it was purchased by the City in 1919."

"The maturing bonds will be taken care of by an issue of $45,000,000 in 4% 3-year Treasury notes, which have been sold to the chartered banks of Canada at par. THE TRANSPORTATION ACT OF 1920.

The railroads of the United States are now operated under the Transportation Act of 1920. On March 1 1920 these railroads. which had on Jan. 1 1918, as a war measure, been taken over for operation as one system by the United States Railroad Administration, were, in so far as still under its control (the short lines having previously been surrendered), restored to their owners. Federal control was terminated pursuant to a proclamation issued on Dec. 24 1919 by the President of the United States and subject to the terms of the Transportation Act of 1920, approved by the President on Feb. 28 1920. The complete text of the Act was printed in the "Chronicle" of Feb. 21 1920, pages 715 to 732, with an amendment in V. 110, p. 2250.

On Sept. 1 1920 the Government guaranty of income which had been granted to assenting roads for the six months following the end of Federal control expired by limitation.

On March 1 1922, two further provisions of the Transportation Act expired by limitation, namely: (1) The provision of Section 15 (a) making it incumbent on the Inter-State Commerce Commission when adjusting freight and passenger rates during the two years beginning March 1 1920, to aim at establishing such rates for the railroads of the country as a whole or in districts as should afford "as a fair return" on the tentative valuation which was fixed by the Commission in July 1920, at $18,900,000,000 (against a book value of $20,040,572,611), a sum equal to 5½% per annum and in addition at the discretion of the Commission an additional ½ of 1% to make provision for improvements, betterments or equipment; (2) The provision in Section 210 (a) permitting the carriers to apply for loans from the Federal Revolving Fund, within two years from the termination of Federal control.

Rate of Return Allowed by Commission.

On May 24 1922 the Inter-State Commerce Commission, as required by the Act, made known its decision as to what would be a new reasonable rate of return on the investment of the roads, for use when fixing rates for passenger and freight transportation. The decision of the Commission was reached in considering the question of rate reductions, and the full text of the Commission's report and opinion in that case, in which a horizontal cut of 10% in freight rates was made, was given in the "Chronicle" of May 27 1922, pages 2317 to 2329; the conclusions as to the rate of return will be found on page 2327. The Commission ruled: "That on and after March 1 1922 a fair return on the aggregate value of the railway property of the carriers defined in Section 15a of the Inter-State Commerce Act, determined as therein provided, will be 5.75% of such aggregate property value as a uniform percentage for all rate groups or territories designated by this Commission." The Commission in July 1920, as already stated, fixed the tentative values of the properties at $18,900,000,000.

Following a decision handed down March 17 1923 by the Federal Court at New Orleans upholding the constitutionality of the provision in the Transportation Act generally known as the "recapture" clause, which was regarded as a test case (see V. 116, p. 1723), the Inter-State Commerce Commission on Mar. 23 1923 issued an order requiring all railroads to report by May 1 1923 as to their earnings during the year 1922 and to pay over to the Government under the Transportation Act one-half of the amount by which such earnings exceeded a 6% return on the value of the investment (V. 116, p. 1243). On Jan. 7 1924 (V. 118, p. 163) the United States Supreme Court also upheld the constitutionality of the "recapture" clause. The proceedings attacking the constitutionality of this clause were brought by the Dayton-Goose Creek Ry. of Texas, but when the action reached the U. S. Supreme Court, nineteen trunk lines had become parties to the brief filed in behalf of the road. (See V. 117, pages 2176-2179.) The Commission on March 31 1927 handed down its first decision interpreting and applying the so-called recapture clause (see below and also V. 124, p. 1898.)

The Inter-State Commerce Commission on April 4 1924 issued an order requiring all railroads whose net railway operating income exceeds 6% of the value of the property for the calendar year 1923 to file with the Commission, before May 1 1924, a report in the matter. This requirement is now a regular one each year. The Commission also announced that pursuant to a ruling of the Comptroller General of the United States, interest on amounts of excess railway operating income payable to the United States under the Transportation Act will be required at the rate of 6%, beginning four months after the termination of the period for which the excess income is computed. The railroads, however, claim much higher valuations than those fixed by the Inter-State Commerce Commission, and in most of the cases where income has been large enough to lay the basis for an apparent claim to excess payments the right of the Government to the money is in dispute. The annual report of the Inter-State Commerce Commission (V. 123, p. 2996), issued in Dec. 1926, in referring to this matter, said in part:

> Under our orders carriers have been permitted to compute their claimed values upon such basis as they deem proper. Many different bases have been used. When the values have been fixed by us, the number of carriers found to have earned excess income and the amount of such excess income may differ from the results shown by the carriers' reports. Important principles pertaining to values under Section 15a are under consideration in pending cases.
> During the year 20 carriers paid to us the aggregate amount of $930,403.57 on account of one-half of their excess income as preliminarily computed for the various recapture periods. This amount added to the $5,687,645.61 paid prior to Nov. 1 1925, makes the total of such payments $6,618,049.18. As the bulk of these payments has been made under formal protests and reservations, the general railroad contingent fund has not been made available for the purpose contemplated by the statute.

Changes in Wages and in Transportation Rates.

The Transportation Act of 1920 was designed to enable the railroads as a whole to meet their financial problems caused by the war and Federal operation, and to assist them in their future financing by giving them a reasonable, though extremely moderate, return on their investment. Operating costs had enormously increased under Federal control and big advances in transportation rates were necessary to place the roads on a solvent footing. Furthermore, on July 20 1920 the U. S. Railroad Labor Board awarded wage increases aggregating over $625,000,000 a year. Accordingly, on July 31 1920 the Inter-State Commerce Commission authorized advances in rates calculated to add $1,500,000,000 to the yearly revenues of the roads. The immediate effect was most disappointing, owing to a precipitate decline in railroad traffic (V. 113, p. 1732 to 1734). The railroads were therefore obliged as one of their first steps to curtail their expenses drastically and to seek a reduction in the wages of their employees. Subsequent wage decisions made by the Board, until the latter part of 1922, resulted in decreases in rates of pay. Comparative statistics show the following results for Class 1 railroads (those with annual operating revenues above $1,000,000), exclusive of switching and terminal companies (see also nine-year statement, appearing on pages 5 to 7 of this compendium, containing property investment, revenues, expenses, fixed charges, dividends, train, traffic and wage statistics in more detailed form). The following figures have been compiled by the Bureau of Railway Economics from the records of the Inter-State Commerce Commission:

Calendar Year.	Average Yearly Wage.	Total Labor Cost.	Gross Operating Revenue.	Net Operating Income.	Return on Prop. Value.
1917	1,004	1,739,482,142	4,014,142,747	934,068,770	5.26%
1918	1,419	2,613,813,351	4,880,953,480	638,568,603	3.51%
1919	1,486	2,843,128,432	5,144,795,154	454,984,953	2.46%

1921	1,666	2,765,218,079	5,516,798,242	600,937,356	3.07%
1922	1,623	2,640,817,005	5,559,092,708	760,187,319	3.83%
1923	1,617	3,004,071,882	6,289,580,027	961,955,457	4.66%
1924	1,613	2,825,775,181	5,921,496,325	973,837,202	4.54%
1925	1,640	2,860,599,920	6,122,509,856	1,121,076,341	4.97%
1926	1,655	2,946,118,103	6,382,939,546	1,213,089,966	5.11%

These figures show the return on the investment in road and equipment without any reference to materials and supplies on hand or to working capital.

In April 1921 the United States RR. Labor Board ordered the abolition on July 1 1921 of some of the provisions of the "National Agreements" which the railroad managers claimed had cost the railroads of the United States $300,000,000 per annum, but laid down 16 cardinal principles that must be maintained (V. 112, p. 1580, 1581; V. 113, p. 34. 805, 893, 915, 916, 1326, 1429, 1644, 1731, 1732).

Subsequently, in 1921-22, the national agreements were revised by the Labor Board, removing some of their most burdensome features in the case of railroad labor other than trainmen's brotherhoods. See below.

In May and June 1921 the Labor Board announced its decision that the exigencies of the situation demanded a substantial decrease in railroad expenses, and for that reason railroad wages on the larger roads should be reduced on the average 12%. A strike against this decrease and to forestall any further changes in wages and working conditions was ordered by the four trainmen's brotherhoods and the switchmen's union; but on Oct. 27 1921, on the eve of its becoming effective, was declared off, as below stated.

In Nov. 1921, after many reductions in freight rates had been made (since Aug. 1920), the railway executives, in order to be able to further decrease these rates as demanded by the public, posted notices of a proposed additional wage cut of about 10% with the intent of wiping out the remainder of the wage advance of 1920. The railroads agreed to pass on all benefit from this further wage cut to the public, and in anticipation of same put in effect on Jan. 7 1922 an experimental reduction of 10% on agricultural products for all parts of the country, this reduction to stand during the six months in which the plan to reduce wages would come before the Labor Board. (See also V. 113, p. 2153, 2470, 2876.) It was not until May 1922 that the Labor Board announced its decision as to further wage reductions, and it then promulgated decreases in the pay of the shop craft employees, maintenance of way men, freight car men, signal men, clerks, &c., effective July 1 1922, which it was computed would effect a saving to the carriers of $135,000,000 per year. This led to a prolonged strike, as noted further on in the article on Railroad Wages. (V. 114, p. 2432, 2541, 2784.) The maintenance of way men, who did not join in the strike, had a portion of the decrease remitted to them on a rehearing, the remission amounting to 2 cents an hour. In 1923 and 1924 wage increases of one kind or another again became common, not as a result of orders of the Railroad Labor Board (with few exceptions), but as a result of the action of many different roads. Late in 1926 and during 1927 certain classes of employees received an increase of 7½% in wages, especially in the Eastern and Southeastern area (see below). Numerous other wage increases of one kind or another were also made during 1927.

An increase in freight rates, amounting to 5%, sought by the Western railroads, was denied by the Inter-State Commerce Commission on July 17 1926. The Commission at the same time denied the petition of security holders of Northwestern carriers for an additional 15% horizontal increase in rates in Western Trunk Line territory.

Watson-Parker Act Abolishing Labor Board.

On May 20 1926, President Coolidge signed the Watson-Parker railroad labor bill, which was passed by the House on March 1 and by the Senate on May 11 1926. This new Act abolishes the Railroad Labor Board, as established under the Transportation Act of 1920, and provides for the creation of boards of adjustment, a board of mediation to be appointed by the President, methods of submitting railroad labor disputes to arbitration, and, when occasion demands, for the appointment of an emergency board by the President (see V. 122, p. 2749, 2905). The text of the Watson-Parker bill will be found in the "Commercial & Financial Chronicle" of May 29 1926, pages 3038-3040. The bill had been agreed upon in 1925 by most of the railway executives and heads of the four brotherhoods. The bill provides in brief as follows:

1. That the railroads and employees shall establish adjustment boards to arrange disputes.
2. That the President shall appoint, with the consent of the Senate, a board of mediation of five persons, none of whom has a pecuniary interest on either side, to intervene when the adjustment boards fail.
3. That boards of arbitration shall be created when both parties consent to arbitration.
4. That when the above methods fail the Board of Mediation shall notify the President, who may appoint an emergency board to investigate and report to him within thirty days. For thirty days after the report has been made there shall be no change in the conditions of the dispute except by agreement of the two parties concerned.

A comparison of the labor provisions of the Transportation Act with those of the Watson-Parker bill was given in the "Chronicle" of March 6 1926, page 1259. (See also V. 122, p. 2749 and 2905.)

Government Holdings of Equipment Trusts.

Late in 1921 and early in 1922 the Federal Government sold a large amount of its holdings of equipment trusts (see below), and used the proceeds to settle its accounts with the railroads.

The sale of these equipment trusts and the improved financial outlook later in 1921 led the Federal Administration to withdraw their support of the so-called Funding Bill which, as an amendment to the Transportation Act of 1920, would have permitted the settlement of the large amounts due by the Government to the railroads on account of compensation, guaranty, &c., and the funding of $500,000,000 of indebtedness due by them to the Government for expenditures made during Federal control on additions and improvement account. Compare V. 113, p. 2371, 2043, 2042, 1730, 1115, 910 to 914, 805, 696, 488, 487, 149.

Valuation of Properties by Commerce Commission.

To date the I.-S. C. Commission has set final valuations on approximately 570 carriers. A table containing the final valuations of 279 carriers was published in our "Railway & Industrial Compendium" of May 29 1926, pages 5 and 6. Other final valuations have been given in our "General Investment News Department" from week to week since then under the headings of the respective carriers. A petition presented by the National Conference on Valuation of American Railroads, of which the late Senator La Follette was the head, to have the proceedings of the I.-S. C. Commission in the physical valuation of the railroads of the country recommitted to the Bureau of Valuation, was denied by the Commission on Dec. 3 1923 (V. 117, p. 2617). The Conference sought to have the Commission establish the original cost of property investment and labor in railroads, as well as other data. All the existing valuation work of the Commission was attacked as unsound. The Commission held that its procedure in ascertaining information with respect to aids, gifts, grants or donations, was in substantial compliance with the Valuation Act, and that analysis of method of arriving at final value was not required by the law.

T. P. Artaud of the Valuation Bureau of the Inter-State Commerce Commission on Dec. 18 1925 delivered an address before the Engineers Club of Hampton Roads on the subject of the Federal Valuation of Railroads, its Origin, Scope and Utility, which was reproduced in full in the "Chronicle" of Dec. 26 1925, page 3083.

According to a report recently completed by Frederick H. Lee, Secretary of the Presidents' Conference Committee on Federal Valuation of the Railroads in the United States, the I.-S. C. Commission served 1,022 tentative valuation reports up to June 30 1927, of which 529 became final by decision and order up to that date. These tentative valuations cover 219,705 miles of road, or 90% of the railroad mileage under valuation.

The Federal District Court for the Western District of Missouri on Dec. 31 1926 handed down a decision setting aside the final valuation placed upon the property of the Kansas City Southern Ry. and its subsidiaries by the I.-S. C. Commission on the ground that the latter had failed to construe and apply the law correctly and had acted beyond its statutory powers and contrary to the evidence before it.

The U. S. Supreme Court in a decision handed down on Feb. 21 1927 held that the so-called order of the I.-S. C. Commission affecting the valuation of the Los Angeles & Salt Lake RR., for which an injunction had been sought, "is merely the formal record of conclusions reached after a study of data collected in the course of extensive research conducted by the Commission, through its employees." The general view of this decision is that the Supreme Court has taken the stand that it can take no action in the valuation problem until the Commission makes some affirmative decision as to valuation which acts adversely to the interests of the carrier. When such an adverse effect appears the door is left open for the railroad to thrash its trouble out in court. (See "Chronicle" of Feb. 26 1927, p. 1168.)

The West Virginia Northern Ry. Co. on Aug. 27 1926 filed a petition in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania to enjoin and annul an order of the I.-S. C. Commission fixing the final single sum value of the petitioner's property and to restrain the use of the value so found, for any purpose under the Inter-State Commerce Act. The defendant, the United States of America and the Inter-State Commerce Commission, intervening defendant, duly filed answers and motions to dismiss. Argument was heard on Sept. 8 1926 by Circuit Court Judge Davis and District Court Judges Dickinson and Johnson. On May 10 1927 the following order was entered in the above case by Judge Dickinson:

This cause is ruled by the Los Angeles Case (not yet reported): and in view of that ruling, the petition of the plaintiff is dismissed with costs to the defendants." (V. 123, p. 1253).

The I.-S. C. Commission on Mar. 31 1927 issued its first decision interpreting and applying the so-called recapture clause of the Transportation Act of 1920. The Commission held that for rate-making purposes, the value as determined by the Commission for 1914 approaches more nearly the reasonable and necessary investment in a railroad than the cost of reproduction of it. The recapture clause provides for the payment to the Federal Government of one-half of the net railway operating income of a railroad system in excess of 6% on its value for any year following the passage of the Act. By a vote of 6 to 4 the Commission held that Congress intended to fix values of railroad properties for recapture purposes without awaiting completion of final valuations under the provisions of the Valuation Act. It was also held that, for that purpose, it is warranted in basing its valuation on its tentative valuation figures as of 1919 (based on the 1914 unit prices), as far as available, plus net additions to property in succeeding years at actual cost, less depreciation, without giving effect to the cost of reproducing the original property at present-day prices. The issue was presented in a recapture of excess earnings case brought by the St. Louis & O'Fallon Ry. and the Manufacturers' Ry., two short lines operating in the vicinity of St. Louis, Mo., controlled by the Adolphus Busch estate. The issues were treated as test cases as to the method of ascertaining value of roads for recapture purposes. The majority opinion recognized that, "having in mind the whole railroad situation, the decision is of the greatest consequence from the public and private viewpoints." (For full details see "Chronicle" of April 2 1927, pages 1898 to 1903, and April 29 1927, pages 2039 to 2041, and compare also "Chronicle" of June 5 1926, pages 3164 to 3167.) A petition was filed on May 3 1927 in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern Division of the Eastern Judicial District of Missouri by William Cotter, President of these two roads, for an injunction restraining the Commission from enforcing the aforesaid order. It is expected that the Court's decision will be rendered before Dec. 10, the effective date to which attorneys for the Commission indicated that the recapture order would be extended (V. 125, p. 2478).

Proposed Plans of Consolidation.

The Transportation Act of 1920 contemplates the ultimate consolidation of all the railroads of the United States into a limited number of competing systems, and under one of the provisions of the Act the Inter-State Commerce Commission is directed to prepare a plan to that end. The provision is not compulsory as far as the roads are concerned. In the process of carrying out the requirement, the Commerce Commission directed Prof. William Z. Ripley of Harvard University to prepare a plan of consolidation, and with that as a basis, the Commission prepared a tentative plan which was put forward in September 1921 "in order to elicit a full record upon which the plan to be ultimately adopted can rest." The plan was outlined in V. 113, p. 1429 to 1431, 1950 to 1952. A table showing the grouping of roads in the plans of consolidation under consideration by the I.-S. C. Commission was given in V. 119, p. 628 and 629. Hearings were held on the different systems proposed, principally the Northern Pacific-Burlington, the Great Northern-St. Paul, the Union Pacific-Northwestern, the Frisco-Katy-Cotton Belt, the Baltimore & Ohio-Reading, the New England-Great Lakes, the Pennsylvania and the New York Central Systems, but a final de-

Nine-Year Statement of United States Railroads—Property Investment, Revenues, Expenses, Fixed Charges, Dividends, Traffic, Train and Wage Statistics.

The Bureau of Railway Economics, Washington, D. C., in a bulletin designed as a convenient reference for statistics of railway operation in the United States, has compiled the following tabulations, based upon official summaries of the Inter-State Commerce Commission for the calendar years ended Dec. 31 1918 to 1926. The tabulations cover the operations of railways of Class 1 only, namely, carriers with annual operating revenues above $1,000,000 (switching and termina company statistics are not included). Class 1 railways operate approximately 90% of the total railway mileage of the United States and earn about 96% of the total reven ues.

ABBREVIATIONS USED IN THIS COMPENDIUM

EXPLANATORY.—This Compendium is expressly intended for use in connection with the investment news and official reports published from week to week in the "Chronicle." Frequent reference is made, therefore, to the volume and page of the "Chronicle" (as V. 124, p. 000), where fuller information may be found. Following each statement also is given a reference to the latest news item in the "Chronicle" respecting the company. As every such item has appended a reference to the last preceding item, the reader can run back at pleasure.

Dividends.—The dividends ("divs.") in the text are in general those actually paid during the calendar years named, irrespective of when earned.

Net Earnings are given after deducting operating expenses and frequently taxes, but not interest or other fixed charges.

Securities.—These are described in table at head of page (except the stock, for lack of space, sometimes only in text below) as follows:

Miles of Road.—Opposite bonds, this means the miles of road covered by the mortgage.

Size or Par Value.—Shows (in dollars unless otherwise marked), the denominations or par value, "100, &c.," signifying $100 and larger.

Rate Per Cent.—The interest and dividend rate per annum is here shown: g, gold; cur, currency

When Payable.—J & J stands for January and July; F & A, February and August; M & S, March and September; A & O, April and October; M & N May and November; J & D, June and December; Q-J, quarterly from January; Q-F, quarterly from February; Q-M, quarterly from March.

Bonds, Principal When Due, &c.—This column shows for bonds the date when they mature; for stocks the amount and date of the last dividend paid or declared.

Other Abbreviations: M for mortgage"; Gen M for "general mortgage"; Con M or consol M for "consolidated mortgage"; inc M for "income mortgage"; g for gold; c or cur for "currency"; guar p & l for "guaranteed principal and interest"; cum for "cumulative"; non-cum for" non-cumulative"; conv. for "convertible into stock at holder's option"; pref for "preferred"; pref a & d for "preferred as to assets and dividends"; s f for "sinking fund"; lgr for "land grant"; r "fully registered (no coupons)"; c "coupon"; c* "coupon, but may be registered as to principal"; r* "registered" and "coupon" interchangeable; br "branch"; end "endorsed"; red "redeemable"; dr'n or drawn; by lot call, "subject to call"; p m "per mile"; ass'd, "assumed."

Taxes.—The position as regards deductions for taxes (deductible at source) is indicated in the table as follows: "x" The bonds so marked contain the broad tax-exemption clause that the company will pay the interest thereon without deduction for any tax. The Revenue Act of 1926, like the Revenue Acts of 1924, 1921 and 1918, provides, however, that only one normal 2% income tax shall be deducted at the source and that all further Federal income taxes shall be met by the recipient of the income. xx "Company was paying at last advices so much of the normal income tax as company is required to deduct as withholding agent" (V. 104, p. 699). xxx "Free from U. S. income tax up to 2%, deductible at source." xxxx "Free from U. S. income tax up to 4%, deductible at source." y "Free from taxes except Federal income tax." yy "Free from all taxes except Federal and State income tax." z "No provision as to exemption from taxes." zz "Payable with deduction of normal Federal income tax." k "Free from Pennsylvania State tax." kk "Free from New York State tax." s "Free from U. Transportation Act of 1920.

termination has not yet been made. The hearings terminated Dec. 4 1923. Oral arguments on the proposed consolidations were concluded Jan. 12 1924. (See also V. 120, p. 540.)

On March 2 1926 the I.-S. C. Commission handed down its decision denying, by a 7 to 1 vote, the application of the Van Sweringen interests for authority to unify under control of the New York Chicago & St. Louis Ry. (the proposed new company) the present New York Chicago & St. Louis RR., the Erie RR., the Pere Marquette Ry., the Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. and the Hocking Valley Ry. The rejection by the Commission was based chiefly on the proposed financial structure which denied voting control to the preferred stockholders and placed control in the hands of a "powerful few." [The full text of the Commission's findings was given in V. 122, p. 1249, 1255.] On Feb. 11 1927 the Van Sweringen interests made known their new plans when the C. & O. Ry. filed an application with the I.-S. C. Commission for authority to acquire control of the Erie and Pere Marquette railroads through stock ownership (V. 124, p. 1061). Simultaneously in a separate petition to the Commission, approval was sought for a proposed issue of additional common shares of C. & O. stock of a par value of $59,502,400, for the enhancement of the capital structure, through substitution of stocks for bonds, and for the purpose of reimbursing the company's treasury for capital expenditures for additions and betterments. The minority stockholders of the Chesapeake & Ohio Ry., who successfully combated the first plan, are also opposed to the revised terms. Briefs of both sides have been filed and the decision of the Commission is awaited.

Early in 1925 the Chicago Rock Island & Pacific Ry. purchased the stock holdings of Edwin Gould in the St. Louis Southwestern Ry. This acquisition, supplementing holdings purchased in the open market, together with the shares owned by interests friendly to the Rock Island, gave the latter control of the St. Louis Southwestern Ry. On May 4 1925 the Rock Island applied to the I.-S. C. Commission for authority to acquire control of the St. Louis Southwestern Ry. C. V. Burnside, Assistant Director, Bureau of Finance, of the Commission, in a report in August 1925 (V. 121, p. 800), recommended that the application be denied. The objections of Mr. Burnside were based on the fact that the Commission's tentative plan for the consolidation of the railroads of the country into 19 systems provided for the merger of the St. Louis Southwestern with the St. Louis-San Francisco system. The Rock Island under the Commission's plan would be a part of the Southern Pacific Co. In October 1925, before the Commission acted on the report of Mr. Burnside, the Rock Island announced that it had sold its holdings in the St. Louis Southwestern to the Kansas City Southern Ry. This announcement was further supplemented by a statement of Chairman L. F. Loree of the Kansas City Southern, which said that "this step was contemplated when the company a few months before acquired an interest in the Missouri-Kansas-Texas RR." The Commission on May 19 1927 made public its decision, dated May 3 1927, denying the application of the Kansas City Southern Ry. to acquire control of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas RR. and of the latter to acquire control of the St. Louis-Southwestern Ry. The Commission's denial (V. 124, p. 2980-2987) was based chiefly on the ground that it would not be in the public interest. From a purely transportation standpoint, the Commission found no objection to the proposed combination. The Commission's objections were based first on the method of financing, it finding the Kansas City Southern "too small a base on which to build a financial pyramid." The Commission, secondly, objected to the plan because it did not afford adequate protection to minority stockholders.

The I.-S. C. Commission on Oct. 11 1926 denied the proposed acquisition by Norfolk & Western Ry. of control of the railroad of the Virginian Ry. by lease. In denying the application the Commission said: "Upon the facts presented we are unable to find that the acquisition by the N. & W. of control of the Virginian Ry., under the terms of the lease described in the application, will be in the public interest. An order will be entered denying the application." (For report of the Commission see V. 123, p. 2258.)

The I.-S. C. Commission in Nov. 1926 received recommendations in the form of a proposed report by Examiner O. D. Weed, suggesting a finding by the Commission that the proposed lease of the Buffalo Rochester & Pittsburgh Ry. for 999 years to the Delaware & Hudson Co. is not in the public interest. The report was the subject of argument before the Commission at Washington, D. C., on Dec. 21 1926. (See report of the Examiner in V. 123, p. 2650.) Although the option to lease the B. R. & P. Ry. has expired, the Delaware & Hudson Co.'s application is still before the Commission and on May 19 1927 the latter company filed its brief with the Commission supporting this applica-

The pref. dividend has been regularly paid to and including June 1927, but owing to delay in the signing of the contract for Government operation the common dividend due Sept. 1 1918 was not paid until Feb. 1 1919, when only 2% was distributed. On Mar. 1 1919 the common again received 2% then none until Dec. 1 1923, when 1¼% quarterly was paid; same amount paid quarterly to Sept. 1 1926; on Dec. 1 1926 paid 1½% quarterly; on Mar. 1 1927 paid 1½% quar. and ½% extra; on June 1 1927, Sept. 1 1927, and Dec. 1 1927, and 1½% qu.

BONDS.—First M. 4% Bonds, due July 1 1948; Covers about 1,687 miles of first track and about 2,687 miles of second, third and fourth tracks and sidings; also on the properties covered by the B. & O. Term. mtge. of 1894, all owned by the B. & O. and Baltimore Belt RR.

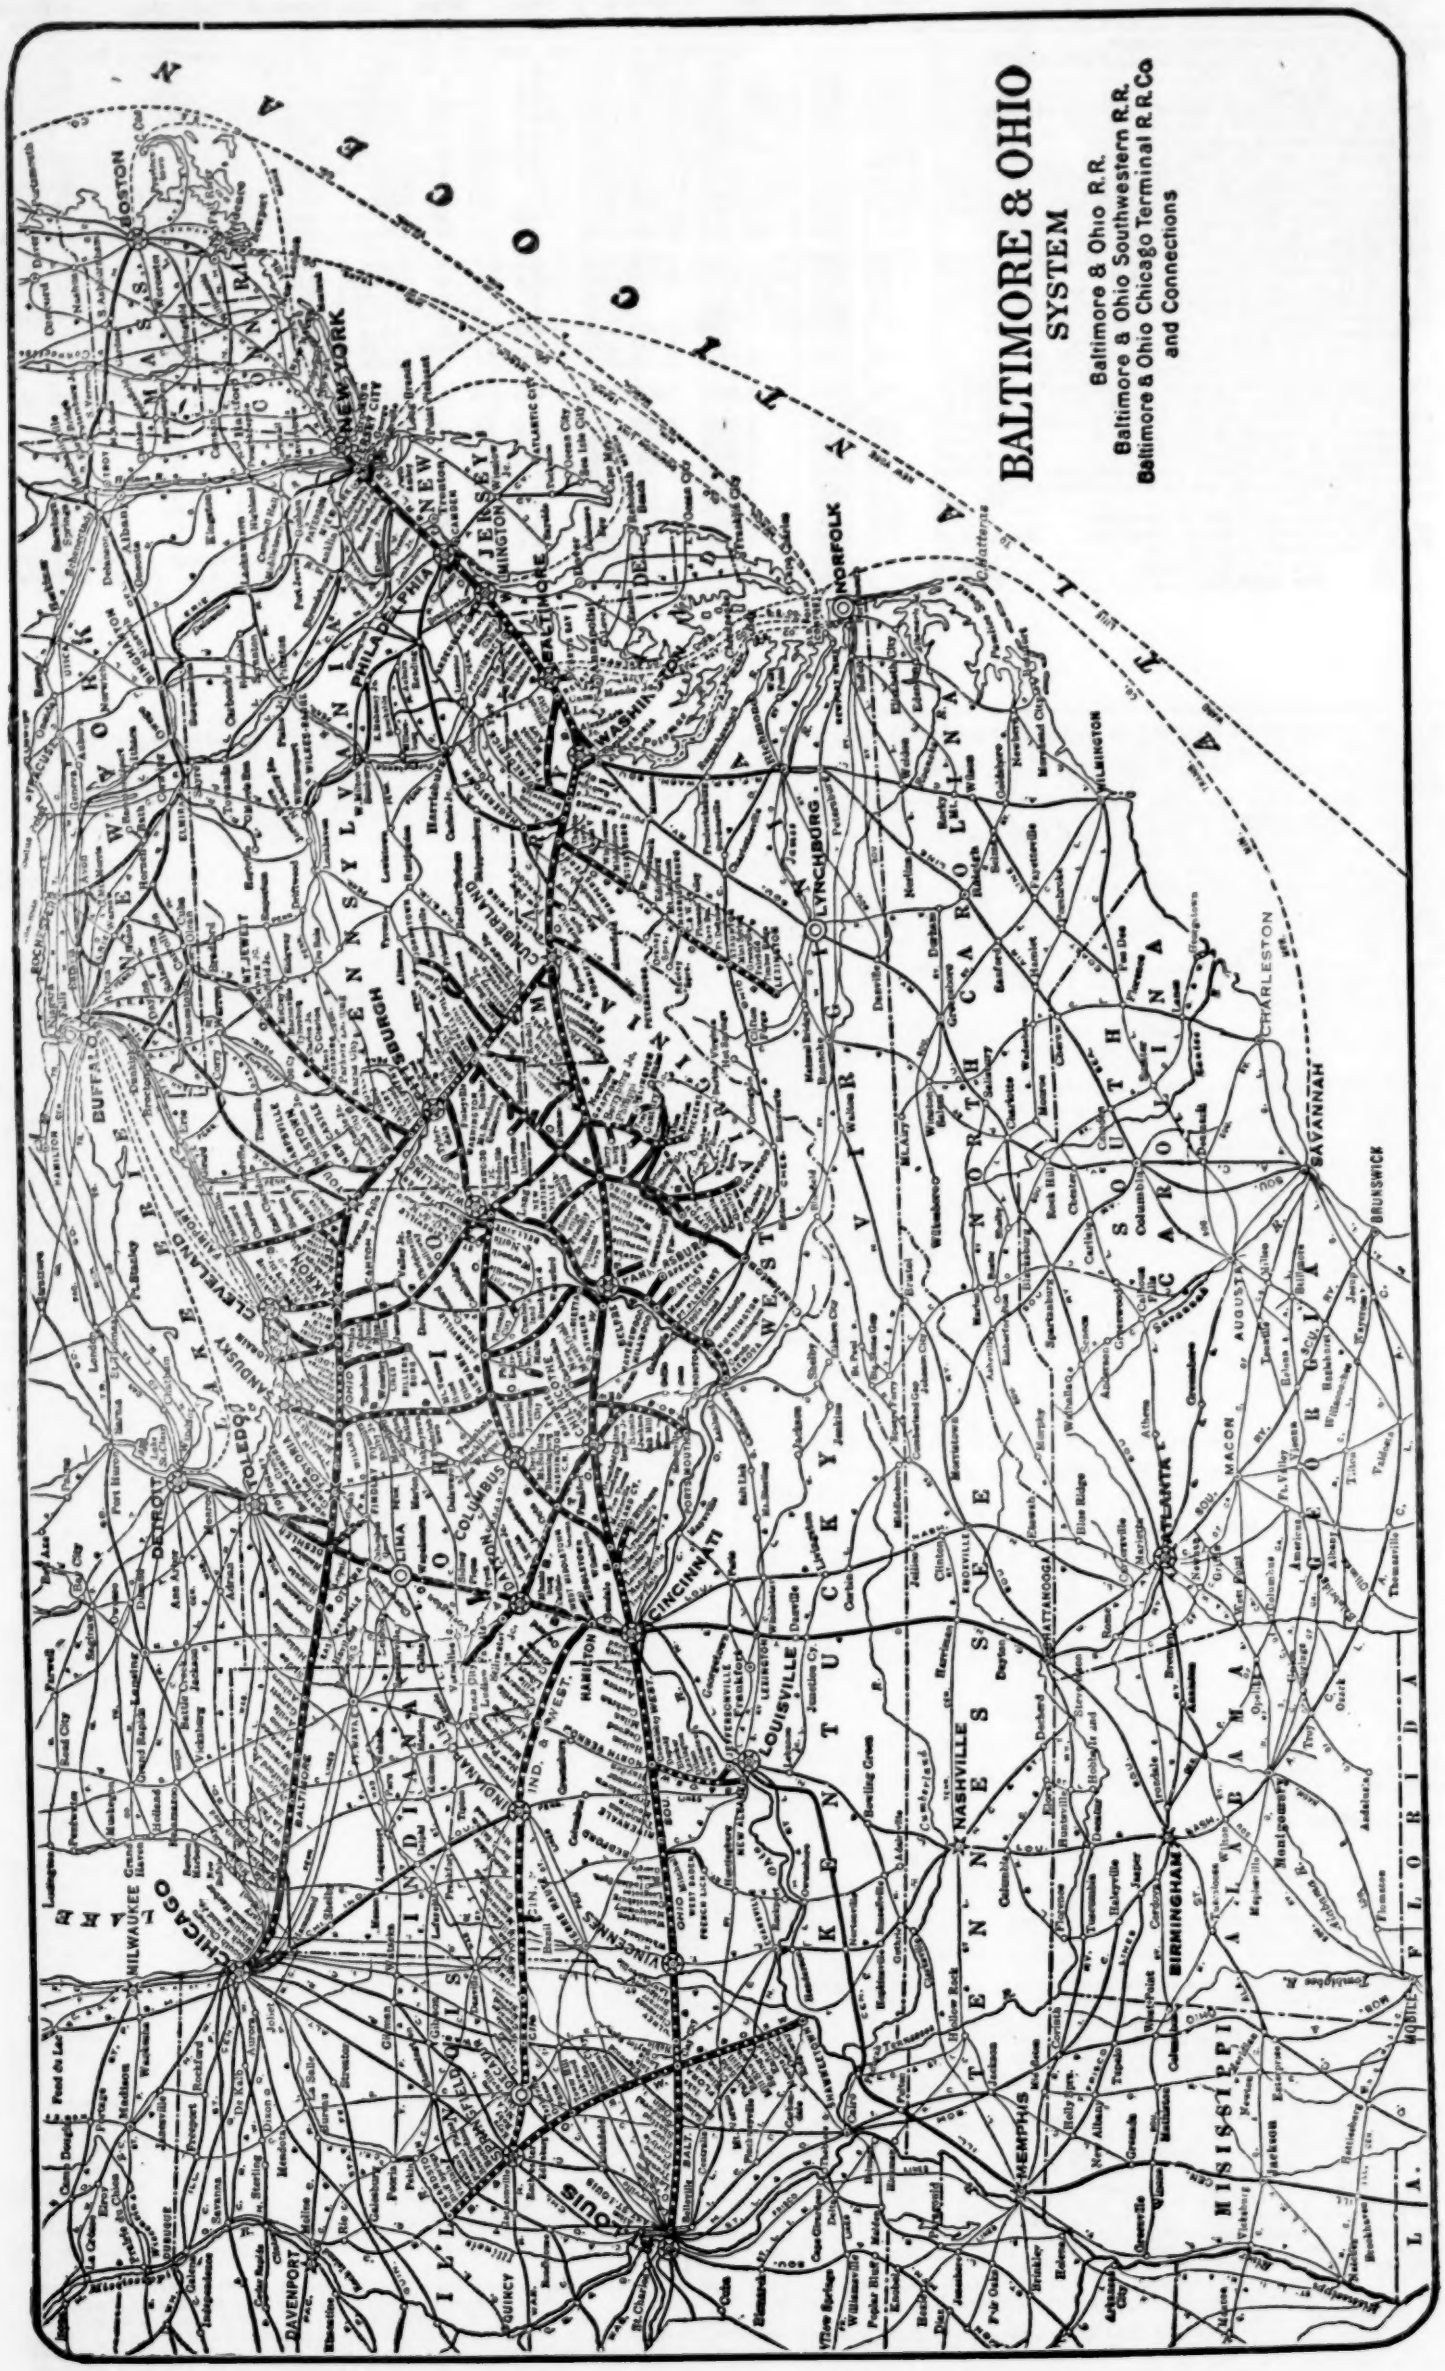
Total authorized amount of the First Mortgage is limited by the terms of the Ref. & Gen. Mtge. to $157,000,000, of which there are outstanding $81,995,100 of 4% bonds and $75,000,000 of 5% bonds (issued in Aug. 1924; V. 119, p. 809). The 5% bonds are not subject to redemption before Apr. 1 1945. All or any part of the 5% bonds may be repurchased by company on April 1 1945, or any int. date thereafter, on 3 months' notice and upon payment of a premium of ¼% for each three months from the date of repurchase to the date of maturity. The prior lien 3½% bonds due July 1 1925 were accepted at 100% and int. in payment for the 5% bonds.

Southwestern Division First Mortgage 5s.

These bonds were issued under the Southwest Division 1st mtge. of Baltimore & Ohio RR., dated Jan. 1 1899, in extension of the 3½% bonds for a like amount maturing on July 1 1925 (which were accepted in payment for new bonds at 100 and interest) and the principal and interest at the rate of 3½% per annum are secured by the lien thereof. Because of the provisions of the refunding and general mortgage, the additional interest on these bonds will not be secured under the Southwestern Division first mortgage, but the company will agree in a supplemental indenture that in the event that it should hereafter place any new mortgage upon the property on which these bonds are a first lien, and on which the ref. & gen. mtge. bonds are also a lien, the additional 1½% int. which these bonds bear is to be secured thereon by a lien prior to any bonds issued under such new mtge.

These $45,000,000 bonds are secured through the deposit and pledge with the trustee of the mortgage of $45,000,000 first mtge. bonds and all the other funded indebtedness and all the stock of Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern RR., which owns the properties. The Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Division bonds are thus in effect secured by a first lien on 910 miles of first main track, extending from the western approach of the bridge of Baltimore & Ohio RR. across the Ohio River at Belpre, Ohio, to and through the city of Cincinnati and through the States of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to the City of East St. Louis, Ill., a distance of 529 miles, together with branches or divisions connecting with the main line, comprising an additional 153 miles, and 228 miles comprising the Springfield Division extending from Shawneetown, Ill., to Beardstown, Ill., all tracks, 1,468 miles, together with all extensions, lands, buildings, appurtenances and other property, franchises, &c., all as described in the mortgage. This issue of bonds, constituting a closed mortgage, is thus outstanding at the rate of $49,450 per mile of first main track.

The bonds are not subject to redemption before July 1 1945. All or any part of the bonds may be redeemed on July 1 1945 or any interest date thereafter on not less then three months' previous notice, upon payment of their principal amount plus a premium of ½% for each 6 months from the date of redemption to the date of maturity. V. 120, p. 1743.



Pittsburgh Lake Erie & West Virginia System mtge. refunding 4% gold bonds (authorized amount $75,000,000) are a lien on 1,629 miles (all tracks, 2,870 miles), forming a direct connection with Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Fairport, Lorain and Sandusky, subject to underlying bonds outstanding thereon (see table above). The unissued bonds are reserved to retire underlying bonds. V. 74, p. 266; V. 79, p. 2793; V. 80, p. 1423; V. 86, p. 479, 1528; V. 87, p. 36; V. 88, p. 451, 685; V. 105, p. 715.

Convertible 20-year 4½s $63,250,000, dated March 1 1913, were convertible into common stock up to Feb. 28 1923 at $110 per share and redeemable beginning March 1 1923 at 102½. These 4½s are secured by the new blanket mortgage below described pari passu with the new bonds. See V. 96, p. 134, 200, 651, 715, 1088, 1421; V. 97, p. 727.

Of the issued bonds $26,808,500 ($15,000,000 series B, $7,500,000 series C, and $4,308,500 series D bonds), are in the treasury of the company, leaving $125,000,000 ref. & gen. mtge. bonds outstanding as of Dec. 31 1926. Of the treasury bonds, $15,000,000 series B, $7,500,000 series C, and $2,000,000 series D are deposited as part collateral to the $35,000,000 10-year gold 6s of July 1 1929.

Also covers the passenger and freight terminals in Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Chicago and the freight terminals on Staten Island, N. The authorized issue is limited to an amount which, together with all the prior debts of the Railroad Co., after deducting therefrom the bonds reserved under the provisions of the mortgage to retire prior debts at maturity, shall not exceed 3 times the then outstanding capital stock, with the additional limitation that when the aggregate amount of the bonds outstanding and the bonds reserved to retire prior debts shall be $600,000,000, no additional amount of bonds shall thereafter be issued, except the bonds so reserved to retire prior debt, without the further consent of the stockholders of the railroad company, and such additional bonds may be issued only to an amount not exceeding 80% of cost of work done or property acquired Toledo-Cincinnati Div. Bonds.—In July 1917, following foreclosure sales, 391 miles of the former Cincinnati Hamilton & Dayton Ry. System was reorganized per plan in V. 102, p. 1059; V. 105, p. 715, 908, as the Toledo & Cincinnati RR. Co., whose outstanding securities ($5,000,000 capital stock, $16,250,500 First & Ref. Mtge. bonds and $20,000,000 Adjustment & Improvement bonds) were then acquired by the B. & O. RR. The bonds are a first collateral lien on 36 miles (Hamilton to Middletown, Ohio, 13 m.; Tontogany to North Baltimore, Ohio, 19 m.; Hamilton to West Hamilton, Ohio, 3 m.); second collateral lien on 12 miles (Troy to Piqua, Ohio, 9 m.; West Dayton to National Soldiers Home, Ohio, 3 m.); third collateral lien on 205 miles (Cincinnati to Dayton and Wellston, Ohio, 187 m.; Deshler to Findlay, Ohio, 18 m.); a fourth collateral lien on 141 miles, Dayton to Toledo, Ohio. Total, 394 miles.

The B. & O. RR. having acquired all the securities issued by the Toledo & Cincinnati RR., made a deed of trust covering the same to secure not exceeding $35,000,000 collateral bonds, which are intended ultimately to be made as far as possible a direct lien on this division. Of these new B. & O. bonds, $11,250,500 of 4% and $5,000,000 of 5% were issued forthwith under the plan. In addition, $2,447,000 Series "C" bonds have been issued for capital expenditures. The remainder were reserved to retire at maturity or earlier the bonds undisturbed by the plan as shown in table above, or for acquisition of underlying stocks, branch lines, branch line bonds, aid for refunding additions and betterments, or to acquire First & Ref. Mtge. bonds of new company issued therefor. V. 105, p. 2364.

The trust indenture provides that the company in each year, beginning July 1 1919, after providing for its fixed charges, will set aside out of net income accruing after that date, not less than $3,500,000 p. ann. until a total of $17,500,000 has been set aside, such sums to be used, from time to time, solely for capital expenditures theretofore made, to pay loans incurred or maturing funded obligations. Moneys set aside in any year in excess of $3,500,000 may be credited against moneys required to be set aside in subsequent years. Balance of total set aside in 1923 V. 108, p. 2628.

The $35,000,000 6% Secured Bonds dated July 1 1919 were redeemed at 102½%. V. 125, p. 2883.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS.—(See Map.)—In 1919 a company under the name of "Canadian National Railway Company" was incorporated by the Dominion Government with the intention of having that company take over or operate the railways owned or controlled by the Government. This company was organized in October 1922.

In Jan. 1923 an amalgamation was effected between the above company and the Grand Trunk Ry. of Canada, the result being a new company with the name "Canadian National Ry. Co." and which new company became vested with the properties of the two amalgamating companies and became liable for the obligations of said companies. Pursuant to the agreement between the Dominion of Canada and the Grand Trunk Ry. Co. all the common and preference stocks of the Grand Trunk Co. became vested in His Majesty the King on behalf of the Dominion of Canada and as a result of this and of the above amalgamation there was issued in favor of the Minister of Finance of the Dominion of Canada in trust for His Majesty as above $180,424,327.70 of capital stock of the new Canadian National Ry. Co. This amount represented the previously outstanding capital stock of the Grand Trunk Co., there being no capital stock outstanding of the previous Canadian National Ry. Co. The Canadian National Rys. now operates 22,681.95 miles of railway, all under control of the same directors and the same general and executive officers, whether acting respectively as directors or officers of one or another of the companies included in the Canadian National Railways System.

HISTORY.—Reorg. in 1887 without foreclosure; V. 44, p. 714, 716; V. 105, p. 1707. In 1901 Reading Co. acquired control, owning $14,500,000 stock. The latter co. will dispose of its holdings under its dissolution plan. V. 113, p. 1469; V. 112, p. 743, 2304; V. 72, p. 86, 136, 241, 391, 721. In Sept. 1913 the Govt. brought suit alleging violation of both the Sherman law and the commodities clause of the I.-S. Commerce law. In Oct. 1915 final decree of U. S. District Court dismissing said suit ordered that this co. must dispose of its interest in the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. within 90 days. Both parties appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court. On April 26 1920 the U. S. Supreme Court sustained most of the Government's charges. The plan for the disposal by the company of all the stock of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. owned or controlled by it (as embodied in the dissolution decree of the Reading Co. dated Feb. 14 1921), provided that the stock be disposed of within six months after entry of the decree or previous to any other later date which may be fixed by the Court. Announcement was made on Nov. 17 1921 that the company had sold its 169,788 shares of Coal Co. stock to a syndicate for $32,500,000. See V. 114, p. 737, 946, 2578; V. 115, p. 182, 644, 868; V. 117, p. 669, 1555; V. 113, p. 1982, 2184, 2719; V. 112, p. 743, 2641; V. 101, p. 1464, 1807; V. 110, p. 1816. Full Crew Law, V. 105, p. 1897, 2093. Rebate decision in V. 109, p. 1891
